

FROSH PEP MEETING
1:45 O'CLOCK
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

CAROLINA vs. GEORGIA
2:30 O'CLOCK
KENAN STADIUM

VOLUME XLII

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1933

NUMBER 20

Trustees' Executive Committee Meets Today With Frank Graham

President Expected to Consult Group Concerning NRA Educational Position.

HAS MADE NO STATEMENT

State College Alumni Send Resolution to Ehringhaus to Ask That Graham Not Leave.

The executive committee of the board of trustees of the Greater University will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the office of President Graham, it was announced yesterday by R. B. House, executive secretary of the University.

It is expected that Dr. Graham will consult the committee concerning his possible acceptance of an offer to head a national consumers' educational program for the NRA.

General Hugh S. Johnson, national director of the NRA program, wired Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus Monday, asking that Dr. Graham be temporarily released from his duties here to head the educational program.

Interviewed Monday concerning General Johnson's request, Dr. Graham stated that he preferred not to make any statement at that time. He felt that he should take up the matter with the executive committee before making a decision.

At its quarterly meeting Wednesday night, the executive committee of the general alumni association of State College unanimously adopted a resolution expressing the hope that Dr. Graham "will accept no appointment which might remove him even temporarily from North Carolina."

A copy of the resolution was sent to Governor Ehringhaus yesterday and one will be laid before the committee at today's meeting. Governor Ehringhaus stated that the matter was one for the trustees.

ORDER OF GRAIL SPONSORS DANCE

Affair Tonight Continues Week-End Social Bill Opened by Co-ed Fall Dance.

The social bill for the week-end got under way last night with the co-ed fall dance in the Tin Can. Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians played for the affair, which took place between the hours of 9:30 and 1:00 o'clock.

The schedule continues tonight when the Order of the Grail stages its second dance of the fall quarter at the same place this evening. The dance will begin at 9:00, and will continue until midnight, with Long's orchestra again playing.

The dance tonight will be made an occasion for the entertainment of the members of the Georgia football squad. The custom of honoring members of visiting athletic teams was begun last fall.

Although a comparatively new organization, Long's orchestra has already attained a great deal of popularity throughout the state. The group appeared at White Lake during the summer.

Stag tickets to the dance may be obtained at Pritchard-Lloyd's this morning. Students accompanied by girls may secure tickets at the door tonight.

Typewriters Installed

Two Underwoods Placed in Office of The Daily Tar Heel.

Two new Underwood typewriters were installed in the editorial office of the DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday as the results of action of the Publications Union Board.

There have been four typewriters in the office which have been of no practical value as they were so stiff and worn that it was difficult to write on them. Upon the recommendation of the managing editor of the paper, the P. U. board last week authorized the purchase of four new typewriters. Two new Royals will be installed sometime soon to complete the stock of typewriters in the office.

LIBRARIANS WILL ATTEND MEETING

Heads of Library School To Participate in Convention At Chicago.

Dr. Susan Grey Akers, head of the school of library science; Miss Nora Beust, assistant professor of library science; and R. B. Downs, assistant professor of library science and librarian, will attend the annual convention of the American Library association, which meets at Chicago during the week of October 16-21.

Dr. Akers will present the recommendations of the library terminology committee at the council meeting. Dr. Akers is chairman of the committee, which was organized for the purpose of standardizing the terms used in the schools of library science all over the United States.

Miss Beust will make a report for the professional training committee to the children's librarians section and will preside at the meeting of the librarians of elementary, junior, and senior high schools. At this meeting will be discussed "Reading and Reading Problems." As president of the Alumni association of the University of Wisconsin library school, Miss Beust will preside at their annual banquet. She will leave for Chicago this week in order to attend the seminars on adult reading and adult education, which seminars were arranged by the graduate library school of the University of Chicago. Dr. L. R. Wilson, formerly the librarian of the University, is now dean of the library school of the University of Chicago.

