

Tar Heels Defeat W. and L. Team By Score Of 5-1 To Open Conference Season

Joe Griffith Gives Only Six Hits During Game to Visiting Virginia Team.

GRAHAM PITCHES FIRST BALL TO BEGIN GAME

Carolina Nine Garners Twelve Hits From Jarrett; Phipps Smacks Home Run.

With President Frank Graham throwing out the first ball and the veteran Joe Griffith yielding but six hits, Carolina's baseball team defeated Washington and Lee 5-1 yesterday on Emerson field before a crowd of about 2,600 persons. It was a Southern Conference contest.

The Generals, fresh from a 7-2 defeat by Wake Forest, were completely outclassed by the Tar Heels, Coach Hearn's squad garnering twelve hits and playing a steady game afield, while the visitors could touch Griffith for one double and five singles, all of which were scattered, not more than one hit being allowed in an inning.

Washington and Lee threatened to score in the very first frame but a fast throw by Weathers nipped a General at the plate. Violet, the lead-off man, fanned. Cooke walked, Jarrett singled to center sending Cooke to third and taking second on the throw to nail Cooke. Fitzgerald slashed a grounder to Weathers and Cooke was thrown out at the plate ending the inning.

Tar Heels Start Slow
After wasting four hits in the first two innings, the Tar Heels broke the ice with three hits to score two runs. In this frame McCaskill belted a line drive to left field and circled the bases, but Fitzgerald retrieved the ball and stepped on third, claiming that the Carolina catcher had failed to touch the bag. In this he was supported by Umpire Kearney, and "Mac" was credited with a double instead of a homer. Johnny Peacock started this session with an infield out. Phipps singled to left and advanced to second on Weathers' infield hit. Dixon fanned and McCaskill cleared the sacks with his double.

Phipps Clucks One
A home run by Johnny Phipps in the seventh climaxed a three hit flurry which netted the victors three runs and removed all doubt of victory. Croom's grounder was too hot for Cooke at third to handle and went for a hit. Hornaday walked; Griffith reached first on a fielder's choice and Dixon was permitted to run for the Tar Heel pitcher, and both Hornaday and Dixon scored when Phipps came through with his "Merriwell."

The visitors escaped a shut-out, scoring a tally in the eighth on a hit by Burrows which scored Short who had reached first via a poor throw by Captain Powell.

Johnny Phipps, with a home run and two singles out of four times at bat, led the Tar Heel hitters, being closely followed by Weathers who had two for four and Powell with two out of three times at bat. Jack Cooke was the only visitor who was able to touch Griffith for more than one hit, getting two out of three.

Briefs
In the third inning Griffith lost control momentarily and walked two batters filling the bases, but he got out of this bad spot by throwing three called strikes on Cremin. Incidentally Joe retired six General batsmen via the strike-out route.

SHIFTS MADE IN SPORTS SCHEDULE

State Tennis Tourney Moved to Duke; Several Frosh Engagements Are Put Off.

Carolina's spring holiday, extending from April 15 to April 24, will cause few changes in the University's intercollegiate athletic program, which was drawn up before the holiday was postponed.

All five varsity baseball games will be played according to schedule during the period of the vacation, but the three freshman games, two with Oak Ridge and one with Duke, will be put off until later in the season. No definite dates have been set for these games as yet.

Tennis Match to Come Off
The varsity tennis team has only one match listed, that with Davidson. This match will be played as planned. The frosh netmen have no engagements set for the period of the holiday.

The state tennis tournament, scheduled here, April 15-17, has been moved to Duke on account of the vacation here.

The state golf championships will be run off as planned on the Hope Valley course April 20 and 21. The track meet with Virginia scheduled for April 22 will probably be put off until the following Monday, April 24.

Presbyterian Supper Tonight

There will be a congregational supper at the Presbyterian church this evening at 6:30 o'clock. All members of the church are invited. Mrs. G. A. Harrer is chairman of the supper committee.

Before President Graham threw the first ball to Violet, he warmed up with Johnny Phipps along the Tar Heel bench. President Graham's warm-up activities served him in good stead, for Umpire Kearney called the first ball a strike.

Short, Washington and Lee catcher, had both his thumbs swollen as souvenirs of the Wake Forest encounter, which was why Jarrett was holding the Tar Heels close to first and lessening the risk of a throw to second.

