

Horace Williams Worried By Lack Of Scholarships

Head of Philosophy Department Has Twenty Applicants Already for Kenan Awards.

Dr. Horace Williams, head of the philosophy department of the University, has long taken pride in the fact that he has helped many of his students solve their problems.

But Dr. Williams now finds himself against a stone wall on a problem he himself faces. Only two fellowships in philosophy are offered by the University graduate school each year, and to date no less than twenty candidates have applied for these two for next year.

Maybe somebody will come along and alleviate Dr. Williams' distress by establishing some more fellowships. That's about the only way he hopes to solve this problem, for he recognizes it is going to be powerfully difficult to pick two men from twenty good candidates.

The two fellowships now available were established by Mrs. Graham Kenan in memory of her husband, who was an alumnus and trustee of the University. They are supported by the income from an endowment of $25,000.

Applicants this year include students from India, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Oxford, and Virginia.

SENATE FAILS TO CONSIDER GRANT

nearest approach the session saw to any attempted flights of oratory was Larry Moore's attack against the Library Commission, which he proposed to abolish. After nearly an hour's fighting Senator Moore received not a single vote in support of his stand.

The postponement of the University item until today was seen as a strategic move to enable the Senate to docket the Francis bill as a special order and at the same time give the educational forces more time for organization. Little hope was held, however, that the University figures would be raised to $832,000 unless the Senate was in a state of mind to support a sales-tax.

The figures passed yesterday in most instances uphold the figures of the joint appropriations committee calling for a total of nearly $83,000,000, as against the House bill of $79,000,000. These figures will carry an estimated biennial appropriation $4,000,000 more than the House bill and restores salaries to sixty-three per cent of normal.

The discussion of the day was monopolized by Senator Clement, chairman of the investigating committee, and Senator Larry Moore, who set himself up as an authority on all the items on the bill. Senator John Sprunt Hill, of Durham and Orange, frequently came forward in a quite Murphian manner to settle the Senate disputes. The only spark of life in the session was furnished by the Hill-Moore controversy over the treasury item which showed signs of approaching the Bowie-Turner fights of last week's House session.

At the conclusion of the executive and administrative figures, the Senate reported its progress, and turned to a motion that the Francis bill be given a special tabling which would make it immediately follow the appropriations bill. The motion carrying, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 o'clock today.

CALENDAR

Playmaker picture—1:40. Playmakers theatre.

Co-ed tea—4:30-6:00. Spencer hall.

Graduate tea—4:30-5:30. Smith building.

Presbyterian supper—6:30. Presbyterian church.

Over Three Hundred Students Make Honor Roll For Last Quarter

(Continued from first page) B. S. Willis, Suzanne B. Winstead.

Eighteen of the students making all "A's" were registered in the liberal arts school; six in A.B. education; four in B.S. commerce; three in engineering; and two in applied science.

Of the students making the honor roll, 164 were registered in the liberal arts school; fifty-six in A.B. education; thirty-seven in B.S. commerce; twenty-seven in engineering; and twenty-three in applied science.

The total list of all students making the honor roll for the past quarter follows:

F. P. Abernethy, Jr., G. C. Adams, A. E. Akers, Eben Alexander, J. F. Alexander, F. J. Allred, Nathan Ames, F. I. Anderson, L. Van H. Anderson, A. B. Andrews, W. J. Armfield, A. H. Bahnsen, A. J. Baracket, F. K. Barker, L. W. St. C. Barnes, R. W. Barnett, J. E. Barney, H. R. Barnhardt, M. V. Barnhill, Jr., J. A. Barrett, R. L. Barron, J. K. Barrow, Jr., B. W. Beck, Donald Becker, L. I. Bedrick, M. C. Bell, Abe Benjamin, R. A. Berman, Jack Bessen, T. W. Blackwell, W. F. Blount, B. A. Boyle, William Bracy, Dorothy Bradley, W. S. Branning, B. B. Bray, Jr., F. B. Breazeale, Edward Brenner, H. C. Bridgers, Jr., W. T. Britt, M. J. Brown, J. F. Butler.