SEDALIA SINGERS TO GIVE PROGRAM

The Sedalia Singers, widely known group of colored choristers and soloists, will be presented in Memorial hall Sunday, October 29, at 3:30 o'clock.

The singers have been enthusiastically commended not only by prominent members of their own race in the field of music, such as Roland Hayes and James Weldon Johnson, but also by such important metropolitan stars as Alma Gluck and Frieda Hempel.

There will be no admission charge. A freewill offering will be taken to defray their expenses.

Graham's Birthday Anniversary

Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the Greater University, who celebrates today his birthday anniversary, two days after the exercises commemorating the founding of the school he heads.

'De Lawd' Sees Tolerance Gaining From Appeal Of 'Green Pastures'

Richard B. Harrison Tells Interviewer of Royal Invitation To Play in London.

By Joseph Sugarman
"Gangway! Gangway for the Lord God Jehovah!"

While no colored Gabriel was on hand at the entry to Richard B. Harrison's dressing room to give "de Lawd" of "The Green Pasture" his now immortal salute, Harrison himself by his very appearance commanded the "gangway" so magnificently sought for him by the faithful "Gabe."

A massive, deeply-lined yet kindly and understanding countenance is "de Lawd's." His eyes bespoke a soothing effect that could be broken only by the misdemeanors of a sinful Mankind. Fine, greying locks crowned his large head extending down to the collar of his preacher's frock-coat.

But it was Richard Harrison's rich, full voice that completed the illusion of the negro conception of God. The few words granted the interviewer were uttered in a tone which conjured up the impressive forgiveness scene acted shortly before on the stage of the Carolina theatre in Durham.

"To be sure 'The Green Pastures' is influencing folks to a more religious point of view," commented the venerable actor, who not so many years before had taught religion in Greensboro. "The answer is right here in all these people coming once, twice, and even again to absorb just a little bit more of the atmosphere and spirit of the play. I might add that I feel that this play is doing something in its small way to improve the relations between members of all the various faiths represented in this country."

Will Play in England

Harrison eagerly looks forward to the day when the vehicle is taken to England for presentation. Although production was refused three years ago because of a law passed in 1732 forbidding the representation.

(Continued on page two)

Wolf Says Figures Indicate Recovery

"According to accurate figures 3,500,000 people have been put to work since last year's low level of production. The bureau of labor statistics states that the number may be 5,000,000," Professor H. D. Wolf stated in speaking on the subject of the national recovery program Thursday night in Bingham hall.

The lecture was the second of a series on the subject sponsored by the commerce school, which are conducted every Thursday night in Bingham hall.

Professor Wolf showed that the act was introduced in order that purchasing power of the nation might be increased by having more men employed and employed at higher wages.

"This is really the first opportunity for industry to organize and govern itself," said Dr. Wolf. Because of the conflict between the codes and the Sherman anti-trust law, the latter had to be repealed.

The code does not in any way allow for monopolies and must not be used to hinder the small man.

The next in this series of lectures on the new deal program will be on agricultural relief by Dr. G. W. Forster of State College.

CAIN-CUMMINGS

Mrs. M. H. Stacy, dean of women, has announced the marriage of her niece, Miss Edna Cummings, to Frederick C. Cain last Saturday at Memphis, Tenn. Both were University students last year, Cain receiving his B. S. in civil engineering at the graduation exercises in June.

NINE INDISPOSED

The following students were confined to the infirmary yesterday: Murry Adams, Dewitt Carroll, Charles Eaton, Dexter Freeman, Edwin Miller, J. H. Price, George Steele, H. B. Whitmore, and Margaret Witherspoon.

Students Amass To Hail Return Of Carolina Spirit

Koch To Read Hamlet

Head of Playmakers will Present Famous Play Sunday.

The series of Sunday evening play readings presented each year by the Playmakers will open tomorrow night at 8:30 in the Playmaker theatre. As is customary, Professor Frederick H. Koch will begin the readings with "Hamlet," following a precedent set several years ago of opening the series with a Shakespearian play.