Carolina's left-handed hitters certainly had the Washington and Lee infield crossed, for no less than three drives went for safeties in the left field area in the first five innings.

TAR HEELS TAKE EASY VICTORY IN GOLF FROM W. & L.

Carolina Registers Second Consecutive Win of Season by Score of 15½ to 2½.

The Tar Heels defeated Washington and Lee 15½ to 2½ in a one-sided golf match over the wind swept Hope Valley course yesterday to register their second straight win of the season. Alan Smith was the low scorer for the day.

In the morning Carolina made a clean sweep of the singles: Alan Smith defeated Cohen of W. and L. 3 to 0; Carl Cramer smothered Mc David 3 to 0; Captain O'Brien won over Alexander 2 to 1; and Ed Michaels nosed out Willard 2 to 1. Smith's 72 was the lowest score for the morning round. He was followed by Cramer who scored 75, O'Brien who turned the course in 76, and Michaels who had a 78. The lowest score for the opposition was turned in by Mc David, a promising young player, who breezed around in 77.

Clean Up in Foursomes

The Tar Heels walked off with both of the foursome matches in the afternoon, winning each by 3 to 0. Smith and Michaels white-washed Cohen and Mc David by a decisive margin, hanging up a best-ball score of 67. Smith's individual score in his round was a 70, the lowest score of the match; Michaels turned in a 75. In the second foursome Captain O'Brien teamed with Carl Cramer to beat Alexander and Willard of Washington and Lee 3 to 0. In this foursome Captain O'Brien made the best showing, tallying a par, equalling 71. Carl Cramer was right on his heels with a 72. Cohen was the outstanding performer for W. and L. in the foursomes.

Meet Duke Monday

This marks the second straight win of the season for Coach Kenfield's boys, having beaten Richmond University last Thursday. The Tar Heels next match is with Duke on Monday at Hope Valley. This should be one of the season's closest matches as Duke beat W. and L. Monday by the same score that Carolina did.

PLANS MADE FOR BOXING TOURNEY

Practices for Intramural Race Taking Place Daily in Tin Can.

Coach Crayton Rowe is planning to conduct the annual spring intramural boxing tournament approximately the first week in May, the second week after the holidays.

Practices are taking place every afternoon in the Tin Can, starting at 4:00 o'clock, under the direction of Coaches Rowe and Allen. All those thinking about entering the tourney should come out as soon as possible so that they will be in good condition before the holidays begin.

Best House has held the championship for the past three tournaments; downing Lewis last fall 185 to 135. The individual titles will be wide open this time as none of the boxers on the freshman or varsity teams are eligible to box. Five of the eight championships in last fall's tourney were won by freshmen who have since then fought on the yearling team.

The freshman winners not eligible are Eutsler, 115 pounds; Frucht, 125 pounds; Sutton, 145 pounds; Ellisberg, 175 pounds; and Kanner, heavyweight. The three defending champions who will be eligible to fight in this tourney are Kalb, 135 pounds; Pratt, 155 pounds, and Ed-

AROUND the FIELD

By CLAIRBORN M. CARR

THE BATTLE BETWEEN JIM Dixon and Tommy Temple over the first base job took a strange turn yesterday and when the ink dried, Dixon was the only man left. This Temple has been to a number of colleges in his day and back a while he played baseball for the University of Delaware where they have no rule against freshman playing on varsity teams. When Tommy went to sign his eligibility slip yesterday, Dean Hobbs had to ask him whether or not he had played collegiate ball elsewhere. Our little George Washington came through and admitted he had. When he came out he was raging. He ran at Jackie Taylor, baseball manager and the man supposed to act as wet nurse to the sentimental ball players, and asked, "Gees, why didn't ya' put me wise?" Despite the remorse at having one of the most colorful and amusing fights over a position end, Temple did just what he should have and his actions should help Carolina, I mean as far as our athletic books are concerned. Coach Bunn was sorry to lose the man but was glad he answered as he did.

LAMY McCASKILL IS BENT on winning all sorts of letters this year. Duke is still talking about giving him a football sweater for his excellent work for them last November and now the Washington and Lee boys are going to recommend his name to their athletic association after yesterday's exhibition on that home run. Mac has a .500 average though, he touched home and first, which is pretty good. He might as well have run down to first and then back to home. Lamy looked good behind the bat in his first game, working Griffith well and stopping 'em all. He ought to round out to be a snappy receiver. Then too, he'll touch the bases from now on, or else?

