Newsreel Men May Be Here for Parade

Prizes to Be Offered to Stores, Dormitories, and Fraternities for Best Decorations.

Elaborate plans for Homecoming Day, October 20, were announced yesterday by Jake Snyder, chairman of the University club committee sponsoring the celebration.

The occasion will be the day of the Carolina-Kentucky football game here in Kenan stadium, and special arrangements have been made through the cooperation of campus groups to welcome visitors and alumni.

Gala Array

The entire campus will be in gala array with local stores, dormitories, fraternities, and University buildings adorned with decorations suitable to the day.

Prizes will be offered to stores, dormitories, and fraternities for the best exterior decorations.

Sponsors for the football game will be selected, and there will be a special program of entertainment during the half with new cheerio stunts, Rameses III, and other gala surprises being presented.

Reunions will take place for old football team members, and special celebrations and meetings will be arranged for these groups.

Friday night there will be a torchlight parade and a pep meeting. There are possibilities that newsreel men will be here for the parade, according to Snyder.

Invitations have been extended by the University club to Ex-Governor O. Max Gardner, Governor Ehringhaus, Lieutenant-Governor Graham, and other prominent state officials. Also included in the list of visitors will be the president of the University of Kentucky, and officials from that institution.

During the week before the Kentucky game, a radio broadcast will be given over station WBT, Charlotte.

Individual Homecoming affairs will be held in several of the University fraternities. Phi

These broadcasts are features of the program of the International Pharmacy Week, in progress this week.

The subject of Dean Beard's speech was the "Objects and Purposes of International Pharmacy Week." He compared the modern methods of pharmacy with the old in regards to the manufacture, exportation, and retailing of products.

The purpose of this week's program is to give the public a clear idea of the useful work being done in the field of pharmacy and to send out to druggists data on experiments being carried on in pharmaceutical laboratories.

ASSEMBLY HEARS SPEECH BY HOUSE

Life of Intellectual Interest Is Stressed in Talk; Di Debate Challenge Is Accepted.

"The thing that must live in the Phi assembly is the intellectual interest, especially in debate," said Dean R. B. House to members of that body at its weekly meeting last evening.

Dean House, a member of the Phi when, together with the Dialectic society, it controlled almost every aspect of extra-curricular life at the University except athletics, said that he never expected to see the Phi attain its former political supremacy, nor did he desire it to do so. "Let the weight of your authority be intellectual," he told the members.

Unexploited Field

"There is one field that has not been exploited at the University," he said, "That is a means for closer relation between students and faculty. I hope this organization may help provide this means."

After Dean House's speech, the challenge from the Di senate to hold a debate between the respective organizations was accepted.

Three committees were appointed the parliamentary rules committee, composed of Winthrop Durfee, chairman, Albert McAnally, and Edward Vick; the Yackety Yack committee composed of Alexander Thompson, chairman, Winthrop Durfee, and Wiley Parker; and the debate committee composed of John Dudley, chairman, Billy Sewell and John Hodges.

The talks will take the form of long distance telephone calls, and at the banquets in Boston and Pittsburgh special amplifying set-ups will be attached to the receiving devices to enable all members in the convocations to hear the University president.

Both the Boston and Pittsburgh clubs are permanent University alumni organizations, and the sessions will be the annual convocations of the groups.

Former University students now studying at Harvard University will be invited to attend the Boston convocation. Among the alumni present will be Clairborn Carr, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL last year.

Dr. Graham's speeches will be informal and will only last about ten minutes. The subject for the talks have not as yet been announced.

INITIATION RITES HELD BY SENATE

Reception Follows Initiation; Annual Debate Challenge Is Issued to Phi Assembly.

Approximately 25 new members were initiated into the Dialectic senate at its meeting last night in the senate chamber in New West.

The entire program for last night's meeting was devoted to the conducting of these new men into the society. An especially prepared initiation ceremony was performed.

A brief business session was called during the course of the meeting at which time, by a unanimous vote of the senate, it was decided to challenge the Phi assembly to a debate.

Challenge Accepted

The challenge was conducted to the Phi hall where it was accepted. Speaker Smithwick predicted that his organization would win the contest.

This challenge of the Phi by the Di has become an annual affair. Last year the debate was made into a freshman contest and resulted in a unanimous victory for the Di.

After the formal meeting of the senate had been completed, there was a reception for the new members. Refreshments were served.

The University has come into possession of the Charles L. Coon memorial loan fund, amounting to approximately $1,000, according to an announcement made yesterday by Felix A. Grisette, director of the alumni loyalty fund.

This fund was created several years ago by the students of the Wilson public schools in memory of their superintendent for many years, Charles L. Coon. Every year since, the graduating class of the Charles L. Coon high school has added to the gift.

Given by Trustees

From the date of its creation the fund has been administered by a board of trustees consisting of several prominent Wilson citizens, of which Mr. K. R. Curtis, superintendent of Wilson schools, is secretary.

Henceforth it will be administered by the University loan fund committee in the same manner as other unrestricted University loan funds, with the exception that the beneficiary of the fund must be a graduate of the Charles L. Coon high school. Miss Mary Ida Blackburn is the holder of the award for this school year.

Marseilles, France, Oct. 9.—(UP)—A good-will gesture toward France on the part of Yugoslavia was brought to an abrupt and tragic end today when King Alexander I, dictator of Yugoslavia, and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were slain by political assassins.

King Alexander and the French Minister were passing through the street in an automobile when a fusillade of about 20 shots was fired from the crowd. The king was mortally wounded by three shots.

Assassin Killed

One of the murderers, Petrus Kalem, was beaten down and killed by guards.

The visit of Alexander to France was regarded as of great diplomatic importance.

The Yugoslav king was cheered by throngs as he passed through the Marseilles streets. He was riding in the first automobile of the procession past the stock exchange when the shots were fired. His car was the only one of the entire procession to be hit.

The king was taken at once to the prefecture where surgeons

CALL CABINET MEETING TO ESTABLISH REGENCY

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Yugoslavia tonight was swept by a wave of apprehension which was reflected in the frantic cabinet meeting called at the palace.

The ministers met at 7:00 o'clock this evening to discuss the crisis and long after midnight the lights were still burning.

It is believed that the first step will be the establishment of a regency, probably consisting of three men, to rule the nation until young Petar VI comes of age.

began their emergency work. Their efforts to save his life, however, were in vain.

Two high officials who also died in the affair were General Alphonse of France and Alexander Dimitrijevitich, marshal in Alexander's court.

A policeman shot in the melee also died tonight.

Six others, including Admiral Berthelot of France, were gravely wounded while scores of spectators suffered saber and revolver wounds.

King Alexander was on one of the most important missions of the year involving Yugoslavia's relation to the new Franco-Italian rapprochement.

The assassination came with the crushing effectiveness of its historical parallel at Sarajevo when Archduke Ferdinand of Austria was killed in 1914.

The assassin was armed with an automatic revolver. He was a member of a secret political society pledged to kill Alexander because his dictatorship had killed the Croatian movement for autonomy.

Eleven-year-old Petar, son of Alexander, became defacto king of Yugoslavia.
