

PEP RALLY TONIGHT
8:00 O'CLOCK
BEFORE SOUTH BUILDING

The Daily Tar Heel

INTER-FRATERNITY GROUP
10:30 O'CLOCK
GERRARD HALL

VOLUME XLIII

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1934

NUMBER 7

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO STAGE SERIES OF PEP RALLIES

Plans Official Presentation and Reception for Rameses III During Half at Game.

WILDER NEW TREASURER

At its second meeting of the school year last night, the University club made final preparations for a pep rally tonight before the Wake Forest game. The club also elected Roy Wilder as treasurer to succeed Harry Montgomery, who resigned because of activity with the football team.

According to officers of the club, the pep rally tonight will be one of an elaborate series planned for the football season, during which they expect to equal the fine efforts and success made by the University club last year.

To Welcome Rameses

One of the first actions made by the club in preparation for this year was to bring back Rameses III, beloved mascot of the Tar Heel teams. Rameses will be unofficially welcomed at the rally tonight, with the official welcome waiting until the half-time at the game tomorrow when he will be officially presented to the student body by Jack Pool.

The radio program committee of the club will attempt to prepare a Tennessee game program for station WNCN of Durham. This program will be broadcast Thursday beginning at 5:00 o'clock and lasting either 45 minutes or an hour.

Preparations were also made for the sale of song sheets at the game tomorrow. The songs will be on sale for ten cents, and contain all three Carolina songs, both words and music.

'GREEN PASTURES' TO APPEAR HERE

Marc Connelly's Negro Drama To Open Student Entertainment Bill October 8.

The first offering on the Student Entertainment program Monday, October 8, will be a presentation of Marc Connelly's famed play, "The Green Pastures," with the original New York cast.

The fifteen hundredth performance of this great drama will be celebrated tonight in Norfolk, Va. The players, except for two substitutes, are the ones who appeared on the opening night in New York four years ago.

The play is based on the southern stories of Roark Bradford, which appeared in the book, "Ol' Man Adam and His Chillun." In its eighteen scenes, "The Green Pastures" depicts the rise and fall of mankind as seen through the eyes of the Negro.

Famous Original Cast

The huge cast is headed by Richard B. Harrison, who gained world-wide fame by his sympathetic and reverent interpretation of "de Lawd." Daniel L. Haynes, remembered for his excellent work in the motion picture "Hallelujah," plays the part of Adam. An integral part of the presentation is the Hall Johnson Heavenly choir, consisting of more than a score of mixed voices.

Prominent Chinese Scholar Disapproves American Plan

INTER-FRAT COUNCIL

There will be a very important meeting of the Interfraternity council at 10:30 o'clock this morning in Gerrard hall. President Harold Bennett announced yesterday that attendance is urgent.

JOHNSON'S PLACE FILLED BY BOARD

Roosevelt Creates New Committee to Take Over Ex-Administrator's Duties.

Washington, Sept. 27.—(UP)—President Roosevelt shook up the New Deal from top to bottom tonight by naming a board to take over the duties abandoned by General Hugh S. Johnson and appointing a committee to formulate the policies of all the alphabetical agencies of the administration.

Donald R. Richberg, co-ordinator of the New Deal recovery activities, was named director of the emergency recovery committee. The committee also includes Frances Perkins, secretary of labor; Chester Davis, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act; Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator; and the chairman of the new NRA board, yet to be elected.

Culmination of Plans

President Roosevelt has been formulating plans for the reorganization of the NRA for some time, particularly since the resignation of General Johnson his action in this direction having coming to the fore.

Until today the President has been silent as to what the nature of these changes is to be. His action tonight was the first of his steps to be made public.

It has been thought for some time that Richberg would be the one to step into the place that would be left when General Johnson should resign, as the action of the General was not at all unexpected.

Richberg has remained silent to all questions, following the policy taken by President Roosevelt.

KELLAM TO HEAD STATE'S LIBRARY

Former Circulation Librarian Here Is Promoted.

Several changes in the administrative staff at the library have been effected during the summer months.

W. P. Kellam, formerly head of the circulation department, was appointed librarian at N. C. State College, and took up his work there July 1.

Kellam was replaced as head of the circulation department by O. V. Cook, who until that time had been document librarian.

