

BOARD TO OFFER DAILY TAR HEELS TO PREP SCHOOLS

Daily to Be Given as Advertisement to State High Schools and Leading Eastern Preparatory Schools for Period of Two Months.

DAILY TO HAVE AP SERVICE

Copies of the DAILY TAR HEEL will be sent for two months to state high and leading eastern preparatory schools, it was announced yesterday by the Publications Union board. The subscriptions will be tendered the libraries of the various schools and will go into effect immediately.

J. Maryon Saunders, general secretary of the alumni association, will direct the newspaper copies by mail to accredited schools.

In a statement yesterday afternoon, Bill Eddleman, president of the board, explained the action of the group.

Action Explained

"The members of the board favored the project on the business basis," he declared. "We feel that by providing free publicity of campus activities we will be able to compensate the students for the use of the publication funds by increasing the numbers on the University roster next year. Not only will this repay the Publications Union for the expenditure, but it will be extremely beneficial to the University administration."

The cost per student deducted from their publication fee is approximately seven cents of the $6.00 amount.

Associated Press service for the DAILY TAR HEEL was favored by the board and will go into effect early next week. A trial period of two weeks will be conducted with the probability of a continued use of the service.

The board will meet again tomorrow morning to approve the distribution of keys to members of the different publication staffs this year.

Purpose Of Debating At Carolina Explained In Alumni Review Issue

(Editor's Note: The following article contains excerpts from a recent feature appearing in the Alumni Review titled "The New Era in Debating at Carolina." It is printed here for those interested in the state high schools debate finals in Memorial hall tonight.)

The purpose of debating at the University of North Carolina is to give students training in public speaking with a view to their participation in public affairs, to help them to a better understanding of important and persistent problems, and to offer the public an opportunity of hearing such problems discussed.

We do not consider debating an altercation, an elocutionary exhibition, a laboratory exercise in logic, or an intercollegiate sport. Specifically, we encourage fair, sincere, realistic discussion, addressed to an audience rather than to a set of judges. We are that rapidly growing group that find the old system of judges' decisions an inducement to artificiality, insincerity and concentration on two or three "champions" who debate time after time on the same subjects. In spite of some of the advantages, such as the zest

Second Dogwood Festival Officially To Open Today

Debate Finals

The finals in the North Carolina high school debating union's 22nd annual contest for the Aycock cup will take place tonight in Memorial hall at 8:00 o'clock.

The question for the debates, the second preliminaries of which are being run off this morning, is: Resolved, That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio control and operation.

DISPLAYS PLACED IN UNION BUILDING

Work of North Carolina Artists Shown in Hill Music Hall.

The second annual Dogwood Festival, an enterprise in which representatives and organizations from various sections of the state will join with the University community, opens here this morning. Indications are that this year's event, which will signalize the arrival of spring in Chapel Hill, will draw more exhibits and will be even better attended than last year, when the first festival was regarded as a real success.

The program will be featured by arts and crafts exhibits, music, games, dances, and floral displays, with the view to giving expression to the life of the people of the state. One purpose of the festival is to create widespread sentiment for the preservation and culture of native dogwood.

Exhibits of arts and crafts will be held in Graham Memorial from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock today and from 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning until 10:00 o'clock in the evening. The Sunday hours will be from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock that afternoon, when the exhibits will be closed. Experts in woodworking, ironworking, weaving, and the making of pewter and pottery will be among those displaying their skill.

Artists of the state will display their pictures in Hill Music hall.

The program tomorrow morning will include folk music, ballad singing and country dances. In the afternoon there will be a program of folk plays, vocal and instrumental music, and dancing.

Gurley Carter of New Orleans, La., with Randolph Rowland, Frances Hines of Oxford with Jim Boone, Margaret Peoples of Oxford with Bill Credle, Kay Perlis of Boston, Mass., with Jerry Kisner, and Frances Childs of Durham with Jack Klingman.

Bids for the freshman and sophomore dance set will be given out at Chapel period today in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. This is the last time the bids will be given out for the dances.

