REPRESENTATIVES OF DI AND PHI TO MEET IN DEBATE

Complete Plans for Annual Bingham Competition at Commencement Announced.

The Dialectic Senate and the Philanthropic Assembly will clash in the annual Bingham commencement debate June 5 on the subject, Resolved: That the states of the world should intervene in the conflict between China and Japan in the interests of the world at large. This will be the second forensic battle of the year between the Di and Phi, the first having been the Mary D. Wright debate conducted just before Christmas.

Elmer Oettinger and Bill Eddleman will represent the Di on the affirmative side of the question and the Phi will be represented by Everett Jess and L. H. Fountain on the negative. The debate will be conducted under the formal rules and precedent of intercollegiate debates.

Important Question

The question was selected by the Phi after the side had been chosen on a similar question by the Di. Bill Blount reported that the question was selected as one which had for some time been under discussion in the League of Nations and because it was of current concern to the people of the United States as well as of interest to the students on the campus.

All speakers for both societies were selected after heated try-outs and in the debate the newly selected speaker of the Phi, Fountain, and the speaker of the Di for the fall quarter, Eddleman, will be lined up against each other. Fountain is the holder of the Mary D. Wright medal and Eddleman holds the University debate monogram and is a member of the debate council. Both Oettinger and Jess have brilliant records.

Radical Changes in United States Develop Through Eventful Week

Roosevelt Departs From Tradition and Makes Step Toward World Peace; Government Regulation of Industry Possible Under Proposed Legislation; Week Crowded With Events.

By Don Becker

History has been made by this country in the past week. Under increasing pressure from forces that have just recently reached a climax, President Roosevelt has made many radical departures from traditional American policy. The probabilities are that these excursions will prove to be wise and desirable.

With kaleidoscopic rapidity the President first appealed to the world for international peace and disarmament, and then the next day sent to Congress a bill making governmental regulation of industry possible, and most probable.

The first international move on Roosevelt's part is a departure from traditional American isolation. That this isolation has been nothing more than a political one for many years has been widely recognized. It is well that the President should realize that America has a stake in international events and is willing to participate with the other Great Powers to try to untangle the sorry knot the world has tied itself into these past few decades.

Conference Special Published Tomorrow

The special edition of The Daily Tar Heel, devoted to the annual Y. M. C. A. Blue Ridge Conference June 15-24, will appear tomorrow.

Tomorrow's issue will be the first Blue Ridge edition since 1931 and will present the program planned for representatives from colleges in ten southern states, the purpose of the conference, and other features of the annual meeting.

PERMANENT LAWN FUND SET UP BY STUDENT GROUPS

Surplus Left From Recent Drive For Campus Improvement Established as Basis

A permanent fund, known as the Students Campus Improvement fund, was established yesterday with a surplus from the recent drive for the improvement of the University lawn.

The new fund, consisting of $25, was set up by leaders in the campaign for possible use in the future as a basis for further campus work by students. The recent drive netted $150, of which only $125 was found to be necessary in the repair of the University power cutters.

Trustees Named

The president of the student body and the director of buildings were named as co-trustees and ordained with power to use the fund as occasions demand.

The surplus was not expected in the recent campaign, as it was publicly announced that $200 would be needed to repair the equipment for lawn improvement, but negotiations on the part of Mr. P. L. Burch of the buildings department made for the reduced cost. The es-

COUNCIL IMPOSES SEVEN SENTENCES

Disturbances Created in Dormitory Result in Strict Conduct Probation for Four.

By action of the student council Monday night, seven students received sentences for raising disturbances in the dormitories and damaging University property.

Four of the students were placed on strict conduct probation through the fall quarter of next year which means that a violation of the campus conduct code during this period is punishable by automatic suspension from the University.

One student was placed on conduct probation through all of next year. Two students were required to move out of the dormitory for the remainder of the school year, one of whom was put on conduct probation through the whole 1933-34 school year.

Another was put out of the dormitory for the balance of this year, and was denied the right to room in a University dormitory next year. All these students were held jointly responsible for the damage done to University property.

HOUSE CONTENTS DORMITORY PLAN IS MERE RUMOR

Executive Secretary Denies That Proposal Regarding Freshman Rooming Is Official.

R. B. House, executive secretary of the University, emphatically declared yesterday that the proposed ruling to require freshmen to live in dormitories next year was nothing more than a rumor and that any reports have been personal opinions. He said that no action whatever had been taken by University authorities regarding the question.

Considerable comment has been caused on the campus, mainly among fraternities, to the effect that it would "spell absolute ruin to practically all fraternities on the campus," and five recommendations were made yesterday by the Interfraternity council through President Irvin Boyle and presented at a joint meeting of the Administrative Board of the Division of Student Welfare and the Student Advisory board.

Recommendations Made

The recommendations stipulated that if the University ruling would go through that the administration put the fraternities on the same tax basis as the dormitories, with supplies purchasable at the same University rate. They also suggested methods of using the vacant dormitories instead of making the first-year men remain from the fraternity houses.

Efforts to verify the proposed plan in other University departments were futile.

Reigned Out

Due to the great attractive qualities of yesterday's Duke-Carolina baseball game, many official announcements which might have otherwise appeared in today's paper will be carried later in the week.

SOCIALIST GROUP TO HEAR LEADERS

National Organizers of Party to Address Weekly Meeting of Club This Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Johnson, national organizers of the Socialist party, will address the weekly meeting of the local Socialist club tonight at 7:30 o'clock in room 210 Graham Memorial. As this is the last meeting of the group before the summer holidays, all members and interested persons are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have much to tell of conditions in Iowa, Arkansas, Louisiana, and other states where they have organized for the Socialist party. Recently they have been working with the Tulane Socialist club of Tulane University, New Orleans. They are particularly interested in the liberal movement among college students. Mrs. Johnson was for five years instructor at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

After talks by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, there will be a general discussion of the part college youth is playing in the radical movement of this country.

