UNIVERSITY CLUB MEETS WITH 41 RISING MEMBERS

Initiation of Newcomers and Nomination of Officers for 1935-36 to Be Next Week.

FOUR CO-EDS INCLUDED

Forty-one new members of the University Club met with the outgoing organization last night and were greeted by speeches and the immediate assignment of regular club work.

Four co-eds, representing the dormitories and sororities, were among the new members, the first women students ever elected into membership of the organization.

Frank Willingham, president of the club, and Phil Hammer, ex-president, greeted the new members with words of welcome and well wishes. Willingham outlined the work which must be carried out during the spring quarter, listing the various functions and aims of the club.

Committees Appointed

Committees were appointed from old and new membership to welcome various visiting teams during the next week.

Next week the new members will be formally initiated and nominations for 1935-36 officers submitted.

Following the joint meeting, the old club met and discussed several important items, including the annual club banquet plans.

The new members of the club, elected two weeks ago and to as-

FRATERNITY MEN PASS AMENDMENT

Only Presidents of Respective Fraternities Will Compose Interfraternity Council.

Only presidents of the respective fraternities will henceforth be members of the Interfraternity Council it was learned last night after the council had passed an amendment to the constitution to that effect.

The amendment, proposed last week, will have the effect of removing the impotence of the Interfraternity Council due to a heretofore non-authoritative group of representatives composing the membership.

Sluggish Organization

Members up to now have had the status of "anybody" at the meetings of the council and, as a result, the organization has lapsed out of a great deal of its former usefulness.

Council legislation will be speeded up with the injection of the new constitutional clause into the council program. House presidents will officially represent their fraternities and will have the power to vote on council matters.

Harold Bennett, Theta Chi, is president of the present Interfraternity Council; Frank Rogers, Phi Delta Theta, treasurer; L. C. Bruce, Phi Gamma Delta, secretary, and Mark Lynch, Sigma Nu, chairman of the constitutional committee.

English Comprehensive

English majors planning to take the comprehensive examination the spring quarter are requested to report to Murphey 201 Friday morning at the chapel hour.

Two members of the group were very seriously injured, and four girls were hurt, though not badly. Those in the car were the principal of the Cliffside high school, the coach of the debating team, and the members of the team.

P. U. BOARD ENDS KEY COLLECTING

Board Plans for Uniform Key; Services Engraved on Back.

Henceforth giddy journalists will be unable to flit from publication to publication, working sporadically under several editors for the purpose of acquiring two, three, or even four keys to be laid away among their forgotten trophies.

At least, that is what the P. U. Board hopes will be the result of its acceptance yesterday of a uniform key for all four publications, according to one of the board members.

According to the new plan, in the future a journalist who has already won the uniform key from one publication, will not be eligible to receive a key from another publication.

Instead, every time a student does satisfactory work with a publication other than the one on which he served originally the name of the new magazine or paper will be engraved on the back of his key under his former position of service.

MEDICAL LECTURES

Dr. Hunter Sweeny and Dr. D. R. Perry will give a lecture in Caldwell hall tonight at 7:30. The topic will be "The Surgical and Medical Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Today We Will Stand

(AN EDITORIAL)

The prospects of war are far from pleasant, but war it will be if the present generation does not soon convince the leaders of this nation that youth is serious about this business of hating and outlawing armed conflict.

What good will it all do anyway, this school-boy strike against the inevitable? None, if only a few straggling voices open up to shout out "Down with War." But the story may be different if a large group of determined students, seriously bent on a serious subject, forget their pleasures for just one half hour today—and show what Carolina men (and women) really think about another world war, with its terrible results of immorality, inflation, shattered morale, and depression.

There is something to this peace racket besides blowing off steam. There are definite measures which can be taken to keep the United States out of war, measures which a unified student opinion can help to materialize. And the sooner the big guns in the government know that we know it and will push our convictions, the better. Those of us who drew anything at all out of the recent Human Relations Institute know something, at least, of what these measures should be—the nationalization of munitions, the elimination of profits from war, and a revision of our age-old neutrality policy.

Now is the time to act! Once war has been declared, once the fever of conflict seizes the nation, we are as helpless as a herd of steers. Here is a chance to show that we are more than mere beasts, that we are thinking human beings with definite ideas and determined convictions. And one of them is—NO MORE WAR!

Statement of the Anti-War Committee

To the students and faculty of the University:

Today every major nation, including our own, is engaged in a frantic drive toward war. Unwilling to solve economic problems by sane economic adjustments, the governments threaten to conceal their incompetence in the domestic sphere by going in for "strong foreign policy," "isolation," "economic nationalism." Fast expanding armaments budgets are clear signs of this. These suicidal tendencies of governments are based on an assumption which may or may not be true. It is the assumption that you and your generation will supinely serve as cannon fodder in an idiotic and wholly unnecessary war. It is assumed that, as a substitute for more constructive employment, you and your generation will accept orders to march and kill and be killed in a stupid war against those with whom you have no quarrel whatsoever. In short, it is assumed that you will take it lying down. Will you?

On April 12, 1916, the United States entered the World War. It is amazing to realize prospects of war are almost greater today than they were on April 5, 1916. On April 12, 1935, students in colleges and universities throughout the United States will join together simultaneously in strikes and demonstrations in a great protest against war. We believe that such an expression of our attitude will be significant to the people and to the leaders of our country. We, therefore, call upon all the students, professors, and townspeople of Chapel Hill to gather at 10:30 o'clock on the morning of April 12 in an outdoor mass meeting on the south side of South building to show the people of the state and the nation where you stand on the question of our country's entry into another war.

