

NINETY STUDENTS GIVEN POSITIONS UNDER DONATION

Other Eligible Students Will Be Assigned to Jobs as Soon as Applications Approved.

Approximately 90 needy students were assigned jobs from the self-help bureau yesterday to work under the $3,615 monthly relief grant accorded the University, it was reported late last night by Edwin S. Lanier, self-help director.

Other positions will be assigned to eligible students today as soon as their applications can be approved.

The self-help committee put individuals to work in the various libraries on the campus, in the building department, the extension division, Graham Memorial, and in other departments.

Over Two Hundred Register

Two hundred and four persons registered for financial help. Self-help officials worked all day yesterday approving and disapproving applications, holding some for further study.

Almost all jobs on which approved scholars are to work have been passed on by the self-help committee.

Two hundred and forty-one persons are eligible for financial aid under the federal relief grant. Sixty of these, according to rules by federal officials, (Continued on last page)

Approximately half a hundred members of the editorial and business staffs of the DAILY TAR HEEL last night attended a special showing of "Dancing Lady," offered them by E. C. Smith, manager of the Carolina theatre.

The film was presented after the journalists' party in commemoration of the 41st anniversary of the publication.

In the picture Joan Crawford played the part of a girl who started out as a cheap burlesque chorine and who ended up with her name in bright lights on Broadway. Miss Crawford took every opportunity offered her for dancing, singing, and emotional fireworks.

Gable Comedy Director

Clark Gable was cast as a hard-boiled musical comedy director. Others in the cast supporting Miss Crawford were Franchot Tone, May Robson, Winnie Lightner, Fred Astaire, Robert Benchley, and Ted Healy and his stooges. Also in prominent roles appeared Gloria Fay, Art Jarrett, Grant Mitchell, Nelson Eddy, and Sterling Holloway.

The musical ensembles, a popular feature of the picture, presented a chorus of over one hundred dancers. Catchy song hits from the production included "Let's Go Bavarian," "Heigh Ho," "Everything I Have is Yours," and "Dancing Lady." Miss Crawford, Art Jarrett, and Nelson sang in the musical sequences.

The picture, directed by Robert Z. Leonard, was adapted from the novel of backstage life by James Warner Bellah.

GROUPS CONDUCT WRITING CONTEST FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Magazine, English Department, University Club Co-operate.

The Carolina Magazine, in cooperation with the University club and the University English department, is sponsoring during the first three weeks of March a short story contest for high school writers.

A bronze loving cup, to remain as a permanent possession, will be awarded to the winning contestant and school.

The competition will officially open March 1, and close March 21. To provide an equitable and popular basis upon which manuscripts may be judged, the contest has been restricted to the short story, not to exceed 2,850 words in length.

The winning manuscript will be published in the 90th anniversary issue of the Magazine, scheduled to appear in April.

The committee of judges and further information regarding the contest will be announced at a later date.

TAR HEEL TOPICS SENT TO PARENTS

Winter Issue Presents Summary Of High Points in University Life During Quarter.

Presenting a brief summary of the high points in University life during the quarter, the winter period issue of the Tar Heel Topics, edited at the office of the dean of students, was distributed yesterday to the parents of University students.

The newspaper features the part University officials are playing in the national recovery program and the curricula changes under the consideration of the faculty.

Displaying pictures of R. B. Downs and Charles S. Mangum, the number tells of the appointment of the men to the positions of University librarian and dean of the medical school, respectively.

SCHOOLS TO HAVE LATIN TEST TODAY

Contest Held by Latin Department and Extension Division.

The annual high school Latin contest will be held throughout the state today under the auspices of the Latin department of the University and the University Extension division.

The Latin teachers in these high schools will read the papers and send the best to the University. The Latin department here will choose the best paper. A cup has been given to the winner each year, but due to financial conditions the awarding of the cup has had to be discontinued.

The following high schools are taking part in the contest: Durham, Charlotte, Forest City, Fayetteville, Salisbury, Kings Mountain, Apex, Wingate, Concord, Louisburg, Chapel Hill, Winston-Salem, Scotland Neck, Reidsville, Hamlet, Hertford, Oxford, and Wilson.

