

RELATIONS BOARD FIGHTS TO SAVE
PEACE OF LABOR

Night Session Marks Efforts of Board to End Dispute Between A. & P. and Labor.

INDUSTRY IS CONCERNED

Washington, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations board battled into the night tonight to save the Roosevelt industrial truce menaced by the bitter dispute between the A. & P. Tea Co. and labor unioners.

A noisy five-hour round table conference with company executives and labor representatives recessed at 7:15 o'clock tonight for dinner. The discussions were resumed at 9:00 o'clock.

Cleveland, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Industry looked anxiously to Washington tonight as the Labor Relations board sought to settle the controversy which may mean the removal of one of Cleveland's largest merchants, the A. & P. Tea Co.

The weekly A. & P. payroll here, according to company figures, is $60,000, which means that 2,000 people with an average earning of $30 per week now have nothing to spend.

The great chain of retail grocery stores has stated in no uncertain terms that it will not submit to labor, and that rather than do so it will quit business.

Meanwhile Milwaukee and other cities of the middle west are also threatened with strikes among A. & P. employees and in allied industries.

BAND PLANS TWO TRIPS WITH TEAM

University Musicians Will Accompany Football Squad to Davidson and Virginia.

The University band, conducted by Earl A. Slocum, will accompany the football team to Davidson and Virginia this year, it was announced by "Bo" Shepard of the University athletic department, yesterday.

In order to make a good showing against Davidson's crack band Saturday a week, Slocum has announced a special program of rehearsals between now and that time.

This program begins tomorrow night with a full band rehearsal in the Music hall at 7:00 o'clock.

The athletic department once considered sending the band to Atlanta for the Georgia Tech game, but the enormous cost of transporting the 70-piece organization caused the department to reject the plan.

Davidson Trip

The trip to Davidson will be made in three specially chartered Greyhound busses, and the band will return after the game with the members of the football team.

The band will make the Thanksgiving game trip to Charlottesville on the special pullman with the coaches and team. Their tickets, it is understood, will be valid until the end of the holidays, so band members may spend several extra days in Charlottesville.

Director Slocum will pick the University concert band at the close of the football season. This band will give recitals during the year and will play for University celebrations.

Paul Green Foresees Little Cinema Movement In Colleges

University Should Be Pioneer in Production of Films for Purpose of Raising Movie Standards, Says Playwright-Scenarist.

"Think of the fun we could have making movies on this campus. That's what appeals to me," said Paul Green, professor of philosophy at the University, playwright, and scenarist for numerous Hollywood productions, on his return from New York where his play, "Roll Sweet Chariot," was recently produced.

Enthusiastic about the future of the movies, Green looks to the colleges for the production of intelligent pictures. "Within the near future," he said, "a little cinema movement is certain to come." Green, who is familiar with the movie industry, having written scenarios in Hollywood, is convinced that the development of the cinema as an art will be accomplished by amateur groups.

"With a few thousand dollars we could rig up a studio, buy cameras and other equipment, and import a technical expert or two from Hollywood," Green explained. "Classics in scenario writing would supply us with stories to film. Everybody would have a part. Those who did not take leading roles would serve as extras. Camera try-outs, scene shooting, developing and assembly of the films, trial showings would all lead up to the first night performance just as in Hollywood."

Would Produce Classics

"With sufficient financial backing," he continued, "any little theater group could set up a studio and produce films of great artistic value. Not having to please the masses for financial success as do the professional producers, the amateurs will be free to experiment at will with the cinema. The classics and high class contemporary works will furnish their subject matter; the educated few, their audiences."

Green pointed out that the films could be carried to neigh-

PHI DISAPPROVES TURLINGTON ACT

Assembly to Petition Governor; N. C. Whiskey Bottle Is Flourished in Debate.

The Phi assembly, at last night's meeting in New East, carried by a vote of 43 to 11 the bill: Resolved, that the next state legislature take definite action towards the repeal of the Turlington Act.

A vote on the question was taken only after a spirited debate by Alfred Kaplan and Kenneth Young, who favored the bill, and by Jesse Lassiter and Gene MacIntosh, who spoke against the measure.

Evidence

The debate reached a climax when MacIntosh, who was questioning Kaplan, took issue with the latter on his statement that "good whiskey cannot be bought in North Carolina." MacIntosh flourished an empty bottle which he claimed had previously contained "Four Roses Whiskey," one of the best brands in America," and which he claimed, had been procured in North Carolina.

After the bill had been carried, the assembly unanimously voted to petition Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, informing him of the Phi's opinion.

"Efficiency Expert"

Professor E. J. Woodhouse, who acted as "efficiency expert" for last night's meeting, commented briefly on each of the speeches, warning against generalization in public statements. "Youth," he said, "is especially prone to use the words 'never,' 'ever,' and 'forever.'"

The bill for discussion at next week's meeting is: Resolved, that every person convicted by the student council be given another chance.

Tom Hull and Harry MacMullen will uphold the affirmative side of this question, and W. E. Simmons and Laighton Dudley will support the negative viewpoint.
