CADET-GOB TILT HAS GRID STAGE

Service Institutions Will Play Again on Franklin Field; Two Navy Stars Hurt.

Franklin field, Philadelphia, will Saturday be the scene of what is probably the most colorful athletic event the world over—the annual Army-Navy football classic.

Under the generalship of their brilliant Captain Jablonsky, the Cadets, who excited commiseration of old Army players as much too light to weather the current season, have reached this late stage of the season without being tied or beaten.

This incredibly light team, which averages but 178 pounds, has been scored upon only by Mercer. Playing "heads-up" ball, the West Pointers have thrown into the list of defeated such formidable teams as Illinois, Yale, Columbia, and Harvard.

Army Favored

Rated on their showing in the Columbia and Princeton games, the Navy may have two new starting tackles when they face the Hudson River soldiers. Head Coach "Rip" Miller is pleased with the way Substitutes George Lambert and Slade Cutter have been playing. Many believe that these new-comers

More Rose Bowl Talk Regarding Grid Candidates

East Boasts Three Undefeated And Untied Elevens While West Coast Offers Trio.

California's Rose Bowl committee is having its hardest task in years endeavoring to choose the contestants for the country's annual gridiron classic which will be played on New Year's Day.

The greatest obstacle is in the west where no gridiron contingent is undefeated. Southern California, the Rose Bowl participant and the flag bearer of the coast for the past three years, has been defeated by Stanford, while Oregon, the far west's other leading contender was decisively trimmed by Howard Jones' Trojans last Saturday, 26-0.

In the east there remain only three major aggregations who have yet to be beaten, Army, Princeton, and Duke.

Princeton definitely out Princeton because of its agreement with Yale calling for no post-season games by either team would not be able to go to the Rose Bowl even if it were invited. Army, on the other hand, should it continue its winning ways, cannot go because of the military restrictions of the Academy.

The lone remaining competitor in the east is Duke, coached by Wallace Wade, formerly mentor of Alabama. Duke is eagerly anticipating an invitation to make the coast trip, but the Durham football contingent is without a national reputation, having just broken into the football limelight for the first time this fall.

"Big Ten" Also Out

In the mid-west, Nebraska downed by Pitt, is definitely out of the running with Michigan still the leading figure in that sector despite its tie with Minnesota last week. It is definitely known that no football team in the "Big Ten" can play a post-season affair without the sanction of the "Big Ten Committee," and that group of gentlemen refused Harry Kipke's team permission to go west last year.

And this fall they have just passed a new rule, further emphasizing the fact that mid-west teams are not to participate in any games, other than the ones on their respective schedules.

have surpassed the prowess of Huff Clark and Bill Brooks, veteran tackles.

Miller, like our own "Chuck" Collins, doesn't go in for predictions on the eve of a big game. "Army has plenty of talent and lots of power," the Annapolis mentor remarked. "We've never been led to believe otherwise. However, I think Navy is better than it has been in recent years. We're going to give them a fight!" The Navy usually does.

Dope on Gobs

The Midshipmen have garnered victories over such elevens as Notre Dame, Virginia, and Pennsylvania. Columbia and Princeton had trouble vanquishing the sailors.

It is not yet known whether David Miller, Navy end, will be able to play in Saturday's tilt. Gordon Chung-Hoon, fleet half-back, who was injured during the Columbia game, has reported for practice and will probably see action against the Cadets. He was previously announced to be definitely out.

CAVALIER STALWARTS

Here are a trio of formidable gridsters upon whose shoulders the bulk of Virginia's hopes will lie. Captain Ray Burger is one of the most powerful tackles in Dixie. He is a power on the offense and plays superb defensive ball. Tommy Johnson is the helmsman who quarterbacks the Cavalier contingent. Johnson is a brilliant ball-carrier and heady field general. Johnny Dial, the third of this potential trio, is a star guard, having done great work all season for Coach Dawson's eleven.

Collins Runs Charges Through Long And Hard Team Scrimmage

Joyce and Barclay Still Out of Activities; Moore Brothers Return for Active Work.

