

ACTOR WILL GIVE IMPERSONATIONS TOMORROW NIGHT

Granville to Present Characters from History and Drama, in Memorial Hall.

APPEARED HERE IN 1932

As the next feature on the impressive entertainment schedule for the school year which has included Connelly's "Green Pastures" and the world famous violinist, Efrem Zimbalist, the student entertainment committee will present the noted English actor, V. L. Granville, in Memorial hall tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

Granville will present his famous series of impersonations, "Dramatic Interludes." His performance will be a presentation in costume and make-up of the principal characters from the drama of all time.

Two Parts

His program will be divided into two parts. In the first he will represent the famous characters in dramatic literature from the time of the Greeks to Shakespeare. The last section will include characters from Moliere to present day.

Costumes and lighting effects do much to enhance Granville's work, but in every number that he has previously presented he has risen above the costumes, scenery, lighting, and all other outward habiliments of the character to create the personality of the character he depicts.

Ancient Characters

Included in the list of famous dramatic figures are Sophocles' Oedipus; Plautus' Ergasilus; Marlowe's Faustus; Shakespeare's Falstaff and Richard III.

Harpagon from "The Miser" by Moliere; Mrs. Malaprop from "The Rivals" by Sheridan; Fedya from "The Living Corpse" by Tolstoy; Francois Villon, the great French poet; Cyrano de Bergerac from Rostand's book by the same name; and Svengali from "Trilby" by George du Maurier.

Granville last appeared at Carolina December, 1932.

F.D.R. TAKES STEPS TO HALT ATTACK UPON RELIEF BILL

President Himself to Administer $4,880,000,000 Fund.

Washington, Jan. 26 — (UP)—President Roosevelt took quick steps tonight to head off the threatening senate attack on his $4,880,000,000 public works relief measure by announcing that he, and he alone, would administer the huge fund.

The President's action is believed to have been designed to meet criticism already directed at the measure in the house, and to strengthen the administration's forces in their effort to whip it through the senate without revision.

While retaining ultimate control of the vast program, Roosevelt indicated he would probably name an advisory board of high officials to aid him in allocating the funds and directing the work.

It was learned from high congressional sources that this group is expected to include Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Secretary Ickes, and Admiral C. J. Peoples, head of treasury procurement.

Mrs. Holmes to Speak At Bookshop Tuesday

Mrs. Urban T. Holmes, appearing on the regular Tuesday afternoon Bull's Head lecture series, will read "The Children's Hour" by Lillian Hellman in the bookshop at 4:30 o'clock.

Her reading will be the first program for the winter quarter to be presented at the Bull's Head. "The Children's Hour," a popular drama, is now playing on Broadway with Eugenia Rawls, a former Carolina Playmaker, in the cast.

Mrs. Holmes is the wife of Dr. Urban T. Holmes of the University French department. She appeared last year on a similar program at the Bull's Head bookshop when she read "The Lake."

CLERGYMEN TALK TWICE TOMORROW

Leaders of Three Religious Sects to Conduct Public Discussions on Mutual Problems.

The touring seminar, sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, will be held here twice tomorrow: at the assembly period, and at a special meeting in Gerrard hall at 7:15 p.m.

All members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets will attend, in joint session, the meeting in Gerrard hall tomorrow night.

Three Clergymen

The seminar, composed of three clergymen, a Roman Catholic priest, a Rabbi of the synagogue, and a Protestant minister, will conduct the two meetings. At the assembly hour, the time will be divided between the priest and the rabbi.

Attempting to develop a broader spirit of brotherhood among the three different sects, the seminar is visiting schools and cities throughout the nation. Their meetings are in the form of discussions of mutual problems.

Father T. Lawrason Riggs, chaplain of the Catholic Club at Yale, will represent his church at the seminar.

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, active in the civic affairs of Maryland and the author of several books, has been chosen by the national conference to represent the Jews.

Everett Ross Clinchy, director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, will complete the trio. He is a Presbyterian minister.

Sponsoring the nation wide church movement are the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Professor C. J. H. Hayes, and Roger W. Straus.

