

SET WILL START WITH TEA DANCE HERE TOMORROW

Hal Kemp And His International Favorites To Furnish Music For Junior-Seniors.

NIGHT DANCES FORMAL

The annual junior-senior group of dances, with Hal Kemp and his orchestra furnishing the music, will begin tomorrow afternoon with a tea dance from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the Tin Can. This dance will be informal.

There will be three other dances in the set. Tomorrow night from 9:00 to 1:00 o'clock o'clock the Junior prom will be staged. Saturday afternoon witnesses another tea dance from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock. The Senior ball, which is to be given Saturday night from 9:00 to 12:00 o'clock, will close the series. Both of the night dances will be formal.

Fraternities Have Parties

Eleven fraternities are giving house parties during the week-end of festivity. Those who will entertain guests in this manner are: Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Chi Psi, Theta Kappa Nu, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Delta.

With Kemp's orchestra playing, the dances this year are expected to be particularly successful. Kemp is a veteran in the art of furnishing pleasing music.

Kemp is an alumnus of the University and it was here that he began to form his now world-famous band. The majority of players today are North Carolina boys. Since he left the University, he and his orchestra have assumed a position of prominence in both Europe and America.

Contrary to rumor prevalent on the campus, freshmen and sophomores will not be barred from the dances, Charles T. Woollen, Jr., announced last night. However, the hundred extra bids now on sale will be sold only to juniors and seniors.

Y.M.C.A. WILL RENT BLUE RIDGE CABIN

Cottage to Be Made Available For Faculty or Students.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. held Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to allow the recently acquired cottage at Blue Ridge to be rented to faculty members and their families or to the families of any University students who may wish to spend all or part of the summer at the mountain resort.

The cottage is completely furnished and is in first class condition. It has enough equipment to accommodate comfortably six persons and will be available for rent from June 20 to September 1.

The rates are $20 for one week, $35 for two weeks, $70 for a month, or $135 for the season.

Editorial Board

The editorial board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet this afternoon in the office at 2:30 o'clock. Every member must be present unless excused by the editor.

Phi Mu Alpha Elects Next Year's Officers

It was announced yesterday that officers for next year were elected at the last business meeting of the local Alpha Rho chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music fraternity.

Those elected were: president, E. R. Brietz; vice-president, J. G. Briggs; secretary and treasurer, J. S. Chapman; warden, J. E. Byerly; historian, L. V. H. Anderson.

The organization has made plans to conduct an initiation of pledges on the 20th of this month.

CO-ED BILL PASSED BY PHI ASSEMBLY

Group Votes as Favoring Entrance of Women to University as Freshmen.

By a vote of 15-4, the Phi assembly passed the bill, Resolved, that co-eds be allowed to enter the University in their freshman year.

J. D. Winslow introduced the bill, pointing out that such a move would increase the enrollment, would help consolidate the three colleges, and would raise the educational standards of the school.

Speaker Rankin announced that a debate would be scheduled for the meeting next Tuesday on the bill, Resolved, that pari-mutual betting on horse racing be permitted in North Carolina. Winthrop Durfee, Albert McAnally, and John Frink will speak on the affirmative; Charles Poe, Francis Fairley, and Martin Britt will take the negative.

The motion to have the Bingham debate open to all classes was defeated. The Phi favored continuing the policy of allowing only juniors to participate in this annual debate with the Di senate.

J. D. Winslow announced that plans were being made for several speakers to appear before the Phi including former president Mayne Albright and R. B. House, executive secretary of the University.

EX-EDITOR'S EDITORIAL SENT TO STATE PRESS

"An urgent plea that 'those interested in education exert themselves in the coming primary elections' is made by Claiborn M. Carr, Jr., retiring editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, student newspaper at the University of North Carolina, in his swan song editorial," states an article to the state papers from the University News bureau.

"Carr is a member of the well known Carr family of Durham, the son of Claiborn M. Carr, Sr., former Durham manufacturer and banker, and Mrs. Carr, who are now residents of New York. He is a grandson of the late General Julian S. Carr.

"Parents of children now in school, students themselves, and friends of education, can force the educational appropriation to be the main issue of the primary campaigns," editor Carr asserts."

Committee To Meet

The executive committee of the University club will meet tonight in Graham Memorial at 8:00 o'clock to consider the revision of the present by-laws and make plans for further spring activity.

