

SENIORS TO GIVE HILARIOUS FARCE ON AWARDS NIGHT

Many Outstanding Members of Class of '34 Will Perform
Tomorrow Night.

WILL GIVE CARICATURES

By BENNY CARR
Domestic Correspondent
"A Quoi Bon," a farce in seven parts, written and arranged by the Senior Meistersingers, will feature the lively program for Awards night tomorrow night in Memorial hall beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

The uncensored comedy of errors will feature such sterling actors as Fred Crouch, Jim Tatum, Nate Andrews, Lamy McCaskill, the famous Sullivan Twins, Dominick Barbano, Yank Shapiro, Ernest McKeithan, and "Mac" McKinnon. Others to take part, but with only an amateur standing, include Ralston LeGore, George Barclay, Red Rankin, Everett Jess, Elmer Oettinger, Reuben Barham, Jim Temple, Betty Barnett, Mary Byrd Perrow, and Don Shoemaker.

Brandt: Translator

"A Quoi Bon," translated by George Brandt, senior language specialist as "Good Water," has a rather involved plot. The play has been in rehearsal for several days and the practice performance last night lacked only the tenseness of the "opening night." The action centers around the story of a country boy (McCaskill, Tatum, Crouch, Andrews, McKeithan, Barbano, and others) who answers Cornelia Spencer's South building bell and comes to Chapel Hill so the University may re-open and the youth of North Carolina can be educated by such men as English Bagby, Archibald Henderson, Francis Bradshaw, Bunn Hearn, Johnny Booker, Bully Bernard, Froggy Wilson, Sergeant Keller, and Pete Ivey.

One of the features of the show will be the dance of the Corn Cobs. "Mac" McKinnon will impersonate Virgil "Corn Cob" Weathers and lead the chorus of senior feminine beauties.

Bill Allsbrook and his band have been asked to furnish the musical accompaniment and their answers will be received today.

And Spanish Offered.

Elementary courses in modern foreign languages will be offered by the University summer school for two terms, it was announced yesterday.

Courses in languages will meet for two hours every day in order to offer students sufficient training in speaking, reading and grammar. Each course will be completed in six weeks.

The first four courses of French and Spanish will be offered. French courses will be taught by Professors Carroll, Wright, Staab, Linker, McLeod, Smith, Thurman, Wiley, Giduz, Dey, and Homes. The Spanish staff will be composed of Professors Shields, Hayes, Stoude-

Strange Rumors Of Hidden Flask Make Campus Forget Bootleggers

There have been some strange facts connected with the University, such as the building of South with lottery profits, the Dromgoole legend, and that ancient philosopher J. Fraser Allenby's Old Well murder case, but there is probably none so strange as the rumor that in the cornerstones of the older buildings there repose pint flasks of fine whiskey.

If we recall rightly, the cornerstone of Old East was laid in 1789. One hundred and forty-five years of age accumulated on a dusty bottle containing the water of life would not exactly make it a spring chicken. Shades of Chianti and raw Carolina corn! "We are lost!" the bootlegger wept when he was told the news.

Bill MacNider Says So

Upon the excellent authority of Dr. W. deB. MacNider we have another rumor of like kind, that in the cornerstone of the old Methodist church is another bottle. So almost any morning the University officials expect to awake and find that during the night some uncouth barbarian with a sensitive palate has raped the cornerstones of these venerable structures, and thus caused the shades of John Wes-

SOCIETY TO HOLD FALL ELECTIONS

Last Meeting of Philanthropic
Assembly Set for 7:15 O'clock
Tonight in New East.

The Philanthropic assembly will elect officers for the fall quarter at its regular meeting tonight at 7:15 o'clock in New East. This is the last meeting of the spring quarter.

The retiring officers are as follows: F. A. Rankin, speaker; Robert Smithwick, speaker pro-tem; Wm. L. Garis, sergeant-at-arms; Wiley Parker, reading clerk; W. C. Durfee, Norman Keller, and Ray Rankin, ways and means committee.

No Officers Nominated

No officers were nominated at the caucus last week since so few Phi members were present. So far, the following men have announced their intentions to run: speaker, Robert Smithwick and J. D. Winslow; speaker pro-tem, W. C. Durfee; sergeant-at-arms, Wiley Parker; treasurer, Francis Fairley and Albert MacAnally; reading clerk, Frank McGlenn and Moses Gilliam.

