

CO-EDS MAY VISIT IN GREEK LODGES

Special Committee Extends Co-ed Entertainment Privileges For This Year

After a lonely three weeks, fraternities may now retain the privilege of entertaining women students, provided they renew their applications immediately, it was decided yesterday by a special committee headed by L. C. Bruce to investigate the co-ed visiting situation.

Before the privilege is extended, however, the Greek lodges must apply for permission to the advisor to women and must agree to observe the same visiting rules that were drawn up to regulate co-ed entertainment last year.

Many Have Agreed

"To date this agreement has been signed by approximately 15 fraternities, with the possibility that others will agree to observe the regulations by Friday," stated Bruce, who is president of the inter-fraternity council.

The committee also decided at yesterday's meeting that the entertainment privilege will not be in effect next fall until after sorority pledge day.

The agreement must be renewed each year before fraternities may entertain co-ed guests in the various houses.

FRESHMEN TO AID STUDENT SURVEY

Survey to Determine Average Cost for First Year Attendance at University

Student Survey Head Roy Armstrong has selected over 50 freshmen to co-operate with him on determining the cost of attending the University during the first year.

The freshmen, according to Mr. Armstrong, will keep an itemized account of all their expenditures, including all fees, tuitions, spending money, laundry, books, room, board, and other school year costs.

From monthly reports on these expenditures Mr. Armstrong expects to receive an up-to-date average of the cost for attending school here for one year to be used in student survey work.

Survey Estimate

"The aim of the University," the survey head said, "is to give prospective students here not only an idea of tuition, board, and room costs, but also an estimate of total expenditures."

A request was also made by Mr. Armstrong to any student, whether freshman or upper-classman who is keeping an itemized account of his expenses and wishes to give this information to the University for student survey work to do so.

"This information," he said, "will be kept strictly personal, between the boy and myself and will be used only in computing an average."

University Club

The University Club will gather in an important session tonight at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial to complete plans for the Homecoming Day festivities, it was announced yesterday by Julien Warren, president.

Arrangements will be made for entertaining the Yellow Jacks and decorating the town.

COLORED SCHOOL AGAIN OPERATING

Negro Night Classes Have Enrollment of Approximately 40

The Y. M. C. A. sponsored Negro night school, which was inaugurated in 1933 and gained impetus last year, is again operating in full swing this year, according to an announcement yesterday.

Approximately 40 Negroes have registered for the regular twice-weekly sessions in the Negro high school and registration will be open during the remainder of this week. The school is a direct project of the interracial committee of the "Y" and the department of social science.

The great variety of subjects offered for instruction indicate the wide scope of the work being done. Such subjects as arithmetic, sociology, English, algebra, economics, plane geometry, history, and general science make up the curriculum.

The school, which was headed last year by Harry Riggs, is taught by University students and graduates, who receive their salaries through F. E. R. A. channels.

FIRST BUCCANEER IS DUE SATURDAY

"Fantastically Clean" Humor Magazine to Start off Year with Moral October Edition

The first issue this fall of any student publication besides the DAILY TAR HEEL will appear Saturday, when the October issue of the Carolina Buccaneer will be released on the campus. Faithful to its promise to the student council, it will, according to its editor, remain "fantastically clean."

Among the high lights of the first issue, the cover for which is a football scene, are: All American Ass, a short short story by Pete Ivey; a satirical sketch by Bill Cochran on "Huey Long in Hell," a parody on Robert W. Service's "Dangerous Dan McGrew" entitled "The Dangerous Sigma Nu," three short, ironical poems by Ellen Deppe; a "Little Story With The Camera," executed by John Chapman, and called "Flirtation Walk;" Wilson's Fourteen Points, Ethiopian Style; and an interview with Phillips Russell, professor of creative writing, and former New York newspaper man, on James Thurber, prominent American humorist and writer for the "New Yorker," written by Julian Bobbitt.

The regular departments in-

Smith New Treasurer Of Fraternity Buyers

Student Audit Board will Not Manage Association

M. H. Smith of the Student Auditor's office was appointed treasurer of the Fraternities Buyers association yesterday. R. H. Sherrill will remain as manager of the project.

The Student Audit Board will not manage the association as was stated formerly, but will keep the books of the group if this service is requested. This is not to be interpreted as an attempt of the Board to compete with local merchants since it is the same service is given to other student organizations on the campus.

Henderson Censored From Stage For Pioneer Memorial Address

Mathematics Head Condemned for Attempt to Explode Daniel Boone Stories

Dr. Archibald Henderson, head of the University mathematics department, famous biographer of George Bernard Shaw, and the leading authority on the early history of the southwest, drew tears to the eyes of one of the descendants of Daniel Boone when he sought to explode the "Boone myth" in his presidential address to the Transylvanians in Boonesboro, Ky., during last week's celebration.

Dr. Henderson, in praising the achievements of the Transylvania Company, early exploration and land development enterprise, of which his ancestor, Richard Henderson, was president, attempted to reveal Daniel Boone as he really was—the humble, but important scout and trail-blazer employed by the company. It was this emphasis, placed upon the historical importance of the aristocratic and capitalistic members of the Transylvania Company which motivated the heated reply made by Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times.

Mr. Wallace decried the "futile attack" which "has sent from this platform in tears a lineal descendant of Daniel Boone, a young woman who came all the way from Oregon to the ceremonies." The Louisville editor said that he would condemn with all his might everything that Dr. Henderson said about the members of the Transylvania Company at the expense of Daniel Boone, pioneer trailblazer.

Mr. Wallace, who cast aside his original speech to rebut Dr. Henderson, went on to say that Boone had been represented as a mere employee and that when capitalists employed brains they ought to be congratulated.

