

Carolina Nine To Play VPI On Emerson Field Today

Ed Walsh, Former Star Big League Pitcher, Exhibits Stuff.

Carolina's baseball nine took a light batting and fielding drill yesterday afternoon as the final preparation for the V. P. I. contest today. The tilt with Virginia Tech will start at 4:00 o'clock on Emerson field.

The Tar Heels, last year's Southern Conference champions in baseball and holders of a 22-straight string of wins, had the pleasure of having Big Ed Walsh, former ace of the Chicago White Sox and now scout of that club, out for yesterday's practice session.

Walsh Gives Exhibition

Walsh, it will be remembered, hung up one of the greatest pitching records for all time, winning 41 games out of some 70-odd participated in during two seasons' play.

The former White Sox star treated the freshman and varsity diamond squads to some interesting yarns on "Big League Stuff," and then just to show them how it was done the 53-year-old veteran genially complied to showing the boys how to unlimber the old soup bone.

He gave an excellent exhibition of control and explained to the surrounding fans just how the spit-ball, now barred from organized ball, was thrown. Walsh showed plenty of fire and brilliant change of pace.

Coach Hearn let his charges off light yesterday, feeling that Walsh could show his proteges just a few things which couldn't hurt. The Carolina mentor indicated last night that he would start either Ernest McKeithan or Nate Andrews on the mound for the Tar Heels.

And there is a possibility that the outfield may be juggled somewhat to meet the Gobblers' offensive drives.

Doping The Sports

By James H. Morris

THE University plays host to the state track meet on Emerson field tomorrow and according to the records of the individuals and teams entered it will be the greatest and fastest meet ever held in the south. With Coach Bob Fetzer directing things fans can be assured that there will be no dull or slow minutes.

TRACK is fast becoming one of the most popular sports in this section and in the south. The much stronger teams of recent years have a lot to do with this fact but probably the most important improvement is the method of running off the events. A few years back there was always boring waits for the spectators and it usually required some four hours to complete an entire meet; however, now both the running and field encounters are held at the same time, the meet being more in the form of a two ring circus. Also each event is timed to take place just as soon as the field is cleared of the preceding one, resulting in a continual performance. Another improvement is the system of announcing which informs the spectators who the point-makers are and the score of the meet at the conclusion of each event.

TOMORROW fans will have a chance to witness another spectacle equal to the fine battle held last week between Carolina and Navy, in which the Tar Heels were not assured of victory until the conclusion of the final race. The coach of the strong Navy outfit remarked at the end of the meet that the times and records made by the Carolina team would compare favorably with those of any other college cinder club in the United States.

A THREE-WAY race for top honors may result between the champion Tar Heels, Duke, and Davidson, who tied 63-63, in a dual meet, but the performances of, and duels between, the great number of stars entered will probably be the most interesting. LeGore, Carolina javelin thrower, and Zori, State discus tosser, are Penn relay record holders and should easily beat the old state records. Quite a number of the other marks, such as the dashes, hurdles, jumps, shot-put, distance runs, and 880, are scheduled to fall.

MOST of the races will probably be excellent battles. Childers of Carolina, Evans of Davidson, and Tarrall of Duke will be matched in the dashes; Williamson, Carolina, and Reichman, Duke, will feature the half-mile; Captain McRae, Carolina, Frazier, Davidson, and Bird, Duke, will feature the mile; Waldrop and Sullivan, Carolina, Frazier, and Bird will lead a strong field in the two mile race; Rex, State, will lead a half-dozen 45-foot throwers in the shot put; Jackson, Carolina, will compete with a long list of 12 footers in the pole vault; while West, Duke, already with a 195 foot toss in the javelin, may give LeGore a tough battle in that event.

Flower Display

W. L. Hunt announced yesterday that the private iris collection, usually open for the duration of the summer, will be open this spring only until Thursday of next week.

QUARLES TO BOX BOB RACKLEY AT DURHAM TONIGHT

Conference Lightweight Ring Champion Will Meet Title-Holder of Carolinas.

BOUT AT EL TORO PARK

Norment Quarles, Carolina's only Southern Conference champion, goes into action tonight at El Toro Park, Durham, in a lightweight encounter with Bob Rackley.

The 135-pound bout will head a ten-card show put on by Add Warren, Duke boxing coach and former heavyweight at Carolina. The A. A. U. rules will be used which means the battles will consist of three three-minute rounds.

Quarles, who finished his career at the University because of fighting before cash spectators last March, will be fighting for the fourth time since the college season closed and the Tar Heel will be after his fourth victory.

Former Victories

In the three amateur encounters since taking the Southern Conference championship, Quarles has gotten three-round decisions over Bobby Goldstein, former conference title-holder at Virginia, and Jimmy Pattisall of Danville, and a second-round knockout over George Carpenon, supposed sensation from San Francisco.

Bob Rackley holds the amateur lightweight championship of the two Carolinas and is picked by many to stop the Hendersonville boy's five-year winning streak.

Both boys like to carry the fight and therefore the bout should be fast. Each has an excellent left-hook, although Quarles will not use his left as much as usual because it is still sore from a sprain sustained a couple of weeks ago.

