

LIBRARY LEADERS REVIVE CAMPAIGN FOR BETTERMENT

Library Movement Demands Improved Facilities for State In Meeting Yesterday.

UNIVERSITY MEN ELECTED

A spirited revival of the fight for improved public library facilities for North Carolina, which a few years ago stood at the bottom of the American Union in this respect, was launched here today at a meeting of the Citizens' Library movement which drew about 100 representatives from all sections of the state.

Taking stock yesterday, those sponsoring the Citizens movement found that much had been accomplished since the organization was formed in 1928.

Whereas in 1925 only 21 per cent of the people of the state had public library service, today there are 40 per cent, it was pointed out. In 1925 there were 11 people per book; now the ratio has been reduced to five.

The immediate objective of the movement, it was determined, will be to fight for county-wide library facilities for all of the 100 counties. To this end regional and county chairmen will be appointed and they will co-operate with field agents of the State Library commission.

New Officers

William T. Polk, president of the Warrenton Library board, was elected chairman of the Citizens' movement to succeed Colonel Frank Hobgood, who presided over yesterday's morning session and did not offer for re-election. Audrey Perkins for

SPANN LECTURES ON HITLER RULE

Lecturer Explains Present Situation as Result of Long Historical Background.

Explaining the Hitler movement as a result of history, Dr. Meno Spann last night spoke on the subject to a meeting of the Freshman Friendship council and their guests in Gerrard hall. Dr. Spann, who is well acquainted with the present German situation, having visited Germany as late as last summer, gave the historical explanation as the one to receive more credit than the economic and psychological ones which are often seen in the papers.

History Responsible

Since Germany was never Romanized as the rest of Europe, and has suffered so many tragedies like the 30 Year's war during her history, her people are different and cannot be judged with the standards of the rest of the world, the lecturer pointed out.

"Therefore," he said, "the German people have the heroic idea towards life, with the conception of war as a necessity where men can be great and die rather than little and live." Touching the Jewish question, Dr. Spann said that he was not in sympathy with the Hitler attitude but that it can be understood how the Germanic people, in a time of great strain, can resent the Jewish strength in art, literature, and economic life, because many of the Jews have refused to ally themselves with the real Germany.

Playmakers to Give Coward's 'Hay Fever' As Final Production

Players Will Close Season with Performances May 25-26.

Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" will be produced by the Carolina Playmakers in Memorial hall May 25 and 26 as the last number on their season bill. Harry Davis will direct the performance.

"Hay Fever" is the story of a week-end party given by a family of artistic temperament, to which the father, a novelist writing "The Sinful Woman," invites "a perfectly sweet flapper" to his home for a week-end in order to "study her a little in domestic surroundings."

His wife, an elderly retired actress, invites a young man whose "ingenious affection" will warm the cockles of her heart; and the daughters and son follow suit by issuing invitations to guests of the same type. Whereupon, the author makes the best of the situation.

DRAMATIC CLASS TO DIRECT PLAYS

Seven Productions Will Be Given Thursday Through Saturday By Sam Selden's Pupils.

Seven studio productions have been chosen from a list of eleven plays to be presented as the next public bill of the Playmakers season. The plays, directed by members of Professor Selden's class in play direction, will be produced Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmakers theatre.

Thursday evening's bill includes: "Tomorrow," by Douglas Hume and directed by Quillen Ward, "Third Verse," by Wilbur Dorsett and directed by Joyce Killinsworth, and "The Girl With the White Sweater," written and directed by Margaret Siceloff. The cast of the last play is: Mary, Mary Armbruster; Ed, Charles Lloyd; girl in the white sweater, Margaret Witherspoon.

Friday's Program

"Where There is Faith," written and directed by Kathleen Krahenbuhl, "Proposal," by Anton Chekov and directed by John Walker, and a second performance of "Third Verse" will be presented Friday night.

Saturday night, "Where There is Faith" will be presented again. Also included in this bill will be "Release," by Jean Cantrell and directed by Virgil Lee, and "Rosalie," by Max Maurey and directed by Donald Pope.