C. H. Cantrell, Louise C. Capps, C. M. Carr, E. D. Cartland, E. G. Chaoush, J. S. Chapman, M. S. Clark, Whitfield Cobb, Jr., H. I. Coffield, E. W. Coffin, S. R. Collett, Jr., H. G. Connor, Jr., C. E. Correll, L. A. Cotten, R. L. Covington, F. Porter Cowles, M. R. Cox, Branch Craige, T. L. Crowell, T. W. Crowell, M. Leone Currie, R. M. Dailey, A. F. Davis, P. P. Davis, R. D. Davis, N. H. DeBardeleben, K. N. Diamond, A. T. Dill, M. Ditch, J. A. Doubles, A. E. Douglass, J. O. Drake, M. S. Dunn, Elizabeth J. Durham, J. W. Durham, R. A. Ellington, S. E. Elmore, Jr., A. G. Engstrum, E. E. Eutsler, Jr., T. M. Evins, I. D. Felder, Jr., Foster Fitz-Simons, P. P. Fox, Sidney Franklin, R. B. Freeman, A. C. Furchgott, Jr.

R. W. Gardner, V. N. Garofolo, A. McD. Garriss, F. P. Gaskins, J. S. Gentry, Hector Gianella, J. P. Gilbert, Frank Ginsberg, Robt. Goldberg, J. C. Goldston, P. E. Gordon, G. W. Gorham, R. H. Gorham, J. L. Gouger, F. W. Grant, I. C. Gregory, J. C. Grier, W. C. Griffin, Mary V. Grissette, Ernestine Groves, R. P. Guarino, J. W. Gunter, J. S. Guyton, P. G. Hammer, Betsy H. Harding, F. G. Harper, F. F. S. Harrell, H. H. Harriss, Jr., W. Haskins, S. P. Hatch, E. L. Hauser, P. R. Hayes, H. R. Hazelman, J. B. Henderson, T. F. Henley, T. T. Herring, W. C. Hewitt, M. P. Hiller, Horace Hines, R. M. Hinchshaw, J. L. Hodges, N. R. Holland, T. P. Howell, R. L. Huber, D. M. Humphrey, J. E. Huneycutt, C. L. Hunt, E. W. Hunt, J. E. Hunter.

S. C. Isley, Polly L. Jacobson, Ervin Jaffe, E. D. Johnson, B. L. Kalb, M. K. Kalb, A. S. Kaplan, B. C. Keeney, E. L. Kendrick, W. W. King, E. W. Kleit-

Results Indicate Advantages Of Freshman Department Placements

Grades of Better Prepared English Students Also Show Generally Better Preparation in All Other Subjects; Some Students Now May Take Sophomore English.

From the results of the English placement test, quiz on fundamentals, given to freshmen during orientation week, and from an original composition written by the entrants, the English department attempts to classify students according to ability. Approximately fifty of those whose indicated proficiency was quite superior were placed in two advanced sections, while about the same number, whose papers showed that they had been inadequately prepared for freshman English were placed in sub-freshman English, known to the campus at large as English 0.

Students placing between these two extremes were sectioned without regard for differences within these extremes. These arrangements, made on the basis of the quiz, were tentative and were subject to checks made from observation of the student's actual work in the first weeks of the fall quarter. It was decided that students might be promoted or demoted at any time.

Tests Reliable

The general reliability of the placement tests given in English is indicated by figures obtained on the work of the freshmen placed in an advanced section known as the "Flying Squadron." Of forty-eight people none flunked English. And of twenty-two men in one advanced section on the basis of this placement test, fifteen made the honor roll for the first quarter. All made "C" or above in English, and there were only five failures on all courses taken by the twenty-two, three of which were contributed by one man. In addition to being a rather conclusive proof that these tests are accurate, the results show a close correlation between the preparation of students for English work and their general preparation for University scholastic work. An application of the results of the placement system this session was the promotion of certain students in advanced sections to English 21 at the beginning of the spring quarter. This promotion, one quarter in advance of the normal procedure, was made on the basis, not only of the student's record in an advanced English section, but on his whole academic record as a student at the University. All students who were promoted to English 21 had an average of approximately "B" for the first quarter's work.

Advantage to Student Placement in an advanced section of freshman English gives the student a double advantage: It gives him the opportunity of doing work more in accordance with his ability and training, and it offers him the opportunity of entering English 21 at the beginning of the spring quarter of his freshman year, thus offering him the chance to earn extra credits toward graduation during his freshman year.

