

NATION'S MARTS BOOM AS COURT REVEALS DECISION

Supreme Court Favors New Deal In Upholding Gold Policy of Administration.

STOCK SHARES JUMP $10

New York, Feb. 18.—(UP)—The stock and commodity marts boomed here today as the Supreme Court's gold clause decision removed one of the biggest obstacles in the way of business and market recovery. Prices jumped as much as $10 a share as 960,000 shares of stock changed hands in one hour following the decision.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(UP)—The New Deal forces scored a smashing triumph today when the United States Supreme Court upheld the administration's gold policy, involving $100,000,000,000 in private and government obligations.

The five-to-four decision by America's highest court found Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes in the camp of the liberals, Congress Once Wrong

The court ruled first, that Congress acted legally in outlawing gold payment clauses in more than $75,000,000,000 of private corporation bonds; secondly, that Congress exceeded its authority in outlawing gold clauses and government obligations totalling $16,500,000,000, and thirdly, that Congress acted properly under its power to control and regulate the value of money when it had obliged holders of gold certificates to surrender them for other legal tender.

The second ruling was thrown out of court because the party challenging this action failed to prove any actual damage.

The ruling came as a surprise to many political observers who had expected an outward show of hostility toward the New Deal by the court.

Debate Squad Discusses New Deal Tonight

Seawell and Kellar Will Meet Wake Forest Friday.

In preparation for a debate with Stanford University, the debate squad will discuss the New Deal at 9 tonight in 209 Graham Memorial.

The Carolina debaters will uphold the affirmative of the query: Resolved, That this house favor the New Deal, in the debate here March 12.

Don Seawell and Norman Kellar will go to Wake Forest Friday to sustain the affirmative of the query: Resolved, That the nations of the world agree to prevent the shipment of arms and ammunitions.

Francis Fairley and Winthrop Durfee will meet Wake Forest debaters here towards the end of February, taking the affirmative of the same query.

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will meet in a special session this afternoon in 209 Graham Memorial at 5 o'clock.

Frank Willingham, president, announced yesterday that the meeting is an extremely important one, and that all members of the club are urged to attend.

ENGINEERS' BALL WILL BE FRIDAY

Jack Wardlaw Will Play for Promising Frolic.

The annual engineers' ball will get under way in Bynum gym next Friday night at 9 o'clock with Jack Wardlaw and his orchestra furnishing the tantalizing, teasing, toe-tickling, terpsichorean, tuneful tempo.

Although oft referred to as the "Engineers' Brawl" by would-be punsters, the dance promises to be one of the best single dances of the season.

Wardlaw's band is playing out of Roanoke, Va., now and will stay in Chapel Hill long enough to play for the engineers' ball Friday night and the Grail dance Saturday.

Tickets are now on sale to engineering students only. After Thursday they will be open to the public at $1.50 each.

PUBLIC WILL SEE CHEMISTRY WORK

Nearly 30 Exhibits Will Be Displayed in Venable Hall.

On student-faculty day, for the first time in the history of the chemistry department, the private research laboratories in inorganic chemistry will be open to public inspection.

Exhibits on display in Venable hall are: (1) Organic substances derived from coal tar, room 201.

(2) Synthetic lemonade made without fruit, without sugar, without vitamins, without calories, room 172.

(3) Preparation of perfumes and flavorings, room 225.

(4) Preparation of mercurochrome from coal tar, room 226.

(5) Preparation of an anesthetic, room 227.

(6) Preparation of aspirin from coal tar, room 228.

(7) Vacuum distillation and products derived from the tobacco plant, room 230.

(8) Caffeine from coffee, and useful products from peanut shells, room 231.

(9) Coal tar dyes and their application to fibres, room 232-3.

(10) Preparation of camphor from turpentine, room 236.

Glass Blowers
In the auditorium of Venable hall there will be a demonstration of glass blowing, conducted by N. L. Simmons and George Koch.

There will be exhibits of inorganic chemical phenomena as follows: (1) Effect of pressure on the boiling point; (2) Accelerated oxidation of metals; (3) Conductivity of solutions; (4) Exceptionally low temperatures and the solidification of mercury; (5) Ozone; (6) Gas fountains; (7) Vapor pressures; (8) Compounds of water; (9) Diffusion of gases; (10) Demonstration of Charles and Boyle's laws; (11) Expansion of gases; (12) Demonstration of electroplating. These exhibits will be in room 171, Venable hall.

The department of chemical engineering will exhibit its equipment as follows: In room 145: (1) High temperature measurements; (2) Humidity measurements; (3) Oil and gas analysis; (4) Coal analysis; (5) Commercial filtrates using the Oliver continuous filter; (6) Gasoline analysis.

