Tar Heels' Undeclared Nine To Meet Wake Forest Here Today

Carolina Meets Wake Forest in Crucial Test for Big Five Diamond Laurels at 3:30 O'clock on Emerson Field.

FRED CROUCH WILL PITCH

With two weeks of play behind them Carolina's undefeated nine returns home today and will play Wake Forest in a crucial Big Five battle. The contest will start at 3:30 o'clock on Emerson field.

The game will likely feature a pitchers' battle between "Elon" Crouch, Carolina, and Bill Herring, Deacon, both right-handers. To date Crouch is undefeated, having twirled four of the Tar Heel victories. Herring's best game to date was a 4-2 win over State, in which he set the Wolfpack down with only six hits.

Crouch's Record

In his four games Crouch has yielded only 23 safe blows and he has been able to finish each contest. Coach Hearn will have Ernest McKeithan ready in case anything goes wrong. The sophomore has pitched one game, setting Davidson back with but four bingles.

Both Carolina and Wake Forest are unbeaten in the Big Five, the Deacons getting a victory, in their only start, over State. Carolina has twice defeated Davidson in its only state games.

Deacons to Be Tough

The Deacons will likely be a tougher club than any Carolina has met so far. Wednesday Wake Forest took on the Wilmington professional team and beat the Piedmont League outfit, 14-10.

Regardless of the cool weather yesterday, Coach Hearn sent his boys through a lengthy batting and fielding drill. The same strong infield will perform again for the Tar Heels. So far the lone sophomore, Tommy Irwin, has fielded perfectly at shortstop and the speedy blond has made plenty of fine stops and throws.

Coach Hearn's supposedly weak outfield has been coming through in great fashion with the hitting of Vick, centerfielder, and Tatum, rightfielder, especially encouraging. These two boys are sure starters, while either McIver or Shapiro will be in leftfield.

Duke To Have Scholastic Meet

Athletic Authorities Announce First of Annual Scholastic Track Meets for April 20; Large Field Expected.

An invitational interscholastic track meet is to be sponsored by Duke University at the Duke stadium on April 20, it was announced yesterday by Duke athletic authorities.

The Duke Invitational Interscholastic track meet, as it will be called, will be an annual track meet between the various high school teams of this state and neighboring prep school teams from Virginia.

The officials of Duke said that this meet was arranged because a number of high school coaches have expressed the need for more meets of this sort in order to give them more adequate schedules throughout the track year.

A silver cup is to be awarded to the winning team with medals going to the individual winners of events.

U. N. C. TRACKSTERS MEET GEORGETOWN THIS AFTERNOON

Southern Conference Champions Meet Georgetown University Track Contingent This Afternoon on Emerson Field; Third Dual Meet for Carolina.

MEET WILL START AT 1:30

The Southern Conference champion Carolina track team will meet the Georgetown University squad here on Emerson field this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Tar Heels' third dual encounter for the season.

Although little is known of the powers of the Washington boys, they are expected to have an improved team over the last year's squad. In the recent conference indoor meet the Georgetown boys made a good showing.

The Carolina team has shown possibilities of going far this season. Losing a close 66-60 meet to the fast Dartmouth crew, they retaliated with an easy win over W. and M.

Two Relays in Order

Two relays are to be run but will not count on the official scores between the two schools. The two baton runs are the 440 relay and the 880 relay.

The two Carolina captains will be looking for some new records today if the weather permits. Ralston LeGore, who set a new Dixie record in his last performance here with a toss of 212 feet 7 inches, has his eyes out in further territory. His improvement has been steady and he has an excellent chance to come near and maybe break the intercollegiate record in one of the coming outdoor affairs.

Ed McRae Off to

Co-Captain Ed McRae also is looking for a record in his specialty—the mile gallop. In the indoor meet he set a new record for the course and conference. In the Dartmouth meet he ran a 4:25 and as the season progresses he will progress and knock off several seconds from the existing records.

Charlie Hubbard has been one of the standbys in two events, the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Aiding him is Odell Childers. Both these boys have been running neck in neck for honors. Although Hubbard has the lead so far, Childers is steadily improving and will be right in there.

Hurdles, U. N. C. Stronghold

The hurdles is the stronghold of the Carolina squad. Both Frank Abernethy and Tom Hawthorne take on all comers in both hurdles and so far this season have come out ahead. Abernethy has tied his old record in

Carolina Athletic Teams Face Hard Card, Ambitious Netters

With all four teams seeing plenty of action in the coming week's athletic card, the Carolina tennis team will essay the most ambitious schedule.

