

Committee Begins Preparation For Student-Faculty Day Here

February 20 Is Date For University Fete

Speeches at Convocation, Departmental Exhibits, and Visits To Frats Are Features.

STAGE PROGRAM PLANNED

The special committee preparing the first annual student-faculty day scheduled for February 20 met yesterday in South building to complete plans for the event.

The program for the holiday, arranged through various committees with student members of the main group acting as chairmen, has been tentatively decided upon and work has been begun in the preparation of a full-day's schedule.

To Open with Assembly

Chronologically, the day will begin with a convocation in Memorial hall in the morning, with notable alumni and campus leaders slated to speak.

After this, the departmental exhibits, which will be displayed throughout the following week in Graham Memorial and various department locations, will be visited by students, faculty and visitors.

Then the luncheon hour, featured by faculty visits by invitation to all boarding houses on the campus, will provide the mid-way point.

A special committee headed by Jack Pool is working on this feature. Edwin Lanier and Agnew Bahnson head the two committees to prepare for the morning exercises.

Special Football Game

For the afternoon, a program in Kenan stadium or Emerson field, featuring a special football game by Coach Snavely's footballers, will be presented.

(Continued on page two)

'Y' GROUPS PLAN TALKS ON CRIME

McIntosh Resigns as Vice-President of Junior-Senior Cabinet; Two Nominated.

The sophomore and junior-senior Y. M. C. A. groups met separately last night and completed plans for a series of cabinet discussions which will be held this quarter on the subject of crime and social disorganization.

Each cabinet ratified the tentative program of weekly discussions submitted by the "Y" program committee. Students were selected at the sessions last night to lead each of the topics to come up for consideration.

McIntosh Resigns

The junior-senior group accepted the resignation of Craig S. McIntosh from the position of vice-president of the association. McIntosh was elected to the post last spring.

Tom Bost and Billy Yandell were nominated for the office of vice-president, and at the next joint session of the Y. M. C. A. on January 28 an election will be held to fill the position.

The junior-senior cabinet will hear discussions on crime led by Francis Fairley, Tom Bost, Bert Smith, Phil Hammer, J. D. Winslow, J. C. Grier, and Billy Yandell.

Leading discussions in the sophomore cabinet will be T. P. Yeatman, George MacFarland, Phil Kind, Don McKee, and C. C. Martin.

Di Senate Will Induct New Officers Tonight

Vergil Lee, President, Will Make Inaugural Address.

New officers of the Di Senate will assume duties as the organization enters its winter quarter schedule at 7 o'clock tonight in New West.

Vergil Lee, new president, will make his inaugural address. Others taking office are: Charles Rawls, president pro-tem; John Kendrick, critic; Robert Williams, secretary; and Frederick Eagles, sergeant-at-arms.

The program will be devoted to induction of officers and considering plans for the winter quarter.

MAGAZINE ISSUE PRINTS APPEALS FOR LIBERALISM

Author of "Just Plain Larnin" Again Discusses Fate of Thinking Teacher.

McKee Scores R. O. T. C.

The January issue of the Carolina Magazine will appear tomorrow, it was announced yesterday by Joe Sugarman, editor. It will feature two articles that should be of interest to all its readers.

The first, contributed by James M. Shields, a teacher in a Winston-Salem junior high school until his dismissal last summer, is entitled: "What Happens to a Teacher Who Thinks."

Shields was the author of an article published in the American Mercury this month bearing the title "Woes of a Southern Liberal." He is now employed by the FERA in Washington.

Dilemma of Progressives His article in the Carolina Magazine discusses his irregular dismissal and the general situation in which progressive teachers remaining in Winston-Salem find themselves.

The specific reason for Shield's dismissal was that the Winston-Salem school board objected to his novel, "Just Plain Larnin," in which he attacked the forces in Winston-Salem that opposed progressiveness and liberalism.

R. O. T. C. Article

The second article, by Don McKee, is entitled "R. O. T. C. at State College." This article by McKee is the result of a three-months study of military training and its background at State College.

McKee, a sophomore at the University, proves conclusively that an R. O. T. C. unit need not be compulsory at the Greater University's agricultural school. Presenting the point of view of the students and faculty at that institution, he shows that the R. O. T. C. should enjoy the status of nothing more than an extra-curricular activity.

Other articles, short stories, poems, and book reviews appear in the January issue.