CLUB TO BE HOST TO SCHOOL TEAMS

Delegates Appointed to Entertain Members of High School Quints in Tournament.

At the weekly meeting of the University club last night several men were delegated to meet and extend an invitation to use the game room of Graham Memorial to the high school basketball teams which will be here Tuesday and Wednesday for the annual tournament. An attempt will be made to secure a show for these teams. Further plans were discussed for the pep rally to be held before the Southern Conference tournament. It was suggested that this affair, which will be held on March 10, be restricted to a rather formal pep meeting at chapel period. The club will try to secure President Graham for this program since he has not appeared in behalf of athletics this year because of illness.

Act as Hosts

Since the letters sent to high schools the first of the week pledge the club to act as hosts to these teams when they come here March 10, a discussion was opened last night in an effort to systematize this work of entertainment. It was decided that one man would be assigned to each team and that this person should be responsible for seeing that the team was properly cared for.

A discussion raised on the question of restricting the membership of the club will be concluded at the next meeting. The new members will be elected to the club shortly after the beginning of the spring quarter.

Lost And Found Bureau Reports That Crime Wave Strikes Again

The perennial campus crime wave, usually arising every winter quarter, has struck here again, on the basis of reports from the Y. M. C. A. lost and found bureau.

A statement from the bureau yesterday listed the following items which have been reported as stolen:

1. Books from the offices of three professors.
2. Overcoat from one professor's office.
3. Two or more typewriters from the law building and other places.
4. Money stolen from one professor's office.

BEARD TO ROUND OUT 25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Dean John Grover Beard of the school of pharmacy, when in conversation with a group of friends Tuesday night, discovered much to his own surprise that he will finish his 25th year of teaching this spring. He is all the more proud of his record because during this period he has never left the University, even for as much as a month, on a leave of absence.

Litterly Overwhelmed

"President Graham," the pet white rat of the psychology department, pleased all her constituents yesterday by delivering prepaid a happy litter of 16 mice-presidents. "Dean Hobbs," the alleged father, evidenced his enjoyment by breaking his record, time and again, on the maze.

STUDENT JOURNAL TO APPEAR TODAY

Publication of North Carolina Federation of Students to Be Sent to State Colleges

The February issue of the Student Journal, official publication of the North Carolina Federation of Students edited by Carl G. Thompson, will be sent out today to representative students in attendance at state colleges and universities.

This issue of the Journal features three main articles. The lead feature of the paper is a study of Assistant-Secretary McCall's plan for "Laboratory for Leadership in Public Affairs" contributed by Mayne Albright. Vermont C. Royster writes an article entitled "Carolina's Rejuvenated Spirit" which is a sketch of the work accomplished this year by the University club. "Does Education Need Reformation" was written by Karl R. Scott and in addition to presenting the University's plan for revised curriculum, discusses those of other colleges.

Keep Campus Leaders Posted

The Student Journal is published to keep leaders on North Carolina campuses in touch with the events and happenings at other colleges or universities in the state.

Another issue of the Journal will appear about the first of May, presenting an outline of the approaching Federation congress which is to take place at Greensboro.

There is no complete staff for the publication, Carl Thompson being editor and Vermont Royster associate editor, and articles being contributed by students from all over the state.

WORD ASSOCIATION STUDY ADVANCES VERY FAVORABLY

Research Students Request That Those Interested Give Aid.

Miss Edith Wladkowsky and Harry V. Bice announced that their studies to establish norms in word association is progressing favorably.

This work is being done directly under the guidance of Dr. Harry W. Crane. Faculty members of other departments are also co-operating.

The responses that are given by the first 1,200 will become, with the data from colleges in other parts of the country, the norms for college students. Later the work will cover a wider field.

Last Saturday, students at the Woman's College were given these studies. They will also be given to the woman students at Duke University.

Any student who will, is asked to give a few minutes of his time and take these studies. The research is being conducted on the third floor of New West.