The Tar Heel netmen will face the hardest card of any of the athletic representatives of the University next week, entertaining N. C. State, Monday; Wake Forest, Tuesday; and Davidson, Wednesday. Then not content with their just share of dual competition, the Carolina court contingent will participate in the annual state tournament to which Coach Kenfield's charges will play host on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Coach Bunn Hearn's baseballers will engage Davidson's Wildcats, tied for Big Five honors with Carolina last spring, in another tiff, Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. This will be the only college contest of the week for the Tar Heels. But the Tar Heels' diamond mentor has tentatively scheduled two games with Wilmington's Piedmont league nine to be played in the New Hanover capital Friday and Saturday.

And Coach Bob Fetzer's boys are not going to be left out in the cold with the unambitious and slothful. They too, have a job cut out for them. Saturday, the Tar Heels will move on Charlottesville where they will meet the University of Virginia tracksters in their annual dual meet. Carolina nosed out Virginia during the past winter in the annual Southern Conference indoor games by the hair-line margin of 31.6-30.5.

The golf team will meet N. C. State in a return engagement with the Wolfpack next Saturday afternoon on the Carolina Country club course.

Durham High Wins State Track Title Over Strong Galaxy Of Stars Entered

Charlotte, Defending Titlists, Tied up with Barium Springs Orphanage for Second Place Honors; High Point, Third.

HACKNEY INDIVIDUAL STAR

A fast Durham high team completely ran away with the State High School Track championship yesterday at Emerson field, a good 15 points ahead of the runners-up, Charlotte, defending champs, and Barium Springs.

By taking five first places and following up with many of the lower positions, the boys from Durham stepped into a substantial lead early in the meet, and after the first five events their superiority was not even threatened.

Official score: Durham, 39; Charlotte and Barium Springs tied for second with 24; High Point, 22; and Kernersville, 10.

Hackney Individual Star
Elmore Hackney of Durham took individual honors, scoring 13 points. He took firsts in both the dashes and captured a second in the broad jump. He ran the 220 in 22 seconds flat, four-tenths of a second better than the old record. Due to the strong wind, however, the mark was not allowed to stand as a new record.

Hendricks of the third place High Point squad won second individual honors with his 11 points from a first in the pole vault and seconds in the javelin and discus. Willard of Kernersville, took firsts in both the discus and the shot to take third honors for the meet and to score all the points made by his team which finished fifth just behind High Point.

Goldsboro Ties Record

The mile relay record of 3:40.4 was tied by the fast-stepping quartet of Goldsboro. Each of the boys gained much territory on his opponent and the fourth man was nearly a hundred yards ahead of the Charlotte man, his nearest contender. The team consisted of Graham, Davis, Porter, and James, running in order.

Hackney was the leader of his victorious team together with Southerland who tallied eight points to his team's cause. Morris Freeman, Oliver, and Johnson led the Barium Springs squad to their second place tie

Earl Ruth Wins Singles Crown For 2nd Time; Charlotte Wins Doubles

Ruth Meets Less Opposition Than Expected, Downing Bickford Long of Roxboro, 6-2 and 6-0.

RUTH'S STEADINESS WINS

By Marion R. Alexander (Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)
With Earl Ruth winning the singles title for the second consecutive year and Tommie Campbell and Johnny Spratt writing their names on the doubles championship plaque for the first time, Charlotte high made a clean sweep of honors in the finals of the State High School Tennis tournament here yesterday.

Ruth met with less opposition than expected, defeating Maurice Canady of Wilmington, 6-0, 6-3, in the semi-finals and winning the championship from Bickford Long of Roxboro, 6-2, 6-0.

Ruth Is Steady

Tall, rangy, and cool, with a good but not brilliant all-around game, the biggest factor in both Ruth's matches was his veteran steadiness.

The 14-year old Canady, whose brilliant stroking was the sensation of Thursday's play, was nervous and off form and failed to give the champion anything like the match expected.

Win from Washington

Steady play of Campbell and the left-handed drives and overhead shots of Spratt featured in the clever little Charlotte team's 6-4, 7-5 victory in the doubles finals over Gene Harrington and E. Stewart of Washington. Harrington's driving was outstanding for Washington.

Charlotte ran up a 4-0 lead in the first set. Washington pulled up to 2-4 and 3-5, but Charlotte settled down and broke Harrington's service for the deciding game.

