

LAW SCHOOL WILL GET IREDELL AND MOORE PORTRAITS

North Carolina Society of Sons of Revolution Will Be Donors of Pictures.

PRESENTATION SATURDAY

The North Carolina Society of the Sons of the Revolution, of which Dr. Charles Lee Smith, of Raleigh, is president, will on Saturday morning, at 11:00 o'clock, present to the University of North Carolina law school portraits of two former justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. The portraits are of James Iredell of Edenton, for nine years a justice of the United States Supreme court, and an original trustee of the University of North Carolina, and his successor Judge Alfred Moore, for five years a member of that court, and likewise an original University trustee, it was announced by Dean M. T. Van Hecke of the University law school.

The Iredell presentation address will be made by Alexander B. Andrews, of Raleigh, and the picture will be unveiled by Charles E. Johnson, Jr., an Iredell descendant.

The Alfred Moore portrait will be presented by Justice Heriot Clarkson, of the Supreme court of North Carolina, and the unveiling will be by Cama Mary, the daughter of Francis O. Clarkson, of Charlotte, a near relative of Judge Alfred

HARLAND SPEAKS TO PHI TONIGHT

Head of Student Entertainment Committee to Describe Means of Selecting Programs.

J. P. Harland, professor of archaeology and chairman of the Student Entertainment committee, will address the Philanthropic assembly tonight at 7:15 o'clock in New East on the methods of selecting student entertainments. Harland was asked to speak in conjunction with a violent discussion on the situation at the meeting last week on the bill: Resolved: That the Student Entertainment committee be abolished and that the student body be given complete control in selecting programs. With a vote of 26-10 in favor of the bill, a committee was chosen to investigate the Student Entertainment committee and present a formal petition to President Graham. The members appointed were: Winthrop Durfee, chairman; Niles Bond, Harry McMillan, John Davis, and Jack Lynch. Interior pictures will be made for the Yackety Yack at the meeting tonight.

Robert Smithwick, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced five bills for discussion as follows:

Resolved: That automobile liability insurance be made compulsory in North Carolina; Resolved: That the DAILY TAR HEEL be given to the members of the faculty free; Resolved: That the old well be repaired and made as it formerly was; Resolved: That Congress pass the birth control bill; Resolved: That the government own and operate all the railroads in the United States.

Y Deputation Named For Trip This Week

Announcement has been made of the personnel of the deputation team which the local Y. M. C. A. is sending to Fayetteville Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The team will be composed of Harold Bennett, Paul Mickey, J. D. Winslow, R. A. Pool, Bob Drane, John Withes, Herbert McKay and Claude Rankin.

An extensive program has been arranged for the team, including a father-and-son banquet, programs in the schools of Fayetteville, programs in the Sunday schools and churches, a program at the Confederate and County homes, and a meeting with the service clubs of the city.

HOBGOOD REVIEWS CAMPUS POLITICS

Ex-Politician Traces Origin and Explains Organization of Parties in University.

Hamilton Hobgood, prominent law student and ex-politician, addressed the freshman class in its regular assembly yesterday morning on "Campus Politics."

In his speech, Hobgood told the history of politics in the University, and how the various parties on the campus selected, nominated and elected their candidates to office.

"In the early days," said Hobgood, "there was much water and egg throwing at political speeches and rallies, but fortunately most of that has died out. The dissention between the fraternity and non-fraternity group has also materially lessened in the past few years."

Origin of All-Campus
Hobgood told of the organization of the All-Campus party in the spring of 1924, and how they elected all of their nominees in that year. "In the next year," said the speaker, "the results were much different, and that is the usual way the parties go in succeeding years."

"A great factor in campus elections is the co-ed vote," stated Hobgood, "and the party who wins their vote has a good chance of coming out on top."

The speaker then told of some of the ways to swing the co-ed votes, by dating them before the election and not letting them forget which party to vote for.

Major Offices
"There are, in a general campus election, three offices that should be chosen with care and good judgment," continued Hobgood. "These are the president of the student body, the president of the student council, and the editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL. These offices all require the best men possible to fill them, and it is a good plan to vote for those that you believe are the best men regardless of the frame-up you support," he said.

The speaker told of the amount and kind of literature

Countin' Sheep

The following students were confined to the University infirmary yesterday: A. B. Bonner, M. O. Blount, E. D. Broadhurst, Thomas Cheers, Jim Daniels, Earl Freeman, Elizabeth Johnson, Abe Kretzmer, Homer Lucas, J. V. McCale, J. I. Mizelle, J. L. Manney, and Edith Wladkowsky.

