Carolina's White Phantoms took their last practice session of the 1935 season yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can and are now all set for the Southern Conference basketball tournament which gets underway at Raleigh this afternoon.

The Tar Heels will start their bid for the championship tonight at 8 o'clock, meeting South Carolina's big five. Eight teams are entered which means that seven tilts will be played before the title is decided. All the battles will take place in Memorial auditorium.

Eight Clubs Battle

Besides the two Carolinas, Duke, State, Clemson, V. P. I., V. M. I., and Virginia are out for the crown. State and V. M. I. will open the fireworks this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The White Phantoms appeared in top shape as they went through a fast peppy drill yesterday. Coach Bo Shepard will depend mainly on his first club to hold up all the way; the reserves can hardly stay on even terms with any likely opponent, and the initial five hardly ever runs up a big enough margin to retire safely.

In the Gamecocks, the Tar Heels take on a club that they have already beaten twice during the regular season, once by

W. & L. FAVORED TO RETAIN TITLE AT MAT TOURNEY

Three Champs Back; Umstead, Ward, and Efland Meet Strong Opposition.

BONNER TO FIGHT AT 145

Coach Chuck Quinlan and four Carolina wrestlers will leave this morning from Emerson stadium at 10:30 o'clock by automobile for Lexington, Va., where the Tar Heels will compete in the Southern Conference tournament beginning tomorrow. Frank Umstead, 118, Melvin Ward, 135, Allen Bonner, 145, and Captain Sim Efland, 165, will be the representatives of the Blue and White.

The four men took their final doses of hard work yesterday and were pronounced to be in good physical shape. The group will taper off in a light session this afternoon at Lexington before the events get underway.

Generals Defend

Washington and Lee, defending champions, are sponsoring the 1935 mat tournament. Other entries are Duke, V. M. I., V. P. I., and N. C. State. The Generals, who nosed out V. M. I. by a mere three points for the Southern Conference title, boasts another strong team this season. The General aggregation is undefeated in six contests this season and among their victims have been Carolina, Duke, and State.

There will be three past conference champions in action tomorrow. Bonino, W. & L. heavyweight, easily copped honors last year in this division and is the overwhelming favorite to repeat again this week-end. Bonino, who weighs 230 pounds, has won all matches except one via the fall route in dual mat competition.

Captain Currence, sterling V. M. I. 165-pounder, was title

Mangum Captures Campus Cage Title; Raleigh High Five Wins State Crown

DORM KINGS TOP DEKE FIVE, 32-29, IN BRILLIANT WIN

Vick and Henson Lead Mangumites to Spectacular Victory; Moore High Scorer.

DEKE RALLY FALLS SHORT

A great first period offense and the ability to keep pace with an almost successful D. K. E. rally enabled the great Mangum No. 1 basketball team to capture the 1935 campus title by a 32-29 count, yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can.

The eventual winners broke into the scoring column first, were almost immediately tied up, then went out in front by a 12-2 margin for the first quarter and were never overtaken throughout the entire contest.

Mangum played every bit the role of a champion, starting off with a beautiful passing attack that accounted for its early lead, and then successfully combatted every desperate thrust that the opposition made for the remainder of the contest.

With Vick, Barnwell, and Henson finding the basket with uncanny accuracy, the Mangum quintet pushed its score up to 19 for the half, but the Dekes had started to come up, and with Montgomery pushing in a single field goal and Bill Moore adding three and a foul, its total was brought to 11.

D. K. E. continued to force the issue in the third period, tallying 8-6 for the period and bringing its score to within six points of the blue-clad Mangumites. The fourth period saw an abundance of rough play. Moore, Willis, and Montgomery gave 10 more points to the Deke total, but scores by Vick, Freeman, and Barnwell staved off the rally until the final whistle.

CAPITAL QUINTET TOPS HIGH POINT IN FINALS, 25-16

Raleigh Captures Class "A" Championship to Climax Great Cage Season.

WOOD IS HIGH SCORER

Before a crowd of several hundred madly cheering enthusiasts, the Raleigh High quintet swept to victory over the High Pointers by a score of 25-16, to win the state class "A" scholastic championship for 1935. Raleigh gained the lead after the first quarter and from then on steadily increased the pace.

The game started off with both teams appearing very much frightened and playing rather poor ball. For over five minutes neither team was able to tally any points until finally Diffendale of High Point made the initial score of the game when his long shot zipped through the net. A foul shot made good by Page of Raleigh was the only other marker made during the first quarter.

Raleigh Takes Lead

Mangum and Wood of the victors, with two well timed shots, tied the score in the second quarter, and their teammates soon placed the capital boys in the lead which they kept throughout the game. From this point on both teams seemed to have forgotten about their original stage fright and played hard, bang-up ball.

High scoring honors went to Wood of Raleigh with nine points, while Diffendale of the losers was runner up with eight. Meiskey starred for the losers by his hard fighting while the good offensive work of Page of the Raleigh five placed him in the spotlight.