BOTH THE WASHINGTON and Lee coaches had a nice word for the Tar Heels. Head Coach Dick Smith said that he thought Wake Forest had a more experienced club but that we looked good and should improve with

INTRAMURAL RACE CONTINUES TODAY

Six Baseball Games and Six Tennis Matches Scheduled.

After a one day lay-off on account of yesterday's baseball game with Washington and Lee, the spring program of intramural athletics will be resumed this afternoon with six baseball games and six tennis matches on the card.

Because of the baseball games with Michigan State on Emerson field tomorrow and Friday, this afternoon's contests will be the last of the week for intramural entries.

Today's games follow:
Baseball: 3:45—(1) Laundry Club vs. Ruffin, (2) Old West vs. Mangum, (3) Pi Kappa Phi vs. Phi Gamma Delta; 4:45—(1) Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Chi Phi, (2) Grimes vs. Carr, (3) Phi Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Tennis 3:45—(1) New Dorms vs. Best House, (2) Steele vs. Manly, (3) D. K. E. vs. Beta Theta Pi; 4:45—(1) Theta Chi vs. Tau Epsilon Phi, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Delta Tau Delta, (3) Zeta Beta Tau vs. Theta Kappa Nu.

wards, 165 pounds. All men coming out now, regardless of experience, will be given special instruction by the coaches and members of the boxing team.

LIST OF ENTRIES FOR BIG TOURNEY PASSES 100 MARK

Ranking of Members of University Net Delegation Expected To Be Finished Saturday.

Entries for the Duke-Carolina mass tennis carnival will now be received at the intramural office as well as on the bulletin board at the tennis courts. The number of contestants has passed one hundred, but it is the hope of Coach Kenfield to amass at least 220 players before Friday night.

The odd-ranked players will play on the courts here, and the players ranked in even numbers will travel to Duke. It is expected that the rankings will be made by Saturday. Transportation to Durham will be supplied in student automobiles.

The only entry fee required of each contestant will be a new tennis ball. There are no other entry rules other than that one must be registered in either the undergraduate or graduate school of the University.

To encourage registration, the intramural department is offering points to those organizations and players entering the meet.

Twenty-five points will be awarded to that organization with the largest number of entrants. Twenty points will be given to the group with the second greatest number of entries. Fifteen markers will be credited to the team with the third largest number, ten for the fourth, and five for the fifth.

Besides these points, two points will be awarded for each man who enters and plays in the meet. Credits will also be given toward the Grail trophy. Each individual who wins his match will be given five points, and a man who loses will be awarded one point.

Coach Kenfield has emphasized the fact that talent is not necessary when one considers entering the meet, and that Carolina should be able to match Duke man for man and more in this meet. Reports have come from the Durham campus that their total entries has long surpassed 150 players.

Late Bulletin

According to late reports last night, Joe Kirkwood took the lead at Pinehurst yesterday in the North and South Open with a 36-hole score of 135. He was followed by Craig Wood, the defending champion, who tallied 139. Other leaders were Walter Hagen, Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., Paul Runyan, and Charles Guest.

Coach Collins Disregards Baseball Game in Sending Squad Through Practice.

Coach Collins sent his football squad through its usual workout yesterday afternoon, regardless of the baseball game.

The practice was taken up mainly with drilling the line in the various plays. The forward wall went through a long scrimmage with the different linesmen pulling out and blocking. The backfield remained stationary and there was no tackling done in the scrimmage. The line, however, went through a tackling drill on the dummy.

Moore Shifted to Half

Little can be told yet how the various shifts will effect the strength of next year's team. In the line the shifted men are new to their positions and will probably not show their real ability for a couple of weeks yet. George Moore, changed from fullback to right half, showed lots of stuff in last Saturday's game and will likely see action there next fall.

On paper the various shifts look like a sure thing to add strength to the team. Babe Daniels will add another big man to the important tackle position. While Jim Bryan, a small freshman tackle, who had little chance of seeing much action at that post, is willing to put everything he has into the game and may come through at center.

A practice game will be played as usual Saturday afternoon on Kenan field. Coach Collins will divide the squad into two parts and most of the squad will see action during the contest.
