

SCIENTIFIC ORDER TO SPONSOR TALK BY DR. ANDREWS

Noted Johns Hopkins University Chemist Will Speak in Gerrard Hall Tomorrow.

WILL CONDUCT SEMINAR

Dr. Donald H. Andrews, professor of chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, arrived yesterday in Chapel Hill to address the North Carolina chapter of Sigma Xi tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Phillips hall. After his arrival Andrews inspected the University campus and the laboratories and facilities of the Carolina science departments.

Dr. Andrews lunched with the professors of the chemistry and physics departments and in the evening Dr. Willard entertained the Johns Hopkins professor at his home with a smoker, attended by many faculty members.

To Give Seminar

Tomorrow morning, demonstrating models for the structure of molecules, Dr. Andrews will conduct a seminar for graduate students on the structure of organic compounds at low temperatures.

Tomorrow evening he will deliver his public lecture under the auspices of Sigma Xi on "Molecular Models." He will discuss the most recent work contributing to the knowledge of the structure of organic molecules and will demonstrate by the models the advances in the field of organic chemistry.

Dr. Andrews received the B.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Yale University. He has done notable research at California University, at the University of Leyden, Holland, and at the Franklin Research Institute.

In the industrial world, Dr. Andrews has done consulting work for the General Motors Corporation, for the Fixed Nitrogen Laboratory at Washington, and for the Bureau of Soils of the United States Department of Agriculture. He is especially interested in the application of thermodynamics to organic chemistry.

After tomorrow night's lecture Dr. Andrews will lecture at Duke University as the guest of Dr. Paul Gross.

HADDAWAY PLACED ON HONOR COUNCIL

Assumes Position Through Withdrawal of O'Herron.

Warren Haddaway has automatically become, through the withdrawal of candidate Ed O'Herron, the third representative from the school of commerce who will serve on the Freshman Honor Council. A vote to determine their third councilman will, therefore, not be taken among the commerce freshmen, according to Clyde "Pete" Mullis, president of the freshman class.

The eleven men who now compose the Freshman Honor Council are as follows: Bill Hudson, Jimmy Coan, Joe Patterson, and W. M. Davis, from the school of liberal arts.

Bill Holland, David "Red" Meroney, and Warren Haddaway, representing the commerce school; Randall Berg and John Sloop, the engineers.

The applied science freshmen are represented by Henry Dillon, and Jimmy Creech was chosen by the pharmacy students as their council member.

Crittenden Exposes "Boners"

University History Professor Releases Small Number of Total Collection Gleaned from Years of Experience in Grading Undergraduates' Quizzes, Exams, and Reports.

As the days for examinations draw nigh, this department feels that it is more than appropriate to present, both for amusement and as a warning, excerpts from a collection of boners compiled by Dr. C. C. Crittenden.

Dr. Crittenden has been teaching American history for several years here at the University and before that he taught at Yale University where he received his doctor's degree. With the numerous quizzes, class recitations, book reports and all the other obligations of the history department, he has had a splendid opportunity to make such a collection and apparently the students too have made good their opportunities.

In the papers on European history such things as these were found: England was the mystery of the sea. Marco Polo was the pope who drew the line of papal damnation. King James I worked very hard on the Bible and finally turned out the edition which bears his name. The pope was forbidden to propagate. Philip II sent an alma mater against England. The medieval philosophers took certain things for granite. The pope's office was hereditary.

Concerning America

Concerning American history some of the more confused students made such futile stabs as: Penn and his ancestors made big profits from Pa. When the soil lost its virginity the settlers did not know how to fertilize it. Sitting Bull started out to fight the whites; the first thing he did was to stand up. The only wild animal domesticated by the Indians was the squaw.

John Marshall was an ancestor of George Washington. The 14th amendment made citizens of those born or naturalized in the U. S. Drake prayed on many Spanish ships. The Republicans were opposed by the Democrats and No-Nothings. The Negroes were better off as slaves in America than in Africa running around eating themselves. In the election of 1844 Polk was a black horse.

The leaders of the humanist movement were called humorists.

NEGRO PROFESSOR WILL SPEAK TO 'Y'

Joint Session of Cabinets Will Be Last Meeting of Winter Quarter.