The position vacated by Cook was filled by W. W. Smiley, whose former job as an assistant in the circulation division was in turn filled by G. F. Shepherd.

Seniors to Check Activities

Seniors wishing to recheck their activities in the 1935 Yackety Yack may do so this afternoon after 2:00 o'clock in the office of the publication in Graham Memorial.

Noted Educator on Visit Here Says American Gets Scanty Education in College.

By BILLY HUDSON

"Frankly, I do not approve of the American educational system," said Dr. Francis C. M. Wei, president of Central China College, in an interview yesterday at the home of Dr. Edgar W. Knight, with whom he is spending two days.

"The A.B. degree confers no scholarly prestige; its holder has only a smattering of knowledge about each of many different subjects. American college students come to college too early, in the first place. They should not come until they are at least 18 years old.

"In their college work they scatter their energies over too many different fields; they should specialize more."

Little Learning Dangerous

Dr. Wei, who holds his Ph.D. degree from the University of London and his M.A. from Harvard University, believes that the smattering of knowledge that American college students acquire about each subject they study is, in an intellectual sense, dangerous to them.

First, having delved into a subject slightly, they think they know all about it. Second, the slight foretaste of a subject which they get in the average college course often kills their interest in that subject.

The 46-year-old Chinese scholar is Jeffersonian in his conception of education. He believes that there should be three levels of education. The primary level, which is training in citizenship, should include everybody; but only those fitted for the higher levels should receive training in them. "You Americans," he said, "seem to think that the Almighty created everybody to get an A.B. degree. The Almighty did not do that."

On Lecture Tour

Dr. Wei, who has studied at Oxford University, the University of Berlin, and the Sorbonne, in addition to Harvard and the University of London, is in the

(Continued on last page)

Balmy Climate And Famed Cooking Of South Pall Upon New Jersey Lads

"We Just Came Down to See How We Liked It," Say Three Freshmen En Route Back to New Jersey; One in Infirmary.

The sunny south and its long-lauded cooking have failed to meet the approval of at least four members of the class of '38 who are tired of the heat and the eats and are now headed north—that is, except for one of their number whom measles and Dr. Berryhill are detaining in the University infirmary.

"We're not used to the kind of food you have here," they said. "It's too hot and we just came down temporarily anyhow."

Therefore the three who are able have packed their trunks and turned towards their respective homes in New Jersey where the sun shines less warmly and spaghetti and non-kosher food are served three times a day.

Make Trial Visit

Dean Bradshaw said yesterday that he had seen each boy who had decided to leave and that they all reported that they had come to the University for

AUTHORITIES RUSH KIDNAP SUSPECT TO WITNESS BOX

Colonel Lindbergh, Disguised, Scrutinizes Prisoner; Extradition Appears Imminent.

PRISONER DENIES GUILT

New York, Sept. 27.—(UP)—According to indications tonight Bruno Richard Hauptmann will be taken to New Jersey at the soonest possible moment to stand trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Samuel Foley of Bronx county has expressed the conviction that Hauptmann wasn't the "lone wolf" in the abduction.

The German has steadfastly maintained his innocence despite the steadily rising mountain of evidence against him. He has broken down only once during the long and gruelling days of questioning to which he has been subjected. That was on Wednesday night in his prison cell.

Col. Lindbergh, disguised in cap and glasses, viewed the prisoner for ten minutes today without his being recognized. This was the first time that he had confronted the accused man.

New Jersey and New York officials were in secret conference with indications pointing to extradition on murder charges.

Other Charges Wait

Hauptmann is being held in New York on extortion charges alone. The maximum sentence for extortion is 20 years imprisonment. But extortion is not the only charge that faces the German alien, the "bad boy" of Kamenz.

In New Jersey the more serious charges of kidnaping and murder await him.

Jersey officials are preparing their case carefully and painstakingly so that there will be no loopholes.

Whether or not the extortion trial comes first, officials have indicated, depends on the events of the next few days.

Attorney General David Wilentz of New Jersey said that under no circumstances will the

(Continued on page two)

Student Body Will Assemble For Huge Pep Rally Tonight

AUTO PARADE

All students with available automobiles are asked to assemble in their vehicles at 7:45 o'clock tonight in front of the fire house to begin the automobile parade to South building for the pep rally.

UNIVERSITY GETS GRANT OF $1,000

Gift of J. Claude Bedford Will Further Alumite Research, Supervised by Cameron.