Campbell Takes Service

After the second set had saw-sawed back and forth up to 5-5, Campbell won his service 60-15, taking the last point with a pretty drive, and he and Spratt again broke Harrington's service 60-15 to take the match. Their victory reflected excellent teamwork and, like Ruth's, coolness and steadiness.

Charlotte had had a chance to run the second set out 6-4 also, having match point on Stewart's service, but Spratt netted a drive that would have brought victory, and Washington settled down and squared things up 5-5.

In the doubles semi-finals yesterday morning Campbell and Spratt defeated Alvin Ljung and Howard King of Greensboro, 6-0, 6-0, while Harrington and Stewart nosed out Bill Rawlings and Andrew Sutton of Winston Salem, 6-4, 8-6. In the other singles semi-finals Long beat Ted Collins of Durham, 6-4, 6-3.

GOLF AND NETMEN TO MEET STRONG OPPOSITION TODAY

Carolina Golfers Meet Furman University Outfit in Morning-Afternoon Match; Tennis Team Meet Lynchburg Country Club.

BOTH CLUBS ARE STRONG

An integral part of Carolina's big four-ring athletic circus today will be the scheduled dual meets of the Tar Heels' golf and tennis teams.

The golf and tennis teams, which are both tutored by Coach John F. Kenfield, will swing into action in dual meets. The linksmen will meet the strong Furman University club, the conquerors of Richmond University, in a morning and afternoon setto.

Netters Meet Lynchburg

But the net contingent will meet the Lynchburg Country club aggregation this afternoon in a dual match, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Lynchburg outfit is featured with several former outstanding stars, Alphonso Smith, great University of Virginia satellite, and Harry Forsyth, another Cavalier racket-wielder, plus an additional group of local talent.

Carolina's netters are fresh from their conquests in the North-South Tennis tourney where they made a good account for the Tar Heel colors, considering the fast field of talent that they had to face. Harvey Harris and Walter Levitan weathered the second round opposition and were finally ousted in third round play.

The Tar Heel dubbars came through Thursday with their annual Duke series with a brilliant 10-8 triumph. Kenfield's links artists ran up large enough lead to all but clinch the match on the first day's play. Thursday the brilliant foursome of Captain Erwin Laxton and of Lane Fulenwider won the needed two points. The half point needed for victory came when Harris and Michaels, although beaten, took a half point when the Blue Devil combine of Powell and Budd dropped the first side.

The Carolina golfing outfit has steadily improved from their early season form shown against Richmond and Georgetown and should be good to come through with a win today if improved play can be combined with consistency.

Giants Looking Bad

So far in the spring exhibition games the Giants have been on the losing end of the score most of the time. However, Terry claims his team looks better than it did this time last year and will cut loose when the season opens.

The name champions may be a serious handicap to New York in its effort to repeat. Last season, picked to finish in the second division, the big city boys flashed the greatest amount of fight and will to win seen in the major leagues in quite a while.

This year, considered as the best, New York may not have this extra determination to come out ahead. Another thing, although his batting is weak, Manager Terry may miss the chatter and pep of his rookie shortstop when the going is especially tight.

Davidson College, April 13.—Duke evened up the series with Davidson's Wildcats here today, turning back the Presbyterian college nine, 12-1.

Giants Favored To Cop National League Pennant

Champions, However, May Find Going Tough as Opponents Have Improved.

By Jimmie Morris

With the opening day of play set for less than a week away, baseball experts and writers are attempting to pick the order of the major league teams at the finish in September. This year as a result of much trading and the fine showing of many recruits, the American and National league races will likely be closer than they have been for several years.

In the National loop five teams are being considered for top position. These outfits in the general order of selection are New York, present title club, Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and Boston.

The Giants, surprise of last year, with almost the same team set to go again, are the favorites. New York will sport the pitching staff of Hubbell, Fitzsimmons, Parmalee, and Schumacher, considered by many the greatest for its size in baseball.

Davis, outfielder, will be the only man missing from last year's lineup. Davis was traded for Watkins, a Cardinal and a supposedly heavier hitter. Ott and Moore will fill the other two gardens with Lefty O'Doul acting as relief man and pinch-hitter.

Gus Mancuso, big catcher, will likely be missing behind the bat for a couple of weeks as a result of sickness, Richards, a former North Carolina boy, acting as substitute.

Manager Terry has more veterans than he knows what to do with in the infield and may even have to hold his famous spark plug, Blondy Ryan, on the bench. Besides Ryan, who is a shortstop, Terry has himself at first, the veterans Critz and Jackson, at second and short,