Those plays not chosen for public production will be presented to an invited audience Monday night. This group includes "Concealed Aim," by Carl Dennis and directed by Clarke Mathewson, "The House Across the Street," by Katharine Kavanaugh and directed by Robert Proctor, "Modesty," by Paul Hervieu and directed by Beverly Redford, and "New Rasthenia," by Herman Fussler and directed by Rene Prud'hommeaux.

Senior Invitations

Orders for senior invitations will be taken in the "Y" lobby for the last time today between the hours of 10:30 and 12:00 o'clock this morning and 2:00 and 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

BIDS FOR DANCES TO BE GIVEN OUT AT 'Y' TOMORROW

Sale of 100 Extra Bids at $4.00 Each Removes Necessity For Additional Levy.

AMPLIFIERS WILL BE USED

Bids to the annual junior-senior dance set will be distributed tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday between the hours of 10:30 to 12:00 o'clock in the morning and 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon from the booth in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A.

The dance set will be held in the Tin Can Friday and Saturday and Hal Kemp and his orchestra furnishing music.

Besides bids which class members are to receive, there will be 100 extra bids put on sale at the same time for the use of third and fourth-year men. The cost of these bids will be $4.00 for the set.

The 100 additional bids to the dances will not be available for sophomores and freshmen, but seniors and juniors who do not pay class dues will be given opportunity to buy them.

No Extra Assessment

The sale of the extra bids will make unnecessary an additional levy on the class members, and the receipts from their sale will go to finance the securing of a system for the financing of an amplifiers for the Tin Can where the set will be held.

It was decided that it would be necessary to install an amplifying system in the Tin Can, at a joint meeting of the junior and senior dance committees last Thursday. The group decided to put additional bids on sale for upperclassmen to keep from levying additional fees on members of the two classes.

"With 1,400 people on the floor, it will be impossible for anybody to hear the music unless we install such a system," stated Charles T. Woollen, Jr., chairman of the fourth-year dance committee.

Two papers will be presented by members of the society. Colin M. Carmichael of the mechanical engineering department will discuss "Heat Transfer from Internal Combustion Engine Cylinders."

Dr. J. W. Lasley, Jr., will give a presentation on "Recent Developments in the Differential Geometry of the Plane Curves."

UNIVERSITY CLUB PLANS BROADCAST

Negotiates to Sponsor Weekly Half-Hour Program over Station WDNC in Durham.

Searching for fields in which to expand its energy since the Campus Day plans have been abandoned, the University club will endeavor to sponsor a weekly half-hour broadcast over the new radio station WDNC, Durham, it was announced after last night's session.

Negotiations are being made with officials of the station. Plans for the program tentatively consist of musical presentations by a local campus orchestra, a sports summary for the week, and talks on topics of general state college interest.

Over 200 sheets distributed by the club recently in a survey for the Alumni office were received filled out last night. The survey purports to ascertain the average expenses of students per annum.

Welcome V. P. I.

Plans for the welcoming of the visiting V. P. I. baseball team and the members of the Big Five who will be here for the annual state track meet this week-end were also made.

Seven organizations—Ruffin, Delta Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Zeta Beta Tau, Lewis, Battle, and Sigma Chi—contributed the membership fee of $1.00. In addition, the $20.54 recently obtained from the old Student Improvement Fund was also turned over to the treasurer.

Readings from the history of the University were made last night as the first of a series of four such presentations which will be made a part of the regular form of business.

Plans will be made this week for the orientation program for next year's freshmen, for a revision of the club by-laws, and other activities which the organization will carry out in the future.

Examination for C. C.'s Scheduled for Thursday

Spring quarter examinations for the removal of composition conditions from grades in any course will be held in Saunders hall, room 111, Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Students who prefer may begin the examination at 4:00 o'clock. A maximum of two hours will be allowed for the examination in either case.

PHILOLOGY CLUB TO HEAR COLONEL SPEAK ON DUCKS

Dr. Knickerbocker Will Address Philologists at 7:30 Tonight.

