

Tar Heel Netmen Sweep Dartmouth Team Aside With Crushing 7-1 Victory

GUIBORD INJUN SCORER

The Carolina netters scored their second victory of the season yesterday afternoon, overpowering the visiting Dartmouth team, 7-1, on the cement courts. More than 200 enthusiastic spectators were on hand to see the famous Tar Heels crush their strong opposition.

Walter Levitan, captain, suffered the lone defeat for Carolina in the opening match of the day. The other five singles matches were ably handled by Harvey Harris, Ricky Willis, Eddy De Gray, Frank Shore, and Ike Minor, no player dropping a set in their string of victories.

The two doubles went to Carolina. The third doubles match of the afternoon was stopped by darkness with the Dartmouth combination in the lead.

Guibord Errorless

Paul Guibord, Dartmouth lead-off man, gave a splendid performance as he polished off Levitan in straight sets. Playing steadily and with unerring consistency, the Indian star outplayed the Carolina captain from start to end.

Levitan misstroked repeatedly and never hit his stride. He did rally in the final set and with a cautious lob and effective angle drop shot, he closed in on his opponent but was unable to retain the pace and Guibord's virtual service ace ended the encounter.

On the other court, Harvey Harris was in the midst of a masterful exhibition against the Indian captain, Bob Husted. Husted failed to reach any sort

Play Again Today

Carolina and Dartmouth go at it again today on the tennis courts at 2 o'clock. A return match has been granted the Indians, and although it will not be official, both teams are anxious for another encounter.

The men will be shifted today. Levitan will face Husted, making the match a battle of captains, and Harris will meet the star of the Indians, Paul Guibord.

of playing peak and was victim of a 6-0, 6-0 count. His forehand drive, noted as an effective shot, insisted on hitting the net cord and dropping back.

Ricky Willis played brilliant ball but found it necessary to employ all his skill to better Ralph Seeley, 6-4, 7-5. The second set was a thriller with Willis finding the needed touches in the last moment to come from a 5-3 deficit. Seeley took five consecutive games in that final set.

De Gray Stages Show

Eddy De Gray hit everything while routing Doug Mook. Swinging continuously, he swept the ball from corner to corner and never allowed his opponent to attempt an offensive blow. De Gray was easily the best

Indian Netsters To Remain Here Two More Days

Dartmouth Boys Especially Impressed with Good Food and Cheap Rate of Swain Hall.

Evidently the Dartmouth tennis team, from way up north in New Hampshire, finds southern hospitality very much to its liking. Since last Saturday morning the Indians have been in Chapel Hill and they still plan to spend one or two more days here before starting home by Virginia.

Carolina was the first opponent of the Dartmouth netsters who are spending their annual spring vacation by taking the tour in this section. On their way back to New Hampshire the Indians have a meet scheduled with William and Mary, Thursday, and a tentative one with Virginia, Friday.

In an interview with Paul Guibord, Dartmouth number one man who handed Captain Levitan a licking, it was learned that the Indians were especially impressed with Swain hall, the campus dining hall.

The tennis ace said that he and his mates were used to paying from eight to ten dollars weekly for meals and not even receiving as good food as Swain hall serves for five dollars per week. The northern boys have been eating at Swain hall since last Saturday.

Guibord said that the boys were fond of the beer they had obtained in Chapel Hill and think the girls here are extremely nice.

In speaking of the weather Guibord stated that since it was still cold and bare up north the flowers and trees blooming in the warm south were especially noteworthy.

The Dartmouth team was not greatly upset over its loss, the boys feeling that they were far from top shape due to the lack of practice. Guibord said the team had only been able to work out twice indoors before starting the tour.

Elly Vines, Tilden Troupe Tourist, Thrice Takes Top Tennis Titles

With the Tilden troupe comes Ellsworth Vines. Tall, poker-faced and earnest, this gangling California youth has been an amazing figure in tennis for the past few years.

Five years ago Vines idled into the foreground with his magnificent game. After but a few months tournament tennis his name became a household word.

National Champ

In 1931, with the plaudits of thousands of admirers ringing in his ears, he culminated his efforts with the annexing of the United States singles championship.

He crossed the ocean and became an international sports figure when he drove his way through the competition at Wimbledon. The world's greatest players fell beneath him and he was recognized as the greatest amateur of the day.

The next year, 1932, he repeated at Forest Hills to capture his second United States crown. He made it a banner year by teaming with Keith Gledhill, and capturing the doubles title as well.

Then came the tragic slump of the popular champion. In de-

LITTLE TO LEAD W. AND M. TRACK TEAM SATURDAY

Tar Heels Defeated Invaders Last Season in Close Meet; Expect Close Battle.

TAKE SNAPPY WORKOUT

Despite the fact that a heavy rain throughout the early morning left the track in a very soggy condition, the varsity squad went through a snappy workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for its opening with the William and Mary team on Saturday.

Last year the Tar Heels won the annual meet at Williamsburg by a 72½-53½ margin, and with several of last year's performers on both teams back a fine meet is expected.