The speech-making was occasioned by the unveiling of a monument by the Transylvanians, a patriotic society, at their celebration memorializing the members of the Transylvania Company and the early pioneers who played a major part in settling the southwest. Among the important figures present were Governor Ruby Laffoon, of Kentucky, and Jesse Lyon, chief of the Onodaga Indians of New

Davidson Game Films To be Shown Sunday

Pictures to be Shown Sunday Night at Graham Memorial

Motion pictures of the Carolina-Davidson game will be shown Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the banquet room of Graham Memorial. There will be no admission charge.

These films belong to Coach Snavelly who uses them to study the actions of his players, in order to correct mistakes, if any, in the varsity machine. Although Coach Snavelly himself will be unable to be present some football authority will explain the plays of the team. The pictures are criticized so that mistakes in tactics may be corrected.

Harper Barnes, manager of Graham Memorial, stated that the student union will present other such features in the future when they are available.

Liberty Leaguers Postpone Meeting

President Durfee Hopes to Get Under Way Next Week

Due to the fact that material for this year's work has not yet arrived from national headquarters the meeting of the local branch of the American Liberty League, formerly scheduled for last night, was postponed until a later date.

The liberty league is a non-partisan group formed last year by conservatives throughout the nation and devotes its energy to a conservative form of government and the adherence to the constitution in government.

Local Division President Winthrop Durfee promises some good meetings in the near future. "I feel sure," he said, "that we'll get underway next week and at that time organize a program for the year's work."

CO-EDS ARE ASKED TO DUKE PLAY DAY

Local Women May Participate in Annual Affair at Duke

According to an announcement by Mrs. Gladys Beard, director of physical education for women, the women students of the university have received an invitation to participate in the Duke University Play Day.

The play day, which is an annual affair, is being sponsored by the Women's Athletic association of Duke University. The tentative date for the contests is Friday, November 22.

Women students from all the neighboring colleges have been invited to take part in the event. Each school is to send 20 girls who are the most interested in athletics.

Margaret Cunningham, president of the Women's Athletic association at Duke, announces the following schedule for Play Day: hockey, soccer, volley ball, tennis, swimming, archery, deck tennis, shuffle board, and badminton. Teams in hockey, tennis, archery, and volley ball will represent the University on this occasion.

SQUAD PREPARES DEBATE MATCHES

University Team Engaged with Yale, Georgia, Cambridge, and Wake Forest Teams

Earnest preparations for this season's program has been begun by the University debating squad among which is a proposed European tour.

Among the debating highlights for the year will be the match with the University of Cambridge group here on November 18, according to Coach W. A. Olson, who is now rushing preparations for the event. The query will be: Resolved, that in the opinion of this house the judiciary should not have the power to override the decision of the executive and the legislature.

Squad Uncertain

Although the local squad has not been definitely picked as yet, other outstanding debates to be arranged during the fall quarter have been booked. Among these will be engagements with Wake Forest and the University of Georgia.

The query for the Georgia debate will undoubtedly bring much interest from the campus. It is: Resolved, that Negroes should be allowed to enter state universities.

An engagement with the Yale University debating team has

Cornwell Grid Year Has Bad Beginning

Young All-America's Lose Football in Aerial Attack

Sam Cornwell, age 10, and his little brother, Bob, age seven, were tickled pink when Coach Bob Fetzer gave them an old varsity football.

In fact, they were so pleased they just couldn't resist taking it to school with them and getting in a little practice now and then. Everything was going smoothly and, according to their father, Physical Director O. K. Cornwell, rapid advancement in the gridiron art could be easily noticed.

Yes, Sam and Bob had a football; and everywhere Sam and

SELF-AID CHECKS REMAIN OVER-DUE

Administrative Inexperience Is Cause of Delay in Issuance of NYA Student Work Forms

Due to the delay of federal authorities in setting up the cumbersome and detailed machinery of the new National Youth Administration, University federal aid students will probably not receive their September checks before October 26, according to an announcement yesterday by Self-Help Secretary Edwin S. Lanier.

The delay has been caused in great part by the relative inexperience of those in charge of NYA funds in the Washington offices. The new report forms, which are being initiated this year for the first time, must come from the Washington office and although the University time records have been completed since October 2, the hands of the Self-Help Bureau have been tied because of the delay in receiving these forms.

Reason for Delay

Concerning the delay our federal aid students are experiencing in receiving pay for work done in September, the self-help secretary told a DAILY TAR HEEL representative yesterday that "all monthly report forms are being furnished by the NYA of-

STATE 'Y' GROUPS TO MEET AT DUKE

Series of Meetings to be Held Sunday; Plan Co-ordinated Peace Movement

Plans for a co-ordinated peace movement by the three branches of the consolidated University will be formulated Sunday at Duke when the State Y. M. C. A.—Y. W. C. A. cabinets convene.

"We feel that this conference is of great importance at this time because of the responsible part American students must play in determining America's response to the European war crisis," Billy Yandell, University "Y" president, stated.

The series of meetings Sunday will begin at 9:30 a. m., and will adjourn by 4:30 p. m.

The morning conference will be addressed by Dr. Francis Andscombe, head of the Salem college history department. Later Dr. B. F. Brown of N. C. State will speak.

Open Forums

Tom A. Sykes, peace movement leader will be the afternoon speaker. Open forums to map out plans in the drive against war will be held throughout the day.

The peace drive is the phase of North Carolina "Y" work which is being featured this year. It was decided at the Blue Ridge conference last year to emphasize this activity.

Students who have active views on the anti-war drive are asked to see Billy Yandell or Bob Magill relative to attending the meeting.

Grail Meeting

Harry Montgomery announced last night that there will be a very important meeting of the Grail tonight at 10 o'clock at Graham Memorial.

Every member is urged to be present.
