

Carolina Trims Duke

'Y' HEARS TALKS ON DISARMAMENT TOMORROW NIGHT

Frazer to Speak to Junior-Senior Cabinet; Kind to Lead Sophomore Discussion.

FROSH TO CONSIDER HONOR

K. C. Frazer, professor of government at the University, will be the principal speaker tomorrow night at the meeting of the junior-senior Y.M.C.A. cabinets at 7:15 o'clock in the "Y" building.

Professor Frazer will talk on "Disarmament," continuing the Y.M.C.A. program of war and peace discussions.

Frazer has visited many of the armament conferences in Geneva, Switzerland, and in his lecture tomorrow night he will review several of the disarmament meetings. He is adviser to the Foreign Policy League and was instrumental in founding it.

Kind to Talk

The sophomore cabinet will discuss some phase of disarmament at its meeting tomorrow night. Phil Kind, president of the sophomore cabinet, will conduct the discussion.

J. D. Winslow, president of the University Y.M.C.A., announced yesterday that the cabinets would make final arrangements for the Negro football game to be played here Saturday. The plans for the Thanksgiving student program, the visit of the Greensboro Sedalia Singers, and the plans for the WDNC radio broadcast will be discussed.

Freshman Group

The freshman council will meet tomorrow night in Gerard hall at 7:15 o'clock to study the question of the honor system. A report of the results of the Red Cross drive that the freshmen conducted last week will be presented by Lee Greer, who was in charge of the campaign for the Y.M.C.A.

The discussions tomorrow night on the war and peace questions will be a continuation of the Y.M.C.A. fall quarter program. Similar discussions are scheduled for the remainder of the quarter, ending with a joint meeting of all the cabinets December 10.

Armed Intervention

George G. Allen, Jr., of Kanapolis is scheduled to address the sophomore cabinet next Monday night. He will speak on the question, "Should the United States Give Up Her Policy of Armed Intervention?" An outside speaker to lead the junior-senior cabinet meeting will be secured by the program authorities but as yet no announcement has been made as to who shall lead the program.

The sophomores on December 3 will hear Fred Henry Weaver of Aberdeen, who has spent much of the fall quarter preparing for a discussion on "International Cooperation." He will present the relations of the United States to the League of Nations, attempting to show America's present attitude toward the league.

TOUCHDOWN-MAKER IN ACTION

Dick Buck (87) who scored the lone marker in yesterday's Duke-Carolina classic, is shown here as he made a spectacular catch of a 20-yard pass from Don Jackson during the second quarter. Buck left the ground in a dive to take the pass, landing on ground with the ball safe in his arms. Corky Cornelius (39) is the Duke high jumper who failed to knock the pass down, while Ace Parker (34) is the other Blue Devil in the picture.

SCOUT OFFICIALS END CONFERENCE

Executives Make Plans For Another Seminar to be Held In February.

The fall 1934 Boy Scout executive seminar of region six came to a close yesterday, after the 11 executives had made plans for another seminar to be held February 1935 and worked out further details of the Boy Scout camporee and patrol leaders' training course to be held here in April in conjunction with the 1935 Dogwood Festival.

Over 1000 scouts are expected to take part in the Dogwood Festival. They will be divided into a mass camp and a camporee, where the scouts will take part in a camping contest.

Plyler Speaks

Dr. E. K. Plyler of the physics department, told the scout executives of "Some New Experiments in Physics" in one of the sessions yesterday morning. The program of the seminar officially ended with the Duke-Carolina game.

Attending the conference were chief executives from the different North Carolina Boy Scout councils and the regional head, Kenneth Bentz of Atlanta, Ga. The scout seminar is held here every fall, sponsored by the University and the Boy Scouts of America.

German Club Closes Fall Dance Program

A brilliant set of German Club dances came to a close here last night with an unusually large crowd attending the series. Isham Jones and his celebrated orchestra furnished the music.

The annual fall series opened with a tea dance Friday afternoon and was followed by the sophomore ball Friday night. Another tea dance was given yesterday afternoon after the Carolina-Duke football game, and the dance last night ended the series.

VINSON WINS PRIZE

The prize of $5 offered by the Durham Men's Shop for the best advertisement submitted by students of marketing in the school of commerce has been won by W. G. Vinson, it was announced yesterday.

Second prize was won by S. H. Heist, who will receive his award in merchandise.

CO-EDS TO HOLD FIRST PLAY DAY

Athletes From Duke, Woman's College, Meredith, and Peace To Participate Here.

A "Play Day," with a program consisting of various sports, will be instituted here Friday with the University co-eds acting as hostesses to women of Duke University, Women's College of the University of North Carolina, Meredith College, and Peace Institute.

The games, including volley ball, captain ball, hat-pin ball, bat ball, tennis, archery, hockey, and tug-o-war, will not be played to decide the supremacy of any one school as teams will be chosen from all the entrants. According to Mrs. J. G. Beard, director of women's athletics, the "Play Day" will be a gathering of women of North Carolina colleges primarily for the enjoyment of sport.

Chapel Hill Debut

The Play Day idea was begun in 1923 by the Women's Division of National Amateur Athletic Federation. Since that time athletic games have been instituted in nearly every women's college in the country. These meetings of schools are "for the purpose of playing with instead of against each other." This will be the first event of its kind in Chapel Hill.

Volley, captain, hat-pin, and bat ball will open the series of contests at 2:30 o'clock on Emerson field. Two teams composed of six players from each school will take part in these games.

