

Alpha Psi Delta Has Merry Time

Psychology Fraternity Makes Merry at Initiation Banquet Saturday Night.

The local chapter of Alpha Psi Delta, national honorary psychological fraternity, made merry at a banquet Saturday night given in honor of the initiates. Preceding the banquet, initiation ceremonies were held in New West.

Various humorous and semi-humorous skits were presented by members of the fraternity during the festivities. Among these was a satire on a psychologically-minded wife trying to solve her marital problems, given by Mrs. A. M. Jordan; several songs rendered by a quartet of vocal artists—Doctors Brooks, Crane, Jordan, and Johnson, and several witty talks by other members of the group.

The initiates—H. V. Bice, M. R. Leon, Helen Packard, D. K. Spelt, Delos Wickens, McChord Williams, Edith Wladowsky and Virgil Lee—and new honorary members—Vera Beach and Dr. H. W. Frink—gave thumb nail autobiographies and the reasons each was interested in psychology.

Dr. J. F. Dashiell acted as toastmaster and Dr. Harry W. Crane gave a brief history of the fraternity.

F. H. KOCH BACK FROM TRIP NORTH

University Professor Attends Conference at Philadelphia.

Professor Frederick H. Koch returned yesterday from Philadelphia where he attended a two-day conference at the invitation of the Humanities Division of the Rockefeller Dramatic foundation. Directors of several universities met to consider the promotion of dramatic writing and production in American colleges and universities.

Among the eminent men present at the meeting were Professors Allardyce Nicoll, successor to Professor George P. Baker as director of the school of drama at Yale; A. M. Drummond, dramatic director at Cornell; Arthur H. Quinn, head of the English department of the University of Pennsylvania and leading authority on American drama; and E. C. Mabie, of the University of Iowa, who with Koch is a regional director of the National Theatre conference.

Although Koch was silent concerning the topics discussed during the conference it is expected that the decisions of the foundation will have a definite effect upon the future work of the Carolina Playmakers.

Co-ed Tea Tomorrow

The weekly co-ed tea will be given in Spencer hall tomorrow afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock. Girls are reminded of the fact that not only lady, but gentleman friends of the co-eds are invited.

Dr. Akers Speaks

Dr. Susan Grey Akers of the school of library science addressed the high school teachers of Harnett county at Lillington Saturday on the subject "Book Selection for High School Libraries."

Scouts' Court of Honor

There will be a meeting of the Boy Scout court of honor in Gerard hall Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. All Boy Scouts in the University and Chapel Hill are asked to attend.

The sophomore smoker committee will meet tonight at 7:30 in Graham Memorial.

MRS. MEYER UNDERGOES OPERATION IN BALTIMORE

Dr. Harold D. Meyer of the department of sociology has gone to Baltimore to be with his wife who has undergone an operation for gastric ulcer at Union Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Meyer was to have been operated on Saturday at noon but the operation had to be postponed because of illness on the part of the physician. The operation was successfully performed yesterday morning, however, and Mrs. Meyer is reported to be doing well.

NOTABLES TO SEE PLAY'S PREMIERE

World Opening of "Carolina" in Charlotte Tomorrow Night.

Many notables of the two Carolinas are expected to attend the world premiere of "Carolina," film adapted from Paul Green's "House of Connelly," to take place in Charlotte tomorrow evening.

The picture stars Janet Gaynor, who is supported by such well-known players as Lionel Barrymore, Robert Young, Henrietta Crosman, Richard Cromwell, and Stepin Fetchit.

Famous Carolinians invited to the premiere, which will be conducted in the same manner as a Hollywood "first-night," include: Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus of North Carolina, Governor Ira C. Blackwood of South Carolina, Paul Green, President Frank P. Graham of the University, President E. C. Brooks of State College, President J. I. Foust of the Woman's College at Greensboro, Struthers Burt of Southern Pines, DuBose Heyward, South Carolina author, Frederick H. Koch, and Dr. Walter L. Lingle of Davidson College.

First-night color scheduled to be included in the festivities calls for a broadcast from the lobby, where distinguished guests will be asked to speak; a fanfare of spotlights; and cameramen to photograph the proceedings.

