

Heels Defeat Duke For Conference Title

Win Also Enables Team To Tie Davidson Outfit For State Baseball Lead

Big Joe Griffith Allows Enemy Only Two Blows as He Takes Second Win Over Duke.

PEACOCK LEADS BATTING

By Morrie Long

Climaxing his brilliant college baseball career with a beautiful pitching exhibition yesterday on Emerson field, Big Joe Griffith permitted but two safe blows and beat Duke for the second time this season 2 to 1.

Some 6,000 fans, the largest crowd of the season, saw Griffith tame the truculent Duke pachyderms and enable Carolina to capture the first Duke series since the halcyon days of 1927.

Much water has flown under the bridge since Carolina has won a Southern conference baseball championship but not only has Coach Bunn Hearn's coterie turned in this trick (South Carolina has only three victories and can hardly be considered loop winners), it also has finished the season in a deadlock for Big Five honors with Davidson.

Duke Ace Beaten

Again as in the first game Griffith tied up in a hurling battle with Bobby Coombs, Duke's ace mound gracer, and though Coombs was nicked for ten blows, he struck out seven to Griffith's four.

Johnny Peacock, one of the best garden patrollers seen on a Carolina baseball team in recent years, opened the Carolina half of the first inning with a mighty smack into left which went through Wentz's legs, Peacock reaching third on the play. He died there when his mates failed to hit. Again in the second, after Griffith had not allowed Duke the least semblance of a hit, Vick singled only to be left on base when the Tar Heels didn't connect.

In the third the Tar Heels considerably deflated Booby Coombs' dreams of a shut out victory when McCaskill walked and was sacrificed to second by Big Joe. Peacock then drilled a single into center which scored McCaskill with Carolina's initial run.

McCaskill Scores

While setting the Duke club down with monotonous regularity, Griffith and his mates garnered another run in the fifth frame when McCaskill singled. Griffith's infield single pushed Lamey along and Peacock's walk choked the bases. With none away, Phipps fanned, but Weathers sent a timely single into center which registered McCaskill's second score of the game. Zaiser whiffed and Brandt fied out to end the inning.

The prodigious work of Griffith kept the anxious Duke bludgeon weilders far from a base knock until the eighth inning when Coombs sent a meandering single down the third base line for the first Blue Devil safe hit. A error, sacrifice hit, and a fielder's choice sent the Duke coach's nephew across the plat-

Grid Candidates Meet

Coach Chuck Collins announced yesterday that he will meet all candidates for varsity football for next year this afternoon in Bingham hall at 4:00 o'clock. All candidates are urged to be present.

Finishes Career

Johnny Peacock, great center fielder, completed his last season yesterday as a Tar Heel baseball player. Peacock, who acted as captain in the absence of Willie Powell, played beautiful ball in the field and led the Carolina team in batting in yesterday's win over Duke. Peacock got two hits in three times up and drove in one of the two Carolina runs.

JOHN PHIPPS AND BRANDT ELECTED CAPTAINS OF NINE

Star Shortstop and First Baseman Honored by Teammates After Duke Victory.

Directly after the Duke-Carolina game yesterday, the Tar Heel squad held a meeting at which Johnny Phipps, shortstop, and George Brandt, first baseman, were elected co-captains for next year's nine.

Coach Hearn thanked all the boys individually for their fine sportsmanship and work on this year's team. The coach said that he hoped that all that were eligible to play next season would be back. According to the coach this is the greatest team Carolina has had since he has been directing them.

Both of the boys elected to lead the Tar Heels are juniors this year and have one more season with the team. The co-captains succeed Willie Powell, another infielder, as head baseball players.

Brandt will be the only three-letter man left in school next year, receiving letters as end on the football team and center and guard on the basketball team besides the diamond sport. Brandt is from Washington, D. C.

Brandt played only part of the time last year, as an outfielder. This year before the season was well underway George hurt his ankle and was forced to the bench for several weeks. After the ankle healed

Carolina Battery Baffles Duke Twice

The above combination of Joe Griffith, pitcher, and Norman McCaskill, catcher, worked the second Carolina win of this year over Duke yesterday. Both scores were 2 to 1. Griffith pitched in his last game as a Tar Heel yesterday finishing a great year. He held Duke to only two hits, neither coming until the eighth frame. The lone Duke run was unearned. McCaskill completed his first season as a Carolina catcher, turning in brilliant work in every game.

Team Selects Leaders

Ed McRae, dependable one-miler, and Ralston LeGore, Southern Conference javelin record-holder, were elected co-captains of next year's track team during the track supper at the Episcopal parish house last night. Each man has made letters in his respective events for the last two years and both have only one year of competition left on the cinder team.

You Americans take our best Tobaccos—

It's no wonder your cigarettes are good

Tobacco now makes up one-fifth of all the exports of the Republic of Turkey. From the districts famous for producing the finest Turkish, most of the crop is shipped to this country.

Of the Samsoun crop 70% is exported to America; 68% of the Smyrna crop; and even greater percentages of the crops of Xanthi and Cavalla.

The reason Americans go so far for a special kind of tobacco is... FLAVOR. For when real Turkish is left out you miss its rich, spicy taste and rare aroma.

In Chesterfield the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish are cross-blended with mild, ripe domestic tobaccos. You can taste the difference.
