

Harriers Run Perfect Race With VMI To Win, 15-48

McRae Outclasses Field To Cop Easy First; Waldrop Second.

Haywood, Conte Tie for Third; Gammon Is Fourth.

Lexington, Va. Nov. 5.—(UP)—The University of North Carolina's well-balanced cross country team turned in a perfect score here today in outrunning the V. M. I. Cadets, 15-48.

Ed McRae, Tar Heel ace, completely outclassed the field of runners and breezed into the Number 1 position with the time of 23:55 minutes for the four and three-tenths mile course.

The first Virginia man to finish was Captain Moore who closely followed the fifth Carolinian.

Other Tar Heels

Ed Waldrop placed second in the race, which was run over quite a difficult course. Fab Haywood and Louis Conte tied for third and Graham Gammon broke the tape in fifth position.

Their win today gave the Tar Heels a perfect score for their week-end's work here in Lexington. They beat Washington and Lee Saturday, 20-43, but Dunaj of the Generals captured the first place. The Ranson runners finished in order as follows: McRae, Waldrop, Haywood, Conte, Curlee, Bower, and Allen.

WILLIS-HENDERSON ELIMINATE SEEDED PAIR IN DOUBLES

Defeat Jones and Whitaker in Straight Sets and Enter Semi-Final Round.

TOURNEY MOVES SLOWLY

The doubles tourney, which has been stalled for quite some time, again got under way and moved one notch closer to completion yesterday when Archie Henderson and Ricky Willis swept the fourth-seeded pair right out of the tourney.

Larry Jones and Myers Whitaker were the victims, and although they gave all they had, their die-hard spirit was not sufficient to stem the tide of the powerful combination on the other side of the net, and they went under in straight sets.

Long First Set

The first set set-sawed into extra games before Willis and Henderson were able to tuck it away. That hard fought set was the turning point of the battle and the victors ran through the next set with ease and scored at 6-2 for a straight set victory and a berth in the semi-finals. Willis and Henderson were considered the finest of the unseeded pairs and they immediately set about proving their right to a higher ranking with this sparkling victory over a seeded team.

It had been rumored beforehand that this combination would probably be the dark horse of the tourney. However, their next match, if the favorites run true to form, will run them head-on into the strongest doubles combination on the courts in the persons of Eddy De Gray and Wally Levitan.

The only other match on the board that promises action is the Harris-Abels affair with Bartelman and Clover. The seeded pair of Harvey Harris and Byron Abels is considered a heavy favorite but many a good shot lies in the racquets of their opponents and an interesting contest looms. The tournament is still being slowed by uncompleted early matches and the contestants are urged to finish early.

CHI PSI REMAINS UNBEATEN IN TAG FOOTBALL RANKS

Zeta Psi and St. Anthony Also Get Mural Wins; Three Games Set for Today.

CHANGES IN SCHEDULE

The opening session of the fifth week in the intramural tag football competition played yesterday afternoon saw Zeta Psi beating D. K. E., 8-0, Chi Psi downing Phi Alpha, 24-2, and St. Anthony getting an 8-6 first down win over Lambda Chi Alpha.

The Chi Psi team chalked up its fourth successive victory in as many starts as it easily humbled the K. A.'s, leading 18-2 at half time, and outgaining the losers ten to two in first downs.

Wilday accounted for two of the six-pointers as he took a set of passes, adding to one a 30-yard jaunt. Hagey went over after taking a forward from Leo Manley, and the latter second the remaining touchdown on a beautiful run.

Zeta Psi Wins

With Bill Carr's passing again superb the Zeta Psi eleven—though it actually numbered only ten—repulsed the ever potent D. K. E. team, 8-2, in a hard fought contest. The winners held a 6-0 advantage at intermission.