From the results set forth, it is apparent to the English department that the revival of the advanced sections this year has been successful. Although "Flying Squadrons" were formed for some years prior to 1931, in that year the freshman division of the department decided against continuing the practice. The wisdom of promoting the best students in the sections (with regard to other work as well as English) will be checked at the end of this quarter. The results of this check will, in part, determine the permanent policy of the English department toward this type of promotion.

Edna C. Stroude, Mae B. Strowd, J. J. Sugarman, A. Surowiec, L. C. Surprenant, I. D. Suss, W. K. Swann, J. P. Tatum, C. S. Templeton, Jack Thompson, J. B. Thompson, L. S. Thompson, P. P. Tilford, N. A. Townsend, L. S. Tracy, Crampton Trainer, Anne L. Turner, J. O'N. Tyree, Mrs. M. E. Utley, N. R. Vincent, Mary C. Waldo, N. W. Walker, Jr., Sara M. Waiser, J. L. Ward, R. Q. Ward, V. A. Ward, Jr., Wm. Watson, R. E. Weathers, V. S. Weathers, J. F. Webb, Jr., Thos. Webb, Daniel Weiner, A. J. Wesh, Francis S. White, J. B. Wiggins, Mabel J. Wilkie, S. A. Wilkins, Jr., F. D. Williams, R. T. Williams, K. B. Williams, J. R. Williford, B. S. Willis, Miriam C. Willis, Franklin Wilson, G. W. Wilson, Jr., H. B. Wilson, J. T. Wilson, S. B. Winstead, Suzanne B. Winstead, W. R. Woerner, F. T. Wolf, C. T. Woollen, Jr., F. R. W. Worth, L. C. Wright, K. P. Yarborough, K. W. Young.

P. E. Page, R. C. Page, Jr., F. M. Parker, J. C. Parker, Mary F. Parker, Sara B. Parker, Manie L. Parsons, F. M. S. Patterson, J. H. Patterson, H. C. Pearson, A. W. Peck, B. B. Perry, J. B. Person, Jr., W. G. Phelps, B. C. Philpott, Jr., E. G. Powell, N. H. Powell, J. H. Pratt, Jr., A. J. Prendergast, Jr., Anna L. Pritchard, Elizabeth Raney, J. H. Raney, F. A. Rankin, J. C. Ray, H. Reinstein, R. R. Reynolds, Jr., W. L. Rid-enhour, J. C. Robbins, Benjamin Rodin, C. P. Rogers, C. R. Ross, L. W. Ross, G. C. Rowe, R. C. Ruark, F. M. Rubino.

R. W. Sawyer, H. G. Schlumberger, O. M. Schriver, D. H. Scott, R. C. Scott, Jr., Cabot Sedgwick, C. W. Sensesbach, Harry Shill, D. C. Shoemaker, G. E. Shpack, T. M. Simkins, N. L. Simmons, Anne E. Simms, B. E. Singer, L. C. Sistare, L. S. Sloop, E. W. Smith, J. H. Smith, J. W. Smith, J. E. Snyder, W. H. Spradlin, A. J. Stahr, Walker Stamps, H. B. Stein, Ellen M. Stewart, J. G. Stoll, Milton Stoll,

Around The Field

(Continued from page three)

games. Coach Twombly, assistant to Smith and a former St. Louis Cardinal star hurler, spoke very highly of Joe Griffith's pitching and also complimented the brilliant play of Johnny Phipps at short. Well, what about the Dutchman? JACK JARRETT, THE WASHINGTON and Lee twirler, and Johnny Peacock were having a friendly battle throughout the game. It seems that Johnny and Jarrett played together up in Covington, Virginia, a few years back and they both went courting the same girl. Jarrett won the toss in the end. Perhaps that was why Peaky was so polite to the General. Did you hear him ask for a base-runner for Griffith? "Jack, may we please have a runner for the pitcher?" Jarrett was also a basketball star for the Generals. It was he who had to be removed from the Washington and Lee-N. C. State game in the conference tourney at Raleigh. His ankle was wrenched in the first scrimmage of the fray.

