

MAXWELL AVERS STATE EXCEEDED ARBITRARY LIMITS

Says Constitution Should Lay Down Only General Principles of Authorization and Limitations, Leaving Details to Representatives of People.

PROPOSE TO LIMIT CREDIT

"The state has succeeded in evading almost every arbitrary limit in the present constitution," stated A. J. Maxwell, North Carolina commissioner of revenue, last night in addressing a joint session of the North Carolina club and the University law school on the subject of the proposed North Carolina constitution.

Maxwell stated that a constitution should lay down only general principles of authorization and limitation, leaving it to the representatives of the people to form the limits and details that must change with conditions. He showed how the present constitution of North Carolina, established in 1868 under different conditions and problems from our times, lays down arbitrary rules which the state has been forced to evade.

Under the proposed constitution, taxation, which is the most difficult problem and one which must always change with the times, is left to the representatives of the people who are directly responsible to the people, and not limited by arbitrary rules in a constitution.

Takes Up Credit

The second part of the taxation provisions of the proposed constitution that Commissioner Maxwell took up was in regard to credit. The present constitution regulates the amount the state can borrow to seven and

(Continued on last page)

LOCAL GLEE CLUB WILL BRING YALE SONGSTERS HERE

Proceeds over Actual Expenses to Go to University Group.

The Yale Glee club, which will appear in Hill Music hall tomorrow evening is being brought to Chapel Hill by the Carolina Glee club.

The price of admission will be 35 cents. This is less than half the regular price for concerts by this organization. All of the proceeds, outside of the expenses incurred by entertaining the Yale club while it is here, will go to the Carolina Glee club. The price of admission has been placed at this low figure in order to make it possible for everyone to attend.

Since 1920 the Yale Glee club has been directed by Marshall M. Bartholomew, 1907. Well known as a director and conductor, he has taken the club far beyond the singing of "Carmina Yalensia" and other familiar songs of the Alma Mater, training it in songs of greater musical worth and enriching its programs with his own arrangements of Negro spirituals and southern mountain songs.

BUCCANEER STAFF MEETS

The entire staff of the Buccaneer will meet in the Graham Memorial office tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock to make its official nomination for editor of the humorous magazine for the coming year. It is important that all members be present.

Barnes Escapes From Asylum; No Violence Used In Get-Away

Metzenthin to Head German Group Again

Dr. E. C. Metzenthin of the University German department was re-elected president of the association of German teachers at the 50th annual convention of the North Carolina Education association held in Raleigh during the spring holidays. Although re-election is contrary to the rules of the constitution, the members of the organization insisted that Dr. Metzenthin accept the position again.

During the meeting Dr. Meno Spann presented a paper on "The Value of Dramatic Performance for Modern Language Teaching." F. E. Coenen of the German department also attended the conference.

POSITIONS OPEN, BOARD CONTENTS

Administrative Board of Division of Student Welfare Recommends That Eligibility for Offices Rests with Students.

The eligibility of any student in the University to hold a campus office was recommended to be decided by student body legislation by the Administrative Board of the Division of Student Welfare at its regular weekly dinner session yesterday.

This suggestion was made by the board after a recommendation made by the dean of the University law school that students in the professional schools and graduate school be made ineligible for the presidency of the student body on the ground of conflict with the requirements in these schools.

Passing a motion recommending its approval to the proposal inaugurating an experiment in drivers' licenses among students of the University, the group left action to the students, faculty, and administration.

Representatives of the student council stated that the council would like the opportunity to work on the automobile license plan.

Drivers to Be Scholars

The North Carolina Automobile club has been asked to submit specifications concerning the license program, but it is planned to add to such specifications academic requirements as well as examination of the automobile in question.

Edwin S. Lanier, Y. M. C. A. self-help secretary, made a report to the group on the federal student aid grant, stating that the University's quota of 241 jobs was filled.

The fraternity rating system, proposed to the group as a new method for rating lodges, was not discussed due to lack of time.

STUDENT'S CONTRIBUTION GETS IN STATE MAGAZINE

An article written by a student of the University was contributed to Saturday's issue of The State by Dr. A. C. Howell of the department of English. The essay, "The Struggle of a Poor Boy for an Education," is an autobiography written for one of Dr. Howell's classes.

In a letter accompanying the story, Dr. Howell states: "I thought that your readers might like to know that all the University students are not 'cake eaters.'"

