Over 100 Men Take Part In First Day's Round Of Intramural Mat Tourney

Semi-Final Matches Held This Afternoon

Number of Entries Is Largest Ever Received; Matches Run Most of Day

FINAL TO BE TONIGHT

The annual fall intramural wrestling tourney began yesterday with a series of matches that provided thrills and spills for those who witnessed them. The largest entry in wrestling history turned out for the competition. Over 110 would-be grapplers entered the tournament in an attempt to garner points for their respective teams. Sigma Nu and Chi Psi showed the way in the fraternities with 16 grapplers from each fraternity entered. Z. B. T. followed Sigma Nu and Chi Psi in entries with 10 men, and D. K. E. and St. Anthony placed behind Z. B. T. with seven and five respectively.

Graham Enters 12

Graham dormitory, winners of the intramural boxing tournament last week, entered 12 men to lead the dormitories in that department. Ruffin, winners of the mat tourney last year, was next with six, and Everett and Lewis brought up behind Ruffin with four apiece.

Kephart (Sigma Chi) and Macphee (Aycock) were the only defending champions from last year's mat intramurals. In contrast to the 50 entries received for last year's tourney over 100 men turned out for this fall's carnival.

A comparatively small crowd was on hand when the gong rang for the opening match of the 118-lb. class between Yeatman (Sigma Nu) and Harris (Phi Gamma Delta). Harris was returned the winner by a fall after two minutes and 22 seconds of grappling.

As many of the entrants were delayed in arriving at the Tin Can, the matches could not be run off in order, and the next bout found Hastie (D. K. E.) and Hubbard (Graham) as the contestants in the 125-lb. division. Hastie took this bout with a body slam after four minutes of hard work.

Four Tar Heel Players On Born in State Team

Only Football Players Born in State Eligible for Team

The University of North Carolina placed more men on the all Tar Heel-born football teams, selected by popular vote through The Raleigh Times of which Tom Bost, Jr., is sports editor, than any other college in the state.

The selections were limited to players who were born in North Carolina and who played on North Carolina teams.

Carolina placed four men on the first team and three on the second. Jim Hutchins, fullback, Herman Snyder, halfback, Tom Evins, tackle and Babe Daniel, center, made the first selection, while Van Webb, guard, Buck McCarn, end, and Crowell Little, halfback, made the second team.

Duke was second, placing five men on the two teams, three being on the first.

Tar Heel Footballers Asked to Twin City

Several Men Asked to Witness All-State High School Game

Four of Carolina's all-State football players have been invited to attend the all-Star High School football game in Winston-Salem on New Year's Day. They are Don Jackson, Jim Hutchins, Andy Bershak, and Tom Evins.

This annual gridiron clash, labelled the "Tobacco Bowl" game, is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. All-Star teams from the east and from the west will battle.

The entire all-State first team has been invited. As a group they will select the outstanding player on the field at the "Tobacco Bowl" game. This high school star chosen will receive a loving cup.

Kidd Brewer will coach the west's all-Star team while Doc Mathis will coach the all-Star outfit from the east.

N. Y. U. Basketball Mentor Offers Near Perfect Record

Record In Last Two Years Is One of the Best Compiled In the East

Coach Howard G. Cann has been coaching the varsity basketball teams at New York University since 1923. He served as an assistant basketball coach under Ed Thorp in 1922-23 and at the end of the season was named head mentor.

He was born at Bridgeport, Connecticut, October 11, 1895, and is a graduate of the High School of Commerce of New York City and of New York University's College of Engineering.

His coaching record at his alma mater shows 128 victories and only 57 defeats. In 1933-34 the Violet went undefeated through a schedule of 16 games and last year (1934-35) New York University bowed but once on a 20-game schedule. A 33-29 defeat at the hands of Yale University at New Haven, Connecticut in an overtime contest was the lone mark on the sensational record of the Violet quintet which scored 740 points to the opposition's 489 points.

One of the Best

Coach Howard G. Cann was perhaps the greatest all-around athlete in New York University history. While Cann showed to great advantage in basketball he was also a prominent member of the football and track teams as an undergraduate. In 1917 he was captain of the basketball team and in 1919 leader of the football eleven. He starred as a forward on the Violet court team and stood out with equal brilliance both as a tackle and as a fullback on the gridiron. He was one of the leading kickers in the east and won country-wide recognition for his ability in basketball and track.

His exploits in the National A. A. U. basketball championship tournament at Atlanta, Georgia in 1920, in which he scored 32 field goals that helped N. Y. U. win the national crown, earned him the Atlanta "Constitution's" trophy award as the "greatest basketball player in the world." He was also chosen as an all-America forward that year.