Early in the game one of Carr's aeriels found its mark in the arms of Ed Clark, who carried the pigskin to the 10-yard marker. On the next play another pass from Carr to Clark resulted in the lone touchdown of the game. The additional two points came midway in the final setto when Laxton nabbed an opposing back behind the goal. Both lines played heads-up ball.

Lambda Chi Alpha and St. Anthony Hall put on a dogged fight throughout the forty minutes of play to finish in a scoreless tie, with the latter being awarded the game via the first down ruling. Both teams displayed fine defensive work.

Several important changes were made in the schedule for today and the rest of the week, Intramural Director Herman

FENCING PRACTICE IS HELD IN TIN CAN

Manager Tobey Meets with Large Squad of New Men And Old Varsity.

Manager Brad Tobey held the initial practice for the swordsmen at 4:00 o'clock yesterday in the Tin Can.

Practice will be held again tomorrow at the same time. All men who did not join the squad, and are desirous of doing so, are invited to attend the next meeting.

The fencing squad now consists of the following men: Marvin Chaikin, Niles Bond, Anthony Konefal, Jesse Caldwell, Alexander Heard, Tom Hines, Robert Nahikian, Lawrence Weisbrod, Ferdinand Weisbrod, Pryor McFadden, Lee Melvin, June Grimes, Richard M. Cox, A. V. Weltschiff, A. W. Jackson, Julian Steinberg, Burr Leoch, Charles McCandless, John Ramsay and in addition the following members of last year's team: Jack Spies, Dupont Snowden, John Elmendorf, Kirby Smith, and Brad Tobey. The faculty advisor of the group is R. W. Linker.

WILDCAT THREATS

On the left is Davidson's Captain Johnny Mackorell, numerous-threat ace. He punts, passes, hits the line, runs in broken field, blocks, tackles, and calls signals—all in superb style. The Hickory Haunt is all-state and received honorable mention on all-American.

On the right is Midget Verble, petit halfback who has been suffering from injuries all season. This Concord fellow is remembered as being the only Wildcat who could gain to any extent over Carolina last year. This year against The Citadel, he beautifully led the interference for one of the other backs on a long jaunt resulting in a touchdown.

Tar Babies Start Week Of Work In Prep For Clemson Yearlings

After Week-end of Rest, Jamesmen Take Stiff Workout; Team in Good Shape.

MEET DUKE FROSH NEXT

Coach Snavely Helps James with First Year Men; Short Scrimmage Is Held.

The Tar Babies' week-end of rest evidently did not hinder their sprightliness of last week, for they immediately picked up where they left off, and romped eagerly through a hard drill yesterday afternoon, in preparation for their combat with Clemson on Monday, November 12, at Asheville, N. C.

If the play of the yearlings yesterday was any criterion by which to judge their possibilities in the forthcoming struggle, then the Clemson Tiger Cubs will have to play football par excellence if they wish to stop the much improved Jamesmen.

Still Chance in Big Five

Due to the unexpected upset of the State frosh at the hands of the Duke Blue Imps, the Tar Babies are well aware of the chance they stand of tying the state race in a knot when they battle Duke. Realizing the toughness of that future assignment they have plunged into the practice scrimmages with a renewed vigor in an effort to reach their peak for the important games to come.

Coach Snavely was down on the field yesterday, aiding the boys in their maneuvers and teaching them some new tricks to mix with the old ones. Snavely gave quite a few helpful hints to numerous players, who immediately showed improvement. Ed Juliper especially capitalized on the advice of the veteran

(Continued on last page)

Tar Baby Harriers Meet Wildkittens

The freshman cross country men will meet their first opposition of the season this Saturday when they journey to Davidson to meet the Wildkittens.

The meet with Duke, previously scheduled for today or tomorrow, has been postponed until next week.

The Tar Baby runners have come along quite well to date and have been working hard to get into proper condition. The leading harriers include: Rivers, Davison, Rowley, Bronitsky, Rabb, D'Ascensio, Braxton, Gove, Eichorn, Darden, Chaitken, and White.

