

Townsend Explains Old Age Pension Bill
House Passes $900,000,000 Treasury-Post Office Bill.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the Townsend old age pension bill now pending in Congress, explained today to the house ways and means committee his vision of how the present generation over 60 can spend the nation back to prosperity on $200 monthly if the government will provide the money.

The plan would retire all citizens over 60, giving them a government pension of two hundred dollars monthly on the condition that they spend it all. Ex-criminals would be excluded.

The house passed a $900,000,000 treasury-post office appropriation bill today and heard Louisiana representative J. Y. Sanders attack Huey Long's dictatorship. The senate was in recess.

CORRECTION

Contrary to a statement in the DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday, R. A. Eubanks is not chairman of the Chapel Hill Movie Guild. The Guild at present has no chairman, according to word received from Clyde Eubanks, member of the Guild, yesterday. The Guild receives only 15 per cent of the total receipts of the Sunday movies, after the three per cent sales tax is deducted, C. Eubanks pointed out. The other 85 per cent goes to the Carolina theatre.

Veteran Lineup

Coach Snavelly will be able to trot an entirely veteran first team on the field. The initial club which has been working together includes Captains Harry Montgomery and Hump Snyder, halfback and blocking back; Don Jackson, halfback; Jim Hutchins, fullback; Buck McCarn and Dick Buck, ends; Tom Evins and John Trimpey, tackles; Pop McIver and Punchy Joyce, guards; and Babe Daniel, center.

In addition to this eleven there are also several other veterans working out plus a fine crop of freshmen. It is expected that some of the yearlings will make it plenty tough for the letterholders to keep their first string posts.

Among the first-year men who have already been showing some fine form are Andy Bershak, end; Ed Palmer, tackle; Art Ditt, Tom Burnett, and Walborn, backs.

NOW CAROLINA THEATRE PLAYING

A section of the department where Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended.

Just what is meant by cross-blending tobaccos . . . and how does it make a cigarette milder and taste better . . .

Well, in blending you take two or more tobaccos and mix them together—a rather simple process. But cross-blending goes a step further . . .

IN making Chesterfields we take Bright tobacco from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. We take Burley tobacco from Kentucky and Tennessee, and tobacco from Southern Maryland.

Then in addition to these home-grown tobaccos we take tobacco grown in Turkey and Greece.

We balance these mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos with the right amounts and the right kinds of aromatic Turkish.

Then, instead of just mixing the tobaccos together, we blend and cross-blend them so that all the different flavors go together into one full flavor—the Chesterfield taste that so many smokers like.

Cross-blending tobaccos as it is done in Chesterfields gives the cigarette a pleasing taste and aroma—they're mild and yet They Satisfy.