BLUES LICK ORANGE, 21-13

Acee McDonald Shines in Blue Team's Offensive Drives; Kay Thompson Scores.

Coach "Chuck" Collins sent his football squad through its first hard scrimmage yesterday on Kenan field in preparation for the game with Virginia Thanksgiving. The practice was featured by a contest between the blue and orange teams with the former coming out on top, 21-13.

Every man on the squad was back in uniform but George Barclay and Emmett Joyce, regular guards, who both have bad injuries. Bill and George Moore, end and back, respectively, returned to action and played most of the contest. Jackson, Snyder, Bell, Brandt, Barwick, Burnett, and Collins were all dressed but did not take part in the hard work.

Woollen at Halfback

The biggest change in the line-up was "Chuck" Woollen's change to halfback. The former quarterback looked plenty good at the post, turning in one run of 70 yards.

The practice session opened with a short dummy drill which was followed by the blue-orange game. The blue, led by Acee McDonald, counted all of its scores before the orange got started. The losers, however, came back in the second half to count twice, while the blues were held scoreless.

McDonald Shines

With McDonald picking up five to ten yards a try, the blue marched down the field, George Moore driving over for the marker from the one-yard line. McDonald counted next on a beautiful run of 80 yards after intercepting a pass. The third blue score was made by Bill Moore, end, after Evins blocked Woollen's attempted punt.

Woollen scored first for the orange on his 70-yard dash over tackle. On this play Kay Thompson ran some beautiful interference. The last marker of the game was made just before the final whistle blew as a result of another blocked kick.

Thompson Scores

Big Jim Tatum got in front of Montgomery's punt and recovered on the blue seven-yard line. Thompson carried the ball across on three smashes over the middle of the line.

The winning backfield which started the game had Montgomery at quarter, Shaffer and McDonald at halves, and Moore

Bowling Results

Tom Jimison paired with Barbara Henderson to win the campus mixed doubles bowling title in bowling from Bob Lovill and Vivian Grisette in the finals match run off Tuesday afternoon in Graham Memorial. Final score: 691-551.

The winning combination went into an early lead which was never passed by their opponents and easily copped the crown. This title-winning pair ran up consistently good scores throughout the duck-pin tourney, beating both Scarborough-Smoot and Schmuckler-Siceloff.

WET COURTS POSTPONE CO-ED TENNIS FINALS

West courts yesterday postponed the classic athletic event of this week's sporting activities on the University campus—the co-ed tennis finals.

Misses Margaret McCauley and Ruth Covington, fair young lassies, have won their way to the finals and were scheduled to meet for the co-ed singles title. Miss McCauley won her way to the final round by ousting Betsy Wright, Asheville flash, in the semi-finals while Miss Covington trounced Alice Eidson, Chapel Hill maid.

Mrs. Gladys Beard, athletic director for the co-eds, has announced that the match will be run off this afternoon, weather permitting.

Tennis Finals Today

On account of the wet condition of the courts yesterday afternoon, the finals of the women's tennis tournament have been postponed until 2:00 o'clock this afternoon.

at full. Childers went in the game for Shaffer. In the losing backfield Martin, quarterback, Connally, Kenan and Woollen, backs, and McCachren and Thompson, fullbacks, all saw action.

Daniel Kicks Well

In the blue line Karn, guard, was outstanding, while Bill Moore and Daniel, end and center, also did well. Daniel looked plenty good, kicking extra points, getting three out of three tries. Tatum, tackle, and Stevens, guard, were best in the orange forward wall.

Today the varsity will likely take another hard workout with several of the injured probably getting back in action. Every man on the squad is expected to be ready to go by Monday.

DEVILS FAVORED TO KEEP CROWN

Duke Harriers Favored to Win Southern Conference Run to Be Staged Here Saturday.

Duke's cross country team, defending Southern Conference titlist from last year, is favored to take off the honors again this Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock. The meet will be run over a three mile course starting at Emerson field.

V. M. I. and Carolina, however, are regarded as potential "dark horses" in the meet; and these two clubs should be able to give the Blue Devils a tough run.