The Playmakers plan to produce "Hamlet" in the Forest theatre in the spring. Everyone is invited to attend the reading, especially those interested in trying out for the spring production.

ODUM ADDRESSES FROSH ASSEMBLY

Sociologist Says Present Period Offers More Varied Opportunities Than Past Ages.

Dr. Howard Odum, author, sociologist, and member of the University faculty addressed the freshman class at the assembly in Memorial hall at 10:30 yesterday morning.

"In my opinion the period in which we are living is the best possible in which to approach life and gain the most advantages from it," he stated. "Our problem is to match our wits against our difficulties. Today we have access to more opportunities in all lines, and over them we must gain mastery."

"The qualities we need to be successful in the world today are education, skill and technical perfection, capacity for adaptation to constant change, social and moral courage, and a purpose and motivation. We still as ever need patriotism and loyalty, tolerance and patience, and good physical morale and condition."

"We must learn above all to work together. If we do this we shall accomplish our work."

Dean Bradshaw announced that at Monday assembly Dr. McNeill Poteat will speak in appeal against the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. This will be especially interesting to all students on account of the great diversification of opinion on this subject among the student body.

FAMED MUSICIAN WILL VISIT HERE

John Powell, world-famous musician, will visit the University next month in search of folk-lore material, according to Dr. R. S. Boggs. His "Rhapsodie Negre" was included in the musical programs of most of the European countries this past summer. He has created many of the folk songs representative of the south.

John Powell, in his political controversies over the segregation of the negro population has evidenced some of the versatility that his great contemporary, Paderewski, has shown in Polish politics.

Since John Powell seldom makes tours of the country, it will be a great honor for the University to entertain him next month.

Torches, Speakers, and Band Goad Spirits To High Pitch.

The greatest crowd ever to assemble at a University pep meeting saw the destruction of the dead spirit of Carolina and hailed the birth of a new spirit that promised to surpass anything ever seen here.

At 7:30 o'clock last night a roaring mass circled a huge bonfire, ablaze behind Memorial hall. With torches aflame the student body raised their voices in the greatest demonstration ever staged. The band played the stirring new songs while the students raised their voices to the words. Great difficulty was encountered in silencing the huge group when Odell Sapp, end coach, stepped up to the microphone set up on a platform before the bonfire, to address them.

Bill Dunham, who played an outstanding game for the Tar Babies yesterday afternoon, was the next to speak. "Relativity's high collared, frock-coated Archibald Henderson" laid aside his professorial dignity and harangued the yelling mass of rabid Tar Heel students who surrounded the platform. His recollections of the early Georgia-Carolina games inspired the body to fanatical and deafening hullabaloo.

Jule Frankel, who was injured in last week's Vanderbilt game, in a talk well spotted with epithets, urged the whole-hearted support of the Carolina student body.

Vergil Weathers, fine basketball player and president of the senior class, yelled to the men in an effort to have them support by their spirited cheering, the Tar Heel eleven in today's big game.

(Continued on last page)

GEORGIA ALUMNI TO BE RECEIVED

Annual Luncheon for Georgia Graduates Will Be Given Today in Graham Memorial.

The University of Georgia alumni in North Carolina, Georgia, and other neighboring states will meet at the third annual Georgia alumni banquet in Graham Memorial building at 12:30 o'clock today, it was announced by Harold D. Meyer yesterday.

The affair is the third annual luncheon held in connection with Carolina-Georgia football games. Over 75 Georgia alumni are expected to be present.

The banquet will be formal, and short talks will feature in the program. Georgia alumni in the states of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia have been sent invitations to attend.

Dr. S. V. Stanford, president of the University of Georgia, and his wife; T. W. Reed, registrar; Charlie Martin, manager of athletics; Coach Stegeman, director of athletics; and W. O. Payne, faculty chairman of athletics, will attend from Georgia.

The annual luncheon is sponsored by Harold D. Meyer, T. J. Woolfer, and Miss Elizabeth Head, all graduates of the University of Georgia.