MISS SANDS WILL OFFER PROGRAM

Popular Imitatrix Will Present Student Entertainment at Memorial Hall Thursday.

Dorothy Sands, popular imitatrix, will give a student entertainment program Thursday in Memorial hall.

Miss Sands in "Styles in Acting" gives an impersonation of characters and scenes from famous plays during the history of the theatre. She gives a perfect single-handed entertainment not only of styles in acting itself from then to now, but gives concurrent styles in audiences, styles in the very costumes themselves.

"Styles in Acting" is the most vivid sort of theatre history in existence—an illuminating evening with the gayest sort of caricatures," said the New York Times.

The New York World-Telegram described this as: "A charming evening's entertainment. Cuttingly satiric, uncannily characteristic and vastly amusing. Miss Sands deserves no end of commendation of her talent."

AYCOCK TO HAVE SMOKER TONIGHT IN STUDENT UNION

Residents Will Have Regular Meeting and Free Movie.

Residents of Aycock dormitory will be entertained tonight at 8:00 o'clock in Graham Memorial when the second of a series of dormitory smokers will be given at the student union.

After refreshments have been served, the dormitory residents will go to a free show at the Carolina theatre. On the scheduled program are also reports from the various dormitory committees.

This series of dormitory smokers was begun last Tuesday with residents of Mangum as guests of Graham Memorial. The series is part of a plan to increase interest in dormitory life, and its efforts so far have resulted favorably. Dormitory residents are now setting aside social rooms in the buildings, where ping-pong and card tables have been set up.

The series will continue with smokers every Tuesday and Thursday nights until all campus dormitories have been entertained.

Mrs. Holmes to Read Play at Bull's Head

At a meeting in the Bull's Head bookshop in the Y. M. C. A. building this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, Mrs. Urban T. Holmes will read "The Lake," a play that is now running on Broadway starring Katharine Hepburn on the legitimate stage. Mrs. Holmes is well known here through her work with the Carolina Playmakers.

This coming Friday afternoon, Miss Jennie M. Flezner, reader's adviser's at the New York public library, will talk on "Some Recent Books I Have Read." Anyone interested in these readings is cordially invited to attend these informal meetings.

No Cracks, Please!

The usual co-ed tea will be given at Spencer hall from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock this afternoon. Visitors of the co-eds invited.

GEOLOGY SURVEY PLAN CONSIDERED

Dr. W. J. Johnston Confers with Dr. W. F. Prouty and H. J. Bryson, State Geologist.

It was announced yesterday that Dr. W. J. Johnston of the United States Geological survey has been in Chapel Hill to confer with Herman J. Bryson, state geologist, and W. F. Prouty, head of the University department of geology.

The conference concerned the organization of geological field parties for work in North Carolina. These studies are to be financed from a fund of $8000 appropriated for the purpose by the PWA. Geological investigations are to begin in March and to continue throughout the coming year.

No definite plan as to what the work will consist of has as yet been formed. It will probably be along the lines of general mineral studies and geological mapping.

Some study will be made of the gold deposits in the state, but the funds are insufficient to make a thoroughgoing investigation in the field.

SALON ENSEMBLE WILL GIVE SECOND CONCERT SUNDAY

Program Part of Concert Series Given in Graham Memorial.

The Carolina Salon ensemble, with Thor Johnson conducting, will present the second in a series of informal concerts to be given this season in the lounge room of the Graham Memorial Sunday afternoon, February 18, at 5:00 o'clock.

This second Graham Memorial program by the salon group will feature compositions by German composers. Works by Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Goltermann, and Wagner will be presented.

Soloists for this performance will be Hubert Liverman, High Point, pianist; Dan Field, Greensboro, violoncellist; and John Murphy, Waynesville, accompanist. Liverman will play the "Allegro appassionato" movement from Felix Mendelssohn's "Concerto in D minor" for piano with orchestral accompaniment. Goltermann's "La Foi" will be played by Dan Field as a violoncello solo with John Murphy at the piano.

During this quarter the ensemble will make a number of out-of-town appearances including concerts at Duke University, Guilford College, and Thomasville Orphanage.

Debate Try-outs To Take Place Tonight

Try-outs for the coming debate with Wake Forest to be held at Wake Forest College February 16 will be conducted tonight at 9:00 o'clock in room 209 Graham Memorial.

Two debates are scheduled; one on each side of the query: Resolved: That the executive powers of the president be increased. Each contestant will be required to present a statement of issues and give a five-minute speech.

U. D. C.'s to Meet

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. Irene Lee at Spencer hall.

