BANKERS WARNED AGAINST INACTION

Recovery Program with Liberal Doctrines Supported.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Formally opening the sixtieth annual convention of the American Bankers association, Francis M. Law, president, warned that the nation would not tolerate a do-nothing program from its financiers.

He pledged the co-operation of the banker's board with a recovery program based on "liberal business doctrines and rational humanitarianism."

At the same time he warned that the depression is not ended and said, "There would be no greater mistake than for us to preach untempered or undue optimism."

U. S. FLYERS BOW TO DUTCH RACERS

U. S. Flyers Lose Neck and Neck Race with Dutch for Second Place in Air Meet.

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 23.—(UP)—In a dramatic air battle on the homestretch waged by American and Holland entries, the United States fought the Netherlands down a rain-soaked country-side for second place in the Mildenhall England-to-Melbourne Australia race.

Both teams grounded. Rushing desperately to take to the air again in the final dash, the Americans were forced into a landing at Bourke, New South Wales.

Forced Landing

They hit the ground at 9:00 o'clock this morning, which is 6:00 o'clock in the afternoon eastern standard time.

Reason for the forced landing was a minor motor trouble. It put the Americans in the position of lacking 500 miles of overhauling the Netherlands team, which was flying an American-built Douglas air-liner.

The Dutch plane bogged down in Albury, Australia, two miles from Melbourne. The team left at 9:54 o'clock this morning, which is 6:54 o'clock in the afternoon eastern standard time.

The second prize is about $6,000. The third prize is $2,000. The first prize of $40,000 was won by the British flyers.

Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn are piloting the American machine in the race.

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 24.—(UP)—The Dutch entry in the England to Australia air race arrived in Melbourne at 2:50 o'clock this morning to finish second. The time for the flight was 94 hours, 47 minutes, and 30 seconds; this time is unofficial, however.

FACULTY TO GET COPIES OF FIRST MAGAZINE ISSUE

Publications Board Discontinues Salary of Finjan Managing Editor.

COPIES FOR ALUMNI TOO

The Publications Union board voted yesterday to send each member of the faculty a complimentary copy of the first issue of the new Carolina Magazine, provided there are sufficient extra copies.

Any copies that still remain will be mailed out to a list of prominent alumni, which will be drawn up by Maryon Saunders.

Salary Discontinued

The board also voted to discontinue the small salary formerly paid to the managing editor of the humor magazine, acting upon the suggestion of the business manager of the Finjan. The art editor of the comic magazine will continue to draw a salary of $2.50 an issue.

Editor Reminded

In order to insure co-operation between the Finjan and its board of censors the board ruled that the expense of resetting any material which is set up without the censors' approval, on which it is desired to change, will have to be borne by the editor.

Decision on the number of complimentary copies to be given to the editors and assistants on the University publications was postponed until the next meeting.

Well-Known Violinist And His Wife Visit Hill And University

Are Impressed by Beauty of Town and Campus.

"You don't know who Leopold Auer was? Well, I don't know who your Guy Lombardo is, either; so I suppose we are even." Youthful-appearing 50-year-old Alexander Bloch, violin concertinist, conductor, composer, and former pupil of the celebrated Russian violinist Auer smiled warmly as he spoke to the DAILY TAR HEEL reporter yesterday.

Bloch and wife, a concert pianist, who were both born in Alabama and since their marriage have lived in New York City and Hillsdale, N. C., were in Chapel Hill Sunday through yesterday visiting their friends, Mrs. A. C. Burnham and H. F. Frink, both of whom they knew in Hillsdale.

Leave for Atlanta

They left today for Atlanta, on a tour of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida, a tour which, they say, "is partly business and partly pleasure."

The musician, who has composed songs, a successful children's operetta, and a number of technical studies for the violin, plans to spend the winter with Mrs. Bloch in Sarasota, Fla.

Mrs. Bloch, who, just as she says, "manages her husband's interviewers for him," spoke of Carolina students and the campus as being "fine." "Your stadium is impressive and your library beautiful," added Bloch.

Like Chapel Hill

Both were charmed with Chapel Hill and seemed very much interested in everything pertaining to the University, going through Graham Memorial and

JAPAN DEMANDS NAVAL EQUALITY

Delegates from U. S., Great Britain, and Japan Meet in First Of Parleys in London.

London, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The Japanese at the opening session of the naval parleys now in progress here warned that Japan not only intends to abrogate the Washington naval treaty of 1922, but demanded that the powers recognize Japan's equal rights to protect her national security.

The Japanese delegates to the conferences indicated strong terms such as the recognition of essential preliminary negotiations for the new naval agreement with the United States and England.

1935 Conference

The conferences now being held are intended to pave the way for the 1935 naval conference. Indications are that the parley will turn in to a free for all naval building race.

The conferences at this time are among delegates from the United States, Great Britain, and Japan only. The delegates from all three countries to the tripartite talks hoped highly for their successful termination, but these hopes were offset by the vast differences in the respective programs of the countries.

"Football Card" Promoters Make Usual Week-end Killing

Gambling Racketeers Take Estimated Profits of $250,000 in New York City; Navy-Columbia Upset and Detroit-Villanova Tie Ruin Bettors' Chances of Winning.

New York, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The "football card" boys, operators of one of the rawest rackets connected with the gridiron or any other sport, made another nice killing this week-end.

Of the probable million dollars that changed hands in various forms of football gambling in the New York area alone, it was estimated conservatively that the card boys looped off a cool quarter-million.

This $250,000 is good money indeed for the "wise guys" to collect largely from city slickers with a racket that makes the old shell game look like matching pennies in Sunday school. It proves again how right Mr. Bar-num was when he established

TULL'S CONDITION STILL UNCHANGED

Doctors Refuse to Predict Outcome; Blood Transfusions Administered Yesterday.

Montrose Tull, 29-year-old Chapel Hill air pilot, lay critically injured last night in Rainey Hospital, Burlington.

Tull was rushed to the hospital late Monday afternoon after the airplane in which he was flying to Winston-Salem, crashed between here and Burlington.

Serious Injuries

The pilot suffered from broken leg bones, a broken nose, broken arm, lacerated face and extreme shock. He was given several blood transfusions yesterday. Doctors would not predict the outcome of the treatments.

Tull who has been flying passengers and teaching here for the past six years had just received his commission to the United States air corps. He had planned to fly to Washington after leaving Winston-Salem, his first stop-over. He was a graduate of Brooks training school and held a reserve air corps commission in addition to his commercial license.

Farmer Was Eye-Witness

The farmer who reached the pilot after the crash explained that the plane was passing over his farm when the motor went dead. The plane began a slow glide when presently the motor picked up. Tull evidently "gave her the gun" but it soon went