Snavelly Pleased With Tar Heels; Entire Squad Rests Yesterday

CAROLINA STARTS DRIVE FOR STATE FOOTBALL TITLE

Tar Heels Meet Davidson Away This Week-end and Return Home for Duke Battle.

WILDCATS WILL BE TOUGH

After their trek to Georgia resulting in their walloping the Georgia Tech Golden Tornado, the Tar Heels will remain on Old North State soil for several weeks waging battles with Davidson and Duke for the championship of the Big Five.

The Tar Heels go to Davidson for their annual battle with the Wildcats Saturday. The Carolina-Duke classic, which drew close to 30,000 people last year, will be played in Kenan stadium the following Saturday.

Carolina and Duke are the only two elevens remaining undefeated in Big Five play, and the Tar Heels are seen as the only team with a chance to depose the Blue Devils of the crown they won in 1933.

Davidson Looms Big

Coach Carl Snavely is confronted with the difficult problem of keying the Tar Heels up for the tough game they can expect from Davidson while looking ahead to their final home game with Wallace Wade's mighties.

It is not likely that the Tar Heels, who have good reason to appreciate the strength and fighting qualities of Wildcat elevens from other years, will make the mistake of taking Davidson lightly.

Carolina barely beat the Presbyterians last year, 6-0, and Johnny Mackorell, their triple-threat and ace back, was laid up with injuries that day.

Aerial Attack Dangerous

The scintillating aerial attack which Mackorell and George Wingfield have been engineering this year has given some of the strongest teams, including Duke's mighties, great difficulty.

With Hutchens and Yarborough, they also present a hard running attack. Although State beat them 7-0 and only tied Carolina 7-7, the experts say State was a much better team against Davidson than it was against Carolina.

For the next two weeks the Tar Heels will devote their entire attention to settling up their home affairs after which they will go to Virginia to close the season with their annual Thanksgiving classic with the Cavaliers.

Fine Blocking Features Carolina Play; Barclay Plays His Best Game.

WORK HARD FOR DAVIDSON

No Injuries on Squad; Team to Be Ready for Scragging Wildcat Eleven.

The Tar Heel gridsters got a holiday yesterday afternoon as a reward for their brilliant playing against Georgia Tech Saturday. It was the first "grat" Professor Snavely has given the boys since the season began.

"Well, I hope they don't get too cocky," was Coach Snavely's comment when interviewed by a sports writer of the DAILY TAR HEEL last night.

When asked what he thought about the decisive 26-0 score run up against the Yellow Jackets, the Carolina mentor chuckled, "It would be nice to have some of that figure to add to our score when we play Duke."

Fine Blocking

Coach Snavely attributed the victory to the fact that "Our boys just got in there and did some fine blocking as any good football team ought to do."

The Carolina coach was highly pleased with the performance of the Tar Heel forward wall. "Our linemen tackled so hard that it looked as if they would knock those Tech backs loose from their shoes," Coach Snavely commented.

When asked about individual stars of the game, the Tar Heel mentor replied, "Barclay played his best game of the season and Montgomery did a nice job at Shaffer's position; however, the entire team played good football."

The Tar Heels will journey to Davidson this week-end where they will encounter Big Five competition as they take on the Davidson College Wildcats.

The Snavely aggregation emerged intact from the Georgia Tech contest; so the same starting lineup will probably get the first call against the Wildcats.

Co-ed Net Tourney

The co-ed tennis tournament will get underway today. The contest is to be run off in the form of a ladder tournament.

The names of the girls entered in the tourney has been posted in Spencer hall along with the list of rules under which the matches will be played.

LOST

Bunch of keys between Students' Cooperative clothing store and University Drive on Pittsboro road. Finder please return to Tar Heel office. Reward.

"Who wouldn't prefer a cigarette that's easier on the throat" says Joan Blondell

See JOAN BLONDELL in Warner Bros. Picture, "DAMES"