

Michigan State Hands Tar Heel Team Second Straight Defeat, 5 To 3

Spartans Shove Over Five Runs In Fifth Inning to Take Game From Carolina.

McCASKILL GETS HOMER

Tar Heels Meet Elon at Burlington This Afternoon With Griffith to Pitch.

One bad inning in which Michigan State scored five runs yesterday was enough for the Spartans to inflict the second straight defeat upon the Tar Heels at Emerson field before a crowd estimated at about 2,500. The final score was 5-3.

Nathan Andrews, former Presbyterian Junior College hurler, was Coach Bunny Hearn's choice to stop the invading Spartans, and Nate did a fine job, holding the heavy hitting mid-westerners to six hits, but five of them were bunched in the fatal fifth frame, which was enough to down Carolina.

Carolina's hitters fell on Feidler, visiting hurler, in the initial session as if they meant to finish the slim right-hander off in a hurry, bunting three hits to score three runs. With one out and the bags empty, Johnny Phipps slammed a screeching line drive to right field which was good for three bases. Weathers crossed up the Michigan State infield, which was playing in close for a bunt by punching a sharp hit through second to score Phipps. McCaskill, hitting in the clean-up post laid the wood on a fast ball to drive it into deep right center for a home run.

Bad Fifth Inning
Andrews was pitching beautiful ball, and until the fifth inning had allowed one hit. In the fifth, momentary wildness and five hits netted the Michigan State margin of victory. Rouse, opening the inning, grounded to Weathers. Klewicki singled to center, Feidler walked, and both scored on Langer's long triple to centerfield. Kircher then laid down a bunt to squeeze in Langer, and was safe when he slid in under Dixon. Captain Fawcette scratched a single to the box, advancing Kircher to second. McCann was hit by a pitched ball, and Eliowitz scored Kircher and Fawcette with a sharp single to center. Rouse who had started the inning, finished it by grounding to Dixon.

In spite of the fact that they reached Feidler occasionally, the Tar Heels didn't threaten again until the eighth, but snappy fielding by the visiting infield prevented Carolina from scoring and ended the last threat. Phipps led off with his second hit of the game, a line drive single to left, Weathers walked but McCaskill, Powell, and Dixon all hit to the infield and that was that.

Kircher's snagging of fly balls was the highlight of the game, although McCaskill executed a beautiful play when he pulled in Norton's high foul right next to the fence.

Carolina showed a complete reversal of form yesterday. Instead of the Comedy of Errors that was seen Thursday, the boys all played heads-up ball. The two Carolina errors came on chances that were very difficult.

In spite of the two losses to Michigan State, the Tar Heels still have the makings of a good club. Their hustle and spirit are hard to beat, and this seems to have attracted more people to Emerson. The increase in attendance over last year is a tribute to Coach Hearn and his club.

GOLFERS OPPOSE DUKEMEN MONDAY

University Outfit to Match Clubs With Blue Devils on Hope Valley Course.

Carolina's golf team will face its third foe of the season when they take on the strong Duke team at Hope Valley Monday. This is the outstanding match on the Tar Heels' schedule as each team is rated as one of the strongest in this section of the country.

So far this season both teams have clean slates, each having won two victories. Duke has defeated Rollins and Washington and Lee, while the Tar Heels have triumphed over Richmond University and Washington and Lee. Each team defeated Washington and Lee by the same score, 15 1-2 to 2 1-2.

Close Contests Certain
The probable Carolina lineup will be Alan Smith, no. 1; Captain Billy O'Brien, no. 2; Carl Cramer, no. 3; and Erwin Laxton, no. 4. The feature match Monday should be between Alan Smith, Carolina ace, and Roger Peacock, Duke captain and no. 1 man. Last year Peacock defeated Smith by a narrow margin with a par-smashing 67. The match between Captain O'Brien and June Caldwell, former Duke captain, should also attract much attention.

HAWTHORNE, ABERNETHY VIE TO LEAD HURLERS

Two sophomores, Tom Hawthorne and Frank Abernethy, will carry much of Carolina's hopes in the hurdles, and it is hard to tell at this stage which is going to be the better boy. Outdoors last year Hawthorne regularly held the upper hand, and turned in best times of 15.8 seconds for the 120 highs and 25 seconds flat for the 220 lows. The Southern conference indoor games this year were another story. Abernethy placed second in the 70 lows and third in the 70 highs, both of which were done in record time, but Hawthorne didn't place. They are both practicing intensely now, and their mutual rivalry should spur them on to some good performances this year.

INTRAMURAL RACE AFFECTED LITTLE BY WEEK'S GAMES

Betas and Phi Gams Lead Fraternity League; Laundry and Carr Lead Dormitories.

Last week's intramural athletic program, which was conducted on only two days, and was further abbreviated by forfeits, had little bearing on the standings of the teams in either league of either sport.

