

EXTENSION WORK SHOWS INCREASE IN REGISTRATION

Division Enrolls 278 More Students This Quarter Than in Fall Period Last Year.

45 CLASSES ARE ENROLLED

The total registration in 45 extension classes for the fall semester this year is 1,197, Russell M. Grumman, director of the extension division, announced yesterday.

This represents an increase of 278 over last year's fall semester. The individual registration is 676, an increase of 172.

45 Classes

All of the 45 classes except one at Chapel Hill in accounting and one each in Greensboro and Durham for social workers are given primarily for public school teachers.

The program of this "in-service teacher training" is to provide for the continuance of the professional growth of teachers, according to Grumman.

Co-operation

In the 42 classes for teachers this year a special effort is being made to co-operate with the state department of education and with the county units in the study and improvement of the public school curriculum. Extension classes fit in especially well with the study program being carried on by the department of education and by the schools.

The bulk of the extension teaching is being done by the five full-time extension instructors in 14 towns selected as centers of instruction. Nine University professors teach classes in eight centers, and one class is taught by Professor John S. Bradway of Duke University. A total of fifteen instructors teach 45 classes in 23 centers.

Curriculum

In connection with the curriculum studies, one course specifically on curriculum construction

(Continued on page two)

REVIEW FEATURES UNIVERSITY'S WIN OVER DUKE TEAM

Football Supplement Is Devoted Entirely to Recent Victory.

The tale of Carolina's 7-0 victory over Duke's Blue Devils is set forth in this week's football edition of the Alumni Review.

"Carolina Performs Brilliantly to Crush Duke" reads the headline, and a front page picture shows Buck receiving the touchdown pass from Don Jackson, who does not appear in the photograph.

In the regular column "Quarterbacking Alumni" appears the statement: "Duke supporters made no alibis." In several other places throughout the supplement the decisiveness of the hard-fought victory is emphasized.

Besides the touchdown picture a good action photo of a Jackson-around-end play illustrates the efficiency of the Carolina blocking against the Devils.

So much space is given to discussing the varsity game that the freshman win over Virginia is almost crowded out.

The football supplement to the review is issued regularly every week following Carolina football matches and is edited by J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary.

Emory Will Address Geology Fraternity

S. T. Emory of the University department of geology will address the members of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national honorary geological fraternity, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Emory will speak on "Indian Country," giving the habits, customs and environmental conditions of the Cree Indians, a tribe living in the region just south of Hudson Bay, Canada.

Students and members of the staff of the geology department are asked to attend.

U. S. AGENTS NAB COUNTERFEITERS

Operatives Seize $75,000 in Bogus Cash; Three Members Of Alleged Ring Held.

Tenafly, N. J., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Federal agents walked into the ramshackle home of an artist here today and seized $75,000 in counterfeit currency, machinery, and presses, and arrested two men and a woman. The raid by department of justice men is the first blow struck at what is described as a wide-spread ring of counterfeiters engaging in activities throughout the east and with headquarters at Newark, N. J., and New York City.

Gideo Giardi, 50, self-asserted sculptor and artist, Arthur Giazano, 22, and Mrs. Mary Pitti were held for questioning.

Robert Godby, head of the special squad that raided the house, said that the federal agents had seized front and back plates used in the manufacture of bogus five, ten, fifty, and hundred-dollar bills.

PHI SELECTS TEAM TO DEBATE SENATE

Winthrop Durfee and Albert McAnally will represent the Phi Assembly in the Mary D. Wright debate to be held the first week in December, Speaker Robert Smithwick announced last night.

Men trying out in the Phi hall last night were Albert McAnally, Francis Fairley and Winthrop Durfee.

Judges were Harry McMullen, Dr. C. B. Robson, and Professor E. J. Woodhouse.

The Phi Assembly will uphold the negative side of the question: Resolved, That the federal government take over the ownership of our basic industries.

Tryouts for the debate with the Asheville Normal School on the munitions question will be held next Tuesday night. One man will be selected to represent each side of the question. The final debate will be held here on December 6.

LIBERAL ARTS SENIORS

All liberal arts college seniors whose last names begin with the letters E through H are asked to report today at the office of the dean of the college of liberal arts to make applications for their degrees and to check their records.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PHOTOS

Sophomore pictures for the Yackety Yack will be taken on the front steps of South building tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. This will absolutely be the last time that an attempt will be made to get pictures of the class.

WARREN DEPICTS SCHOOLS' NEEDS

Secretary of State Educational Association Talks to Local Parent-Teacher Group.

