

SARG'S PUPPETS PERFORM TWICE IN 'FAUST' TODAY

Afternoon and Evening Productions Will Take Place in Playmakers Theatre.

FOR BENEFIT OF P. T. A.

Presenting "Faust, the Wicked Magician," Tony Sarg and his world-famous marionettes will appear today in the Playmakers theatre for the first time since 1925.

The puppets will be presented in two performances, this afternoon at 3:30 and again at 8 o'clock. Sarg's appearance is sponsored by the Chapel Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

New Version

"Faust, the Wicked Magician," according to the previews of the puppet show, "is not Goethe, not Marlowe, but a Tony Sarg revival of the medieval fantastic story which was the first marionette play to be given other than the religious Marynettes given at Christmas time."

Sarg has collaborated with Stas Azoj for the new production, and the two have taken great pains to eliminate any of the phases of the existing versions which might be unsuitable for children.

The punch-and-judy show will be the first of its kind to be produced on the campus since Sue Hasting brought her troupe here last year. Tickets are on sale at Alfred Williams store, the Intimate Bookshop, and the Book Exchange. Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Black Magic

In producing the Faustian drama, Sarg has given full sway to his inventive genius by using as much magic and wizardry as the characters of the play allow. The uncanny transformations and magic effects accomplished in this play could not possibly be achieved by human actors with the same wonderful results.

The heavy cast goes Cecil B. DeMille in portions of the drama. Soldiers, guards, police, arrests, duels, and red smoke, wicked magic—all dramatized by tiny creatures under the deft finger tips of Sarg and his assistants.

DEBATE COUNCIL TO TALK ON ARMS

White, of Chemistry Dept., and Sugarman Speak Tonight.

When the debate council meets at 9 o'clock tonight in 209 Graham Memorial, it will hear Dr. A. McLaren White of the chemistry department discuss the munitions industry, particularly the DuPont company of Wilmington, Delaware.

Dr. White, professor of chemical engineering, has a varied background of experience in industrial chemistry. He is also known for his hobby, music, and the fact that he is the composer of a symphony.

Norman Kellar and Winthrop Durfee will give resumes of the arguments for both sides of the Pi Kappa Delta question of munitions. A discussion will follow.

As a part of the same program tonight, the council will hear Joe Sugarman, editor of the Carolina Magazine, give his criticisms of debating on the campus. Sugarman will then lead a discussion on the same question.

Institute Speaker

Dr. John Stewart Bryan, the new president of William and Mary College, of Virginia, and president and publisher of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader, who will deliver the principal address at the opening session of the North Carolina Newspaper Institute at the University tomorrow night.

'Y' MEN CONTINUE TALKS ON CRIME

Jr.-Sr. and Sophomore Cabinets Conduct Discussions Led by Bost and Yeatman.

The upper Y.M.C.A. cabinets continued their winter quarter series of discussions on crime and social organization last night.

Tom Bost, University senior from Raleigh, presented "Causes of Crime" to the junior-senior organization.

T. P. Yeatman led a discussion in the sophomore group, discussing "Who is the Criminal?"

Churchmen to Appear

It was announced last night that the series of programs on crime will be interrupted next Monday, when a program will be presented here by visiting churchmen.

George MacFarland will continue the series of sophomore "Y" sociology discussions February 4. He will be followed February 11 by Phil Kind, who will take up "Prisons."

C. C. Martin and Don McKee will also appear on the sophomore program series at later dates.

In the junior-senior cabinet, discussions will be led by Bert Smith on "Punishments for Crime"; Phil Hammer, "Social Effects and Results of Crime"; J. D. Winslow, "Juvenile Delinquency"; J. C. Grier, "Capital Punishment"; and Billy Yandell, "Modern Methods of Combating Crime."

Tar Heel Photos

Yackety Yack photographs of members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff will be taken in front of Graham Memorial beginning at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Reporters will have theirs taken at 2 o'clock, editorial writers at 2:15, city editors at 2:30, desk men at 2:45 and feature writers at 3 o'clock.

READING DEFERRED

Due to a conflict with the matinee performance of Tony Sarg's marionettes, Mrs. Urban T. Holmes will postpone her reading, set for today at the Bull's Head bookshop, until next Tuesday.