FAILS TO REPORT AFTER NIGHT OUT

Had Attended Dance at Hospital Friday Night.

Lewis Barnes, former University sophomore from Charleston who was placed in the state asylum at Dix's Hill, Raleigh, about a month ago, after confessing to stealing numerous articles from the University, escaped last Saturday, it was announced yesterday to F. F. Bradshaw, dean of students, by Raleigh hospital officials.

Barnes took advantage of relaxed discipline after a 30-day probation period, and failed to show up Saturday afternoon.

There was no maladjustment and the former student appeared well contented Friday before his escape, according to Dr. Ashby, assistant director of the institution. He attended a dance at the hospital Friday night.

According to reports from asylum officials late last night, there was no force used by Barnes in running away from the institution but that he just walked out.

Barnes had been given employment on the grounds and played a great deal of tennis.

(Continued on page three)

STANWOOD COBB TO SPEAK HERE

Principal of Maryland to Discuss "Constantinople Days."

Dr. Stanwood Cobb, principal of the Country Day School at Chevy Chase, Maryland, who was formerly a professor at Roberts College, Constantinople, will speak at Gerrard Hall next Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock on "Constantinople Days."

Long interested in education, Dr. Cobb was a founder and first president of the Progressive Educational association. He is the author of "The Real Turk," a pioneer book in the defense of the Turk and his religion. While in Constantinople Dr. Cobb became interested in the religion of the Near East and especially Baha'ism.

He is traveling through the south during the Easter recess, lecturing on the Baha' movement. While in Chapel Hill he is the guest of Professor Ernest R. Groves of the sociology department.

Dean Of Graduate School Announces Nominations For 1934-35 Fellowships

Nominations for 26 teaching fellowships in the graduate school of the University for the year 1934-35 were announced yesterday by Dr. W. W. Pierson, dean of the graduate school.

The fellowships carry a stipend of $500 for next year. Each fellow is expected to give a limited portion of his time to instruction or such work as may be prescribed by the various departments.

The Nominations

The winners of the awards are as follows: botany, John Robert Raper; chemistry, Allen Leander Alexander, Granvil Charles Kyker, William Waldo Williams; classics, Albert Irving Suskin; economics and commerce, John Berry McFerrin, Jr., Charles Judah Shohan.

Education Hugh Preston Smith; engineering, Frederick Eugene Culvern; English, Mon-

MISSING STUDENT RODE DURHAM BUS WITH SCHOOLMATE

Carmen Butler, Commerce Senior, Reports That He Accompanied Malone to Durham on Bus on Day Sigma Nu Was Missed; Detective Leaves.

DID NOT APPEAR NERVOUS

George H. Malone, University senior who has been missing since March 21, has been definitely traced to Durham, it was announced yesterday by Francis F. Bradshaw, dean of students.

Carmen Butler, University commerce senior from Roseboro, reported yesterday that he accompanied Malone over to Durham March 21, the day the Sigma Nu member was missed here, in the 11:45 o'clock bus.

Malone, according to Butler, was dressed in street clothes and had no baggage. When the bus arrived in Durham, the missing senior did not buy another ticket but walked away from the station.

Talk About Florida

During the ride over in the vehicle the two students spoke of the courses they had taken here together and of Florida, the home state of the missing scholar. Malone was in a good humor

(Continued on page three)

DEBATERS TO VIE FOR AYCOCK CUP

Nearly 40 High Schools Will Meet Here April 12-13.

Thirty-two high schools from all parts of the state have come through the preliminary contests in debating and will meet here April 12-13 to debate for the Aycock Memorial cup. About 40 schools are expected to enter.

The preliminaries in the final contests here will take place Thursday, April 12, and Friday morning, April 13, with the finals coming Friday night.

The schools which succeeded in the preliminaries to date are: Burgaw, Bryson City, Columbia, Fair Grove, Gastonia, Gibson, Gold Sand, Lewisville, Liberty, North Brook, Oak Hill, Scotland Neck, Smiths, Thomasville, Troy, Washington, Weaverville, Wilkesboro, Andrews, Benson, Cleveland, Englehard, Flat Creek, Garland, Knightdale, Lilesville, Mathews, Mt. Pleasant, Pilot Mountain, Saratoga, Wingate, and Cone Creek.

