Graham Makes Talk At Trustees' Session

President States Wise, Fair Consolidation Program to Be Hammered Out.

PROGRESS IS BEING MADE

Consolidation of the three units of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Greensboro, and Raleigh is proceeding steadily and surely, President Frank P. Graham reported to the board of trustees at their semi-annual meeting in Raleigh yesterday.

By the time the trustees meet next June, President Graham predicted, in referring to the progress of consolidation, "we can likely hammer out a program that will be fair, wise, and acceptable to all three institutions and the state."

"Three consolidation problems under special consideration now are the engineering schools at Chapel Hill and Raleigh, the departments of education at all three institutions, some curricula of the school of science and business at State College, and the graduate school," he said.

Present Situation

"Undergraduate elementary education at Chapel Hill has been eliminated. The school of science and business as a school at State has two more years to run. Registration in the school ceased last year. The library school at the Woman's College has been abolished but two vitally needed courses in library materials and methods have been restored to the college at the request of the president. The studies already made and being made of engineering, education, (Continued on last page)

SALES TAX PLANS TO STAY SECRET

House to Reconsider Bill Offering Judicial Option on Life Imprisonment or Execution.

Raleigh, Jan. 30.—(UP)—Whatever substitutes for the sales tax the organized opponents may now have under cover, they will remain secret until the revenue bill reaches the floor of the Assembly, representatives of the North Carolina Merchants' Association indicated today in a hearing before the joint finance committee.

Willard M. Dowell, secretary of the association, side-stepped a chance this afternoon to reveal their anti-sales tax ace in hole.

Driven Sales Elsewhere

All of the speakers at the hearing today pointed to sales which they claim have been driven from North Carolina to other states by the tax.

The House today decided to reconsider the bill of Representative Jonas of Lincoln permitting judges to substitute life imprisonment for execution in the cases of capital crimes if the jury so recommends.

Both houses will reconvene at noon tomorrow.

HOUSE APPROVES PAY RESTORATION

Senate Confirms Nomination of Carolina's Frank R. McNinch As Federal Power Head.

Washington, Jan. 30.—(UP)—Congress handed President Roosevelt his second disappointment in 24 hours today when the House approved the restoration of the remaining five per cent pay cut to all federal employees on April 1.

The Senate approved the legislation last Monday.

Minor Importance

As compared to the defeat of the World Court resolution, the pay cut restoration was of minor disappointment since Roosevelt had allowed in his budget for a restoration on July 1; but by advancing the date three months, Congress added $22,500,000 to the federal expenses.

Congress also completed the first appropriation bill, providing $780,000,000 to run the government's independent offices next year. The bill, after passing the House, was sent to the President for his signature.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Frank R. McNinch, North Carolina Democrat, as chairman of the Federal Power Commission after a bitter party fight.

Visitor from Africa Talks Here on Gold

The economic seminar was addressed last evening by T. B. King, of South Africa who spoke on the "Importance of Gold in South African Economy."

He said that, contrary to the prevailing economic conditions in most countries today, South Africa is having a tremendous boom.

Upon leaving the gold standard, the country was able to make great premiums by the sale of gold to those countries which still remained on it.

Gold mining is the key industry in South Africa as the land produces between six and seven billions of dollars worth of gold per year.

Pugilists to Retain Campus Citizenship

Dean Hobbs States Southern Conference Ruling Involved In O'Flaherty's Case.

DR. GRAHAM MAY ACT

Both Jule Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty retain their campus citizenship, but the latter will not be able to fight in the match with State College Saturday night as matters now stand, it was learned yesterday as another development in a series of events that have involved the boxers.

O'Flaherty's ineligibility did not come through action of the Student Council, although that body has passed on his campus citizenship. The council, after a four-hour session Tuesday night, placed him on probation and absolved Medynski completely.

Graham May Act

However, there is the possibility that President Graham may over-rule the decision of the council. When asked about the matter last night President Graham reiterated his faith in student government, for which he had fought for 25 years, he said; but had no comment to make other than that for the present.

If any further action is to be taken by the administration it is expected to be made known today.

O'Flaherty Withheld

The reason O'Flaherty will not be allowed to compete, unless some change is made in his present status, involves a question of Southern Conference ruling. O'Flaherty was withheld from the Virginia match last Saturday because Dean A. W. Hobbs, chairman of the Athletic Council, refused to certify him as eligible.

"Until conflicting testimony given me and the residence status committee is cleared up," said Dean Hobbs last night, "O'Flaherty remains ineligible to fight Saturday night." The residence status committee convened Friday, and Dean Hobbs withheld his certification of O'Flaherty the following day.

Medynski Absolved

After hearing a mass of detailed evidence Tuesday night, the Student Council absolved Medynski and placed O'Flaherty on council probation when the two boxers were tried on charges of violating the honor code.

According to the official report of the council, it was decided that Medynski "was acting in full confidence that he was meeting the technical requirements of the University and was dealing with this institution in a fair and honest way."

Wrong Home

The probation penalty was placed upon O'Flaherty because he was guilty of putting his mother's residence as Charlotte, which was "wilfully misrepresentative" of the facts. It means that future offenses will be grounds of immediate suspension.

Medynski spent a total of about nine months in Charlotte, the council learned, whereas the technical residence requirement is six months continuous (Continued on page two)