Carolina Ringsters Will Meet Cavaliers

Bilisoly, who last year lost to Hahn in the tourney finals, was declared the winner over Eutsler after three rounds of great boxing by both participants. The crowd booted vehemently at the decision, but Referee Miller stated to the press, "Carolina (meaning Eutsler) was the veritable winner, but he wasn't as aggressive."

"You're right," retorted a witty scribe, "but you must remember that Eutsler is a counter-fighter."

At any rate the Tar Heel, as a result of his strategy and clear-headed fashion of boxing, heralded the fact that he is a bantam to be reckoned with in the Southern Conference.

Giddens-Fabri Dope

To many the Sam Giddens-Jack Fabri affair was a stunning surprise, but to those in the know, it was all that was expected. Last week against Virginia Poly, Sam fought in the middle-weight class, scoring a technical K. O. over Spruill. The Carolinian weighed 169 pounds at that time. The past Saturday, Sam tipped the scales at 158; he deliberately sweated off that poundage in order to meet Jack Fabri.

Bill Dunaway, State's brilliant S. I. C. champ in the 155-pound class, who was compelled to discontinue his activities at school because of academic deficiencies, approached Giddens after the fight saying, "Congratulations, little boy, you fought Fabri when he was ripe."

Gifts To University From Various Foundations Will Total $162,500

Grants from Rockefeller, Carnegie and Other Educational Institutes Have Remained Constant During Depression; Sums Are Used Largely for Research and Construction.

Although the University has been cut severely in appropriations from the state legislature, it has not been materially reduced by the various educational foundations which render universities financial aid for specific purposes. No appreciable difference of income from the foundations has been sustained because the grants, which were in the main made prior to the extreme financial difficulties of the past year, continue over a stipulated length of time.

When the state legislature hocked the University allotment from $800,000 to $390,00, the salaries of all those employed by the state were virtually mutilated and many important research projects were hindered. While the foundations have been able to give little help in the matter of salaries, their assistance has removed the possibility of the abandonment of many important experiments and investigations.

Large Sum Promised

Grants amounting to $162,500 from the Carnegie Corporation, Rockefeller Foundation in Research, Rockefeller Foundation for Research in Pure Science, and General Educational Board have been promised to the University for this year. $78,591.08 was received from grants for the year ending June 30, 1933.

The Carnegie Corporation granted in 1929 the sum of $100,000 payable over a period of five years for establishing and operating a library school. The present library building was erected with a part of this fund.

Interest accruing on a part of this money is employed for distribution of scholarships annually awarded to the student who has the highest qualifications. The awarding of this scholarship is based solely on scholastic record regardless of the student's home state. Director Susan G. Akers supervises the disposition of the grant.

The University began to support a school for library science the summer of 1904. Due to Dr. Wilson's interest and backing, the school became a part of the permanent curriculum of the University. This is the only library school established in the south except the one at Atlanta.

Coach Quinlan said, "Evins is one of the best prospects for the unlimited class I have ever seen. He is getting in better shape and learning more about the game every day. Although he is only a sophomore he has a great future in wrestling."

TEAM POSTPONES DEPUTATION TRIP TO FAYETTEVILLE

Date for Trip Has Been Changed To February 8-11.

Postponement was announced yesterday of the first scheduled deputation trip from the University this year which was slated to journey to Fayetteville this week-end. The trip will be made the week-end of February 8-11.

The Y. M. C. A., sponsors for the educational trips, also announced the complete schedule of deputations for the winter and spring quarters. Jack Pool, chairman of the committee in charge of the jaunts, gave the following list:

Dunn, February 15-18; Winston-Salem, March 1, tentatively; Raleigh, April 5-8; Rocky Mount, April 19; Aberdeen and Newbern, dates unscheduled as yet.

The annual high school week, April 12, will again be under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. and under the personal supervision of Pool and the deputation committee.

The personnel of the team to make the Fayetteville trip is as follows: Jack Pool, chairman, Bob Drane, Phil Hammer, J. D. Winslow, Lee Greer, John Withers, and Herb McKay.

Wettach to Speak

Professor Wettach of the law school will speak to the debate squad at its regular meeting tonight at 9:00 o'clock in Graham Memorial.
