

BULLETINS

Staff Meeting—DAILY TAR HEEL staff meeting today, 2 p. m., Graham Memorial.

Boy Scouts—Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World, will address the Boy Scouts of America at 8:15 over radio stations WOR, WGN, WXYZ, and WLW.

Records—Played on Capehart phonograph in Hill Music hall choral room, 7-9 p. m.

Senior Invitations—Y. M. C. A. lobby. On sale, 2-5 o'clock.

A. I. Ch. E.—7:30 p. m., 216 Venable hall. Slides on manufacturing of aluminum will be shown. Refreshments.

Handbook Staff—Bob Garland, Drew Martin, Eddie Kahn to see Handbook editor, DAILY TAR HEEL office, 3-5:30.

Alpha Phi Omega—7:45, 215 Graham Memorial.

University Club—7:15, 209 Graham Memorial.

Assistants—Student agents of Student Advisory Committee meet this afternoon with editor in Grail room, 5 p. m. Data on fee re-allocation must be handed in.

University Band—Rehearsal, 7 p. m., Hill Music hall, for music to be played in Raleigh Sunday at N. C. Music Festival.

Glee Club—Elections this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

Freshman Smoker—Tonight at 9 o'clock in Swain hall. Sophomore officers will be installed. W. A. Olsen speaker, Billy Knauff's orchestra. Admission free.

Di Jewelry—Di Senate pins and charms, at $2.75 each, order sent off Friday. Members desiring jewelry contact Phil Russell or Jim Verner immediately.

Yackety Yack—All men wanting to work on editorial staff next year's Yackety Yack, 1:45, Yackety Yack office, Graham Memorial.

ADVANCE NOTICE
Commerce Comprehensives—The comprehensive examination of the department of commerce and economics will be held Saturday, 9 a. m., Bingham.

Handbook
The appointment of the business manager of the Carolina Freshman Handbook will be made this morning at 11 o'clock. The committee which will make the selection of Handbook manager will meet in the office of Harry F. Comer at 10:30 a. m.

Members of the appointment committee are Professor H. D. Meyer, treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors; T. P. Yeatman, treasurer of the "Y"; Billy F. Yandell, president of the association; Mr. Comer, general secretary, and Don McKee, Handbook editor.

William Byron Wolfe, William M. Cochrane, and E. L. Peterson are the applicants for the business managership of the publication.

The appointment committee interviewed Wolfe and Cochrane yesterday morning and will hold a conference with Peterson this morning at 10:30 before making a decision.

Hero

Windsor Rowley, University freshman of New Smyrna, Fla., has been awarded a certificate of heroism, by the national honor court of the Boy Scouts of America, for saving a boy from drowning last year.

This announcement came from Henry N. Brown, Carolina alumnus, now Scout executive of the Central Florida council.

Ericson, Couch vs. Clark

(Continued from page one)

teaching, especially in view of the fact stated above that I have never taught a course in the University.

Defender of the Industry

"I believe the secret of Mr. Clark is that he regards himself as the defender of the southern textile industry. As editor of the "Southern Textile Bulletin," which is financed by subscriptions and advertising from those interested in the industry, he doubtless feels it necessary to fight every enemy, and if he cannot find any enemy, he will go out and create one. I for one, though attacked numerous times by Mr. Clark, certainly do not consider myself an enemy of the textile industry.

"I believe the members of this group permit themselves to be most seriously misrepresented when they allow Mr. Clark to speak for them. There are intelligent and well-informed men in the industry who are able intelligently to represent the industry to the public. Whatever differences one may have with textile leaders, it is exceedingly regrettable that Mr. Clark is allowed to appear without protest as their spokesman.

"If Mr. Clark had been paid with the proverbial Russian gold, he could not possibly have said or done more to shake the faith in his audience Tuesday night in himself and the interests he claims to represent. His refusal to answer and his obvious failure even to understand many of the questions he was asked condemned him and his cause completely. His refusal to clarify unsupported insinuations, his retreat in his speech into the loopholes 'it is reported' and 'I am wondering' forced the audience to question his honesty as well as his intelligence.

Tragic Error

"It is a tragic error for leaders in the industry to permit such subtle and effective undermining of faith in existing institutions by a man who honestly seems to think he is defending the interests of his subscribers.

"Mr. Clark has made numerous charges against me. I have just one to make against him and those who support him. If there is any general and violent breakdown in democratic institutions in this country, Mr. Clark and his followers will be responsible for it.

"People who are well-fed, who have jobs, and who are allowed to maintain a measure of self-respect will not listen to revolutionary doctrines. Mr. Clark is doing nothing to help correct the social maladjustments now prevailing. On the contrary, he has made it his special concern to snipe at every leader in social thought in North Carolina. The truth is that Mr. Clark, in spite of all his protestations, does not believe in democratic institutions. He does not even know what they are."

As a neat and nifty three-letter synonym for trouble any senator will unhesitatingly recommend NRA. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Track

(Continued from page three)

pany. His main threats appear to be Harris "V-8" Ford, South Carolina state champion from Clemson, and Harry Woodard, the North Carolina state champion from Duke.