SOCIAL MAGAZINE ISSUED FOR MAY

"Social Forces," Published By Institute For Social Research, Has Varied Articles.

The May number of "Social Forces," sociological periodical of which Dr. Howard W. Odum and Miss Katharine Jocher, both of the Institute for Research in Social Science, are editor and managing editor respectively, has just come off the press.

A special feature of this issue is a group of articles on sociology and the social worker which is introduced by Dr. Odum in a discussion of "Where the Socialist and the Social Worker Begin." In this group F. Stuart Chapin, head of the department of sociology at the University of Minnesota, offers "What Has Sociology to Contribute to Plans for Recovery from the Depression."

Value to Students

Papers on what the pre-social work student can get from sociology are contributed by Stuart A. Queen of Washington University, William C. Smith of William Jewell College, and Katharine Jocher of the University. There is also an article on the accuracy of case records by Elon H. Moore of Oregon State College. The application of sociological principles in the care and development of the child is presented by Franklin Thomas and Joseph Bonaparte, both in charge of well-known child caring institutions.

Articles by members of the University faculty other than those already mentioned are written by Dr. W. C. Jackson, dean of the school of public administration, Dr. Harold D. Meyer of the department of sociology, and Dr. Wiley B. Sanders of the school of public administration.

A timely article appears in this issue on "Subsistence Homesteads" by J. Blaine Gwin of the American Red Cross. Of particular interest, too, especially to members and those interested in the North Carolina Conference of Social Service, is the summary of variations in state conferences of social work by Lyda Gordon Shivers of the Woman's College of the University.

Other articles which bear directly on present day social and economic problems include "The Consumer and the NRA" by Margaret Winfield Scott Stewart of Washington, D. C.; "The Wisconsin Murderer" by John L. Gillin of the University of Wisconsin; and "Immigrants and our Citizenship Process" by Jerome Davis of Yale University.

Union Concert Postponed

The usual Sunday afternoon concert held in Graham Memorial will be omitted this Sunday, it was announced by Mayne Albright, director of Graham Memorial. The final concert of the season will take place the following Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Dance Bids

Bids for the junior-senior dance set will be distributed in the Y. M. C. A. lobby today between the hours of 10:30 and 12:00 o'clock this morning and 2:00 and 5:00 o'clock this afternoon.

COUNCIL TO HOLD BANQUET MONDAY

Meyer and Bradshaw to Speak; Other Features Planned.

Professor Harold D. Meyer of the sociology department and Francis F. Bradshaw, dean of students, will be among the speakers at the Freshman Friendship council banquet at 7:00 o'clock in the Episcopal church next Monday.

Dr. Frank Porter Graham has been extended an invitation to talk, but his presence at the session is not as yet definite, according to reports made by the rising sophomore council program committee.

Bradshaw and Meyer will make brief five minute addresses to the group, as the committee in charge has arranged other features of interest in the program.

The cost of the affair is 50 cents a plate, and all who are interested in attending should get in touch with George MacFarland, council treasurer, or Charlie Daniel, assistant. All members should make reservations to the supper before tomorrow afternoon.

SENATE PREFERS COMPULSORY GYM

Senate Defeats Bill for Athletic Instruction in Heated Session By One Vote.

The Di senate passed through a particularly bitter and heated debate Tuesday night to defeat by a one-vote margin the bill, Resolved, that instruction in athletics be substituted for compulsory gym at the University.

The senate arranged itself into two opposing camps at the beginning of the session, making use a second time of the new system of floor organization inaugurated at the meeting one week ago. The two groups were led by Senator Daniels for the affirmative and Senator Williams for the negative.

Corrupt Counting

Upon the first vote, which awarded the decision to the negative, the affirmative was quick to make a charge of corrupt counting of the ballot. This point raised keen feelings in both factions. Upon a re-vote, however, the first result was announced to have been correct.

At the beginning of the meeting retiring Treasurer McTreasurer's report. He informed Michael gave the regular annual members of the senate in his final words of the state of its finances.

William R. Eddleman, a former president of the senate, was elected to succeed McTreasurer caused quite a stir. The Michael in his office. This elective list of three nominees that was drawn up prior to the voting withdrew. Upon the announcement of a ten dollar per year salary attached to the job, the list was filled again, with the resulting election of Eddleman.