LEADING EDITORS TO LECTURE HERE BEFORE INSTITUTE

Dr. John Stewart Bryan Will Deliver Address at First Session Tomorrow Night.

NEW DEAL AIDE MAY TALK

Prominent newspapermen from other states are among speakers who have accepted invitations to address the sessions of the 11th annual North Carolina Newspaper Institute which will meet here and at Durham tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday.

The speakers are: John Stewart Bryan, president of William and Mary College and publisher of the Richmond News-Leader; Wm. D. Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., of New York; James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner and a former president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association; R. P. Harris, an editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun, and R. H. Pritchard, vice-president of the National Editorial Association.

The lectures are open to all those interested in journalism and the newspaper institute.

President's Secretary

While he is not listed for a formal address, Marvin H. McIntyre, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, has promised to attend the Institute and to speak informally. He will likely talk at the luncheon to be given by the University at the Carolina Inn Thursday. McIntyre was at one time city editor of the Asheville Citizen.

John Stewart Bryan, well-known throughout the south as publisher and educator, succeeded his father as publisher of the Times-Dispatch, Richmond, and is now president and publisher of the News-Leader of Richmond. Last year he was made president of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.

Nugent, Second Speaker

Wm. D. Nugent, who will speak Thursday morning, is vice-president of Media Records, Inc., New York, an organization which renders valuable assistance to the publications it serves. Nugent is considered an

Phi to Debate Tonight On License Question

Assembly Will Also Discuss Three Other Measures.

The representatives of the Phi Assembly will debate tonight the bill: Resolved, That the law requiring out-of-state students to buy Chapel Hill license tags is unjust.

The assembly convenes at 7:15 p. m. in New East.

Other bills to be discussed are: Resolved, That Japan should be given equal naval parity with the United States and Great Britain; Resolved, That the Phi Assembly endorses the old age pension plan of President Roosevelt; and Resolved, That the lecture system of teaching is detrimental to the students.

The assembly will meet before Murphey hall at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow for a Yackety Yack picture.

PHI PHOTO TODAY

Members of the Phi Assembly will meet in front of Murphey hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock to have their picture taken for the Yackety Yack.

FORSTER INVENTS NEW TAX SYSTEM

State Professor Addresses N. C. Club on Taxation.

Dr. G. W. Forster of State College spoke last night at the meeting of the North Carolina Club. The general topic of address was "Taxation and the Farmer."

Dr. Forster discussed the problems of income versus taxing the farmer and the problem of collecting taxes. In answering these questions Dr. Forster attempted to prove with statistics that the average farmer is able to pay his taxes.

Dr. Forster outlined a system of taxation for this state which he claimed would have decided advantages over our present system. In his new system Dr. Forster favored national rather than state sales and income taxes.

He also stressed the need of increasing taxes on public utilities and the re-establishment of the old county system of supporting the public school system.

KOO TO PRESENT CAMPUS SERVICE

Brilliant Chinese Churchman Will Speak for First University Service in Years.

Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese churchman who will address the student body in Memorial hall Sunday night, will appear here at the close of a three-engagement day.

Dr. Koo will speak in the Duke Memorial chapel at the morning service, at Raleigh in the afternoon, and here in Memorial hall at night.

His appearance will be the first time in several years that a church service has been presented at a University convocation.

Local Pastors to Aid

The pastors of all the Chapel Hill churches will co-operate in sponsoring the program.

Dr. Koo, one of the most outstanding Chinese of today, is an extensive traveler and lecturer. His most noted work has been done with students in colleges and universities.

In recent years he has toured various European and American cities, usually on missions for his country. He has been received by large audiences everywhere he has appeared.

Koo is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, China, and has held many important positions in Chinese affairs. He is a staff member of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A. in China.

"Come to See Us, Boys," Next Friday Night

Spencer Hall Co-eds Will Treat Organizations to Dance.

Some people get all the breaks. It's not for everyone that the co-eds "will be at home" next Friday. It's just for the members of the Golden Fleece, the Grail, the University Club, and the Inter-fraternity Council.

Those organizations are invited to a formal card dance from 9:30 until 1 o'clock in the reception hall of Spencer.