In track and field Howard Cann did nearly everything. He was an all-around performer for the Violet and set records for the shot-put, javelin, and discus throws. He won the I. C. A. A.

A shot-put championship in 1920 and also the Middle Atlantic States crown in this event the same year. He was chosen as a member of the American Olympic team which competed in Antwerp.

While a student at the High School of Commerce he was also an outstanding athlete. He captured the P. S. A. L. low and high hurdles and the shot-put championship on the same day for his team.

Coach Cann entered the College of Engineering at University Heights in 1915. He left college in 1917 and enlisted in the United States Navy. He enlisted as a quartermaster, first class, and rose to the rank of lieutenant. He returned to N. Y. U. following the Armistice and graduated in June of 1920.

Besides being coach of basketball Mr. Cann is director of physical training with the rank of assistant professor. He is in charge of all physical training work in the University College of Arts and Pure Science and the College of Engineering and has supervision over the gymnasium at University Heights.

In these latter capacities Coach Cann succeeded his father, the late Mr. Frank H. Cann, who served on the staff of the University for over 37 years. Mr. Cann, Sr., was named director-emeritus of the gymnasium upon his retirement from the faculty in March of 1932.

Coach Cann served as head football coach at N. Y. U. in 1932 and 1933. He resigned on February 1, 1934 and was succeeded by Dr. Marvin A. Stevens, the present coach.

DRAWING WINNER

D. W. Whitlock of 1103 E. Franklin street won the Book Exchange Christmas present at yesterday's drawing. The present, which was a box of Carolina stationery, was selected by D. L. Yount.

The drawing yesterday was made by Henry Bryant. Daily drawings this week are featuring the Book Exchange's Christmas offerings.

Art Society

Mrs. Corinne McNeir, art agent for the Extension Division, was elected secretary of the North Carolina Art Society when it met in Raleigh last week.

Wrestling

The intramural wrestling semi-finals will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Tin Can. Winners of this afternoon's bouts will be matched for the finals to be held tonight at 7:30.

Cavaliers Release Quintet's Schedule

Play Games with All Members of Conference with Exception of One

Virginia's basketball team has a game scheduled with every rival member of the Southern Conference save one.

Twenty-one games are listed on the 1936 basketball card of the Cavaliers as announced by James G. Driver.

Clemson College will come to the Memorial Gymnasium to open the regular season on Saturday night, January 4. The Virginians have home and home games with Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, V. M. I., V. P. I., and Washington and Lee, within the Southern Conference, and a game in Raleigh against N. C. State. The only Conference quint not scheduled by the Cavaliers is South Carolina.

Virginia's 1936 basketball schedule follows:

January 4, Clemson at home.

January 8, William and Mary at home.

January 11, Duke in Durham.

January 13, N. C. State in Raleigh.

January 14, North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

January 18, Washington and Lee in Lexington.

January 20, V. P. I. in Blacksburg.

January 24, North Carolina at home.

January 29, Randolph-Macon at home.

February 1, V. M. I. at home.

February 5, Navy in Annapolis.

February 6, Maryland in College Park.

WHITE PHANTOMS CONTINUE DRILLS

Andy Bershak with First Stringers During Pre-Season Practice Sessions

Although the Carolina basketballers do not open competition until after the Christmas holidays, with Clemson here on January 3, Coach Walter Skidmore is pushing the work of the White Phantoms.

Since the close of football season, the basketball squad has been going forward at full speed. The early period of getting into shape is over. The big problem of working out plays and formations, of fixing a starting lineup and of keeping the men in the best of condition for the hard schedule now faces Coach Skidmore.

There have been many shifts in the so-called first team during the two weeks of hard practice. Only two men seem to have their posts "sewed up." They are Captain Jim McCachren, all-Southern guard for two seasons, and Melvin Nelson, second all-Southern forward last year.

Bershak on Team

Andy Bershak, stellar gridiron star this past fall, reported for basketball work last week. Yesterday Coach Skidmore was trying him at a first string forward position. He is fast, a great scrapper and a neat shot.

Another sophomore, Earl Ruth, has been holding down a first string guard berth quite regularly. However, he was at forward during several scrimmages and showed up well.

The center position is the big problem for Coach Skidmore. He has a letterman for the post in Latch Webster. But Red Meroney, sophomore, has been getting the tip-off with great regularity from Webster. The monogram winner plays a better floor game, however.