Payment of Fees

Students whose names begin with K through M are scheduled to pay or make arrangements for payment of their winter quarter student fees at the cashier's window of the business office today. Students are urged to observe this schedule.

PHI WILL DEBATE ON RE-ADMISSION

Other Bills Concern Petitions of Greyhound Bus Co. and Grades at Mid-Term.

With four new officers in the saddle, the Phi Assembly opens the winter quarter at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the regular meeting.

The following bills will be discussed tonight: Resolved, That the University lower its re-admission requirements; Resolved, That the utility commission grant the Greyhound Bus Company the privilege to operate through Chapel Hill; Resolved, That grades be given at mid-term.

New Officers

Speaker Clarence Griffin will give his inaugural address. Other new officers who will serve for the first time tonight are: Wiley Parker, speaker pro-tem; Winthrop Durfee, sergeant-at-arms; Harry McMullen, reading clerk; and Frank McGlenn, chairman of the ways and means committee.

The initiation of new members will be held next week.

Engineer Editorial Staff

There will be a meeting of the editorial staff of the Carolina Engineer tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in 214 Phillips hall, Walter King, editor, announced yesterday.

Support Of Schools Does Not Need Road Funds, Waynick Says

Tar Heel Meeting

The entire editorial staff of the Daily Tar Heel will meet at 5 p. m. today in the office of the publication, Editor Lonnie Dill announced last night.

All members who expect to continue working on the publication will be present, as the list of active staff members will be revised.

COMER OUTLINES PLAN OF EVENTS

Dr. Koo Will Lecture First on Schedule Sponsored by "Y" Cabinets During Winter.

In a well attended meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council last night a list of its activities for the coming quarter was formulated.

Harry C. Comer, recently returned to the University from a leave of absence, announced the following coming events of the winter quarter that will be sponsored by the "Y" cabinets:

Program

Dr. T. C. Koo, a native Chinese, will lecture on January 28; and a symposium on religion will be held later, presenting three well known clergymen who will talk on the primary concerns in civilization which Protestants, Catholics, and Jews share in common as American citizens.

The quarter will close with the large meeting of the Human Relations Institute held once every four years.

Committees

The president, Jimmy Coan, appointed the following committees to carry out council projects:

Chris Blackwell, Drew Mar-

(Continued on page two)

GOW TESTIFIES AT LINDY TRIAL

Nurse Knows "All the Answers," Walks Away Smiling; N. J. Police Take Stand.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Betty Moat Gow came triumphantly through what has been described as the hardest ordeal of her life today as she told the curiously morbid world the story of the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

She took two hours' hard hammering from Edward J. Reilly, Hauptmann's attorney, but walked out of court erect and smiling. The little yellow feather on her hat bobbing jauntily through the peering crowd outside the courtroom, she walked away. She had answered a barrage of questions without a fault, and was dismissed about mid-afternoon.

Troopers Testify

The last three witnesses to take the stand in today's chapter of one of the most famous of world trials were three New Jersey state troopers. Frank Kelly, finger-print expert, testified that he had been unable to find prints of hands on the nursery window-sill.

Joseph Wolf testified that a note was found on the window-sill and that there were two scratched places against the outside wall where the top of a ladder had rested. Lewis Boerman corroborated Wolf's testimony.

States Three Objections To Diverting Funds From Road Taxes

"There Is No Justifiable Rivalry Between Schools and Highways for State Revenue."

Capus M. Waynick, chairman of the state highway and public works commission, speaking before the North Carolina Club last night, outlined three objections to diversion of highway revenue to general fund purposes and stated that the protection of the schools does not depend on such diversion.

Summing up the three reasons against diversion, Waynick said: "The ownership and operation of a motor vehicle should not be used as the measure of taxation beyond the limit of the demand for support of the road system."

Road System Needs Funds

First, according to the commission chairman, the road system needs all the money being derived from highway taxes.

Of secondary importance in Waynick's opinion is the pledge, "uttered from time to time by authoritative political executives of the state," that highway revenue shall not be diverted from the highway debt and the maintenance of the highways.

His third objection is the million-dollar annual loss of federal money that the state would incur under the Hayden-Cartwright Act's penalty provision, which directs a 30 per cent cut in allotments to any state allowing "raids on its automobile and gasoline levies."

In support of his statement that "There can be no justifiable rivalry between schools and roads for the state's support," Waynick said:

"Revenue from other sources

(Continued on page two)

W. F. Ferger Succeeds Heath As P. U. Board Faculty Member

Hauptmann Jury

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 7.—(UP)—The jury for the trial of Bruno R. Hauptmann:

No. 1. Charles Walton, Sr., machinist; three children; foreman.