This will be the first time in a number of years that the co-eds of Spencer hall have endeavored as a unit to return the hospitality of the leading organizations on the campus, the DAILY TAR HEEL was told.

Auto Tag Violators To Appear Before Recorder's Court Today

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

All members are urged to be present as new members for the organization will be selected.

OLSEN DISCUSSES 'GOOD DISCUSSION'

Sincerity, Freedom, and Some Understanding, He Presents As Chief Requisites.

"With few exceptions, and those for practical necessity, our students speak only on the side of their convictions. They never use any arguments that they do not consider valid.

"We demand sincerity. We discourage posing, eagle-screaming, hollow flattery, or bombast on the platform."

Such was the quotation from his recent article on debating in the Alumni Review that Professor W. A. Olsen of the University's English department, gave at last night's meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council. He stated that these same qualifications are necessary for a good discussion.

Freedom Necessary

"Discussion is something that is possible only in a democracy," continued Olsen, pointing out that freedom of speech was necessary for a successful "bull session."

Offering further advice on his topic, "Bull Sessions," Olsen said, "you should get down to rock bottom quick and learn the philosophy of the men with whom you are talking; define your terms or the value of the discussion is lost.

"A good discussion is both a co-operation and a conflict," summarized Professor Olsen. "There must be some amount of agreement and disagreement."

"Nuisances"

The speaker concluded his talk by giving the following list of "discussion nuisances": the men with genuine conceit or inferiority complexes who "talk too long, too much, and from a high mountain"; the scrappy fellow; the muddle-headed person who can't get down to sound words; the wit; the intolerant person; the mono-maniac who will discuss only one topic; the rambler; and the chatter-box.

During the business session of the council voted to take charge of devotionals in freshman assembly and the committee in charge consists of Drew Martin, James Dees, and Bill Jordan.

Harry F. Comer, secretary of the "Y", invited the council to a social to take place in the near future.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE

All members of the Foreign League Policy League program committee are asked to meet today at 10:30 o'clock in 208 Saunders.

Joe Barnett, chairman, announced yesterday that all members should be present at this important meeting.

Feature Board

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in room 209 Graham Memorial.

Caldwell's Demands To Face Legal Test

Judge Phipps to Decide Whether "All Students Must Buy Tags" as Manager Says.

CITY ORDINANCE IS VAGUE

Nearly forty persons are expected to answer their summons to recorder's court at 10 o'clock this morning for failure to purchase the $1 city auto license tag.

Among those tendered invitations to Judge L. J. Phipps' session are students, faculty, and townspeople.

The decision rendered will determine definitely whether students will be required to have tags for their cars.

"All Must Pay"

"You can tell them that they are all going to have to buy them," City Manager Caldwell insisted yesterday. He added that only students who already have out-of-town 1935 city tags on their automobiles will not be required to display Chapel Hill licenses.

Caldwell held that the law does not have to be made public, intimating that the public might better obey the law if it remain a secret.

Ordinance Quoted

Section I of the Chapel Hill city revenue ordinance under the caption "License and Privilege Taxes" reads as follows: "To raise revenue for general municipal purposes the license and privilege taxes hereinafter enumerated are hereby levied and assessed by the Board of Aldermen and directed to be collected by the town Tax Collector, upon every person, firm, or corporation engaging in any trade, business, profession or calling mentioned in this ordinance within the limits of Chapel Hill; and it shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation engaging in any such trade, business, profession, or calling within the limits of the Town of Chapel Hill to obtain on the First day of July, 1934, or within thirty days thereafter a license therefor in the sum herein specified."

Among the specific taxes enumerated in Section 15 of this

DI WILL DISCUSS R.O.T.C. TRAINING

U. S. Entering World Court Is Subject of Another Bill.

The Dialectic Senate will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in New West to discuss compulsory R.O.T.C. training and the entrance of the United States into the World Court.

The first bill to be considered will be: Resolved, That the United States should enter the World Court.

The second measure to be placed before the senate is: Resolved, That R.O.T.C. training should be placed on an elective basis.

These two bills were drawn up by the senate ways and means committee and announced yesterday by Charles Rawls, chairman.

A third measure on the calendar, submitted by Senator Margaret Howard, reads: Resolved, That the United States government should establish a soil erosion service in connection with the CCC.