In joint session, all Y. M. C. A. members will hear Professor J. T. Taylor of the North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham discuss "The Achievements of the Negro Race" tomorrow night in Graham Memorial at 8:30 o'clock.

The meeting, the last for the winter quarter, will be in the form of a smoker, according to Y. M. C. A. President J. D. Winslow. After the discussion of the race problem by Professor Taylor, the group will have use of the game room of the Union, Winslow indicated yesterday.

Also Speaks to Frosh

Taylor's lecture falls in line with preparation for the coming Human Relations Institute, set for March 31-April 7. The speaker will appear first tomorrow night before the Freshman Friendship Council, meeting in the "Y" lobby room at 7:15 o'clock.

Tomorrow night's joint session of the cabinets will end the winter quarter's discussion which has centered around the theme of "Social Disorganization." Much time has been devoted to crime problems of the day. Plans for the series of programs that have been carried out were drawn up by President Winslow, Don McKee, and Billy Yandell with the assistance of Dr. Harold D. Meyer of the sociology department who gave the group valuable suggestions during the past summer.

C. C. Exams Scheduled

The regular quarterly examination for the removal of composition conditions will be given Friday at 2:30 p. m. in 201 Murphey hall.

House to Address Frosh

Dean R. B. House will speak in freshman assembly tomorrow morning.

NEW BUS ROUTE TO HAVE HEARING

Public Utilities Head to Review Petitions Seeking Bus Line Through Chapel Hill.

The hearing on the Atlantic Greyhound Lines' proposed new schedule to connect Greensboro and Raleigh by way of Chapel Hill will be held before North Carolina Public Utilities Commissioner Winburne in his office in Raleigh Tuesday at 11 a. m.

At this time the petitions signed last month by about 1,200 students and townspeople will be presented. A delegation of students and Chapel Hill citizens headed by Mayor John Foushee will attend the meeting.

The University Club, which had charge of distributing the petition, has secured a Greyhound bus to carry interested students to Raleigh. The bus will leave Chapel Hill at 9:30 a. m. the day of the hearing.

Those interested in attending the hearing should make arrangements through A. H. Shepard at the University business office in South building, DeWitt Carroll at the Sigma Delta house, or Frank Willingham at the S. A. E. house.

POTEAT TO GIVE LECTURE

Dr. William McNeil Poteat of Raleigh will speak at the fourth of a series of five community winter forums tonight at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian church.

Following the general subject of the series which is "Christianity and Contemporary World Movements," Dr. Poteat will address the group on "Gandhi and the Policy of Non-Violence."

Oliver Wendell Holmes Failing

Washington, March 2.—(UP)—Oliver Wendell Holmes' physicians after consultation tonight reported that the 93-year-old former justice of the supreme court was losing slightly in his battle against pneumonia.

MONEY DWINDLES IN FERA PROGRAM

Administration Curtails Relief Expenditures as Works Relief Bill Stays Deadlocked.

Washington, March 2.—(UP)—The administration sharply curtailed grants to 21,000,000 needy persons today as relief funds dwindled, and the new $4,880,000,000 works relief bill program remained in a Senate deadlock.

Republicans have accused the administration of crying "wolf" before, but this time officials insisted that they were within less than $87,000,000 of the absolute bottom of the federal relief chest.

Issue to Rest

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States meanwhile demanded that the embattled relief funds be cut to $2,000,000,000 or less, and that responsibility for construction and other work relief projects be left entirely to the individual states.

Both sides of the Senate battle seemed content to let the issue simmer over the week-end.

Washington, March 2.—(UP)—The government spent nearly twice as much as it took in during the first eight months of the fiscal year, the treasury department showed today.

In the eight months ending February 28, the federal government spent $4,511,935,368 and received $2,262,012,133, leaving the treasury $2,249,923,235 in the red.

Greece Faces Revolt

Estimate Four or Five Dead; Approximately 50 Wounded.

Athens, Greece, March 2.—(UP)—Government airplanes rained bombs on rebel warships of the Greek navy today in order to crush a revolution on land and sea aimed at restoring former Premier Elutherios Venizelos to power.

It was the first practical test of the much disputed problem of the superiority of airplanes over warships, and the planes appeared to be winning.

Unofficial reports, indicating casualties, set the figure at four or five dead and approximately 50 wounded.