J. Claude Bedford, prominent Philadelphia lawyer, has just made a gift of $1,000 to the University for a research fellowship in alumite to be carried on under the general supervision of Dr. Frank K. Cameron, professor of industrial chemistry, according to an announcement made yesterday by Felix A. Grissette, director of the Alumni Loyalty Fund.

The grant will be used to pay the salary of E. O. Huffman, graduate student in the University from Hickory, designated to carry on the work under Dr. Cameron's supervision, and for incidental expenses necessary to the success of the experiment.

Year of Research

Huffman has been at work on the problem for a year and Dr. Cameron, seeing its possibilities, used his influence in obtaining the grant.

Alumite is a natural mineral containing alumina and potash in the form of sulphates. It is found in large quantities in the Tushar mountains in southern Utah and deposits at Tolfa, Italy, have been famous since Roman times.

During the World War potassium sulphate and alum were made from the Utah alumite but the mineral methods were too expensive to permit commercial use in normal times. Last year Huffman made a study of the methods used during the war with the result that it is believed a new method can be developed which will permit the mining of the metal on a large scale and will be cheap enough to permit its development on a commercial scale.

A technical paper by Huffman (Continued on page two)

MEDICAL SOCIETY TO GIVE BANQUET

Dr. Foy Roberson Will Speak At Affair Tonight.

The Richard H. Whitehead Medical society will give a welcome banquet to the first year medical students at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Graham Memorial, according to E. W. Phifer, president of the society. Dr. Foy Roberson of Durham will be the guest of honor.

Dr. Roberson is well-known to the students here, and is an interested alumni member of the Athletic association. An ex-captain of the football team of 1905, Dr. Roberson has been for a number of years an enthusiastic supporter of Carolina athletics.

Dr. Roberson has served for a number of years as a surgeon to the Carolina teams, and in the period immediately preceding Dr. Berryhill's regime, served as director of the University infirmary.

Mascot Rameses III To Enliven Occasion

Fire Engine, Official Ram, and Band to Compete as Features Of Colorful Program.

RUSHING STOPS 8:00-8:30

All Carolina will assemble at the north side of South building tonight at 8:00 o'clock for a gigantic pep demonstration before the Wake Forest-Carolina game in Kenan stadium tomorrow.

Led by Lester Ostrow, head cheerleader, and members of the University club, the affair will be the first pep rally of the year and will offer several spirited features in addition to the noise from the fire engine, the Cheerios, the bell of Old South, and the University band.

Rushing Suspended

An announcement yesterday advised that fraternity rushing will be suspended from 8:00 until 8:30 o'clock in the fraternity houses, but will continue immediately after the rally. Fraternity members are requested to bring their visitors to the rally for the half-hour pep period.

Rameses III, famous Tar Heel mascot, will be on hand to kindle the enthusiasm of the multitude. He arrived unexpectedly yesterday afternoon in a cloud of wool and is all set and rarin' to go.

In addition to the parade and several speeches by members of the football team and others, the University band will add to the festivities with its first public appearance of the year.

Auto Procession

The automobile parade will begin at the fire house and led by the fire engine, proceed around the campus several times before coming to rest at South building. All available cars will

(Continued on page two)

YMCA OFFICIALS TO CONFER TODAY

Heads of Committees and Four Directors Will Have Organization Session at 10:30.

Chairmen of all the Y. M. C. A. committees and a committee from the board of directors will meet in the Y. M. C. A. office at assembly period today.

The complete program of the organization for the year includes four major parts. A director has been named to supervise each part. The meeting today is to enable the chairmen and supervisors to make plans and complete the organization.

Faculty Supervisors

The divisions and supervisors are: religious and spiritual activities, Dean F. F. Bradshaw; campus service activities, Professor Harold D. Myer; extension and off-campus activities, J. Maryon Saunders; social and moral educational activities, Professor E. J. Woodhouse.

Student chairmen of the committees under the divisions include Craig McIntosh, J. C. Parker, Francis Fairley, Bill Yandell, Tom Bost, Jack Pool, J. C. Grier, Phil Hammer, B. S. Smith, Simmons Patterson, Raymond Barron, H. E. Riggs, Albert Ellis, Claude Rankin and Billy Pitt.

Chairmen of several remaining committees will be appointed later.