STUDENTS ACT TO REDEEM AND PRESERVE HONOR SYSTEM

UNIVERSITY CLUB LAYS PLANS FOR BIG HOMECOMING

Loving Cup and Radio Will Be Awarded Frat and Dormitory For Best Decorations.

At the largest meeting of its existence last night, the University club formulated and decided upon the main plans for the gala homecoming celebration of the week-end of the Carolina-Georgia Tech game. The meeting was called to order by President Agnew Bahnson and immediately a discussion was opened to decide the details and features of the celebration, carrying out the club's decision in their last week's meeting of sponsoring decorations to all dormitories and fraternity houses.

The merchants of Chapel Hill have agreed to decorate their stores in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. As an inducement to the fraternities and dormitories, prizes are to be offered to the dormitory and fraternity that can best decorate its building. The prizes, a loving cup for the fraternity group and a radio for the dormitory group, will be awarded during the half at the football game to the winning two buildings. The winners will be chosen after a careful selection by a committee of judges to be chosen at a later date.

The decorations may be in any form, President Bahnson said, but he suggested that they be formulated around some idea

State newspapers announced yesterday that James A. Farley, postmaster general, will also be present, but this statement has not been confirmed.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Roberts, known to Georgia Tech as "Chip" Roberts, made known his intention last week to be present.

These prominent men were engaged by Durham officials recently to dedicate the recently constructed Durham postoffice next week, and they were to attend the game afterwards. For some reason the dedication has been postponed, but the notables are still expected to come to the Carolina-Georgia Tech match.

Physiology Quiz Today

Dr. L. H. Manning announced yesterday that the mid-term quiz in physiology will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock. He also stated that the quiz in physiological chemistry would be held on Monday, October 30, at 9:30 o'clock.

Already over 75 reservations for banquet tickets have been received. The event is to take place in the banquet rooms of the Carolina Inn.

The alumni dinner will be part of the annual homecoming day celebration, and after the banquet the Georgia Tech supporters will be assigned a special section in Kenan stadium.

GROUP TO OFFER STUDENTS' WORKS

Salon Ensemble to Render Compositions of Hazelman and Liverman Sunday.

Two students in the school of music, Herbert Hazelman and Hubert Liverman, will be represented by the presentation of their original compositions on the program of the Carolina Salon Ensemble, under the baton of Thor Johnson, in the lounge of Graham Memorial Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Hazelman's latest work, entitled "Zwei Kontratanzen fur Kontrabass mit Klavier" will be played by John Murphy for the first time in public, with the composer at the piano. Hazelman has received considerable recognition for his work as a student composer. His "Danse Moronique" was performed last year by the National Symphony orchestra of Washington, D. C., and is now being considered for inclusion in a series of European concerts in Bayreuth, Salzburg, and Munich. The Salon Ensemble gave a performance in Chapel Hill of his burlesque for piano and orchestra, "Grainger in the Mountains," last spring on one of the Graham Memorial series of concerts.

Liverman Makes Debut

Liverman will make his first appearance before a Chapel Hill audience in a group of three piano compositions. This group will include his "Etude in A Minor," which will appear in the June issue of the Etude Magazine, published by Theodore Presser company of Philadelphia. Liverman is better known throughout the state for his exceptional ability as a young concert pianist. This is his first year as a student in the University. He will also play Chopin's "Black Key Etude" and Debussy's "Claire de Lune."

The orchestral portion of the concert will feature the works of French composers.

Definite Action At Last

—AN EDITORIAL—

At last it has come. Tired of seeing our once-famed honor system as the center of mockery, a few students have risen above the rest of us and taken a definite stand for the proper enforcement of our honor code.

Meeting together, trying the case, and reporting the defendant's name to the student council with rapid determination, these students have set out on the right road. The way is open for the rest of us to fall in line and do our part.

No longer can the individual justify his position of failing to report a violation on the grounds that no one else would under the same conditions. This man's excuse has been taken away en-

NEGRO EQUALITY STRESSED IN NRA

Committee Urges People of North Carolina to Remember Negroes in Recovery.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Commission on Interracial Co-operation introduced a new phase of work to be inserted into the NRA program of North Carolina in a meeting held in Durham recently. The fairness to the Negro people during the rush and haste of speedy national and state recovery is the main point that the committee is stressing.

Some of the points of major interest in the program are the salaries of Negro teachers; transportation of Negro school children; provision for an eight month's school term for all Negro schools; the voiding of the terms of the National Recovery Act in some instances and the discharge of Negro workers under its provisions in other instances.

The committee laid stress on the fact that during this time of strain under emotional tension and conflicts of interests, we should not allow ourselves to increase inequalities and injustices towards the Negro race.