Applications For Degrees

Today is the last day for students expecting to receive degrees at commencement to file their applications at the registrar's office. All undergraduate, graduate, and professional students must submit applications today in order that their names may be engraved on the diplomas.

PUPIL DIRECTORS TO GIVE DRAMAS

Selden's Class in Play Direction To Present Seven Plays This Week-end.

The Carolina Playmakers will present seven studio productions this week-end, beginning this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmakers theatre. Three plays will be given each evening, today, tomorrow, and Saturday. These studio productions are included on the subscriber's season ticket.

The plays are directed by Professor Samuel Selden's class in play direction.

Bills

The program tonight will include: "Tomorrow," written by Douglas Hume of Monterey, Calif., and directed by Quillen Ward of Battleboro; "Third Verse," by Wilbur Dorsett of Spencer, directed by Joyce Killingsworth of Signal Mountain, Tenn.; and "The Girl with the White Sweater" written and directed by Margaret Siceloff of Asheville.

The Friday evening bill includes: "Where There is Faith," written and directed by Kathleen Krahenbuhl of Selma; "Proposal," by Anton Chekov, directed by John Walker of Chapel Hill; and a second performance of Dorsett's "Third Verse."

The Saturday evening bill includes: a repetition of "Where There is Faith"; "Release" by Jean Cantrell of Winston-Salem, directed by Virgil Lee of Baltimore, Md.; and "Rosalie," by Max Maurey, directed by Donald Pope of Ann Arbor, Mich.

DEBATE BANQUET TONIGHT

The debating season of this year will be ended tonight by a humorous debate with Virginia on the query: Resolved, that the NRA be continued. Winthrop Durfee and Phillips Russell will uphold the negative for the University. The debate will take place at the annual banquet of the debate squad at the Carolina Inn tonight.

Charter Member Banquet

All charter members of the University club who have not paid their fees for the formal banquet which the old club is giving Friday evening in the Carolina Inn, are asked to do so immediately. Ralph Gardner and Agnew Bahnsen will receive the payments.

Dance Committee to Meet

There will be a meeting of the junior-senior dance committee at 11:00 o'clock tonight in Graham Memorial.

Lieutenant-Governor Will Make Address

Ceremony Will Take Place at 8:30 O'clock in Memorial Hall; Barnes To Preside.

SOCIETY BEGUN IN 1903

The Order of Golden Fleece, University honorary society, will conduct its annual tapping ceremony tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30 o'clock.

Lieutenant-Governor A. H. Graham will deliver the principal address, and Harper Barnes, Jason of the order and former president of the student body, will preside.

After the address of the evening two hooded figures, robed in black and wearing on their shoulders the fleeces that are symbolic of the organization, will stalk the isles and then pounce upon the neophytes from the audience.

Highest Student Honor

In selecting students for membership in the Golden Fleece, qualities of leadership, character, and influence on the campus are taken into consideration. Membership in the society is considered one of the highest honors that a University student can receive.

About a dozen are inducted into the order each year. The organization originally initiated only rising seniors, but its custom has recently been changed to include out-going men and students in the professional schools.

Under the leadership of Dr. Horace Williams, Robert Her-ring, and R. S. Stewart, Golden Fleece was established in 1903. It is the second oldest organization of its kind in the country. It was originally dedicated to promote better campus relationships by the close contact of campus leaders.

Active student members on the campus at present are: Harper Barnes, Haywood Weeks, Claiborn Carr, Charles Rose, Don Shoemaker, E. P. "Sandy" Dameron, Virgil Weathers, John O'Neil, and George Brandt.

DIRECTOR SELDEN WRITES HANDBOOK

Has Had Professional Training In Acting and Directing.

"A Player's Handbook," a book on the theory and practice of acting, by Samuel Selden, associate director of the Carolina Playmakers, has just made its appearance in the book stores of the country.

Selden has in this book presented material that he has gathered and observed in directing and acting on the professional and non-professional stages in various parts of the country. He at one time worked with the Provincetown Players in New York and has been with the Playmakers for the past six seasons.

Three years ago he published a book, "Stage Scenery and Lighting," which has received much favorable comment by prominent authorities of the stage because of its merit in analyzing the practical problems of stage craft.

"A Player's Handbook" deals with many of the practical problems encountered on the amateur stage, and explains much about the art of acting.
