

OUTSTANDING MEN AGREE TO SPEAK HERE NEXT WEEK

J. M. Landis, S. P. Duggan, Hamilton Fish, Chester Wright, E. D. Martin Accept Invitations.

THOMAS ALSO SCHEDULED

Five outstanding leaders notified the Human Relations Institute committee during the holidays that they would accept the institute's invitation to appear here on the program next week, according to Chairman Charles Poe.

James M. Landis, United States securities and exchange commissioner, will address the institute on the "Significance of Federal Regulation of Securities," Monday at 10:15 a. m.

Foreign Affairs

Speaking on the subject of "The Present Situation in Europe," Dr. Stephen P. Duggan of the Institute of International Education will appear Tuesday at 10:15 a. m.

Once All-American football tackle, Hamilton Fish, Jr., congressman from New York, will speak Wednesday on "Government and Industrial Relations." "Platform Principles of Textile Labor" will be the topic discussed by Chester Wright, public relations counsel, United Textile Workers, Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

The Grail speaker for the occasion, Dr. Everett Dean Martin, director of the Peoples Institute, will lecture Thursday, April 4, on "Violence and Social Progress" and again Thursday afternoon on "A Liberal Education." The afternoon meeting will be a public forum.

Several days before the holidays, Norman Thomas, Socialist leader and oft-time candidate for president of the United States, announced his acceptance of the institute's invitation. Thomas will address a public forum in Gerrard hall on the subject of "Industrial Relations" Saturday, April 6, the last day of the institute.

GIBSON REVIEWS GRAHAM'S WORK

Southwest Review Has 13 Page Article on His Achievements.

That President Frank P. Graham's work as administrator of the University of North Carolina for the last five years "has stirred many educators and writers to praise" is the conclusion reached by John M. Gibson in a 13-page article on Dr. Graham's achievements in the current issue of the "Southwest Review," an outstanding quarterly published jointly by the Southern Methodist University and Louisiana State University.

The article directs attention to the national recognition given Dr. Graham by the Roosevelt administration last year when General Hugh S. Johnson asked that the University president be given an indefinite leave of absence to enable him to direct the economic education program of the National Recovery Administration. Dr. Graham at the time was already a member of the NRA advisory council and vice-chairman of the consumers advisory board. It is related that when the trustees opposed his acceptance on the ground that he was needed too much at home, Dr. Graham declined the Washington invitation.

The current issue of the "Southwest Review" also carries an article by University Professor Rupert P. Vance, of the institute for research in social science and Mayflower cup winner, on "Planning the Southern Economy."

INSTITUTE SEMINARS

Professors desiring to make early arrangements for the seminar speakers in their classrooms during the week of the Human Relations Institute will notify the seminar committee at the Y. M. C. A.

The institute seminar committee is planning for the presentation of the numerous outstanding leaders in the various fields in the classroom during the week of March 31-April 6.

British Editor Advises American College Men To Travel in Europe For Year After Graduation

London, March 26.—(UP)—If young Americans on leaving college take the advice of R. D. Blumenfeld, journalist and editor, they will devote a year to European travel instead of, say, climbing towards executive positions via factory-wheel and office experience.

R. D. B., as he is known even beyond the British newspaper world, interviewed by the United Press, began speaking of the journalistic career but made it clear that his counsel would equally apply to those on the threshold of any business or profession. His message to youth bore the twofold authority of rich experience garnered by the youngest septuagenarian in London.

Better Chance for Americans
"The young American has a better chance than the Briton," Blumenfeld affirmed, "for he is untrammelled by tradition, can say and do things the Englishman can not. America forgives youth for idiosyncracies and blunders, less readily condoned in Britain.

"If I were a boy in the United States, I'd equip myself for world journalism, not merely for American journalism. I'd

GERMAN-ENGLISH PARLEY FINISHED

Chances for Germany's Return to League Believed to Be Bettered by Conversations.

Berlin, Germany, March 26.—(UP)—Chances of Germany's return to the League of Nations were believed enhanced as a result of the two-day conversations between Hitler and Britain's Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden.

The conversations came to an end at 6:30 p. m. No attempt was made to reach any agreement, but both sides were convinced of the high value of cooperation for peace.

Eden to Moscow

Captain Eden left tonight for Moscow to start a series of peace moves with Russia, Poland, and Czechoslovakia.

