

CAST IS CHOSEN FOR GREEN PLAY

Paul Green's New Play, "Shroud My Body Down," Will Be Produced December 5-7.

A tentative cast for Paul Green's "Shroud My Body Down," to be staged December 5-7, was announced yesterday. Author Green changed the title from "Shroud Me Down" because he saw a conflict between the inanimate "shroud" and the animate "me."

Tentative Cast

The tentative cast follows: Lora, the child-like, dreamy daughter of a landlord farmer, Annie Lee McCauley; Julie, the wise and silent wife of the farmer, Patsy McMullan; Tommy, the mischievous little Negro field sprite, Dan Hamilton; Marshburn, the country preacher, D. D. McCachren.

Tapley, an old hired man and country soothsayer, Harold Baumstone; Old Mand, and accordion player, Robert du Four; Lady Jane, the deserted lover of Graham, Sammie Ruth Bell; Graham, the proud and embittered farmer, Alton Williams; Colin, the young hired man, Robert Nachtmann.

Other members of the cast who have roles as neighbors and soldiers are Louise McGuire, Hazel Beacham, Mildred Moore, Ruth Joyce Satre, Nancy Hawes, Ellen Deppe, Jane Cover, Channing Fries, Wilbur Leach, George Stoney, Edmund Austin, Dwight Brown, and David Richardson.

POWERFUL DEVIL ELEVEN SMASHES DEACS WITH EASE

Alexander Loose

The rest of the first half was rather listless with Wake Forest holding the Blue Devils on even terms mainly through the efforts of Kitchin who got off several beautiful runs. However, not long before the whistle Alexander intercepted one of Kitchin's heaves on his own 37 and ran the entire 63 yards for the marker. Cornelius turned in his third successful try for extra point.

Midway in the fourth period Johnson, reserve Duke back, took a punt from Eden on his own 34 and raced through the entire Deacon club 66 yards for the last Blue Devil touchdown. McAninch kicked to make the count, 28-0.

Deacons Score

The lone Wake Forest tally came not long before the end of the contest when Kitchin's passes began finding their marks. The first toss to Edens gained 15 yards and then a second throw to Warren was good for 34 yards putting the ball on Duke's 6. A third pass, this time to Clark, resulted in the 6-pointer. Edens place-kicked the extra point.

The consistent smashes for gains by Alexander and the occasional spectacular dashes by Cornelius featured in the Blue Devil power attack. Parker continued his fine punting, while Wentz, end, and Power, tackle, were the stars in the line. Kitchin was the big gun both

"GAY DIVORCEE"

Here are some of the ladies who will introduce the "Continental," successor to the "Carioca," in the musical-dancing spectacle, "The Gay Divorcee," playing at the Carolina theatre today and tomorrow. Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, stars in "Flying Down to Rio," take the leading roles.

Davidson elected to kick-off at the beginning of the second half, and Mackorell's short boot was recovered by Cathey, a Wildcat end, on Carolina's 45-yard line. This was one of the Wildcat's tricks that worked perfectly.

After Mackorell punted out of bounds on Carolina's 14-yard marker, big Jim Hutchins broke loose on a reverse for a 30-yard run before he was finally hauled down by a Davidson back.

On the next play Carolina was ruled off-side after Jackson had carried the ball for a 32-yard gain.

Hutchins and Jackson carried the ball for two consecutive first downs to make it first and goal to go on Davidson's 5-yard line. Hutchins made a two foot gain through the line, and then Jackson scored the Tar Heels' second touchdown on a reverse around right end. Babe Daniel's kick for extra point was blocked by "Big Six" Johnston.

Captain George Barclay and Dick Buck starred in the Tar Heel's forward wall, while "Big Six" Johnston and Morgan were the Wildcats' best linemen.

TAR HEELS, DUKE BEGIN WORK FOR IMPORTANT TILT

Charlie Shaffer, star back, and Bill Moore, letter end, who were held out of the Davidson game due to injuries, are expected to resume their places in the Carolina lineup next week. Captain Jack Dunlap, Elmer Tarrall, and Jule Ward, the three Duke stars who have been slowed up with injuries recently, are likewise expected to be back in shape, so that both teams will be packing close to top strength.

Carolina and Duke have been battling on the gridiron since 1888, although no games were played between 1894 and 1922. A total of 18 games have been played with Carolina scoring 11 victories and two ties. However, the up-and-coming Blue Devils, who are now a power in the grid world, have won the last two games and fought the Tar Heels to scoreless ties in 1930 and 1931.