McCALL TO TALK BEFORE N. C. CLUB

Law School Professor to Discuss Judicial System with Emphasis on Inferior Courts.

Professor Fred B. McCall of the law school faculty will discuss the North Carolina courts with especial emphasis on the inferior courts or those below the Superior courts, at the meeting of the North Carolina club Monday at 7:30 o'clock in the library room of the department of rural-social economics. Professor McCall has made an exhaustive study of our judicial system, particularly of the inferior courts which Governor Ehringhaus spoke to the club about recently.

In this speech Governor Ehringhaus emphasized the importance of studying our multitudinous courts, listing this as one of the most important topics under the heading of the subject now being studied by the club, "What Next in Government in North Carolina."

The North Carolina club meets every other Monday in the library room of the department of rural-social economics.

The cast for the play is as follows: John Judkins, Milton Hogan; Bert Judkins, his son, Horace Hodges; Chester Briggs, Maxton Boone; Tad Wilson, Billy Seawell; McCarty, Andrew Cannady; Otto Hubner, Luther Cannady.

Ruby Mayfield, Louise Hudson; Minnie Mayfield, her aunt, Julia Peebles; Mrs. Barrington, Sue Southerland; Nellie Trotwood, Odena Talbert; Melanthuria, Mary McKee.

The production is being staged under the direction of Lubin Leggette, who graduated from the University last year, and Miss Celeste Penny of the high school English department.

P.U. BOARD MAKES DAILY TAR HEEL SALARY CHANGES

Cuts Wages of Editor and Managing-Editor of Publication; To Pay Sports Editors.

Two new salaried positions were created and two present salaries were cut yesterday by the Publications Union board at its weekly meeting. Further action on other remunerative positions will be taken after another week of investigation.

The managing editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL received a cut of fifty cents from his salary of $3.50 per issue. The editor of the paper also was cut from $1.70 per issue to a $1.50 salary.

Effective in April

These salary cuts will go into effect with the new publications administration in April, as will the new salaries.

The sports editors of the newspaper were voted salaries of fifty cents per issue. At present there are two co-editors on this staff.

The board passed suggestions for an intensive survey of national collegiate newspapers, utilizing campus labor made available through the NRA. The board also favored local researches into student buying power and the history of Carolina publications.

MEDICAL ALUMNI MEET AT BANQUET

Nineteen Graduated from University from 1902-10 Spend Evening in Reminiscences.

Nineteen alumni of the old Raleigh branch of the University medical school, which operated from 1902 until 1910, met in Graham Memorial last night for their annual Washington's birthday banquet. There were only 76 graduates of the school.

Entertainment during the early part of the evening was offered through a skit given by students in the medical school in which they imitated Drs. Manning, Mangum, MacNider, and Bullitt of the medical faculty.

After the skit and the report of the secretary-treasurer the remainder of the evening was spent in the exchanging of reminiscences and good natured personal banter. Dr. C. S. Mangum, dean of the medical school, said of these men, "This group of men demonstrates as fine a loyalty to the University and the University medical school as any alumni group could possibly show."

Besides the alumni there were thirteen others present. These were made up mainly by members of the medical faculty. President Graham sent his regrets for not being able to attend, but the administration was represented by Colonel R. B. House.

THE FLEET'S IN

The following students were confined to the University infirmary yesterday: W. H. Anderson, G. F. Brandt, J. A. Barrett, George Crane, Joe Crawford, Stanley Combs, A. M. Dean, J. C. Dunlap, H. W. Gentry, Albert Greenberg, Meares Harris, Hugh Maxwell, R. D. McMillan, C. Mathewson, J. N. McCaskell, D. C. Perryman, and Morris Winstead.

No Assembly Today

There will be no freshman assembly this morning, it was announced yesterday by the first-year chapel committee.

Ticket Refund

The music department announced that anyone who turned in his ticket for the Lhevinne concert may secure a refund this afternoon between 2:00 and 5:00 o'clock from the office in Hill Music hall.