Finjan Meeting

There will be a meeting of the advertising staff of the Finjan in the office in Graham Memorial at 2 p. m. today.

Phi Assembly

Officers for the spring quarter will be elected at tonight's meeting of the Phi Assembly in New East at 7:15 o'clock.

Initiations will also be held for new men wishing to become members.

SYMPHONY PLAYS PROGRAM TONIGHT

University Orchestra Makes First Appearance of Season at 8:30 O'clock.

The University Symphony Orchestra will make its first public appearance for the current music season tonight at 8:30 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

With Earl A. Slocum conducting, the orchestra will feature in tonight's concert the "Italian Symphony No. 4" by Mendelssohn. Gluck's overture "Iphigenia in Aulis," and Smetana's "Dances from 'The Bartered Bride,'" will make up the second half of the concert program.

Personnel

Included in the personnel of the University Symphony are:

Violins: Isabelle Buckles, Arlindo Cate, James Fuller, Herbert Goldberg, Kimbal Harriman, Mrs. A. M. Jordan, Edwin Jeffress, Robert Kirschman, Arthur Lindsey, D. A. MacPherson, J. E. Mulder, Jane Ross, Wilton Mason, Mrs. G. E. Shepard, Earl Wolslagel, Jacob Williams.

Violas: Hugo Giduz, U. T. Holmes, Raymond Zaubler, D. J. Smith; Cellos: Jack Christian, Dan Field, Maurine Moore, Amy Newcomb, Mrs. E. A. Slocum, Ralph Weatherford.

Basses: John Murphy, G. H. Lawrence, A. M. White; Flutes: Davis Bennett, Eldon Bailey; Oboes: Herbert Hazelman, Leonard Nanzetta; Clarinets: Morris Fitts, Glen Haydon, Mac Smith.

Bassoons: W. F. Ferger, Walter King; Horns: Raymond Brietz, Joe White, Paul Schaller; Trumpets: William Hall, Jack Klingham. Trombones: John Daniels, Robert McManeus, Robert Simmons. Percussion: Walter Buffey, F. B. McCall.

Feature Board

There will be a meeting of the feature board this afternoon at three o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial.

McNeir Finds Freshmen Blithely Ignorant Concerning Who's Who

W. F. McNeir, instructor in the University English department, wondered exactly how much intelligence one of his freshman sections possessed. So he put them on the psychological dissecting table with a request to identify 20 persons prominent in the news of the day.

Some of the section made such logical mistakes as those of calling Josephus Daniels a cabinet member; Clarence Darrow a United States ambassador, ambassador to Mexico, president of the Century of Progress; John McCormack the inventor of the threshing machine and reaper; Upton Sinclair, prominent government official, head of gas companies.

Mistakes

Other mistakes not at all logical and which caused McNeir much amusement were these: Donald Richberg, a Frenchman, a famous German; Mussolini, a

HOUSE DECLARES VALUE OF FANCY

"Imagination," Speaker Says, "Is First Step to Thinking."

Dean R. B. House addressed the members of the freshman class at chapel program yesterday morning.

Continuing his discussion of "The Intellectual Life," Dean House stressed the necessity of acquiring a good imagination and pointed out the presence of strong imaginations in the works of the ancient Greek philosophers, Shakespeare and his contemporaries and the writers and thinkers of the present day.

Dean House pointed to art, poetry, music and invention as the four supreme examples of the necessity and use of imagination.

"Imagination is the first step towards thinking," concluded Dean House, "and since you, as students, are here at the University to learn how to think I advise and urge you to strengthen your imagination."

Student-Faculty Day To Be Commemorated By Souvenir Program

Pete Ivey Prepares Booklet for Wednesday's Celebration.

Under the personal direction of Pete Ivey, an attractive, gloss paper program is being prepared for the coming student-faculty day celebration, it was announced yesterday.

With the idea of giving the students, faculty members, and parents who attend the Wednesday affair souvenirs of the occasion, Ivey has arranged for the eight-page 8x10 inch folder to include a program for the complete day and numerous cuts.

Free Souvenir

The programs will be distributed at the 10 o'clock convocation in Memorial hall, according to yesterday's announcement.

Featured in the souvenir folder will be a picture of the University faculty at the reopening of the school after the Civil war when the famous President Battle headed the teaching staff.

Battle's grandson, Kemp D. Battle of Rocky Mount, who will be guest speaker at the morning convocation tomorrow will have his photograph included in Ivey's program along with that of President Frank Porter Graham and Carolina's Old Well.