The committee has as its chairman Dr. Howard W. Odum, professor of sociology here; Roy M. Brown, Guy B. Johnson, and W. C. Jackson, all professors at the University, are members of the board.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS INVITED TO RECEPTION

An informal reception will be given in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church at 8:00 this evening. The reception will be under the auspices of the student's Bible class and forum.

All Presbyterian students in the University are urged to come, as a very interesting program is being planned. The Rev. W. M. Cooper, supply pastor of the church, plans to do much student welfare work this year and needs the backing of all students that are interested.

Emory to Lecture

S. T. Emory, faculty member of the geology department, will lecture in Pitt county Saturday. He will speak to the Pitt county teachers on "Teaching Geography."

Few Students Voluntarily Summon Violators Of Code

SOCIETY SELECTS SIX NEW MEMBERS FROM ENGINEERS

At a joint meeting of the engineering societies last night at Phillips hall, six students were tapped for Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society.

Three of the men were juniors and three were seniors. The juniors were J. B. Crutchfield, W. W. King, and E. L. Laxton; and the seniors were B. S. Old, S. S. Meyers, and R. M. Dailey.

In order to become eligible for membership a student has to be ranked in the upper eighth of his class if a junior, and the upper quarter, if a senior. In addition to eligibility a man is selected on the basis of character, social qualities, capacity for leadership, and personal appearance.

Dean H. G. Baity of the engineering school addressed the meeting on "The Organization Program of the Public Works Administration," of which he is state engineer.

GRAHAM TO VISIT ANNUAL MEETING

Graham and Pierson to Represent State at Conference of American Universities.

President Frank Porter Graham and William Whatley Pierson, Jr., dean of the graduate school, will represent the University at the 35th annual conference of associated American universities which will meet at Princeton University October 26, 27, and 28.

Twenty-nine American universities, including the University of North Carolina, are members of the association. This society is one of the most influential bodies in the states for determining academic standards in education and in fostering better educational systems. It especially stresses graduate curricula.

Dr. William Whatley Pierson was serving on the executive committee of the association during 1930 and 1931, and later served as one of seven members of a committee for the classification of universities and colleges.

The program for the conference has not been announced.

The University of North Carolina was admitted to the association in 1922. In 1924 the University served as vice-president of the organization, and in 1925 it was elected president.

Staff Asks Students To Have Photos Made

The Yackety Yack staff urges every junior and senior who has not had his picture taken to do so immediately. November 1 has been set as the absolute deadline.

In an attempt to reach the numerous students who have not had their pictures taken, a booth is being kept in the Y. M. C. A. during chapel period, and fraternity presidents have been given lists of those who have had pictures made.

Defendant Is Suspended By Student Council In Special Meeting.

Rebelling against further mockery of our honor system and determined to restore it, a few students met Wednesday night on their own initiative.

They called before them one of their classmates, charged him with cheating, heard his statement, voted by ballot unanimously their conviction of his guilt, and gave him the alternative of withdrawing from the University immediately or having their findings of his case submitted to the student council.

The student involved went before the student council last night in a special meeting and this group suspended him indefinitely.

As we write this report, these students have before them two more men charged with the same offense, cheating on examination.

Nineteen III

Nineteen students were confined to the University infirmary yesterday. They were: R. L. Bernhardt, George Butter, J. H. Eddleman, James Ferrando, Walter Graham, Ruth Hall, Clarence Jenkins, W. H. Kellingsworth, Herman Kane, Henry Kapp, Vida Miller, W. M. Parker, J. H. Price, Russell Powell, W. N. Sloan, George Steele, Geneva Surratt, J. T. Vitiello, and C. C. White.

MURCHISON GIVES THIRD NRA TALK

Suggests Financing Public Works and Emergency Relief From New Funds.

"Just now when the forces of recovery seem hanging in the balance, a tremendous forward impetus might be gained by financing public works and emergency relief from newly created funds rather than from the depleted reservoir of existing capital," said Dr. C. T. Murchison in a lecture last night on "Monetary and Banking Reform and Inflation."

Dr. Murchison went on to say that the system of the national government of borrowing money from the banks is increasing the national debt, since the banks have no new supplies of savings.

Call on Federal Reserve

He suggested that the government draw upon the federal reserve bank for funds. The federal reserve banks are the only institutions that can create new funds without limit and without drawing upon existing supplies. He further stated that $750,000,000 is lying idle in them at the present time.

This lecture was the third in a series on the National Recovery program sponsored by the school of commerce. Dr. G. W. Forster of State College was to speak last night, but since he was detained in Washington to work on the tobacco code, Dr. Murchison, who was the next speaker on the program, exchanged places with him.