Russell Will Speak Before Di-Phi Session

After the meetings of the Di Senate and the Phi Assembly Tuesday at 7 and 7:15 p.m., respectively, the two societies will meet jointly in Gerrard hall to hear Phillips Russell recount the proceedings of the anti-war conference that he recently attended in Brussels, Belgium.

Both groups will discuss bills relative to the entrance of the United States into the World Court in their separate meetings before they meet in Gerrard to hear Russell.

Try-outs for the freshman debate are to be held immediately after the joint meeting. The subject for the debate is, Resolved, that divorce is a social asset.

Residence Status And Honor

The following statement was issued yesterday afternoon by Dean of Administration Robert Burton House: "Jules Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty are withheld from all University contests by request of the administration, pending further consideration of their case by the student council. The case involves a question of misrepresentation of facts in the matter of their residence status, as revealed in the work of the committee on residence status. This evidence will be presented to the student council for further consideration." President Graham concurred in the action.

The entire situation which has arisen from the facts as stated by Dean House is presented in the following factual editorial. Three boxers whose addresses are given on University records as "Charlotte, N. C.," are involved. Three committees or groups, the administrative board, the faculty committee on athletics, and the student council, as well as Dr. Graham and Deans House and Bradshaw, have conducted the case to its present standing.

The case, briefly stated, is: the three under question are not paying the out-of-state tuition differential, claiming Charlotte as their home, both on their affidavits and subsequent testimony. Reports were collected by the administration showing that the three did not warrant the in-state privilege. An investigation following the accumulation of the facts was conducted as the regular function of the administrative board.

Let it be here stated at first that the Daily Tar Heel was in full possession of the facts of the case up to Friday night, but that the suppression of them for yesterday morning's issue was definitely not administrative pressure or censorship but the policy of the newspaper for obvious reasons in light of the circumstances surrounding the situation.

Rumors were flying and are still rampant on the campus that the question raised over the in-state tuition matter was instigated by some outside pressure—in this instance current gossip named the University of Virginia or someone connected with it. But, as the Daily Tar Heel stated yesterday, these rumors were absolute falsehoods, as in the words of President Graham, the investigation was a "pure administrative function exercised in fairness to ourselves and our opponents." The fact that the investigation was conducted the day before the Virginia bouts was not a material one; what was the vital force was that discrepancies were alleged, that immediate action was the correct dispensation of the problem, and that if the evidence was false, Carolina would stand all the more firmly imbedded in its reputation of fairness and good sportsmanship.

In other words, if any discrepancies existed in the eligibility or standing of University athletes, they were to be remedied at once, regardless of whether evidence was brought to the administration's attention in July or January.

The factual statement of the case is this: members of the administrative board, Deans House and Bradshaw, and Messrs. Evans and Husbands, were called to meet Friday morning at the request of the administration to consider certain facts relating to the rights of three students for in-state tuition. These same students had been under fire before but were definitely instated as being technically within rights.

At the time of their registration in September, 1932, each submitted a signed affidavit, in accordance with the regulations of the trustees and the state law, declaring that the signer was a bona fide resident of North Carolina and had been for at least six months preceding his first registration. In addition to the affidavits, certain other supporting evidence had been presented to the same effect to the admissions board at that time.

For the past year rumors and remarks that were more pointed than rumors have been drifting down from the Old Dominion that Carolina was employing thugs, discarded professionals, and hoboes to lick Virginia. These were disregarded as utterly worthless condemnations, but definite inferences from various sources of ineligibility were pertinent. President Graham would not be satisfied until a complete investigation had been held, this being done last spring. However, despite this investigation (including testimony by Coach Rowe) which absolved certain boxers under question, including the three involved in the present situation, from any professional or illegal-residence charges, President Graham has been continually following up the problem. In pursuing this investigation and with added impetus caused by further confidential rumors, the administration disclosed some facts which he believed should have been cleared up and thus he called the board meeting. At any rate, he emphatically denies that the University of Virginia is implicated in any way, and Dr. Graham is the most honorable man that we have ever met.

To continue: the board meeting Friday morning with the evidence which was presented, found that one of the students was clearly not entitled to be considered a resident of North Carolina. No actual decision was taken at that time in the other two cases, but the committee unofficially reported that one of the remaining two was entitled to in-state tuition privileges and the other probably not.