Classes Will Meet To Select Orchestra For Junior-Seniors

Di Senate Officers To Be Inaugurated

With the inauguration of Elmer Oettinger as president tonight the Dialectic senate will consider a program of work for the spring quarter. Other senators to take office tonight are: Ernest Hunt, president pro tem.; T. W. Blackwell, critic; Fred Howard, clerk; J. S. Gen-

At the meeting tonight, the first of the quarter, there will be a reorganization of the roll. All senators are requested to be present to aid in this change of the roll, and also to arrange for the carrying out of the program which Senator Oettinger will submit.

DEBATERS MEET TONIGHT AT 7:30

Butler and Jess Debate Alabama at 7:30 and Bedrick and Durfee Take on Vermont at 8:30, in Gerrard Hall.

Leon Bedrick and Winthrop Durfee of the University will debate George Burroughs and W. W. Workman of the University of Vermont tonight in Gerrard hall at 8:30 o'clock. John Butler and Everett Jess of the University will debate Julian Skinner and William Moloney of the University of Alabama at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

The Vermont team will uphold the negative of the query: Resolved: That the NRA be continued beyond the two-year period. The Alabama team will uphold the negative of the query: Resolved: That the powers of the president be increased.

The Vermont team is on its annual southern tour which includes the following colleges: Johns Hopkins, Randolph Macon, Wake Forest, Charleston, Miami, St. Petersburg, Southern, Mercer, and West Virginia. A separate team is debating Wake Forest tonight on the same question. Don Seawell and Ed Lanier debated Vermont last week at Burlington on the northern tour of the Carolina team.

Alabama on Short Trip

The Alabama team is making a short tour, debating Florida, Georgia Tech, and several other schools. Winthrop Durfee and Red Rankin debated the same query at the University of Alabama on the southern tour of the Carolina squad.

John Butler and Everett Jess are participating in their first debates tonight. Bedrick debated Wake Forest in February on the question of the president's powers. Durfee went on the southern tour last week which included Georgia Tech, Alabama, Tulane, and Sophie Newcomb colleges.

An informal smoker is scheduled after the debate in Graham Memorial at 10:00 o'clock.

CO-ED PHOTOS TOMORROW

Yackety Yack pictures of the various co-ed class groups will be taken tomorrow. At 10:30 o'clock freshmen will meet at Manning hall while sophomores will gather there at 10:45. The picture of the junior class will be taken at 1:30 in the afternoon in front of Spencer hall and that of the senior group at the same place at 1:45.

MEETING CALLED AT 7:00 O'CLOCK

Members to Decide on Question of 75-Cent Extra Levy.

Whether the music for the Junior-Senior dance set shall be furnished by Freddy Martin and his Mariners for the $1,400 originally allotted by budget, or by one-time Student Hal Kemp at a price $250 higher will be the question for discussion when the two classes meet together tonight at 7:00 o'clock in Memorial hall.

The question, according to Charlie Woolen, dance chairman of the senior class, is whether the two classes will vote an additional assessment of 75 cents per member in order to procure Kemp's band.

Original Plans

The plans originally called for a dance set to cost $1,400, $700 of which was to be furnished by each of the classes, and until recently it has been impossible to consider getting Kemp's group, due to the fact that only now has his price approached a figure commensurate with the means available, Woolen stated.

Therefore, in order to avoid any misunderstanding and complications such as arose last year over a similar situation, the matter will be left entirely to the class members in the expectation that the question can be settled to the satisfaction of the majority.

In the opinion of the dance committee Hal Kemp would be the better man to engage and the resulting improvement in the dances would more than offset the additional charge, although in the other opinion the assessment would be an extra expense to be avoided.

BOARD ACCREDITS LOCAL SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

University Division Meets Full Association Requirements.

The school of library science of the University has been informed that the Board of Education for librarianship of the American Library association on March 24 voted that the school here is fully accredited. This means that the school of library science has met the requirements of the American Library association as to equipment, faculty, and financial support.

Two members of the Duke University library staff have enrolled this quarter as part time members of the school. This brings the school's enrollment up to 17 full time members, and three part-time students.

Students of the school have just returned from a week's trip to visit libraries. They visited the public libraries of Richmond, Baltimore, and Washington, the public school libraries of Baltimore and Washington, the Library of Congress, the Folger Shakespeare library, and various government department libraries. The members of the school were divided into groups and escorted through these libraries by members of the library staff.

French Club to Meet

The French club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Episcopal parish house.