This event marks the first trip of a British minister to the Kremlin since the Bolshevik upheaval during the regime of Alexander Kerensky in 1917.

Observers have begun to speculate as to the nature of Eden's reception at the Russian capital. France turned eager eyes toward the east in the fond apprehension of a four-power entente composed of England, France, Russia, and Italy.

Meanwhile Italian "emergency mobilization" continued smoothly.

AMERICAN ALUMNI COUNCIL TO MEET

Saunders and Grisette Will Attend Conference to Be Held in Washington April 3-6.

J. Maryon Saunders and Felix A. Grisette will represent the University in the 21st national convention of the American Alumni Council to be held in Washington April 3-6.

Educational leaders, college presidents, deans, bursars, registrars, and other executive and administrative officers from every part of the nation will meet with the alumni workers to discuss problems of common interest concerning the future of higher education in America.

Greatest Gathering

What may be the greatest alumni gathering ever held is being planned for the evening of April 3rd, the day the convention opens, with high government officials, cabinet officers, senators and congressmen as speakers or guests of honor.

Other alumni workers from institutions in the south who are listed on the program are: J. Malcolm Luck and William H. Wranek from the University of Virginia; F. Hill Turner from Vanderbilt University; Charles E. Taylor from William and Mary; Miss Clara Byrd from the North Carolina College for Women; Joseph Murphy from Catholic University; Mrs. Vivienne Breckenbridge of Sweet Briar College, and Mrs. Florence E. Sumwalt of Goucher College.

FOREIGN POLICY LEAGUE

Agnew Bahnson, president of the Foreign Policy League, requests the following men to convene in Graham Memorial at 8 p. m. today to discuss plans for entertaining Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, who accepted the league's invitation to speak at the Human Relations Institute: Joe Barnett, John Schulz, Phil Hammer, Albert Ellis, Lewis Morris, Don Becker, and Niles Bond.

14 SMOKERS HELD DURING HOLIDAYS

High School Seniors Meet with University Committees.

Smokers for high school seniors in 14 North Carolina cities were held during the holidays by the respective alumni associations in collaboration with the committees appointed by Frank Willingham, University Club president.

Most of the affairs took place on March 21, 22, and 23. Cities whose alumni participated in the events were: Lexington, Winston-Salem, New Bern, High Point, Greensboro, Rocky Mount, Asheville, Wilson, Goldsboro, Monroe, Mount Airy, Kinston, Fayetteville, and Charlotte.

Two recent smokers at Salisbury made an affair there during the holidays unnecessary. Plans for the proposed get-together at Oxford indicate that a meet there is forthcoming.

SCENIC DIRECTOR TO BEGIN DRAMA FESTIVAL TONIGHT

Thirty-two Original Plays Will Feature Contest; Southern Art Projects Sponsors Simonson.

DISPLAY IN STUDENT UNION

Thirty-two original dramas will be presented at the Playmakers Theatre this week as a part of the twelfth annual festival and state tournament of the Carolina Dramatic Association, it was announced yesterday.

High schools, colleges, and dramatic groups from all parts of the state will be represented in the festival which begins tonight with Theatre Guild Scenic Director Lee Simonson's illustrated lecture on "Stage Settings from the 17th Century to the Present."

Will Display Photographs

Simonson, appearing under the auspices of the Southern Art Projects, brings with him an exhibit of 150 photographs of stage settings from the International Exhibition at the Gallery of Modern Art in New York. The exhibit will be on display all week at Graham Memorial.

Tomorrow's speakers include Playmakers Director Frederick H. Koch, Playmakers Technical Director Samuel Selden, and Puppet Authority Samuel Freidman of the Theatre Union, New York City.

The program for Friday will be largely concerned with the joint meeting of the Carolina Dramatic Association and the dramatic arts section of the North Carolina Educational Association. W. K. Morgan, president of the dramatic association, will preside.

Saturday, the final day of the festival, will be taken up with various concluding contests, speeches by Herbert Kline, editor of the New Theatre, Playmakers' Son Paul Green, Summer School Head Edgar W. Knight, an informal tea with Miss Sara Seawell hostess, and the announcement of the winners in all contests by Professor Koch. Dean of Administration Robert B. House will present the awards.

Feature Board

There will be a meeting of the Feature Board this afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 209 of Graham Memorial.

