The finances of the Co-op are under the direction of the Student Audit board, and the organization will operate wholly as a student enterprise. Experienced cleaners and pressers, and wherever possible, self-help students will be employed.

In order to raise operating capital, a membership fee of one dollar is being charged. The price for cleaning and delivering overcoats and suits is 50 cents. For only pressing these articles, the charge is 25 cents. If the articles are not to be delivered, the price is five cents cheaper. These prices are expected to decrease as soon as the exact operating costs are determined. As the membership and volume of work increases, the prices will be correspondingly lowered.

P. U. BOARD WILL APPOINT MANAGER

Vacant by Marcus Feinstein
Are Due at 2:00 Today.

A new business manager for the DAILY TAR HEEL will be appointed this afternoon by the Publications Union board at a special meeting in Bingham hall at 2:00 o'clock. All applications for the position must be filed with J. M. Lear, treasurer, before that time.

The new manager will fill the office held until recently by Marcus Feinstein of Philadelphia. Feinstein tendered his resignation to Lear early in the Christmas vacation period. He plans to continue in the advertising business in Philadelphia, being now employed on the advertising staff of the Record of that city.

Feinstein was business manager of the Yackety Yack during the editorship of Nutt Parsley.

Under his direction, the advertising average for the DAILY TAR HEEL reached the highest peak since the paper was made a daily. On numerous occasions the volume of advertising was so large that a six-page edition was necessary instead of the usual four-page issue. The increase of advertising under his supervision made possible the various special editions that were published during the fall quarter.

STAFF MEETINGS TODAY

The entire editorial staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet at 4:00 o'clock in the office of the publication. Attendance of all members is required.

There will also be an important meeting of the editorial board tonight at 7:00 o'clock, in addition to the general meeting. Upperclassmen interested in editorial writing are invited to attend.

BUC STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting of the staff of the Carolina Buccaneer tonight at 7:15 o'clock in Graham Memorial. All staff members will be required to attend.

These books are good for all events during the winter quarter, including nine varsity basketball games, two varsity boxing matches and three varsity wrestling matches, as well as six basketball games, three boxing matches and three wrestling matches on the freshman schedule.

Students may secure their books at the business office upon presenting their receipts for the winter quarter.

WINTER REGISTRATION EXPECTED TO BE LARGE

Although no definite figures on registration were available yesterday afternoon, it was announced from the registrar's office that registration is very satisfactory to date.

The number registering is expected to be at least as large proportionately as that of previous years. Practically all students in school here last quarter are returning, in addition to an unusually large number entering the University this quarter.

NEXT PRODUCTION OF DRAMA GROUP WILL BE MUSICAL

Those Interested in Sullivan's
"Princess Ida" to Meet in Hill
Music Hall Tonight.

WILL NOT HOLD TRY-OUTS

All persons interested in taking part in the Gilbert-Sullivan comic opera, "Princess Ida," to be presented by the Carolina Playmakers February 1, 2, and 3, are asked to meet with Professors Grady Miller and Harry Davis in the choral room of Hill Music hall tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

The presentation of this classic opera, which is a satire of college life, offers twelve leading roles and a number of parts in the chorus for both men and women on the campus.

No Regular Try-outs

There will be no regular try-outs held for this opera and so all those who are interested in being cast in one of the parts are urged to attend the meeting tonight.

This is the third regular public production of the Playmakers for the year, the first being Paul Green's "House of Connelly" and the second being a group of original one-act plays. It is the first attempt of the Playmakers to present a musical show, and it is expected that much interest will be evinced by the students.

BELL RESUMES DUTIES

Dean J. M. Bell of the school of applied science has recovered from his severe illness and has resumed his duties as dean of the school. Dr. Bell has been ill since early in the fall quarter when he suffered a heart attack.

Among the subjects brought up for discussion at this meeting were: the relation of the NRA code to the tributary theatre, the encouragement of theatre libraries, the encouragement of American play-writing, and the development of a standard of fair dealing in royalties.

WINTER RUSHING BEGINS MONDAY

Period of Silence Exists Only for Men Registering First Time.