PAINTING EXHIBIT TO OPEN NOV. 17

Rosamond Niles' Works Will Be Displayed in Music Hall.

A public exhibition of paintings by Rosamond Niles, including portraits, etchings, and water colors, will be opened here Saturday afternoon in Hill Music hall immediately after the Carolina-Duke game and will continue for a week.

Miss Niles and her sister, Mrs. Joseph G. Walker of Woodberry Forest, will accompany the exhibit to Chapel Hill. They will be honored at a tea in the Hill Music hall Saturday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock, to which a number of art patrons throughout the state have been extended invitations.

The exhibit is being brought to Chapel Hill through the generosity of William L. Hunt.

Miss Niles makes her home in Old Lyme, Conn., but spends a considerable portion of her time in Woodberry Forest. She is the daughter of the late Rear Admiral N. E. Niles, U.S.N.

She has exhibited in the National Academy of Design in New York, in the Paris Salon, in the Southern States Art League exhibitions, and in other centers throughout the country.

Miss Niles has membership in the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors, in the National Arts club, and in the Southern States Art League.

The names of all professors who keep their classes overtime are published regularly at the University of Kansas.

HEER WILL SPEAK ON REVENUE PLAN

North Carolina Club to Hear Professor Tomorrow Night.

Dr. Clarence Heer, professor of taxation at the University, will speak on "Co-ordination of Federal and State Revenues" at a meeting of the North Carolina club tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the rural social economics room in the library.

Dr. Heer will review the revenue system of North Carolina, outlining some difficulties of administration. He will discuss a method that could be used by the federal government to relieve some of the administrative problems by collecting revenues on a national basis and distributing funds to the states.

He is recognized as one of the outstanding students of taxation in the United States and has recently returned to the University from a leave of absence during which he was employed by the interstate commission on conflicting taxation which has been trying to harmonize state and federal taxation by eliminating tax conflicts.

Advance Sale for Game Makes New Record

Reduced General Admission Tickets Not Eliminated.

Contrary to reports, Carolina will not eliminate the sale of general admission tickets at reduced prices to the game with Duke here Saturday, athletic officials said last night.

Although the advance sale, heaviest on record here, indicates a sell-out, officials said that provisions were being made for two general admission sections seating approximately 4,500 people.

The whole of the north (visitors) side will be reserved, but extra bleachers are being installed at the west end of the field, supplementing the 2,500 seats in the general admission section on the south (Carolina) side.

To avoid congestion, the 2,500 seats in the general admission section in the south stands, although they will be sold at the reduced price, will be numbered, thus assuring the purchaser a specific seat.

Austrian Police Arrest Hundred in Uprising

Propagandists Incite Populace to Demand Plebiscite.

Vienna, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Police and troops, alert for weeks against the possibility of an uprising, today broke up anti-government demonstrations throughout Austria.

It is estimated that 100 communists and socialists were arrested this afternoon and this evening here in an effort to halt the distribution of thousands of pamphlets summoning the population to a demonstration Monday for "a plebiscite" to determine the balance of power between leftist elements and the Austrian fascist government.

DELTA TAU DELTA TO HOLD BANQUET

Carolina and Duke Chapters to Hold Conclave Saturday.

The annual Delta Tau Delta banquet, which will bring together the active chapters of Carolina and Duke, the pledges of those groups, and their alumni, will be held here Saturday, following the Duke-Carolina football game. This will be the fifth meeting of the two groups.

The banquet will be held in Graham Memorial at 6:00 o'clock. It is expected there will be from 150 to 200 persons present. Delts from all over this section have been invited. The actives and pledges from Duke will be the guests of the actives and pledges of North Carolina.

The program will include a welcome from the president of the Carolina chapter, V. J. Lee of Baltimore, Md., and response from President Williams of the Duke University chapter, Delt songs, and a few special stunts.

The chief speaker will be Harold Tharp, national president of Delta Tau Delta. He will give an address on Delta Tau Delta as a national fraternity. There will be a brief address by Dean R. B. House of the University. Professor Harold D. Meyer will serve as toastmaster.

Asst. Archivist

Miss Marjory Terrell, secretary to Robert D. W. Connor, former head of the history department, during his 11 years at the University, left for Washington yesterday where she will assist him in his new duties as Federal Archivist.

Miss Terrell has been working with Dr. Connor "for more years than she cares to admit" and has been his only secretary. She will take up permanent residence in Washington.