Abernethy Succeeds Weathers As President Of Student Body

ADDRESSES CHANGED?

All students and other subscribers to the DAILY TAR HEEL who have changed their address from that of last quarter please drop by 204 Graham Memorial or call 4356 between 1 and 2 o'clock or 4 and 5:30 o'clock.

BUS LINE HEARING TO BE TOMORROW

Greyhound Lines to Present Case at 11 O'clock; Students to Get Free Transportation.

The much-postponed hearing of the Atlantic Greyhound Lines before the State Utilities Commission will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Raleigh.

A bus, providing free transportation for all students interested in attending the hearing, will leave Graham Memorial at 9 o'clock. Dewitt Carroll, student representative, is arranging for the trip.

All students who would like to appear at the hearing in favor of the Greyhound proposal must get in touch with Carroll at the Sigma Delta house today.

Many Petitions Signed

The hearing is to ascertain whether the Greyhound Lines will be allowed to run a scheduled bus system through Chapel Hill, with Greensboro and Raleigh as the terminals. Numerous petitions from towns along the way and from the University have been signed and presented to the commission asking for the new service.

For Chapel Hillians and University students, the proposed service would be a distinct improvement over the present system operated by the Carolina Coach Company. Not only will the Greyhound rates be cheaper, but the service will be direct and much faster.

The hearing has been postponed four times, due to several factors. There has been no opposition to the proposed route except from the incumbent bus lines.

Permission must be secured from respective deans to be excused from classes.

Ohio Freshmen Sleep; Professors Complain; 'Hell Week' Abolished

Granville, O., March 26.—(UP)—Denison University's "Hell Week" today faced oblivion after 67 years.

Established as a means of initiating new members into fraternities, "Hell Week" a source of great discomfort for its victims, has been condemned by the university inter-fraternity council.

The council, composed of presidents of each fraternity, voted to recommend to their respective chapters complete abolition of all rough pre-initiation ceremonies. The action followed faculty complaints that freshmen slept in classes during initiation.

Magazine Deadline

Copy for the next issue of the Carolina Magazine is due Friday. Those planning to submit contributions may discuss their work with Joe Sugarman, editor, any day from 2 until 5 p. m. in the Magazine office.

Former Student Head Fails to Return

Election of New Council Member Unnecessary Because of Two Holdovers Last Year.

WILL COMPLETE TERM

At a called meeting of the Student Council last night, necessitated by the failure of Virgil Weathers, council president, to return to school this quarter, Frank Abernethy, former vice-president, was officially advanced to the position of president for the remainder of this season.

Weathers has accepted a position with the Elkin branch of the Chatham Knitting Company, manufacturers of blankets.

No Precedent

Since there was no established precedent as to whether another member of the Student Council should be elected to take the office vacated by Abernethy, the new president met with the Council at 7 o'clock last night to determine whether this should be done.

The Council decided that it would not be necessary to elect an additional member to their group, since the numbers of hold-over members, or advisers had been increased last year from one to two.

President Abernethy explained that two members were held over because the former president felt that the Council lacked experience. Notwithstanding Abernethy's succession to the presidency, there are still nine members remaining on the Council, which is the traditional number.

The students had no vice-president until 1931 when that office was first created. Mayne Albright was then president and "Slim" Medford became the first vice-president.

SUMMER SESSION PLANS OUTLINED

University at Chapel Hill Will Have Two Terms; R. D. W. Connor Will Speak.

The program and dates for the University's summer school sessions at Raleigh, Greensboro, and Chapel Hill were announced yesterday in the first official summer school bulletin issued by Director Edgar W. Knight.

One six weeks' term will be held at Raleigh and Greensboro and two six weeks' terms will be held at Chapel Hill. The first term at each place will open June 13 and close July 24, and the second term, at Chapel Hill only, will begin July 25 and close August 31.

Special courses in education of interest to teachers will be offered.

Schedule Conferences

Special features will include a state conference on adult education at Chapel Hill July 17-18; a conference on art education at Chapel Hill July 19; a writers' conference at Blue Ridge August 5-17; the annual Parent-Teachers Institute August 10-23; annual coaching school, August 19-31; instructors' course in first aid, during first term at Chapel Hill; a summer demonstration school at Greensboro.

All local administrative details of the summer session of 1935 are to be handled in each division.