Students To Gather This Morning For Official Campus Nominations

LOCAL DEBATERS HAVE PUNNY TIME

Durfee and Seawell Meet Wilkinson, Former Tar Heel Debater, and Neely of Emory in Humorous Declamatory Tilt.

Winthrop Durfee and Donald Seawell matched thought, jokes, and puns with the Emory College debaters yesterday afternoon on the negative of the query: Resolved: That the higher education of women is detrimental to the best interests.

Johnny Wilkinson, a former debater at Carolina, took the place of one of the Emory debaters who was unable to appear due to sickness. A. K. Neely, the Emory debater, is a graduate of the University of North Carolina.

Cleopatra, Henry VII, Queen of Sheba and Mae West all got entangled in the argument. Such subjects as "The education of the cave-woman, women anthropologists, and women in politics" were discussed at length. One of the largest audiences of the year attended the debate which was the last of the year.

The Emory and Georgia Tech debaters were entertained with a dinner at the Carolina Inn last night.

Seawell and Durfee have been very active in debating this year. Seawell has debated Johns Hopkins, New York University, Boston University, and George Washington. Durfee has debated Wake Forest, Johns Hopkins, Vermont, Georgia Tech, Tulane, Sophie Newcomb, and Alabama.

CLASSES TO GATHER TONIGHT AT 7:30 TO MAKE SELECTIONS

Thirty-Three Campus Positions Available for Nominations at General Convocation in Memorial Hall at 10:30 O'clock.

Nominations for official campus positions will be made this morning at meetings called by the Student council. Candidates for campus-wide offices will be named at a convocation of the student body at 10:30 o'clock in Memorial hall, and class nominations will be made at gatherings of the various groups at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Men will be put in the running for the following positions at the general meeting in Memorial hall: president and vice-president of the student body; president and vice-president of the Athletic association; two members of the Debate council.

Three members of the P. U. board (one representative each from junior and senior classes and one representative-at-large); representatives on the Student council from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes; chief cheerleader; and president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the Y. M. C. A.

Publications Nominees

Although official staff nominations for the editorships of the DAILY TAR HEEL, the Carolina Magazine, the Carolina Buccaneer, and the Yackety Yack have been made, other nominations for these positions will be accepted at the convocation.

The 1934 elections will mark the first appearance of the names of candidates for Y. M. C. A. offices on the general campus ballots.

For the purpose of nominating candidates for class positions, the rising second-year class will meet in Gerrard hall; the rising junior class in the Di hall in New West; and the rising seniors in the Phi hall in New East.

Nominees will be selected by each class for the following offices: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Balloting on the 33 positions will take place Wednesday from 9:00 to 5:00 o'clock at Graham Memorial. Voting, which will be conducted under the supervision of the Student council, will be done by secret ballot.

The election of officers of the Woman's association will take place at the Union at the same time as will the general campus election.

Dill, Sugarman, And Drane Selected As Staff Nominees For Editorships

Lonnie Dill, Joe Sugarman, and Bob Drane were selected yesterday as official staff nominees for the editorships of the DAILY TAR HEEL, the Carolina Magazine, and the Yackety Yack, respectively.

Opposed by Carl Thompson, Dill was declared staff nominee by a vote of 30-13. Dill is now serving his third year as a member of the staff of the paper, and has worked as reporter, feature writer, and member of the editorial board.

Sugarman won the Magazine nomination over Virgil J. Lee by a vote of 17-11. A member of the Magazine staff for three years, Sugarman has been a contributor of articles, fiction, and has for the past two years written Book Marks, a column of reviews of contemporary literature.

The Yackety Yack nomination went unanimously to Drane. Two members of the staff were present: one nominated Drane, the other seconded the nomination, and one proxy vote was cast.

Drane has been a member of the year book staff for three years, and at present holds the position of managing editor of the publication.

Other nominations for the editorships of the four publications may be made at the meeting of the student body in Memorial hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock.