Outstanding for the W. & M. color bearers is "Monk" Little, who is rated as one of the greatest non-conference athletes in Dixie. Little is exceptionally well versed in the track art and competes with equal ability in the dashes, broad jump, javelin throw, and the quarter-mile.

Take Three Firsts

Last year Little took first honors in the 100, 220, and broad jump, and runner-up to Carolina's mighty LaGore with a heave of 197 feet, six inches in the javelin. If Carolina is successful in holding "Monk" to but 18 points, they will be accomplishing a real afternoon's work.

Though Little is without a doubt a "one-man team," the Williamsburg squad also boasts other fine material. In the quarter-mile they will present Smelzer as leading opposition to Carolina's Conference titleholder, "Red" Drake. Smelzer won the event in 1934 with a 51.4 performance.

Another ace for the Virginians will be Platt Bullard, who last year placed second in the 440 event. This season he is rated as greatly improved, but what events he will participate in are as yet unknown. In the Charlotte Jay-Cee meet this past winter, after failing in the 880 event, he went out later to finish well up in the two-mile race, finishing ahead of Bird of Duke, former S. I. C. champ.

The fourth shining light for the W. & M. team is Plummer, a strong competitor in both the one and two-mile runs.

FIRST YEAR NINE CANDIDATES TAKE REST; TILT TODAY

Wet Grounds Force Postponement; Players Disappointed.

The yearling nine candidates were given a holiday yesterday afternoon due to exceedingly wet grounds, the field being fit for swimming purposes only. Despite the inclement weather the squad turned out en masse and was rather disappointed to hear that practice had been called off.

Practice will be resumed as usual today beginning at 3:30 sharp, and the opening inter-squad game will most probably be held late this afternoon. Although the batters are still far away from their peaks, Coach James will be able to get a pretty good idea as to how his charges stand up in competition.

The wealth of good material on hand has led to some closely contested fights for the respective positions, and the team which is chosen finally will undoubtedly be a formidable aggregation.

Although the squad has been divided up into four outfits, a definite regular nine has not been picked, and will not be until Coach James is sure that he has seen every one playing the best baseball that he is capable of.

With its initial scheduled game but two weeks away, the frosh club will start hard preparation this afternoon, and the rest of its training program will probably be devoted to daily practice games.

NO FROSH NET TILT

The freshman tennis opening match with Presbyterian Junior College, scheduled for today, has been cancelled. Instead, the Duke meet, originally scheduled for Monday, has been advanced to Friday, April 5, and will be the opening meet. It will be played at Chapel Hill.

RINGSTERS BEGIN SPRING PRACTICE IN TIN CAN TODAY

Drills Start at 4 O'clock; Boys Will Take Light Work.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon in Emerson stadium, Coach Crayton Rowe assembled his veteran and novice boxing talent and announced that the first spring practice workout will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Tin Can. Light workouts will constitute the routine until the boys round into shape.

The team next year will be captained by Ernie Eutsler, scrappy little featherweight. Eutsler showed up extremely well in his first year of varsity competition as a featherweight and will be expected to do even better next winter. Eutsler will finish his career this coming year.

One Champ

The 1935 Carolina leather pushers turned in a creditable season and brought home one Southern Conference winner, Captain Sam Giddens, the lone Tar Heel boxer to survive the tournament, ended his career in a brilliant and fitting manner.

Sam has been in search of a Southern Conference crown for three years but could not quite bear down enough before. However, his perseverance assisted long enough for conference fans to see his hand raised as a token of victory over Lombardo of Maryland in the finals of the 165-pound class.

Many of last year's sophomores will be back with a year of experience under their belts.

COURT LADIES

The Women's Tennis Club will hold its first meeting from 7 to 7:30 tomorrow night. The meeting was postponed from Monday because of the conflict with Dr. Groves' marriage address. It is important that all interested be present at this first meeting.

WET FIELD HALTS DIAMOND DRILLS OF VARSITY NINE

Coach Bunn Hearn Still Looking For Player to Fill Third Base Position.

OPEN AGAINST DAVIDSON

With Emerson field in a sloppy condition due to April showers, Coach Bunn Hearn's baseball team took only a light workout yesterday.

All members of the pitching staff warmed up their hurling arms with Catchers Tatum, Cook, and Strayhorn.

Coach Hearn told the players to expect extra hard work between now and the opening game, since the wet diamond hampered yesterday's practice. The team has only three more days in which to prepare for the initial contest with Davidson.

Problem at Third

The Tar Heel mentor is still faced with the problem of finding a man to start at the third base position Friday. Bullard, Jones, Schriver, and Dashiell are the leading candidates for the post.

Coach Hearn has a well-rounded veteran outfield in Captain Thurman Vick, Ed Shapiro, and Gus McIver. This trio will likely get the call to start against the Wildcats.

Tommy Irwin, sensational shortstop, should have no trouble breaking into the lineup against Davidson. Buck McCarn and Trip Rand should land starting berths at the first and second base positions, respectively, while Jim Tatum seems to be first in the running among the catchers.

MURAL ENTRIES

Entries may be made now for the intramural baseball and tennis competition at 310 South building until 5 o'clock, and at the Emerson stadium office from 5 until 6 o'clock. Entries will close on Friday.