LIBRARY OBTAINS MEDIEVAL BOOKS

Hunter Collection, Published In 15th Century, Purchased By University Friends.

The University library has acquired the entire Hunter collection of rare books and manuscripts, R. B. Downs, librarian announced yesterday.

This valuable library includes 58 books printed in the 15th century, within a few years after the invention of movable type, and over 800 manuscripts on parchment dating back to the ninth century.

There are also a number of manuscript books of the medieval period.

Collection Completed

A large part of the collection was bought by the University in 1929, but some of the rarer and more valuable pieces were retained by the collector.

The collection was made by the late Dr. A. B. Hunter of Raleigh who spent several years in Europe buying early examples of printing and writing.

The new material is to be added to the Hanes Foundation for the study of the origin and development of the book.

WILKERSON OVERRULES INSULL SURPRISE MOTIONS

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today overruled the surprise motions for a directed verdict acquittal presented by the counsel for Samuel Insull and five of his sixteen co-defendants in the $143,000,000 mail fraud trial.

The court adjourned with 12 of the defendants waiting to present similar motions Monday.

Tar Heels Get 7-0 Win As Buck Scores On Pass Hurlled By Don Jackson

Playmakers To Start 32nd Tour Tomorrow

Fifteen Members to Visit Seven North Carolina Towns, Virginia, and Maryland.

Fifteen members of the Carolina Playmakers will leave town tomorrow morning on the 32nd tour of the dramatic organization.

The itinerary as announced yesterday will include seven North Carolina towns, Frederick, Md., and Clifton Forge, Va. The ten-day trip will cover approximately 1,400 miles.

Bill of Plays

The bill of plays for the tour includes two plays by Paul Green, the Carolina Playmakers' foremost playwright, "Fixin's" and "Quare Medicine," and Wilkeson O'Connell's "The Loyal Venture."

Harry Davis, business manager of the Playmakers, arranged the tour and will direct "The Loyal Venture." Green's two plays are under the direction of Samuel Selden, associate director of the Playmakers. Selden and Alton Williams will be in charge of the Playmakers projects while

(Continued on last page)

KING HUEY LONG YELLS FOR L.S.U.

Dictators Orders Police to Shove Back Common Herd of His "Province of Mississippi."

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 17—(UP)—"King" Huey Long I, emperor of Louisiana, turned rah-rah today and led the Louisiana State University cheering section in a few yells as his team defeated Mississippi.

Surrounded by four bodyguards leading a magnificent L.S.U. band and a section of the college rooters, "His Majesty" descended upon the capitol of "his Province of Mississippi."

Stops Traffic

Within an hour Huey had paralyzed traffic at the most important intersections. After serenading the offices of Senator-elect Theodore Bilbo, he hurried to the headquarters of the University of Mississippi football team. Rebuking a newspaperman for having a whiskey odor on his breath, the Bayou State's dictator dragged Governor Mike Connor out of the state mansion in order that he might join the parade.

Long gave the common herd a taste of Louisiana methods by ordering his eight motorcycle policemen to shove the crowd back for the royal procession.

Morrison Visits Here

Dr. Roy W. Morrison, extension division instructor with headquarters in Asheville, spent the last two days in Chapel Hill conferring with extension division and department of education officials.

RECORD-BREAKING CROWD SEES GAME

Tar Heels Clinch 1934 Big Five Championship And Win Friendship Trophy.

SCORE IN LAST QUARTER

Coach Snavely's inspired Tar Heels rose to their greatest heights in Kenan stadium yesterday afternoon when they outplayed and outscored a mighty Duke machine, 7-0, in one of the finest and hardest-fought grid battles ever staged anywhere.

A record-breaking crowd of something over 30,000 packed every bit of available space within looking distance of the ball game and not a person, whether Carolina or Blue Devil rooter, left the scene of play without being satisfied that he had witnessed a super-natural demonstration.

Take Championship

In winning, the Tar Heels clinched the Big Five championship of 1934, and for the first time in its history Carolina gained possession of the coveted Friendship trophy.

The combination of Dick Buck, sensational sophomore passer-receiving end, and Don Jackson, triple-threat half-back, produced the lone touchdown, during the latter part of the third and the first part of the fourth quarters, on three feature plays.

Jackson Starts Fireworks

Jackson started the quick, surprising scoring drive when, playing in the safety position, he raced back to take Ace Parker's 60-yard punt on the Carolina 20. Jackson side-stepped his way 20 yards with the kick to the 40-yard line before being tackled.

On the next play Jackson shot a bullet pass straight down the field to Buck who was standing on the Duke 40, his back to the goal line. With excellent interference from his mates, Buck then stepped off the prettiest run of the afternoon, slipping away from just about every Duke player on the field and only being downed by Earle Wentz on the 9-yard line because he was too exhausted to continue farther.

Buck Scores

Hutchins tried to buck center but failed as the third period ended. Opening the last quarter, Jackson tried to skirt right end but was thrown on the 14 by Wentz. Then Jackson shot

(Continued on page three)

League Board Meets Tonight

The program committee of the Foreign Policy League will meet this evening in 214 Graham Memorial at 7:30 o'clock.

Dick Buck, sensational sophomore passer-receiving end, and Don Jackson, triple-threat half-back, produced the lone touchdown, during the latter part of the third and the first part of the fourth quarters, on three feature plays.

Don Jackson, triple-threat half-back, produced the lone touchdown, during the latter part of the third and the first part of the fourth quarters, on three feature plays.