According to the Phi constitution, any member who solicits votes shall be fined the sum of one dollar. Only members who have paid-up dues are allowed to vote.

Forney A. Rankin, the speaker, is scheduled to make a farewell address. The annual treasurer's report will also be given.

Plans for obtaining new members next year will be made at the meeting. A special committee will be appointed to send out letters to delegated members of next year's freshman class.

A. I. Ch. E. Meeting

ley to flit restlessly about the underworld.

Also put in the cornerstone of Old East was a copper plate with an account of the ceremony engraved in Latin on one side and in English on the other. After the Civil War it was taken out and lost, but was recovered in Clarksville, Tennessee, and returned to the University.

The Masons have always played an important part in the affairs of the University. They led the procession at the laying of the first cornerstone, and when the legislature relented in 1921, S. M. Gattis laid the cornerstone of Grimes dormitory. The officials were clad in full Masonic regalia.

Judge Francis D. Winston, past master of the order, held aloft the tarnished copper plate that had been in Old East and recited its history before placing it in the hollow stone.

There may have been a bottle placed in this cornerstone also, but the alert correspondent of the News and Observer did not see it. A copper box (it may be Anaconda) containing the articles which the University wished placed in was carefully lowered down by Grand Treas-

Activity in Other
Colleges in the South.

The Foreign Policy League will meet tonight at 9:00 o'clock in Graham Memorial to formulate plans for next year and to take final action on the petition which is to be sent to President Roosevelt with regard to the world disarmament problem.

The League, in making plans for its continuance next year, will endeavor to adopt that plan which seems best to insure its permanence and the increase of its prestige both on the campus and in the college world as a whole.

Report on Success

A report will be made on the success which has been met in securing co-operation among southern colleges with regard to the petition to be sent to President Roosevelt and with regard to the formation of a group similar to the University group in purpose as a permanent organization at these colleges.

A large group of colleges and universities in the South have already been contacted, and the league will continue its efforts along this line during the summer and next fall. It hopes by this action to build up in the south a large block of opinion among the men of college rank which will make its influence felt in the administration of national affairs in the United States.

SENATE TO ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

Refreshments to Be Served at Final Executive Session; No
Discussion of Bills.

The Di Senate will convene tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the senate chamber in New West for its last meeting of the year. The meeting will be an executive session, and officers for next fall will be elected.

Since the meeting is to be devoted entirely to the election of officers and the hearing of reports by all committees, both standing and temporary, which have served throughout the spring quarter, there will be no discussion of bills.

Committee Reports

President Elmer Oettinger has issued an announcement to the effect that any committee chairman who fails to have a complete report of the activities of his committee to present to the senate at tonight's meeting be subject to fine at the chair's discretion.

Officers to be elected are president, president pro-tem, critic, clerk, and sergeant-at-arms. Those who have served as officers during the spring quarter are: Elmer Oettinger, Mason Gibbs, Winfield Blackwell, Fred Howard, and B. J. Gentry. ## GRADUATES PLAN SENIOR BARBECUE

Affair Scheduled for Friday at 5:00 O'clock at Hogan's
Pond Beyond Carrboro.

Plans for entertaining members of the graduating class with a barbecue supper were made by the senior class executive committee at their meeting Sunday night, it was announced yesterday by Cornelius B. Bretsch, chairman.

The barbecue will be held Friday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock at Hogan's Pond, beyond Carrboro, according to present plans of the group.

The committee also discussed a gift to leave to the University, but the matter will be further considered at a later meeting. The committee does not as yet want to make public gifts under consideration, according to Bretsch.

Carried by Truck

University trucks will carry members of the senior class out to the barbecue grounds Friday, and will be on hand to take the crowd back to Chapel Hill.

All members of the senior class are urged to attend the entertainment, and they will be admitted by wearing their senior sweaters. Members of the class without sweaters must obtain permits to attend from the chairman of the senior week committee, or from Virgil Weathers, president of the senior class.

The idea of giving an outdoor supper for the graduates was suggested by the senior week committee, and the executive committee of the fourth-year men officially approved the idea Sunday.