Nini Theilade's Success In Dancing

Predicted Five Years Ago In Paris

By Pavlova, Great Russian Artist

Five years ago the great Pavlova, not long before her tragic death, saw a 14-year-old girl dancing on the stage of a Paris theatre. She watched intently, obviously moved, and when the dance was finished and the audience clamorously applauding, she turned to her companions and said:

"I am the present. This child is the future." In the intervening years the child, Nini Theilade, has become Max Reinhardt's premiere danseuse, and has given performances in every principal city throughout Europe. She has won a storm of adulation wherever she has gone—many predicting that her name will become one of the greatest in the dance world has ever known.

Nini Theilade, who is barely 19, is Danish by birth. At the age when most children are going to kindergarten, she began taking dancing lessons from Russians in Paris. For five

Federal Commerce Bureau Head Will Make Address Here Friday

"You're the Top"

Maybe it's the spirit of the marble-playing Graduate Club that still lingers on. Maybe it's the spirit of spring. Maybe it's the spirit of the not-yet-forgotten childhood. Or maybe it's just plain spirits.

At any rate the walk between town and Alumni building rang with the cries of two or three small groups of delighted undergraduates, with arms swinging, faces flushed, and a guilty downcast look for every passerby.

Clutched tightly in their fists were strings; and spinning merrily on the path before them were two-cent tops. Wow! Split it for the team!

SLOCUM CHANGES UNIVERSITY BAND REHEARSAL DATE

Group Will Meet Only Once Each Week for Practice.

Altering the schedule for band rehearsals, the University Band will conduct one weekly practice period on Monday nights at 7 o'clock, beginning tomorrow night, according to an announcement from Earl A. Slocum, conductor of the band.

Heretofore the band has been rehearsing on Monday afternoons and Thursday nights, but Slocum indicated that the full practice on Monday evenings would allow more members to be present and would not "break up" the students' afternoon.

Planning for a period of public activity in the spring, Slocum urges that all former members of the band report for the Monday night rehearsal.

Individual section practice periods will be arranged later and announced at the Monday evening rehearsal, according to Slocum.

The University Band, which has not made a public appearance since the Carolina-Virginia football game at Charlottesville Thanksgiving, will give several recitals next spring and plans are made for the group to participate in a special program of band activity during the coming quarter.

Murchison to Speak On Restricted Trade

Professor, on Leave from Commerce Department of University, Appointed Last Year.

TO TALK IN GERRARD HALL

Director of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce Claudius T. Murchison, on leave from the University department of economics and commerce, will appear in Gerrard hall Friday evening to discuss "Restrictions on World Commerce."

Dr. Murchison, who was appointed by President Roosevelt to his present office last May, has had a leading part in carrying on the nation's negotiations under the present flexible tariff law.

To Tell U. S. Procedure

In his Friday night's lecture, he will point out the means by which the United States is attempting to combat these restrictions on world commerce, giving an intimate and detailed account of procedure followed under the present trade agreements program.

Dr. Murchison's appointment to the directorship in the department of commerce followed a nation-wide search to find a man qualified to fill the position left vacant by Dr. William Thorp.

A member of the commerce department at the University since 1921, Murchison was director of research in the school of commerce when he received his appointment to the government position.

In 1933 Murchison refused

Chinese Minister Will Speak Here

Talkative Authority Scheduled to Appear at Relations Institute.

Chinese Minister to the United States Sae-Ke Alfred Sze will be one of the most outstanding visiting speakers to appear here next month as a part of the Human Relations Institute.

Small, black-rimmed spectacles set off the slick moustached face of his excellency, as he leans back in his swivel chair in the main office of the Chinese Legation in Washington, ready to talk at all times.

Testifying to his reputation of "outspokenness," the little black-haired man, one of China's outstanding statesmen, appears anxious to reply to any claims that we might be holding in regard to the China-Japan situation.

Japan to Blame

"The American people know that China has never disturbed the international peace of the Far East, whereas Japan has herself done so upon repeated occasions," declares the China-talker-backer. "For more than two and a half years now she has been waging an undeclared war against China . . ." points out Minister Sze.

Indicating that he and his China have always counted on America as a friendly counsel, the representative from China moves on to discuss other matters.

His excellency takes pleasure in discussing the "reconstruction" movement in his native land. Referring to the subject,