Dr. William Skinkle Knickerbocker, head of the department of English at the University of the South Sewanee, Tennessee, will address the University Philological club tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Smith hall on the subject "Dux and Ducks." The public is invited to the address.

Dr. Knickerbocker's first visit to Chapel Hill was Thanksgiving as the guest of Richmond P. Bond. He is the editor of the "Sewanee Review," and was made a Kentucky colonel one week after Mae West. He is known as the "Little Giant of Tennessee."

Dr. Knickerbocker received his Ph.D. from Columbia in 1925. He has taught at Dartmouth, Syracuse, and Columbia, and went to Sewanee as the head of the English department in 1926. Knickerbocker is considered the world's greatest living authority on Mathew Arnold.

SENATE TO MEET WOMEN DEBATERS

Di Will Prepare Today for Two Debates with Speakers' Club Of Woman's College.

At the meeting of the Di senate tonight in New West at 7:15 o'clock plans will be made for the debate between the senate and the Speakers' club of the Woman's College of the Greater University. The debate will be held at the Woman's College on May 14, and there will be a return engagement here the following week.

The query of this debate is: Resolved, that co-education is desirable in all branches of the Greater University. Immediately after the meeting there will be try-outs for the Bingham debate, which is open to the juniors in the senate. The query of this debate is: Resolved, that the North Carolina sales tax be repealed.

To Elect Treasurer

The treasurer's report will be given at this meeting, and a new treasurer will be elected. The question of issuing certificates of good membership will also be taken up at this meeting.

The new form of floor organization used last Tuesday will be used again in discussion of the bills. There will be an outside speaker on one of the bills and senators are reminded of the ruling that they must make one speech every two meetings.

The bills to be discussed are: Resolved, that instruction in athletics be substituted for the present compulsory gym; and Resolved, that the Di senate go on record as favoring a widespread "youth movement" in the United States.

FACULTY DECIDES TO DEFER PLANS FOR CAMPUS DAY

Approves Idea of Faculty-Student Festival, But Cannot Co-operate This Quarter.

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED

The University faculty yesterday decided that it would be unable to co-operate with students in a Campus Day, Wednesday, May 16, due to the pressure of graduate and undergraduate examinations.

Consequently, it was announced last night by leaders of the movement to sponsor such a "student-faculty get-together" day that plans would be abandoned for this spring.

Plan Approved

However, it was the opinion of the faculty that the idea was an excellent one and a committee has been appointed by President Frank Graham to investigate and co-operate with the Y. M. C. A. and the University club in sponsoring such a day at a convenient day probably next fall.

The new committee will also discuss plans and make arrangements for any course of action which will result in improved student-faculty relations.

Features Considered

Campus Day, which was originally titled "Faculty-Student Jamboree," was planned by student leaders to be held as an annual affair. For the spring fete arrangements were considered for faculty-student baseball games, a street dance, receptions, and other programs.

Phil Hammer, president of the University club, and Agnew Bahnsen, former president of the organization, yesterday spoke before the assembled faculty. The entire student committee of Hammer, Bahnsen, J. D. Winslow, president of the Y. M. C. A., Lonnie Dill, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and Albert Ellis was present.

EDITOR APPOINTS HANDBOOK STAFF

Ralph Burgin Is Named Associate Editor of Freshman Handbook for Next Year.

The complete staff of the 1934-35 Freshman Handbook was announced yesterday by Vermont Royster, newly appointed editor. Ralph Burgin has been selected as an associate editor, and an editorial board has been appointed consisting of Jim Daniels, Don McKee and Jimmy Morris.

The policy of having a general editorial board is a departure from the usual policy of having departmental editors in charge of different phases of the handbook's material. According to the editor this will cause a more even distribution of responsibility and aid in the proper coordination of the material.

Consider Changes

Several distinctive changes are being contemplated for the next issue. Plans are being made to change the format of the book to one more in keeping with the advance of other college handbooks with the addition of an attractive cover design.

The editor has asked that there be a meeting of the new staff this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in Graham Memorial for organization purposes.