No. 2. Mrs. Rosie Pill, widow; two children.

No. 3. Mrs. Verna Snyder, housewife; one child, adopted.

No. 4. Charles F. Snyder, farmer; two sons.

No. 5. Mrs. Ethel Stockton, housewife; one child.

No. 6. Elmer Smith, insurance agent; one child.

No. 7. Robert Cravatt, laborer at CCC camp; single.

No. 8. Philip Hockenbury, laborer; several grown children.

No. 9. George Voorhees, farmer; three children.

No. 10. Mrs. Mary F. Brelsford, housewife; two stepchildren.

No. 11. Tiscom C. Chase, carpenter.

No. 12. Howard V. Biggs, unemployed, of Clinton.

UNIVERSITY CLUB WILL RECEIVE BUS PETITIONS TODAY

Petitions of Greyhound Lines, Signed by Students, Will Go To N. C. Utilities Board.

CLUB TO PLAN ACTIVITIES

The University Club will begin its winter quarter activities when it meets this afternoon in 209 Graham Memorial at 5 o'clock.

Many matters of importance will be introduced and acted upon at the session, President Frank Willingham announced yesterday. It is imperative that all members attend.

Phil Hammer will present a group of petitions drawn up by the Atlantic Greyhound Lines for distribution to fraternity and dormitory representatives.

Signed by Students

The petitions, signed by all students on the campus interested in a more efficient bus service, will be forwarded to the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

Plans will be made for the entertainment of the numerous visiting teams which will be at Chapel Hill during the quarter, and a discussion and possible constitutional inclusion will be in order regarding the eligibility of members for club keys.

Publication Campaign

Agnew Bahnson will report on the joint publication campaign in which members can participate for a dissemination of Carolina publications among state residents and alumni.

A check on the roll will be made, at which time members whose absences warrant expulsion will be ejected and new appointments ordered.

President Willingham said yesterday that an extremely important plan to be effected in conjunction with alumni officials will be discussed.

Finjan Business Staff

There will be a meeting of the business staff of the Carolina Finjan at 7:15 tonight in the office of the publication.

Appointed to Serve Term of Two Years

Professor Harry Russell, Claude Rankin, Jimmy Morris, Jim Daniel Other Members.

BOARD MEETS TOMORROW

Following the expiration of the one-year term of Professor M. S. Heath of the economics department on the Publications Union Board December 31, Dean Robert B. House announced yesterday the appointment of Professor W. F. Ferger, also of the economics department, as his successor.

When the P. U. Board was reorganized last year, Professor Harry K. Russell of the English department was appointed to serve a two-year term and Heath to serve a one-year term. This procedure was adopted in order to have one faculty carry-over member on the board each year.

Appointment Each Year

One faculty member will be appointed the first of each year hereafter to serve for two years and one faculty member's term will expire at the end of each year.

Faculty members are not eligible for re-appointment. The appointments are made each year by the University administration.

Besides Ferger and Russell the board is now composed of Claude Rankin, president; Jimmy Morris, secretary; and Jim Daniel, treasurer. The latter three members are students elected to the board last spring in the campus elections.

The board will hold its first meeting of the winter quarter tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

DEAN WILL GIVE VOCATIONAL HELP

F. F. Bradshaw Will Start Series of Talks This Morning on Life Work.

In order to lend vocational guidance to students who can not decide upon a schedule of courses, Dean Francis F. Bradshaw will conduct each Tuesday at the regular chapel period a class devoted entirely to life work, he announced in chapel yesterday.

The first meeting will be held this morning, the dean of students said, and each succeeding Tuesday. Although the conferences are designed especially for freshmen, other students will be welcomed.

Dean R. B. House introduced the first of a new chapel series yesterday using as his theme for Monday and Friday mornings, "Self Measurement."

Talks on Re-admission

Reporting on the hearings of the cases of 82 boys, pleading their cases as to why they should be allowed to re-enter school after failing more subjects than permitted, Dean House asked the students "to give themselves a chance."

He termed "circumstances beyond control, sickness, trouble at home, and business" as types of failure—"conditions that upset the fall quarter."

Rev. Don Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church, led the devotions. Describing the Saar plebiscite as "possibly a vote of European importance," he read two poems opposing war.