Students! Your influence should mean something. It is time for you to act.

ANTI-WAR QUESTIONNAIRE

Following is a list of questions prepared by the student sponsors of the anti-war demonstration being staged today. The 11 o'clock class hour is to be devoted to a discussion of some phase of the problem of war. It is suggested that these questions form the backbone around which discussion is built.

1. Do you favor the expenditure of public funds for military education in schools and colleges?
2. Would you favor the diversion of money now being paid to munitions makers into funds for education and for adequate unemployment relief?
3. Do you favor a policy of nationalization of the munitions industry?
4. Would you favor a confiscatory tax on profits made during a war?
5. Do you favor armed intervention in foreign countries for the protection of property and lives of American citizens?
6. Would you endorse American adherence to the League of Nations and the World Court?
7. Would you refuse to fight in any war pursued on foreign soil?
8. Would you refuse to fight if the boundaries of the United States were invaded by another power?
9. Would you lend your support to others who refused to take part in military service?
10. Would you support the struggles of exploited peoples—Cubans, Mexicans, Filipinos, etc.—for freedom from domination by American imperialism?
11. Do you favor the proposal of the Soviet Union made through its Foreign Minister, Maxim Litvinoff, for immediate, complete, world disarmament?

DEBATERS GROUP HEARS PRESIDENT IN FIRST SESSION

Graham Urges the 272 High School Debaters to Remember Teams "Back Home."

OPENS TWO-DAY PROGRAM

Two hundred and seventy-two debaters and their instructors gathered in Memorial hall yesterday afternoon for the opening meeting of the 23rd annual final contest of the North Carolina High School Debating Union.

N. W. Walker, acting dean of the department of education, presided at the meeting and presented President Graham to the members of the convocation.

"Chapel Hill is very happy to have you here," stated Dr. Graham in his address of welcome. He reminded them of the beauties of Chapel Hill and the fact that "140 years of University history looks down upon 272 energetic debaters."

Debate Today

One of the gratifying things about such debates, according to President Graham, is that "high school debaters of today debate issues that become the laws of tomorrow."

Comparing the structural plan of the debating union to a pyramid, Dr. Graham reminded his audience of the thousands of losing competitors throughout the state who form the foundation that makes their presence in the finals possible.

"When you are on the pinnacle of that pyramid," said President Graham, speaking to any team that may be the winner, "think of the thousands of students that form its base."

E. R. Rankin, secretary of the debate committee, then read the program for the remainder of the contest and explained to the contestants the method which would be used to select the pairs for the first preliminary.

Debate Girls Invited to Dance

Benevolent "Pete" Mullis, president of the freshman class, announced last night that all high school girls attending the debates, who would like to be included in the dance party for the freshman class tonight might leave their names with him at the Y. M. C. A. between 12 and 1 o'clock today.

He will arrange for them to have dates.

Change of Headquarters

Editor Pat Gaskins, laughed sick, announced yesterday that he is "receiving" copy for the next issue of the Carolina Pin-jan, the Farewell number for the Gaskin regime, at the University infirmary.

STEWART, RUSSELL WILL BE SPEAKERS

Big Demonstration Will Be Held In Front of South Building At Assembly Period.

GRAHAM GIVES APPROVAL

Everything except the weather is settled for the grand-scale anti-war demonstration to be held at 10:30 a. m. If the weather permits, the rally will be staged on the steps of South building. If it is raining, students and faculty members will gather in Memorial hall.

Amplifiers have been secured and Rev. Donald Stewart of the Presbyterian church and R. Phillips Russell, University delegate to the peace conference at Brussels, will speak. Phil Hammer will preside.

President Frank P. Graham gave the committee his approval of the plan. "Go to it. I am all for you," said the president. "I stated my views on the war problem in my inaugural address and I think your effort coincides with what I said then."

Graham's Statement

Said President Graham at his inauguration: "The colleges and universities, by virtue of their humane purpose and the very nature of their social being, have the responsibility of helping to build a world in which the call to idealism and heroism of youth shall never again be a call to war."

Questionnaires will be distributed at the meeting. Everyone should get one of these or read it in the DAILY TAR HEEL. Dis-

GA. TECH, N. Y. U. DEBATE CAROLINA

Teams Wrangle over Japan's Policy in the Far East and Munitions Matter.

Before a small audience in Gerrard hall last night two North Carolina debate teams engaged in verbal battles with teams from Georgia Tech and New York University.

Tech debaters, Gibson and Darden, staunchly upheld the negative of the query: Resolved, that Japan's policy in the Far East is comparable to the Monroe Doctrine of the United States, against Carolina's Kirkpatrick and Kaplan.

The N. Y. U. team contended that the private manufacture of armaments should be prohibited by international agreement while the Tar Heels objected strenuously, if not sometimes illogically. Both sides presented remedial plans, at the same time finding loopholes in those of the other side.

Fairley, Cross, and Durfee wrangled lengthily over this phase of the munitions question with Bernard Eisenberg, Henry Levine, and Morris Grieff of N. Y. U. Chief points of discussion were Fairley's bale of cotton, Cross's quotation from Isaiah, and Durfee's doughnut, all of which were likened by them as instruments of destruction.

The gentlemen from New York concluded the occasion by calling the Tar Heels a bunch of prophets and retired from the scene. Both battles were bloodless.