Fraternity rushing for the winter quarter will start Monday and will last one week, it was announced yesterday by Irvin Boyle, president of the inter-fraternity council.

Until Monday there will be a period of silence during which time freshmen who did not register during the fall quarter must not visit or confer with fraternity members.

Invitations to visit fraternities will not be sent out as was done during the fall quarter, but fraternity houses must make arrangements themselves with men to whom they wish to extend invitations to visit their lodges. The rushing period will close Monday, January 15.

Tuesday, January 16, bids will be given out to freshmen from the office of the dean of students.

New Tune Asked For School Song

McCorkle Rejects Proposal to Adopt Austrian National Air
For "Hark the Sound."

Demonstrating the proposal made by Frank Coxe of Asheville of singing "Hark the Sound" to the tune of the Austrian National anthem, a quartet sang Carolina's alma mater song to a different tune at a meeting of the Asheville alumni during the Christmas holidays.

Coxe, Asheville real estate and bond dealer, has been long discontented with the air, "Amici," used for Carolina's song because so many other Universities and colleges use the same tune. Together with Asheville Attorney Thomas A. Jones, class of '16, Coxe slightly changed the present words of "Hark the Sound" and worked out an arrangement which might be sung to the Austrian National hymn.

The tune of the Austrian air is the same as the well known hymn, "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken."

T. Smith McCorkle, head of the University music department, interviewed about the matter, states, "I am not very keen on the 'Amici' tune used to 'Hark the Sound,' but of the two tunes 'Amici' is the better."

"The present air to 'Hark the Sound' is better than the Austrian song for, in the first place the 'Amici' tune is a much happier and joyful one than the Austrian hymn. In the second place, the Austrian air has a wider range of tones than the present 'Amici' tune, and thus it would be harder to use in group singing. The notes in the proposed Austrian air do not go any lower than the present tune, but they go much higher."

McCorkle's third objection from the musical standpoint is that the present words would have to be changed a great deal to fit the Austrian air. "Hark the Sound" is so rhythmical that there is one syllable to a note, whereas the proposed Austrian hymn would be more difficult to sing because there would be several words to a note.

Scholarship Committee Doubts Advisability Of P. U.'s Action.

The awarding of the four newly-created publications scholarships of the Publication Union board has been postponed, it was announced yesterday. Action will be taken within the next week.

It was the opinion of the University scholarship committee at its last meeting that the Publications Union board possibly does not have the power or right to create the scholarships with money consisting chiefly of student fees for the benefit of a certain class of students—namely, those working as members of the staffs of the local publications.

Want Student Opinion

In a letter to Harper Barnes, president of the student body, R. B. House, executive secretary of the University and chairman of the committee, expressed the desire of the members of that group to hear an opinion by the student activities committee regarding the question. He stated that the scholarship committee did not wish to contradict the action of the board but desired student expression about the matter as a student policy.

The scholarship committee also recommended to the Publications Union board that the four scholarships, if they are to be given, be awarded to members of the staffs with no stipulation regarding their employment.

GRADUATES WILL DISCUSS CHANGES

Knight and Pierson to Report on Curricula Changes at Quarterly Club Meeting.

Discussion of recent curriculum changes by Dr. Edgar Knight and Dean Pierson and a report on the activities of the Appointments Bureau of the Graduate office will form the program of the quarterly meeting of the Edwin Greenlaw Graduate club to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the lounge of the Graduate club.

Dr. Knight, who has just returned from an extensive investigation of college and university curricula over the country, will discuss proposed changes with special reference to the situation at Carolina. Dean Pierson will discuss problems of organization as they affect graduate schools.

Committee's Report

The report of a committee specially appointed by President Cameron to investigate ways and means of making the Appointments Bureau more effective is expected to create considerable interest among graduate students.

The work of the Appointments Bureau in the past, its restriction during the last two years because of lack of funds, and means of making it more active in getting positions for the next year will be the principal topics in the committee's report.

All graduate students are members of the Edwin Greenlaw club and are invited to this meeting.