Julie B. Warren of Raleigh, secretary of the North Carolina Educational Association, was the principal speaker Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Chapel Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

The local P. T. A. organization will co-operate with other state clubs in attempting to influence the incoming legislature to improve the school conditions over the state.

Grave Danger

"Unless the thinking people of North Carolina who are seriously interested in the future welfare of their children get busy right now, there is grave danger that the great investment already made in our schools will be allowed to disintegrate," Warren declared.

He estimated that already this year more than 1,000 teachers have left the profession because of poor pay. A survey is being made to determine the exact number.

"The legislature is going to give the schools and the institutions just what the people demand and no more," he said. "It is up to the people back home to get busy and see that their representatives are correctly informed about the situation. It was pressure from back home that broke the Cherry-Bowie bloc and its $10,000,000 proposal in the last legislature."

He said the school program to be placed before the legislature would include a demand for continuation of the minimum eight months; an increased appropriation, probably around $25,000,000; liberalization of laws regarding supplementary budgets, and protection of the professional qualifications of teachers.

Southern Scene Figures In Four Best-Sellers At Local Bookshop

"Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolfe, Rebecca Cushman's "Swing Your Mountain Gal," Carl Carmer's "Stars Fell on Alabama," and Adams' "America's Tragedy" on List.

Four of the five best-sellers in the Bull's Head, the bookshop next to the book-exchange in the Y.M.C.A., are books on the south or southerners, past or present. "Look Homeward, Angel," by Thomas Wolfe; Rebecca Cushman's "Swing Your Mountain Gal"; "Stars Fell on Alabama," by Carl Carmer; Alexander Woolcott's "While Rome Burns," and James Truslow Adams' "America's Tragedy" comprise the list.

Recently reprinted in a new, inexpensive edition as a Modern Library giant, "Look Homeward, Angel" deals in part with life here at the University during the World War, and is laid principally in Asheville, which accounts to some extent for its popularity here. The author, Thomas Wolfe, is a graduate of the University.

Swing 'em

Rebecca Cushman, the author of "Swing Your Mountain Gal," a book of folk-verse, has been living in and around Chapel Hill for several years, and is widely known in University intellectual circles. Now a resi-

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will not meet tonight, it was announced yesterday.

Frank Willingham, president of the organization, will appoint a special club committee to entertain the cross country teams which will be visiting Carolina this Saturday.

It was announced yesterday that there will probably be one more session of the club before Thanksgiving holidays.

SEAL DRIVE SET FOR NEXT MONTH

Christmas Tuberculosis Stamps To Go on Sale December 10; Goal Is Set at $400.

The local drive to sell Christmas tuberculosis seals will begin December 10, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. A. M. Jordan, who is in charge of the publicity for the sale.

The goal this year is $400, and 75 cents out of every dollar collected will be used in Chapel Hill for the prevention and relief of tuberculosis.

"In Chapel Hill and its environs are, right now, between 50 and 60 active cases of tuberculosis among people who can't meet their own expenses," Mrs. Jordan said.

Vaccination Ineffective

Against this dreaded disease there is no effective vaccination, and isolation and general methods of hygiene are the only protection physicians can give. "X-rays to determine its existence," states Mrs. Jordan, "sanatorium treatment for those who can be cured, permanent removal of cases from crowded homes so that infection will not spread, instruction as to the proper measures for protection when cases must stay at home—all this costs money."

"When you are asked to buy these stamps, ask yourself, 'How would you like to have tuberculosis?'"

Southern Scene Figures In Four Best-Sellers At Local Bookshop

"Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolfe, Rebecca Cushman's "Swing Your Mountain Gal," Carl Carmer's "Stars Fell on Alabama," and Adams' "America's Tragedy" on List.

Four of the five best-sellers in the Bull's Head, the bookshop next to the book-exchange in the Y.M.C.A., are books on the south or southerners, past or present. "Look Homeward, Angel," by Thomas Wolfe; Rebecca Cushman's "Swing Your Mountain Gal"; "Stars Fell on Alabama," by Carl Carmer; Alexander Woolcott's "While Rome Burns," and James Truslow Adams' "America's Tragedy" comprise the list.

Recently reprinted in a new, inexpensive edition as a Modern Library giant, "Look Homeward, Angel" deals in part with life here at the University during the World War, and is laid principally in Asheville, which accounts to some extent for its popularity here. The author, Thomas Wolfe, is a graduate of the University.