Defense Victorious In Opening Round Of Ferocious Legal Fight

Three Bills Feature Di Meeting Tonight

At its meeting tonight at 7:00 o'clock in New West the Di senate will discuss three bills.

The bills are: Resolved: That the Publications Union board has the authority to create scholarship funds for use solely by members of the publications staffs from money which has been contributed by the campus at large; Resolved: That the bureau of vocational placement should be revived; Resolved: That the admission charge to the Carolina theatre is exorbitant.

TRABUE EXPLAINS VOCATIONAL AID

Reports Vocational Guidance and Placement Facilities at University of Minnesota.

An informal talk by Dr. M. R. Trabue of the department of education featured the program of the Student Welfare committee at its regular meeting yesterday.

Dr. Trabue spoke on vocational guidance and placement facilities at the University of Minnesota, where he has been absent on leave previous to this past September.

Co-operation among the departments of the University of Minnesota made possible the vocational guidance bureau which is now being maintained there, said Dr. Trabue.

There is nothing mysterious about the methods which this organization uses to determine the vocational possibilities of the student, he explained. Its concern is simply to apply things that are already known about human nature and its problems.

Present Organization
The development of the bureau for vocational guidance, declared Dr. Trabue, has been slow but steady. It is now under the direction of Dr. Williamson of the Minnesota psychology department, who has a number of assistants working under him.

From 15 to 20 students per week take advantage of the service afforded by the bureau, and this number seek vocational advice of their own accord, since the bureau's services are entirely optional.

The placing of graduates in occupations is carried on by a separate organization, said the speaker. The placement bureau, however, endeavors to cooperate both with the vocational guidance bureau and with the departments of the University.

Dr. Trabue concluded his talk with a discussion of some misconceptions about vocational guidance. High ability or intelligence, he pointed out, was not requisite for success in a great many fields. "Whether a man will be successful," he declared, "will largely depend on whether he has a successful combination of interests."

Class Committees to Meet

Members of the sophomore executive committee will meet in Graham Memorial at 7:30 o'clock tonight to have a picture of the group taken for the Yackety Yack. The junior executive committee will assemble at 7:30 for the same purpose.

Case Continued Until Tonight at 7:30 O'clock in Courtroom Of Law Building.

PROSECUTION POOPS UP

Frivolous pleading on the part of plaintiff's counsel marked the opening of the libel suit against the DAILY TAR HEEL held in Gerrard hall last night at 7:00 o'clock. Judge A. C. McIntosh adjourned court until tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the court room of the law building at the close of plaintiff's evidence.

Though stenographic errors almost proved fatal, appropriate amendments by counsel for the DAILY TAR HEEL saved the case temporarily. Tonight's session will feature the defense.

Bailey Testifies

Testimony of "Judge" Clifford Bailey of Burnsville, Yancey county, North Carolina proved the highlight of last evening. His highly imaginative and apparently well-prompted answers convulsed the court room time and again. His attempts at facetiousness was only surpassed by his bucolic attitude.

The DAILY TAR HEEL's defense this evening will center on justification of the truth of the allegedly libelous material in controversy.

No important facts appeared in the evidence introduced last evening, the counsel for the plaintiff apparently being content with quibbling of unimportant details. Rulings of the court on objections made shows

SUNDAY CONCERT WARMLY RECEIVED

Violin Recital by Katherine Defenbacher Greeted Enthusiastically by Audience.

Katharine Defenbacher, violinist, appeared in Graham Memorial on Sunday afternoon, February 4, in her first violin recital in Chapel Hill. Mrs. Defenbacher's brilliant performance, which was accompanied by Mrs. Fred B. McCall, was most enthusiastically received.

In an introduction, Lamar Stringfield praised the Graham Memorial Music committee and the music department of the University for their success in creating the musical environment which draws such promising artists as Mrs. Defenbacher to Chapel Hill. Distinguished as the Concert Master of the North Carolina Symphony orchestra, Mrs. Defenbacher has recently appeared in a series of concerts given in various parts of the state by the Stringfield Ensemble group of that organization.

Helen McGraw, Baltimore pianist who appeared in the Graham Memorial series on January 7, is working with Mrs. Defenbacher on a group of sonatas, including two famous works of Beethoven and of Cesar Franck, which they plan to present here in the near future.

The full program of Sunday's recital was as follows: La Folia (Corelli); Andantino (Martini); La Precieuse (Couperin); Romanze (Schumann); Rondo Capriccioso (Saint Saens); En Bateau (Debussy); Habanera (Ravel).
