UNIVERSITY BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

Tomorrow Night's Appearance First of Fall Season; Dr. Smith will Sing

The University concert band, under the direction of Earl A. Slocum, will give its first program of the year tomorrow night in Hill Music hall at 8:30 featuring Dr. Sherman Smith of the University as vocal soloist.

The program will be a new departure in the field of band concerts as all the numbers with the exception of the overture to Petrella's opera "Ione," are compositions written originally for bands. The concert will begin with "La March del Seldadeca Espanol" by Smetsky. This will be followed by the Petralla overture which was scored for symphonic band by Mastinelli.

Selections

Dr. Smith's vocal selections will follow Franz Bender's colorful work "Sunday Morning at Glion." Dr. Smith, who is doing research work for DuPont Company, was on the staff of the university radio association and has had wide experience as a concert, radio, and church soloist. He will sing "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," and "O Mistress Mine" by Quilter, "Nocturne" by Curran, and "Captain Starton's Fancy" by Deems Taylor. Peter Hansen will accompany him.

CAROLINA MEETS WAKE DEBATERS TONIGHT AT PHI

Fairley and McMillan Represent University In Debate

Francis Fairley and Jimmie McMillan will represent Carolina's debate squad tonight when they lock horns with the forensic experts of Wake Forest in the Phi assembly hall on the top floor of New East at 7:30.

The Carolina debaters will uphold the affirmative of the query: Resolved, That Congress shall be given power to override decisions of the Supreme Court.

Winthrop Durfee, sometimes termed the "stormy petrel" of the Phi assembly, will act as chairman.

As a special feature, there will be an open forum for 15 minutes after the debate.

The Phi assembly will adjourn its regular meeting at 7:30 in order that the debate may begin.

The query was selected by Pi Kappa Delta, national debating fraternity, for this year's question. This subject is considered especially opportune because of current interest in the Supreme Court's decisions on New Deal legislation.

SENIOR RINGS

O. E. Bass, representative of the Herff-Jones Ring Co., will be in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. this morning to take orders for senior rings.

Jake Snyder of the senior ring committee has announced that Bass will take orders between 10 and 12 o'clock this morning and 2 and 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Playmakers will Give Premier of Son-Author's New Play Friday and Saturday

Paul Green's new play of university life, "The Enchanted Maze," will be given its initial performance by the Carolina Playmakers Friday and Saturday in Memorial hall.

"The Enchanted Maze" is one of the first attempts to portray the American university educational system, and in the eight scenes of the play, Paul Green gives an ironic and satiric expose of the disillusionments and hypocrisies which universities perpetrate upon their students.

Opening with a campus scene, the play discloses various types of people seen on a university campus during a Founders Day program. Much of the pedantry of class-room work and the insignificance of scholarly research in relation to truth which lies beyond facts is assailed by the playwright. Green satirizes the endless procession of sentimental orations typical of most university public occasions, and makes as a climax the speech of revolt of a student who has felt for four years the influences of the university.

Over 70 actors will take part in the production, and it will be staged in Memorial hall because the size of the Playmakers Theatre stage is inadequate. A large crowd is expected to see the premiere of the play, prior to its production in New York.

Professor Sam Selden is directing the play and designing the scenery, assisted by Wilbur Dorsett in the construction of the sets. Mrs. Ora Mae Davis is the costumer, and Harry Davis will direct the lighting arrangements.

BUCCANEER STAFF

There will be a brief joint meeting of the business and editorial staffs of the Carolina Buccaneer in the office of that publication in Graham Memorial tonight at 7:30. All members of both staffs are required to attend.

"Y" MEN HEAR COMER, RABB, BULLINS

UPPER CABINETS

Mr. Harry F. Comer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. reviewed last night at the upper cabinet meeting work of the Southern Y. M. C. A. Committees which met in Atlanta Friday through Sunday of last week.

This group decided in convocation that the policy of programs throughout the south should henceforth be based upon an effort to uncover some philosophy of life that could satisfy individuals, regardless of secular problems.

"We have reduced our religion to a mere humanism," the group concluded, "in challenging the college Y. M. C. A.'s over the nation to discover a technique to lead the religiously-underfed persons back into spiritual awakening."

SOPHOMORE CABINET

Continuing its series of discussions relating to the economic situation and the Christian ideal, the sophomore cabinet last night heard Stuart Rabb on "The Condition of the Southern Textile Worker."

Presenting first-hand information, Rabb drew upon his contacts with mill executives of the south. The forum leader's father is a Lexington, N. C., cotton mill superintendent.

Bringing to a close the present discussion series, the cabinet will next week hear the Reverend Donald Stewart of the Presbyterian Church on "Christian Socialism."

FRESHMAN COUNCIL

Ellis Bullins reported to the Freshman Friendship Council last night that the first appearance of the freshman deputation team was satisfactory.

Mr. Comer announced that students desiring to attend the Older Boys Conference in Durham Friday or Saturday will be furnished lodging without cost. Any boy interested should leave his name in the office of the Y. M. C. A.