Rentals

Among the books on the rental shelf which circulate the most widely, "So Red The Rose," a new novel by Stark Young on Mississippi life during the Civil War, is the most popular. Three copies are in nearly constant circulation. Nearly as popular is the Pulitzer Prize novel for last year, Caroline Miller's "Lamb in His Bosom," another southern work. "Stars Fell on Alabama" and "While Rome Burns" are in steady demand

(Continued on page two)

Spann Talks to NSL On Hitler's Regime

Bill Levitt opened the meeting of the National Students League last night by stating that the purpose of the group was to discuss subjects of international importance.

Dr. Meno Spann led the discussion on "Various Aspects of the Hitler Regime."

In his talk, Dr. Spann stated that German fascism was much older, deeper, and wider than Hitler. "To understand the Hitler regime," he said, "one must go back into history, beneath the surface aspects of Germany's condition today."

Following Dr. Spann's lecture donations for sending a delegate to Geneva were received. The donation consisted of $5.12, bringing the amount already collected by the National Students League to $7.12 with a quota of $8.

No speaker has been definitely secured for the next meeting of this organization.

DANCES TO FETE CHIEF EXECUTIVE

President Authorizes Use of Name in Drive Against Paralysis; Affair January 30.

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 21.—(UP)—President Roosevelt announced today that he had authorized the use of his birthday, next January 30, for a second series of birthday balls to be given throughout the nation to raise funds to combat infantile paralysis.

The money raised at these affairs will be allocated to certain organizations in specific localities and to research work.

Progress in Fight

Much progress was made in the fight against this dread disease with the funds obtained at the last series of birthday balls.

Reports from all over the nation show that the president's campaign will receive vigorous support. Plans will be devised to have dances held all over the country.

Last winter the birthday balls for President Roosevelt proved to be a great success. All the money raised from the entertainments held all over the United States was donated to for work in one of the south's institutions for the treatment of infantile paralysis.

Craftsmen to Exhibit Glassware Tomorrow

The Venetian Glass Blowers of Columbia, S. C. will exhibit their craftsmanship at the Chapel Hill high school tomorrow at 10 a. m.

These glass blowers have been touring the country with their exhibit for several years and have put on demonstrations before schools, colleges, civic organizations, and the like.

A lecturer will tell of the manufacture of glass both in ancient and modern times, how the different colors are obtained, and the value of glass to the arts, sciences and industries.

Everyone is invited to attend this demonstration. Admission will be 10 cents.

Spanish Reading Tests

Spanish reading tests for candidates for the master's degree will be given at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Murphey hall.

FOREIGN LEAGUE TO TAKE ACTION ON ARMS PARLEY

Club to Discuss League of Nations' Disarmament Conference in Geneva.

TO DISCUSS LEAGUE'S AIM

The League of Nations' Disarmament Conference to be held in Geneva will be the subject for discussion by the Foreign Policy League tonight at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

A survey of the machinery and purpose of the league will be reviewed before the main topic is brought forward.

Aim to Spread Interest

The group here is endeavoring to interest similar organizations in some of the larger southern universities in a concerted discussion of the problems of foreign relations.

Letters will be sent to most of the important colleges as a means of contact. Thus the league at the University hopes to become the leader of a general movement in the south for the crystallization of student opinion regarding matters of the foreign policy of the United States.

President Agnew Bahnsen invites the general public to the meeting tonight. The time for the session will be limited to one hour.

REPORTS INDICATE RED CROSS DRIVE TO REACH QUOTA

Stevenson Announces Subscriptions Amount to $375.

That the quota of 600 members assigned the local chapter of the American Red Cross will be reached this year was indicated by reports handed in yesterday by about 60 per cent of the roll call workers in Chapel Hill and on the campus.

Subscriptions amounted to $375, W. B. Stevenson, executive secretary of the chapter, announced yesterday.

With reports available from four dormitories out of 11 and four fraternities out of 20, Stevenson announced the total received so far from the student body to be $25.30.

Canvassing is being done by six groups. About 40 woman volunteers are conducting a house to house campaign in the town, and the uptown district is being canvassed by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

On the campus the dormitories are being worked by the Freshman Friendship Council, Inter-fraternity Council representatives are campaigning in the fraternities, and office secretaries are soliciting faculty members in the office buildings.

The Carolina Theatre is giving two passes each to the three dormitory workers and the two fraternity workers collecting the largest sums of money.

LEAR AND VAN SLEEN WILL TALK TO A. I. E. E.

The University branch of the A. I. E. E. will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in 214 Phillips hall.

Professor J. E. Lear of the electrical engineering department will discuss sewage disposal at the session. Robert Van Sleen will talk on radio station W4WE.