Fast Field To Participate In Track Title Encounter

Carolina Is Favored to Take State Honors Here Tomorrow.

The fourteenth annual North Carolina state track meet is to come off tomorrow afternoon on Emerson field beginning at 1:45 o'clock with the University's Tar Heels entering the meet as favorites to cop their fourteenth consecutive championship.

However, the meet will be far from a walk-away for any one team. Davidson brings a strong crew of tracksters who have had a highly successful season and have tied Duke in their dual meet. Duke likewise presents a fast team which will be up in the running. The meet this year has the fastest field ever to be assembled in the state and probably to fall fast and furiously if past performances are any sign. Four Tar Heels, who are the best the University has had in their events since track was begun back in 1888, are quite sure of new records.

Tar Heels' Finest

Co-Captain Ralston LeGore averages around 206 feet on his javelin throws this year, while the state record is only 194 feet set by LeGore. Charlie Hubbard has broad jumped over 23 feet several times this year, his best jump being a new University record at 23 feet 7 3/4 inches, while the state record is 23 feet 1/2 inch.

Frank Abernethy has run around 15 flat all year with two times of 14.8 and 14.9 in the high hurdles, while the state

BURLINGTON COPS CLASS 'B' CROWN OVER HAMLET HI

"Lefty" Wilson Blanks Hamlet 1-0; Fans 12, and Knocks In Winning Run.

GREAT PITCHING BATTLE

With "Lefty" Wilson twirling masterful ball and clouting a triple to score the only run of the game, Burlington high school won the Class 'B' state baseball championship over Hamlet high, 1-0, in the finals played on Emerson field.

Wilson, miniature southpaw of the western circuit nine barely managed to win out in his mound duel with Wentz, but stole the whole show as he let down the Hamlet boys with five hits and sent an even dozen of their would-be batters back to the bench by fanning them.

Not content with just pitching, the Burlington star socked out a three-base knock with a teammate on base to push over the only marker of the game and to win his own game in story book fashion.

Tight in Pinches

The Burlington southpaw was particularly tight in the pinches. He had two men on the paths in both eighth and ninth innings only to retire the easterners before they could cross the home platter. He struck out the last man to face him.

Wentz, Hamlet lanky hurler, pitched some nice ball also, allowing only seven hits and striking out six men, but just could not match the midget opponent.

Ketner led the hitting for the winners by garnering three bingles in three times at bat. Hargrove, Burlington, and Howell, Hamlet, each got a pair of hits.

Bullock was kept quite busy in right field as he nagged five flies to lead the Hamleteers' defense. Bare, short, stood out for the Burlington team.

BETAS ADVANCE IN INTRAMURALS

Beta Theta Pi and Phi Sigma Kappa Win Baseball Tilts; Mangum Gets Forfeit.

Beta Theta Pi, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Mangum were victorious in yesterday's baseball contests to close the third week of intramural play. Beta advanced to the quarter finals, defeating T. E. P., 11-3; Phi Sigma Kappa swamped the hitherto unbeaten Kappa Alpha aggregation 14-0 and Mangum won on a forfeit from New Dorms.

Dave McCachren pitched his team to an easy win over the T. E. P.'s. The Betas tallied four runs in the third on five hits and three errors and in the sixth Weesner, Brown, Wilson, Reid, and Harris connected for hits to score five runs.

T. E. P. went scoreless until the seventh. In the final stanza Jacobson, Peterson, Eisenberg, and Novins hit safely to garner three markers. McCachren, Wilson, and Harris featured for Beta while Novins and Peterson starred for T. E. P.

Phi Sigma Kappa Wins

With Paul Kaveny allowing only four scattered hits Phi Sigma Kappa easily advanced at Kappa Alpha's expense. The winners went on a scoring rampage in the first frame, and before the final man was tossed out seven runners had crossed the plate.

Every man played an important role in the play of the winning contingent. Fuller led the hitting with three hits in four attempts. Everett, McGill, and Skinner were the leading luminaries for Kappa Alpha.

On account of the varsity baseball tilt with V. P. I. there will be no intramural games this afternoon. The schedule will be resumed again on Monday.

Tar Heels Triumph 5-4 As Captain Morgan, McGlenn Star.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL) New Haven, Conn., May 10.—With the score 4-up in matches and 1-up in sets, Captain Dave Morgan and John McGlenn breezed through the last doubles set over McMertry and Delores, 6-1, to enable the Carolina tennis team to down Yale's strong net club, 5-4, here today.

The whole Carolina net outfit snapped out of its slump which led to the Princeton defeat and showed the best play so far on the northern trip. Captain Morgan was again the star for the Tar Heels and he and McGlenn were the only southerners to win in both the singles and doubles.

Yale took the lead at the very start, winning both the one and two matches. However Morgan played great tennis in the number three set to down Mansfield and turn the tide for the winners.

Walter Levitan, McGlenn, and Lawrence Jones, followed the captain with wins in the singles to give Carolina a 4-2 lead. Then Yale took the one and two doubles matches to set the stage for the dramatic finish.

The Carolina net club will move on to Amherst, Mass., tomorrow where it takes on Amherst College.