Duke Strong

The Methodists, still undefeated, are led by Bob Bird and Jerry Bray, who together tied for first in last year's run and who have been running one-two in most of their dual meets this autumn. Two other veterans, Jester and Heritage, have been turning in some fine running; but the problem which faces the Durham club is finding a place with a fifth man.

Carolina's Chances

Carolina dropped their dual meet with the Dukesters 26-32, but the Tar Heels nosed out a win over the fine Davidson harriers who tied Duke. Ranson's proteges have the scalps of State and Florida in their belts, and stand an excellent chance of putting on a complete reversal of form Saturday. Their hopes will center around the efforts of the Sullivan twins (their co-captains); Harry Williamson, Haywood Curlee, Ed Waldrop, and Ed McRae.

The V. M. I. kaydet cross countrymen hold the Virginia state title and have another strong team of veterans. These men have placed six of the first ten in their state meet with Captain Burruss, running close behind Dunaj, W. & L. star distance man. The V. M. I. team has also bowed to Duke but is reported to be much stronger now.

State's Ring Card

Dr. R. R. Sermon, athletic director at N. C. State College, announced the following schedule for the 1934 boxing team:

- January 13—South Carolina at Columbia.
- January 20—North Carolina at Raleigh.
- January 27—Georgia at Athens.
- February 3—Washington and Lee at Raleigh.
- February 9—Duke at Raleigh.
- February 17—Virginia Poly at Raleigh.

BETAS TRIUMPH OVER SIGMA NUS IN TOUGH BATTLE

Henry Anderson Leads Victors To 13-6 Victory, Clinching Fraternity Title.

Presenting a powerful passing and running attack and an impregnable defense Beta Theta Pi clinched the fraternity intramural grid title yesterday by defeating Sigma Nu 13-6.

The Betas scored when the game was only two minutes old. Following the opening kick-off Beta received the ball on the 50-yard stripe. Tenille passed 20 yards to Anderson and then followed with an 8-yard heave to Rose. On the next play Tenille rifled a long pass to Rand who made a brilliant catch over the goal line for the first touchdown.

Betas Take Lead

Beta counted early in the second quarter. On an exchange of punts, Beta took the ball on the Sigma Nu 30-yard line. After two line plays had netted but four yards, Tenille passed to Barnett, standing uncovered over the goal line, for the second tally. Rose passed to Reid for the extra point. First downs were even at 3-3.

The Sigma Nu offense began to click in the third quarter. Griffith passed to Dameron and Glace for gains of 20 and 25 yards. Whitaker ran five yards off tackle for the lone tally of the Snakes.

Beta Defense Holds

Sigma Nu had an excellent chance to score early in the fourth period. Tenille attempted to kick on his own 15-yard line but the boot was blocked and recovered by London on the 10-yard line. Griffith passed seven yards to Glace but the Beta defense stiffened and a pass from Griffith to Dameron was broken up by Anderson and Rose over the goal.

Abernathy and Reid in the line and Anderson and Rand in the backfield were the chief Beta luminaries while Long, Whitaker, Griffith, and London were outstanding for Sigma Nu.

Chi Psi Wins

Chi Psi closed its season's play by vanquishing Phi Gamma Delta 13-6. The first Chi Psi marker came in the second period when Lawrence threw a 30 yard pass to Reynolds who evaded the remaining 15 yards for a touchdown.

The Phi Gams knotted the count in the fourth period when Hodges hurled a 20 yard pass to Bruce. The Chi Psi's won the contest in the closing minutes of play when Lawrence heaved 20 yards to Myers over the goal.

Reynolds, Myers, Lawrence and Wilday bore the brunt of the Chi Psi attack while Bruce, Hodges and White starred for the Phi Gams.

In the only other scheduled contest of the day Ranson House won on a forfeit from Best House.

Today's schedule:

- 3:30—Swain Hall vs. Old East; A. T. O. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.
- 4:30—Mangum vs. Law School; S. A. E. vs. D. K. E.; Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Delta Theta.