In the dormitory circuit, Carr and the Laundry Club are setting the pace, and a fast pace at that. The Law outfit has won two fast contests, downing Swain Hall 7-1 last week and taking a 3-0 win from Grimes this week. The Laundry nine, after a slow start when it defeated Aycock, 11-3, went on a scoring spree Wednesday and beat Ruffin by a tremendous margin of 32-2.

Other undefeated dormitory nines include Best House, Everett, and New Dorms. All have one win to their credits.

Betas and Phi Gams Lead
Beta Theta Pi and Phi Gamma Delta are leading the pack in the fraternity circuit. The Betas have won from Phi Sigma Kappa, 5-4, and from T. E. P., 4-2. Phi Gama has gained both its wins by forfeit.

The Betas are also showing the way in the tennis race for fraternities. Last year's campus champs, with shutout wins over Kappa Alpha and Delta Kappa Epsilon to their credit, are the only net team to have won two matches.

Grimes is showing the way in dormitory tennis, with three wins to its credit already. The Atlantics, Mangum, and Old East are the teams which have lost to this fast moving team.

Other teams which are undefeated in tennis are Carr and Ruffin in the dormitory league and Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Kappa Phi, S. A. E., Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Sigma, T. E. P., Zeta Beta Tau, and Zeta Psi. All these teams have won only one match.

LETTERS WILL BE AWARDED MONDAY

Nine Athletes and Three Managers Will Be Given Monograms at Club Meeting.

The first formal presentation of athletic letters by the Monogram club will be conducted at the regular meeting of the group, which is set for Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

President Phipps announced yesterday that nine athletes and three managers would receive their sweaters at the meeting. The athletes are: Aitken, Beale, Davis, Giddins, Glace, Glover, Long, McIntosh, and Quarles. The three managers are Cate, Kerr, and Barnard.

Members Urged to Attend
All members of the Monogram club, the coaching staff, and the athletic council are urged to be at the meeting. President Frank Graham and Dr. Charley Mangum have been invited to make short talks to the men.

The executive committee of the club is anxious to have as large an attendance of active members of the club as possible at the meeting. It is planned to make this presentation program one that will take place after every sport season.

The members of the athletic council who are expected to attend the program are: C. T. Woollen, Dean A. W. Hobbs, Dr. R. D. W. Connor, Dean H. G. Baity, and Dr. Foy Roberson.

Last Day For Entries In Tennis Meet Finds 170 Men Registered

By MORRIE LONG

Michigan State's traveling baseball team is enjoying a most successful southern invasion this season what with three wins out of four starts, two over Carolina and one over Elon. Tomorrow the Spartans journey over to Duke with the hopes of stretching their victories to three straight. Their best pitcher will be in shape and should give the Blue Devils a lot of trouble.

While on the subject of Michigan State, it might be fitting to mention that Charlie Bachman, the ex-Florida football coach, has taken over the gridiron duties at the East Lansing school. He is replacing Fred Crowley, one of Chuck Collins' old buddies at Notre Dame. The Spartans had a honey of a season last year, scoring wins over Fordham and Syracuse while dropping a close one to Michigan, Big Ten winner. Kircher, Eliowitz, and Klewicki were members of the Michigan State football team.

Old "Babe" McCaskill continued his bludgeon activities in great style in yesterday's game. Mac leaned on one of Fielder's slants for another four base wallop to score Weathers in the third. This makes the third home run the mighty one has swatted the last three games. Looks like he is an improved ball player from last year when he hit for a two figure mark.

It was up to Kircher, the left field garden patroler for the Spartans, to turn in the most spectacular catches. In the second stanza, Kircher made a beautiful running catch of Croom's long fly, while in the third and fourth the southpaw robbed Phipps and Hornaday of base knocks when he miraculously got under two fly balls.

Rookie Nate Andrews, like Freddie Crouch in Thursday's game, did his first mound performing for Carolina. Andrews was given much better support by his mates than Crouch received, and but for one bad inning when the Spartans bunched five hits for as many runs, he would have won his first varsity victory. Andrews permitted only six safe blows and struck out six. He hurled for Presbyterian Junior College at Maxton before enrolling here. Both Crouch and Andrews will prove valuable hurlers this year for Coach Hearn.

Johnny Phipps to date is the most consistent hitter on the squad. He has been clouting the old American potato for the lusty average of .500 or 7 for 14. Johnny's play in the field has been considerably above par, and it looks like Bunn Hearn's shortstop worries are over.

TWINS RUN FOR CAROLINA AND JUDGES SEE DOUBLE

Two of Carolina's leading prospects in the distances are Louis and Henry Sullivan, twin-brothers from Anderson, S. C., who look, think, act, and run so much alike that their mates couldn't choose between them and so named them co-captains of next year's cross country team.