CHEMICAL AWARD GIVEN LAST NIGHT AT CLUB MEETING

J. B. Crutchfield Wins $50 Stipend; Old Elected President For Next Year.

J. B. Crutchfield was awarded the annual prize in chemical engineering last night, it was announced by Dr. A. M. White, faculty advisor of the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

At the meeting of the organization last night at which the award was given, the following officers for next year were elected: B. S. Old, president; R. L. Huber, vice-president; H. J. Allison, secretary; and W. H. Bateman, treasurer. E. A. Gaskill was chosen associate editor of the Carolina Engineer for the A. I. Ch. E.

Dr. White addressed the group on "Shoes and Ships" which closed the meeting. In his speech Dr. White discussed the achievements of the past year in our great industrial corporations in chemical engineering.

The University chapter of the A. I. Ch. E. was organized in January, 1930, by Dr. White. The award given Crutchfield was established last year and holds a stipend of $50.

Y DIRECTORS TO MEET

A meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will take place in the Y on Thursday afternoon. The purpose of this meeting will be to bring to a close the Y. M. C. A. year and to prepare a budget for next year.

Former Student Dies

William Farmer, a Kappa Sigma at the University here for two years ending last year died yesterday morning at the Duke hospital after a six weeks siege of illness caused by an undiagnosed malady. He was once a member of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff.

FRESHMAN CO-EDS CHOOSE OFFICERS AT LUNCH TODAY

First-Year Girls Meet in Graham Memorial for Last Gathering of Present School Year.

The last meeting of the freshman co-eds for the school year will be conducted this afternoon in the Grail room in Graham Memorial at 1:30 o'clock. A luncheon will be served.

In addition to the social gathering, several business matters will be transacted, including election of officers for the rising sophomore class.

COMMITTEE PLANS UNIQUE PROGRAM TO GIVE AWARDS

"Pepper" Martin, Committee Chairman, Refuses to Disclose Nature of Skits.

Tomorrow night students will gather in Memorial hall to observe the tenth annual awards night ceremony at which achievements of the past year will be recognized and leading students will participate in short entertaining skits, the humorous nature of which has been withheld by Ed "Pepper" Martin, chairman of committee.

The awards night this year will include two awards which have not been previously included on the program. For the first time Beta Gamma Sigma, which in commerce corresponds to Tau Beta Pi of the engineering school, will make the awards of membership to those men who have by their records earned the distinction this year.

Delta Sigma Pi Award

The Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key given yearly to the best graduate in commerce will be awarded at this time. This distinction was won last year by L. J. Felton. Also in commerce the Alpha Kappa Psi

MEMBERS GATHER TO PASS REPORT OF AUDIT BOARD

Annual Audit for Campus Organizations to Be Published Later in Week.

Members of the Student Audit board will meet this afternoon in the student government office in Graham Memorial at 2:30 o'clock to approve the annual audit board report which will be released later in the DAILY TAR HEEL, according to R. H. Sherill, auditor and compiler of the report.

Complete financial reports of 18 campus organizations and societies will be included in the audit. The preparation of the statistics has been in order for the past several weeks.

Two Groups

The organizations included in the report are divided into two groups: one group with the fiscal year ending April 30, and the other running on the basis of the regular school year.

Organizations in the first group are the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes, the electrical, civil, mechanical, and chemical engineering societies, the medical society, the law, pharmacy, and Woman's association, student government, and the debate council.

Other Organizations

Those appearing in the second group are Graham Memorial, the athletic association, student entertainment committee, and the Publications Union board.

Other campus organizations are using the Student Audit board for all financial workings, but have not desired public announcements.

The members of the board are: faculty, Dean F. F. Bradshaw and R. H. Sherill; students, Haywood Weeks, Chaiborn Carr, and Francis Anderson.

Instigation Of Awards Night Aimed To Achieve Spirit Of Campus Unity

Ceremony, Begun Ten Years Ago, Has Been Linked With the Completion of Graham Memorial and Is Considered by Deans and Student Leaders Marked Success.

In an effort to achieve a spirit of unity on the campus, the idea of awards night was inaugurated ten years ago. It is linked with the campaign to finish the Graham Memorial building. When a final effort was made to finish the memorial to President Edward Kidder Graham, those in charge declared that they wanted more than merely a stone structure. They wanted a spirit of unity on the campus. For this reason they conceived the idea of concentrating in one event all the scattered awards that were made for one reason or another throughout the year. This concentration became known as awards night.

Complimenting campus organizations on the fine work of the past year—whether in spite of, or because of, the depression—Dean of Students Francis F. Bradshaw expressed the desire that the whole school be present when the awards are made. Bradshaw feels that awards night is not an individual affair, or a program primarily for only a few organizations. He feels that it is a campus affair, something to foster a spirit of unity throughout the whole school.

Mayne Albright and Haywood Weeks, both former presidents of the student body, together with Harper Barnes, present incumbent of that office, expressed opinions similar to Bradshaw's.

Good Entertainment

Awards night last year marked a departure from the usual program. Formal presentations were minimized, and instead the school enjoyed some rollicking entertainment. With Little Giant Billy Arthur as master of ceremonies, prominent campus figures killed Julius Caesar over again in a manner that would have slain Shakespeare.

As Caesar died in the parody of Shakespeare's play, he sang the mournful strains of "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone." The entertainment included a number of popular tunes, making it much like a musical comedy.

Three years ago some entertainment was introduced into the awards night program, but last year's seems to have been the most successful so far. Among those who participated