Alumnus Kemp Battle To Open Student-Faculty Day Tomorrow

NOTICE

Members of the student body who are inviting faculty members to be their guests during the festivities tomorrow are asked to assume responsibility for setting the time and place for meeting, Jack Pool announced yesterday.

Pool urged the students to take the initiative in making arrangements for the various activities.

SPEAKER REVIEWS TEXTILE CONFLICT

Miss Harriet Herring Delivers Speech Before Freshman Friendship Council.

Following their plan of informing themselves on topics for the Human Relations Institute this spring, members of the Freshman Friendship Council heard Miss Harriet Herring of the Institute for Research in Social Science last night on "The Chief Point of Conflict in the Textile Labor Situation."

"After the war there was a lack of consumption and modernization," said Miss Herring, "and the factories did not come out of the slump. When prices were being cut and wages thus lowered, the manufacturers chose the utilization of finer machinery and the 'stretch out system' as the way out of the difficulty."

Fought System

"The workers did not strike because of long hours, low wages, or child labor, things which were later listed by the chief agitators, but because of this 'stretch out system.'"

H. F. Comer requested that all members of the Council meet in his office at 10:30 a. m. today to receive their assignments for work in connection with student-faculty day.

Dance Leaders

All junior and senior dance leaders and all commencement marshals must have their pictures taken with tuxedos and white ties at Wootten-Moulton's by Friday afternoon if they are to go in the Yackety Yack.

The deadline for any other dance leaders who have not yet had their pictures made is also Friday.

Mr. Moulton will supply the white tie.

Di Senate

The sales tax versus a greater corporation tax is one of the issues for debate in the Di Senate tonight, at 7:15 o'clock in New West.

The bill as formally stated is: Resolved, That the N. C. sales tax be retained with possible modifications rather than it be replaced by a greater tax on corporations.

Other bills on the slate for tonight are: Resolved, That dirigibles are unsafe and impractical and that the United States should build no more of them.

Resolved, That all grammar school and high school teachers be required to swear allegiance to the United States.

Morning Convocation To Launch Program

Program of Stunts and Skits Will Be Presented at Night To Close Affair.

FOOTBALL IN AFTERNOON

Tomorrow will be the big day. Tomorrow, faculty and students can forget math and French and English and talk together about the weather and Mae West and the next war; about the Carolina-Duke game, University appropriations, and the cemetery that used to be where Swain hall now is.

Tomorrow the whole University family will become a curious group of sightseers, touring the campus and inspecting the exhibits which the departments and schools of the University have spent the last two weeks preparing.

Tomorrow students and faculty will receive a large and pleasant dose of University traditions, history, and purpose.

Convocation at 10 a. m.

The program will open with a general University convocation at 10 a. m. in Memorial hall, where President Frank Graham, representing the faculty; Virgil Weathers, representing the student body, and Kemp D. Battle, representing the alumni, will present the schedule of events for the day and suggest the spirit which should prevail.

At luncheon every faculty member will be the guest of a student or group of students. Fraternities will keep open house all day for faculty and non-fraternity men.

Football Game

An action glimpse of the 1935 edition of the Tar Heel football team will be presented during the afternoon when two winter grid teams picked by Coach Carl Snavely clash in Kenan stadium, beginning at 2:30.

Professors will attempt to teach some tennis to their students in matches which will also take place during the afternoon.

The program of stunts and skits arranged to begin at 8 p. m. in Memorial hall bid fair to be the stepping stone to fame for some of the performers. To open the show, Freddy Johnson's Carolina Tar Heels will play several numbers and specialties, with Peggy Wood and Gene Whitaker as vocalists.

Song and Dance

Phoebe Barr and her b'r cubs, Harry Coble, Walter Terry, Fred Howard, Bob Lewis, Bill Crayton, and Charles Eaton, will then present their famous Mexican hat dance, in which they will do everything but aesthetic dancing.

Next on the program will come Cun'l Bob House, m'thorganist, who will make his harmonica play real music.

What "Proff" Koch considers the highlight of the program will be the presentation by Frederick H. Koch's Carolina Playmakers of the second Chapel Hill premiere of Peter Blue's (Wilbur Dorsett's) new play, "Blow My Body Down," with accidental music by Nomore Stringbeans. The cast:

Edie, who was a lady, Sammie Ruth Bell.

Happily, the old janitor and fortune teller, Carl Thompson.

Semicolon, the young janitor, Bob Nachtmann.

Oscar, the undertaker, Wilbur

(Continued on page two)