The feminine population of Chapel Hill will have an opportunity to learn the fine points of make-up technique when the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer traveling studio comes to town for a short stay from 12 to 1:30 o'clock today.

Leonard Smith, motion picture make-up expert, and Max Factor, artist, will reveal the latest Hollywood secrets which are used by such stars as Jean Harlow, Joan Crawford, and Norma Shearer to create illusions of allurements, glamour and charm.

Personal Advice

Personal advice in individual problems for facial beautification and complexion analysis will be given to feminine visitors by Factor.

The studio is equipped with an ultra-modern projection booth, which has regulation projection and sound equipment for the showing of sound films. The studio is designed so that the public will be able to view the projection equipment which is in one end and the sound recording room in the other.

A Hearst Metrotone Newsreel camera car will accompany the studio, together with the two additional pilot cars used to convey members of the staff. The studio will be located while in Chapel Hill in front of the Carolina theatre, and is visiting the Hill under the auspices of that amusement house.

Waldrop Will Captain 1935 Harrier Outfit

tain was one of the mainstays in bringing Carolina a perfect dual season and the Southern Conference and state championships.

Ed McRae, who finished his career by winning the individual conference title, was the only Tar Heel that beat Waldrop during the season; the Greenville boy finished second to McRae in most of the dual meets.

In the conference championship run, Waldrop pulled another surprise. This time he finished third behind McRae and Morse of Duke but ahead of Duna, Washington and Lee, and Heritage, Duke; both had defeated him earlier in the season.

The Tar Heel harriers have had a very successful season this fall, coming through without a blemish on their record. Dual victories were obtained over N. C. State, V. M. I., W. and L., and Duke. They copped the S. I. C. crown with ease to make the sixth harrier title the Ransons have won in nine years.

Ed McRae, Waldrop, Haywood Curlee, Lou Conte, and Graham Gammon have been the leaders this fall, with Curlee as acting captain due to the inability of Captain Harry Williamson to participate because of an injury. Other consistent performers were Jack Bower, Fab Haywood, Mark Aderholt, Marvin Allen, and Bob Gardiner.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(UP)—The National Industrial Recovery board tonight removed all directors and officers of the International Association of Garment Manufacturers from the Cotton Garment Code authority.

The action was taken, it was said, because of "conflicting responsibilities" over the enforcement of the recent code amendment to shorten hours and increase wages.

Naval Increase?

London, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Norman H. Davis, chief of the United States delegation of the preliminary naval conference, bluntly warned Japan today that if Tokyo abrogates the London and Washington treaties she may expect a free for all naval building race.

He intimated strongly that Roosevelt was ready to proceed with a naval construction program which will outstrip Japan. Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto of the Japanese delegation tonight answered Davis' speech saying that the Washington treaty did not give Japan adequate security.

inside track for the position but he was absent from practice yesterday so Paul Kaveny, a forward last year, and Frank Ramsey, center last year on the Tar Baby club, took turns on the first five.

As it is early in the season the varsity still looks pretty ragged, demonstrating poor form in both passing and shooting. Jake Glace probably showed more of his old form than any of the other regulars; the lenthly center continually controlled the tip-off and recovered balls regularly from the back board.

With a large squad on hand, Coach Shepard is still in the experimenting stage, his first club far from being picked. As there are a number of likely looking players out, some of the boys now far down on the list will surely move up while some will probably be shifted into different positions before final satisfaction is reached.