WILLIE POWELL STARTED the season right yesterday. Captain Willie bagged two hits in three tries and played a beautiful game at third. One little bobble marred his day but how 'bout those bullet-like throws to Dixon at first? Wee-Willie is a born ball player and should easily be the best third sacker in the state this year. Jack Cooke, General third baseman took a beating, no less than four hits bounding off him to count as bingles. He was asleep in the first inning but so was Goat Weathers later in the game. Virge slunk off to his position like a whipped poodle after being caught off first—Yeah poodle.

Beer Bootlegger Arrives The Goldsboro News-Argus said yesterday that the "beer bootlegger" had arrived in Goldsboro. "Order book in hand, a man from Maryland solicited local business men," the paper stated. He promised to deliver kegs and cases two days after the national law is effective."

German Kaiser May Return In the midst of scattered disorders attending the beginning of a boycott against Jewish shops, the town of Bad-Homburg in Germany issued an invitation to former Kaiser Wilhelm yesterday to make his home there if he should decide to return to Germany. Representatives of the Hohenzollerns at Berlin said that although there was much talk about the Kaiser returning, he had expressed no intention of coming back to Germany.

Beer Bootlegger Arrives The Goldsboro News-Argus said yesterday that the "beer bootlegger" had arrived in Goldsboro. "Order book in hand, a man from Maryland solicited local business men," the paper stated. He promised to deliver kegs and cases two days after the national law is effective."

SUMMER WORK "Have several openings for young college men and women for summer work. Guaranteed salary. See Mrs. Parsons, today, March 29, second floor Y. M. C. A."

Judge Barnhill Denies Negro's Application (Continued from first page) sented the University's argument in the case, while W. H. Hastier of Washington, D. C., official of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored Race, and C. O. Pearson and C. H. McCoy, Durham Negro lawyers, presented arguments for the plaintiff.

Judge Barnhill Denies Negro's Application

Entrants in Tennis Carnival All tennis players desiring to compete in the Carolina-Duke tennis carnival starting Monday should enter immediately, either at the courts or with Herman Schnell at his Emerson field office. As an incentive to increase entries intramural points will be awarded those entering as well as to those winning their matches. In spite of this inducement, however, the entry here is far behind Duke's in number.

Eight in Infirmary

The infirmary list numbered eight yesterday. They were: J. N. Le Conte, H. S. Rubin, A. J. Baracket, J. K. Woodard, J. M. Glace, Jisaku Fukusato, H. R. Barnhardt, and Katherine Jamison.

Carr Smoker Tomorrow

A smoker for Carr dormitory will be given at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow night in 214 Graham Memorial. This is the first of the series of dormitory smokers for this quarter.

Graduate Tea Set for Today

The graduate tea will be given in Smith building from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Co-ed Tea Planned Today

The co-ed tea will be given this afternoon at Spencer hall from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock.

World News Bulletins

Beer Bill Favorable

The hearing on the Francis beer bill to legalize beer and wine in the state of North Carolina was conducted yesterday afternoon before senate judiciary committee No. 1, of which Senator Hinsdale of Wake county is chairman. It was being freely predicted that despite strenuous opposition from the "dry" forces the bill would get a favorable report from the committee and that it would pass the senate with votes to spare.

German Kaiser May Return

In the midst of scattered disorders attending the beginning of a boycott against Jewish shops, the town of Bad-Homburg in Germany issued an invitation to former Kaiser Wilhelm yesterday to make his home there if he should decide to return to Germany. Representatives of the Hohenzollerns at Berlin said that although there was much talk about the Kaiser returning, he had expressed no intention of coming back to Germany.

Beer Bootlegger Arrives

The Goldsboro News-Argus said yesterday that the "beer bootlegger" had arrived in Goldsboro. "Order book in hand, a man from Maryland solicited local business men," the paper stated. He promised to deliver kegs and cases two days after the national law is effective."

SUMMER WORK

"Have several openings for young college men and women for summer work. Guaranteed salary. See Mrs. Parsons, today, March 29, second floor Y. M. C. A."

New Arrivals SLACKS

We have just received second hundred pairs spring trousers and slacks—made up especially for us. You will like the styles and patterns.

Especially priced from

$2.95 thru $3.95

The Young Men's Shop

126-128 East Main St.

DURHAM

Women will weep real tears! Men will blush with shame as they watch this woman lashed by intolerance! It's the lightning hit of the year!