Coaches Bo Shepard, Chuck Quinlan, and Crayton Rowe will present the sweaters to the men winning letters in basketball, wrestling, and boxing respectively.

Tournament Will Begin Monday; Continues Through Next Saturday.

POINTS WILL BE AWARDED
Intramural Department to Give Credit; "Herald-Sun" Papers Will Present Plaque.

Although the number of entries for the Carolina-Duke tennis carnival have not yet reached the desired number of 200, the entry list is well on its way to completion with 170 already registered. Today is the last day that entries will be accepted at either the tennis courts or in the intra-mural office.

Duke had listed 152 players Thursday and by now the list should be much larger. The Duke representative will meet Coach Kenfield here this morning to arrange the pairings for the meet, which will begin this Monday and continue through Saturday.

No Doubles Matches
The winner of the meet will be decided by the greatest number of individual matches won. There will be no doubles matches. Play will be carried on in the afternoons, with one half of the meet to be played at Duke and the other half here. The odd ranked men will compete on our courts.

Points are being awarded by the intramural department to both organizations and individuals. Two points will be awarded to each organization for each man that enters and plays in the meet.

The organization with the largest number of entries will be awarded twenty-five points; the team with the second greatest number of entries will be given twenty points; third, fifteen; fourth, ten; and fifth, five.

The entry fee will be one new ball required of each contestant. Players who will participate will be carried over to Durham in student automobiles.

Points will also be given towards the Grail trophy. Five points will be given to each man who wins his match, and one point will go to the man who is defeated. This trophy is for the outstanding intramural athlete. The varsity and freshmen have been ranked by Coach Kenfield: Hines, Wright, Friedman, Willis, Harris, Morgan, Dillard, Lott, Levitan, Minor, Shuford, Jones, Lynch, Johnston, Sobol, and McGlenn. Other rankings will be announced today.

This is the first meet of its kind ever known to have been attempted by any university. It is hoped that a registration of at least 200 will be reached in both schools. Carolina, with today still open for entries, should surpass the desired number.

Rotating Trophy
A rotating trophy will be awarded by the Durham Herald-Sun papers. It will be kept in possession of that school which wins the meet in any particular year. It will be endeavored to make this an annual affair.

Anyone registered in either the graduate or undergraduate school of the University is eligible to enter the meet. No other qualifications are necessary. There are still a number of good or average players on this campus who have not yet signed their names to the entry list.

Merrimon Cunningham of Duke, a Rhodes scholar and a graduate student, will probably play first man for the Blue Devils. He formerly played at Vanderbilt University, and is the leading player at the Durham school. He will be matched with Wilmer Hines.

FROSH BASEBALL TEAM TO OPPOSE ROANOKE RAPIDS

McKeithan or Glasgow Slated to Pitch for Yearlings in Game Here at 3:00 O'clock.

Carolina's 1933 freshman baseball team is scheduled to open its season this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock against Roanoke Rapids on Emerson field.

Roanoke Rapids won the high school state championship among class 'B' teams last year. It has almost the same outfit back, man for man, and is favorite to down the yearlings.

Frosh Weakened
Coach Cerney's first year team was weakened greatly by football practice which took away several of the outstanding candidates for the first nine. These men will, however, be back for the first battle among Big Five yearling teams. The freshmen have a fairly strong defense both in the infield and outfield but the batting is weak. Irwin, shortstop, and Tatum, second base, are both heavy hitters but little can be said for the rest of the team.

Coach Cerney hadn't decided yesterday who will do the hurling, but it will either be McKeithan or Glasgow. McKeithan has more stuff but not as good control as Glasgow. Both are good pitchers and will do most of the mound work for the yearlings during this season. If McKeithan pitches, Glasgow will probably be used in the outfield as a result of his ability with the bat.

Yesterday Coach Cerney got an early start and gave the whole squad a fairly long workout. Today the team will be called to practice at 1:30 o'clock, one and a half hours before game time. The starting lineup and the order in which they hit follows:

Austin, 3b; Tatum, 2b; Bullock, cf; Irwin, ss; Orr, 1b; King, c; Shapiro, lf; Mahaffey, rf; McKeithan or Glasgow, p.

Doak in Trouble
Chick Doak, N. C. State diamond mentor, is in trouble. He has seven good hurlers on his squad for this year, but they're all righthanders—not a southpaw in the lot. Every now and then Chick ascends the mound in practice games, but even he is right-handed; and so any student who can chuck a ball from the portside will be mighty welcome at the Raleigh institution. Cap'n Joel Morris, Rudy Sietz, seniors; Jimmy Cooper and Hyman Dave, juniors; and Willie Lynn, Rupert Cox and Dave Rodwell are the seven star-board chunkers at State.