Should Gordon Everett again capture the hurdle crowns, he will have to dislodge some firm contentions from the minds of Co-Captain Tom Hawthorne and Frank Abernethy of Carolina. Both boys were "hot on his heels" in the Carolina-Virginia dual meet and the Penn Relays, and will be favored by many to come out ahead this week-end.

Perhaps one of the most versatile entrants in the battle will be William Guckeyson, University of Maryland sophomore. In his first eligible varsity athletic year, he spent a season as punting halfback on the grid team and guard on the basketball team, besides putting the shot and throwing the javelin for the track team.

Conference officials have set a fair price for the affair—50 cents. The Friday afternoon session will commence at 2:30 o'clock, while the finals will be staged one hour earlier on Saturday.

Banquet for Israel

Tau Epsilon Phi, campus social fraternity, gave a banquet last night in honor of Rabbi Israel. President Frank P. Graham, Dean Robert House, and Dean F. F. Bradshaw spoke on "Human Relations on the Campus."

Debate

(Continued from page one)

sion. When this expulsion slackens as it is now, he maintained, more intense exploitation of labor results.

"Without work there is no wealth," he said.

Answering in a short rebuttal a tirade of Durfee's questions, Williams fired a staccato stream of facts with sweeping gestures: "Socialism is ownership of machines by workers . . . workers will run it. Capitalism took four centuries and many revolutions to get started—we can do it in one revolution."

Reason

"Capitalism works to the deterioration of all classes," said Wishart in a reasonable presentation of his case. "Capitalism demands more and more profits . . . can achieve profits only by working men harder and cutting wages lower."

Wishart painted a black picture of social conditions today, void of security and of assurance of rights. "The ills," he maintained, can be cured only by a system of production for human use."

A divided and strongly feeling audience encouraged the sallies of all contestants with rounds of applause, spiced with calls and whistles."

Dashiell Speaks at Duke

Dr. J. F. Dashiell, head of the psychology department, spoke Wednesday at the Colloquium of Psychology Departments of Duke University on "Some Experimental Problems in Legal and Social Psychology."

Boxing

(Continued from page three)

should find it comparatively easy to keep away from Braddock's right. Baer gave evidence of this ability to keep away from a slugger of the Braddock type when he stopped Kingfish Levinsky in Chicago, a few months ago.

The first odds were released recently by Jack Doyle, acknowledged Broadway betting commissioner, who made the defending champion a 5-1 favorite.

This writer advises all those considering the attendance of this bout to first bear in mind the Joe Louis-Primo Carnera setto which is to be run off the same month in New York. By all odds, this should be a keener fight.

CAROLINA
LAST TIMES TODAY
George Arliss
in
"CARDINAL RICHELIEU"
—Also—
Comedy—Novelty
FRIDAY
PAUL MUNI
lets loose a blast of dynamite in BLACK FURY
KAREN MORLEY
WILLIAM GARGAN

ATHLETES SAY:
"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND!"

Read below what leading sports champions say about Camels

YOU'LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO!

SO MILD! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

Camels

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camel smokers can smoke more—and enjoy smoking more, knowing that sports champions have found Camels so mild that they never jangle their nerves or get their wind.

YOUR OWN PHYSICAL CONDITION is important to you too. So remember this: Camels are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or nerves.

© 1935, R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co.

With the preference of star athletes overwhelmingly for one cigarette, that cigarette has to be exceptionally mild! Its name is well known to you—Camel. Here's what an Olympic champion diver, Harold ("Dutch") Smith, says about Camels: "I've found a great deal of pleasure in Camels. They never interfere with my wind." Rip Collins, of the St. Louis Cardinals, says: "Here's the best proof I know that Camels are mild: I can smoke them steadily, and they never get my wind."

Rowland Dufton, of the New York A. C., says: "Squash is a game that requires A1 condition for tournament play. I've found that Camels are so mild I can smoke all I want, and they never upset my nerves or get my wind. That's what I call real mildness!"

Dick Shelton, world-champion steer dogger, says: "I must be sure the cigarettes I smoke are mild. Camels are very mild—don't get my wind." And those two brilliant golfers, Denny Shute and Helen Hicks, have come to the same conclusion—"Camels do not get my wind."

How this mildness is important to you too!

Camel smokers can smoke more—and enjoy smoking more, knowing that sports champions have found Camels so mild that they never jangle their nerves or get their wind.

BASEBALL
RIP COLLINS
35 Home Runs for the St. Louis Cards

GOLF
HELEN HICKS
Former U. S. Women's Golf Champion

GOLF
DENNY SHUTE
1933 British Open Champion

SQUASH
ROWLAND DUFTON
Squash Tennis Star

DIVING
HAROLD ("DUTCH") SMITH
Olympic Fancy-Diving Champion

RODEO
DICK SHELTON
World-Champion Steer Dogger

HAROLD ("DUTCH") SMITH, Olympic Fancy Diving Champion, enjoying a Camel. He has smoked Camels for nine years—smoked Camels even before he took up diving. He says, "I'd walk a mile for a Camel."

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than other popular brand. (Signed) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.