

Carolina Varsity Works Out Under Arc Lights In Stadium

Mac Bell, Jim McCachren, and Herman Snyder Look Good, But Still Lack Finesse.

VARSITY WORKS AT NIGHT

Offense Looks Better, But There Is Still a Need for Reserve Strength on Flanks.

Carolina's varsity has taken to longer hours and harder work. The Tar Heels' coaching staff has even taken further steps towards this goal by having arc light installed in Kenon stadium.

Not only did the Carolina gridsters scrimmage until dusk yesterday afternoon but they also came back last night at 7:30 o'clock for work on Georgia Tech defense.

Scrimmage Frosh

Yesterday afternoon's work was marked with a heavy skirmish between the yearlings and the varsity. The varsity counted almost at will. Mac Bell, Jim McCachren, and Herman Snyder looked best running in the Blue and White backfield. But according to Coach Collins, these men still lack finish in their running in order to be good ball-carriers.

There is still a big opening at the flanks. Besides the regulars, Moore, Brandt, Frankel, and Barwick, the Tar Heels still are without dependable reserves for the end positions. Especially will good flankmen be needed for the Homecoming day game with Georgia Tech Saturday. The Yellow Jackets have a powerful offense which bases its strength on driving tandem plays off tackle and around the ends.

Last week the Techs succumbed to Tulane 7-0 in a game played on a mud-drenched Grant field. Save for a 101-yard run by Buck Bryan, Green Wave back, the Golden Tornado had the New Orleans boys well under control.

Bernie Bierman Unaware Of His "Resignation"

Investigating the report of a St. Paul, Minnesota, paper that Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota had resigned his coaching position, Courtney Swenson, sports editor of the Minnesota Daily, in an interview with Bierman, writes that the coach of the Gophers knew nothing of the sudden announcement.

"Well! This is news to me," said Bernie Bierman as he read of his resignation in a St. Paul newspaper that stated he would leave his position because of salary disagreements. "It's the first news I've heard about it," continued the Gopher football mentor.

This year at Minnesota is Bierman's second. So far this season his football aggregation has tied Purdue, 7-7 and has defeated the strong Panther eleven from Pittsburgh, 7-3, in one of the most startling, unanticipated triumphs of the current gridiron season.

The announcement concerning Bierman's resignation appeared in the St. Paul paper a day before the game with Jack Sutherland's Pitt contingent.

Moore Stars At End

Bill Moore celebrated his removal to end in fine style playing a jam-up game against Florida and recovering three fumbles at opportune moments. Carolina is looking to him to stop Georgia Tech's end runs in the Homecoming game here Saturday afternoon.

BACK HOMECOMING PLANS

Doping The Sports

By JAMES MORRIS

AT last, after the season is about half over, football weather has arrived. Maybe if this slightly cool streak keeps up we will see some real playing after all. This season has been one of the worst as far as weather is concerned in the history of the grid game. Although there has been little rain, even a wet season would be better than the hot, humid days of this fall. It is a fact that so far no player has been able to give all that's in him or last as long as he would have on cold crisp days that are characteristic of perfect football weather.

GEORGE Barclay, Carolina's best bet for all-southern honors, still receives praise for his great work in the Tar Heel line. Last Saturday in the Carolina-Florida game he was again considered the outstanding man in both forward walls, even by the 'Gator players themselves. When George went over to present the pigskin used in the battle, to the winning Florida team, as it is customary to do, the sporting 'Gator players said, "keep it yourself Barclay, you deserve it."

COACH Dale Ranson continues to put out winning cross-country teams year after year; how Coach Dale does it is beyond me. Hardly ever does an experienced man report for the running team, as the sport is not known in high schools and very slightly in prep institutions. However, the little cross-country and track mentor takes boys of almost any build, and if they will work, makes them capable runners. This year the Hill and Dalers started the season with an easy 16 to 47 victory over Florida. As in former years the Carolina team will be favored to take the Southern Conference championship, and it can be depended on to come through more than any other Tar Heel squad.

GREENSBORO is planning quite a celebration this Friday night when our yearlings meet State's first year team there in football under lights. The game is to be played at Memorial stadium with all kinds of committees being named at Greensboro to take charge of the battle. The contest will be broadcast from the field to the spectators, and arrangements have been made to have the freshman classes of Greensboro College and North Carolina College attend. Both State and Carolina have strong freshman clubs, and the battle may be the deciding factor in the Big Five race for top honors.

JOHNNY Branch, former star quarterback at Carolina, announced last week the signing of June Underwood to play with the Charlotte Bantams, professional football team. June, who was outstanding for the Tar Heels at center last year will make the sixth former Blue and White player to join the Branch-coached team. Besides Underwood and Branch the Bantams have Houston, fullback, and Schwartz, Shuler, and McDade, all linemen. The professional team is now trying to sign Buster Mott, who did so much damage, as a back, to teams that have opposed the University of Georgia for the past three years.

SIGMA NU DOWNS THETA CHI, 60-0

Betas Win 13-0 from T. E. P.; Mangum Wins by Field Goal; Phi Gams, Ruffin Victors.