What must be made clear at this juncture is that the investigation was purely an administrative function, the same as the board handles day in and day out. Residence status is a common problem and deserves individual attention. This is what it got in this as other cases.

Prosecution Expects Hauptmann to 'Crack'

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 26—(UP)—The state's battery of ace prosecutors who are doing their utmost to send Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair said tonight that the defendant will "crack" within a week.

Attorney-General Wilentz insisted tonight that he had a thousand questions to ask Hauptmann that he was certain the German couldn't answer.

Wilentz stated that he expected to conduct the most dramatic cross-examination ever recorded in the history of American jurisprudence Monday.

Joseph Lanigan, assistant attorney-general said, "We expect him to confess before this is over."

TROOPS DISPERSE ANTI-LONG GROUP

Militia Goes Through Battle Manoeuvres to Halt "Square Dealers" Assemblage.

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 26—(UP)—Warlike action flared here tonight as Huey Long enforced his dictatorship by invoking the mailed fist of the military in attempting to prevent citizens from assembling. Throughout the city tonight, people stirred, restlessly defiant.

A gathering of approximately 150 men and women at the Baton Rouge airport were dispersed with two volleys of tear gas bombs shortly after 6 p.m. tonight. The citizens had gathered and were exercising their constitutional right of discussion of the turn of events, when two carloads of militiamen rushed to the scene and ordered them "break it up."

Battle Manoeuvres

The uprising of about 75 "square dealers" at the airport was subdued after an hour of battle manoeuvres, during which the troops lay on their bellies with upraised rifles, and the "square dealers" peered from behind trees with cocked shotguns, waiting for an excuse to blast away.

The last of the "square dealers" came from the woods at 5:30 p.m., and surrendered their guns. One casualty was recorded among the "square dealers." He was wounded in the stomach when one of his fellow warrior's gun, or his own, accidentally discharged its load of buckshot.

Latest reports indicate that the "square dealers" count several thousand men, organized in a dozen companies. They are led by 29 year old Ernest J. Bourgeois and, according to their leader, are being drilled in the fundamentals of military science in order to secure a mobile organization.

There are 2,000 national guardsmen in Louisiana, and "King Huey" is given authority by the recently passed "dictator laws" to increase the state constabulary, a separate unit, to an unlimited extent.

Photo Retakes

City editors, desk men, staff photographer, exchange editor, and telegraph editors will meet at 2:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in front of Graham Memorial to have their picture taken for the Yackety Yack. The one made last Thursday did not turn out satisfactorily.

'Y' WILL SPONSOR FAMOUS CHINESE SPEAKER TONIGHT

Dr. T. Z. Koo to Make Talk at 8 O'clock in Special Church Service Here.

LECTURER ON U. S. TOUR

Dr. T. Z. Koo, who appears tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall under the sponsorship of the University Y. M. C. A., has spent the last few years working among students in his native China and lecturing to young men and women the world over.

Recently Koo resigned his position as associate general secretary of the China National Committee of the Y. M. C. A. to cooperate with the World's Student Christian Federation in visiting India, Australia, Europe, and America.

Able Speaker

The Chinese has acquired the reputation of being one of the ablest and most interesting Orientals who have come to this country. He appeared in various cities and has been received by enthusiastic audiences.

His appearance here tonight will follow a lecture at Duke University this morning and one at Raleigh this afternoon. The churches of Chapel Hill are cooperating with the "Y" program for bringing the noted Chinese doctor to Carolina. It will be the first time that a university organization has sponsored a church service in Memorial hall.

Graduate St. John's

Koo is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, and for nine years he was an official in the administrative department of the Chinese Railway service.

In 1925 he was a member of the Second Opium Conference called in Switzerland by the League of Nations, being one of the three chosen, through 34 organizations, to represent the Chinese people as a whole.

From Geneva, Dr. Koo went to England where he made a remarkable impression. While there he appeared in Central hall, Westminster, and addressed an overflowing audience made up of London students.

The Archbishop of Canterbury recently commented on the great Chinaman to the effect that, in some respects, he is the ablest Oriental whom he has ever met.

In this country Koo has appeared at the University of Washington, Syracuse University, Vanderbilt University, Dartmouth, and at other schools and churches. His present tour of America will be a brief one, according to an announcement made by the Student Association in New York.