Mangum's gridsters took the lead in the dormitory loop of the intramural football race by handing Ranson House its first defeat of the season 3-0. A perfect 20 yard dropkick at a difficult angle from the foot of Ed McRae produced the lone tally in the second quarter.

Mangum outplayed Ranson House throughout and threatened to score on several occasions but the losers' defense always stiffened whenever their goal was in danger. McRae was the hero of the game and was ably supported by Moser and Efland. Beam and LeGore were best for Ranson House.

Sigma Nu smothered Theta Chi under a barrage of long runs and passes 60-0. The victors rolled up 21 points in the first half with Dameron, Griffith and Whitaker bearing the brunt of the attack.

The scoring was continued in the last two quarters as Long with two touchdowns and Lytle with three six pointers led the way. Griffith, Long, Glace and Lytle starred for Sigma Nu while Bennett and Kelly were the losers' best bets.

Beta Theta Pi remained in the class of unbeaten teams by inflicting Tau Epsilon Phi its first loss 13-0. The Betas counted their first marker late in the third period when Anderson flipped a short pass to Rose. Anderson rifled a short heave to Abernathy for the extra point.

Beta tallied again in the fourth quarter when Anderson hurled a 30 yard pass over the goal to Rand. Barnett and Coan in the line and Anderson and Rose in the backfield were the shining lights for Beta Theta Pi while Eisenburg and Sovitsky featured for the T. E. P.'s.

Ike Minor Bests Archie Henderson In Hard-Fought Match 6-4, 9-7

Takes First Set in Lengthy Service Duel, and Then Rallies for Final.

"Ike" Minor, tall bespectacled tennis star who was seeded number one in Carolina's fall tennis tournament, successfully defended his laurels against Archie Henderson, Jr., 6-4, 9-7, yesterday. The victory brings Minor into the ranks of semi-finalists.

Despite the fact that Archie Henderson failed to capture a set, the encounter between him and the lanky Minor was by far the most thrilling match yet waged on the tennis courts since the start of the tourney.

Minor Rallies

Minor took the first set after a long struggle that found both participants winning on their own service. Minor's late rally with the score 4-all, garnered for him the set, 6-4.

The second set went sixteen games before the bespectacled racquet-wielder triumphed. He rolled up a five-game lead on Henderson only to have the game freshman come back and run off with the next five battles to tie the score. From that time on, each man won the game on his own service until the final two struggles, when Minor forged ahead to take the game, set, and match.

Abels Wins

In the other two matches staged yesterday, Byron Abels encountered a bit more trouble than he had formerly experienced, and Syd Sobol had his

Sports Staff Meeting

All reporters on the sports staff of the Daily Tar Heel will meet this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The meeting will take place in room 214 Graham Memorial. Failure to attend will bring suspension from the department.

Passers Look Better

Alan McDonald and Don Jackson are doing some much-improved passing for Carolina. The receivers were in a slump last week, but if Coach Collins can get them to hang onto the ball, Carolina should have a good aerial game to aid its running attack in the Homecoming game with Georgia Tech here Saturday.

Barclay Still Stars

George Barclay, Carolina's star guard and leading candidate for all-southern, took over the job of defensive center in the Florida game and is rendering the Tar Heel eleven great service in pass defense as well as in the line.

match called with Joe Grier because of darkness after he had taken one set, 6-4, and was tied 2-all in the second.

Abels' playing against Alexander was bothered by the strong wind that blew over the courts. He won his match in straight sets, however, 6-4, 6-3, and will encounter the winner of the Grier-Sobol match today.

Cake Racers Set For Run In Tenth Annual Event

Workman Surveys Week's Gridiron Contests In West

Ohio State Falls Before Michigan; Notre Dame Loses; Army, Northwestern Win.

By Russell C. Workman

Football writer, Daily Northwestern

In the outstanding game of the Middle West Saturday, before a crowd of 93,500, the great Ohio State eleven fell before Michigan's smooth working grid machine, 13-0. The Buckeyes never had a chance. Doped by many to be Michigan's chief rival, Ohio State was beaten as every other team is beaten who challenges the supremacy of the Wolves—they were outsmarted. They say Michigan has only a punt, a pass and a prayer. But these Wolverines have lost only one conference game in four years.

Regezi punted, Everhardus and Renner ran, Captain Fay directed the play, and Ted Petoskey was the outstanding line-man for Michigan. Cramer, quarterback, Rosequist tackle,

ALMOST 200 MEN TO START GRIND AT 4:00 O'CLOCK

Today at 4:00 o'clock 180 men will line up at the Emerson field and like a wild herd of buffaloes will storm the highway along the racing course, each determined to be the winner of Carolina's tenth annual Cake Race. Ten or twelve minutes later the winners will pull up at the finishing line at Emerson field.

This year's Cake Race promises to be one of the greatest of our annual mammoth intramural runs. The 180 men who have registered show that the interest is very high.

From their workouts and performances around the track and on the course in these work-outs, there appears to be about eleven men who have the best chances to win.

These include five freshmen: Allen, Daniel, Gammon, Gardner, and Hamilton. The six upperclassmen are: Bost, Furches, Gwynn, Kimrey, Pijanowski, and Yandell. Any of these men are likely to be the victor, and
