

THE CAMPUS
KEYBOARD

by Phil Hammer

Serving Beer in 'Y' Basement
Not as Silly as it Seems
Students Rally to Own Rescue

Despite the fact that even the sponsors of the "beer in the Y. M. C. A. basement" campaign have treated their subject on occasion with some some facetiousness, the rathskeller idea is not as trite and incomprehensible as one thinks.

There used to be an active little group known as the Faculty Club or some similar name, but that has broken up, because the faculty members haven't any place at which to gather. The advantages of faculty gathering won't be discussed here, as we probably know too little to do justice to the theme. But we can assume that they like to get together over a mug of beer or a hot chocolate as much as the students.

As a matter of fact, history proves that a president of this University owes no little of his rise to office to a faculty organization which got together informally for discussion. Dr. Harry Chase was a member of the Damsyankee Club and it held him in good stead for years to come.

We're not saying, of course, that what we need is a Society for the Promotion of Promotion of Faculty Members. But we do think it would be a dandy idea to have some meeting place where low-hung rafters and congenial students can contribute to faculty appetites for relaxation, friendship and a mug or two of ale.

Plans for the establishment of a placement bureau will be announced within a few days by interested students who have done an excellent work in drawing up a program.

The answer to the old question, "Why haven't we a regular administrative placement bureau," has been for the last few years simply: no funds. And the same answer will painfully be given today if you were to inquire.

What the interested undergraduates are attempting to do, however, is to form interest groups of men planning to go into certain fields and, with the cooperation of Dean Bradshaw's assistants, to contact representatives of business organizations in an effort to make placements.

At present University graduates are losing many opportunities consistently simply because business representatives see no reason to make a journey here, as they have no definite method of student contact. Maybe the students can help the situation by their own organizing efforts.

In Today's News

Freshmen hear talks on Parents' Day.
First snowball battle of season takes place.

Warbasse speaks to "Y" cabinets on national co-operative movement.

White Phantoms meet V. P. I. tonight.

YWCA committee makes plans for coming activities.

VILLAGE IS READY FOR CELEBRATION
WITH PRESIDENTDancing, Vaudeville and Bridge
Are On Varied Program Here
Thursday Night

ONLY 100 STUDENT TICKETS

Students, faculty and townspeople of Chapel Hill are planning to celebrate the President's Birthday Party Thursday night. A vaudeville show and old-fashioned square dances in Bynum gymnasium will start the festivities.

Bridge is to be played in the ballroom of the Inn, Freddie Johnson and his band playing, will climax the day's activities. Tickets are on sale for $1.00 or $1.50 for a couple, but students of the University may buy tickets for half that price: 50 cents per stag or 75 cents per couple.

Limited Tickets

A limited number of tickets (100) are on sale for students in the Book Exchange, Graham Memorial, and the Students' Co-operative store.

All over the United States thousands of cities and towns will celebrate the President's Birthday Party, the profits from which go to cure infantile paralysis. Seventy per cent of the proceeds is used by local charity groups and the other 30 per cent is for the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia.

Vaudeville Show

The vaudeville show, arranged by Harry Comer, will begin at 9 o'clock. Phoebe Barr and her troupe of chorines and other dancers will perform. Miss Betty (Continued on page two)

'Y' CABINET MEN
HEAR WARBASSESon of Co-operative League Secretary
Addresses Y. M. C. A.
On National Movement

Edward Warbasse, son of the executive secretary of the Co-operative League of America, spoke to members of the "Y" Cabinets last night on "The Co-operative Movement in America."

Preceding the talk Bob Magill held a short business meeting concerning the services and programs that the Sophomore Cabinet will undertake.

Warbasse, who was formerly actively connected with the co-operative purchasing movement at Antioch College, told of the history, purpose, ideals, principles, organization, growth, controlling factors, possibilities and future of the co-operative movement.

"Answer to Despair"

Warbasse opened with the remarks: "America's answer to despair is the co-operative society, a satisfying answer but not a complete one."

As to principles, the lecturer stated: "Each member is entitled to only one vote. There is to be limited return on investments at regular business rate of interest and that all profits are returned to members in proportion to their patronage."

Warbasse said, "In this country there are over 4,000,000 members of co-operative societies and of the 20,000 co-operative banks none failed during the depression."

"Co-operatives were the eco-

(Continued on page two)

STUDENT-FACULTY DAY COMMITTEE

Pictured above are the members of the joint Student-Faculty Day committee for 1936. This group is now completing preparations and arrangements for the second annual celebration on February 13.

Front row, left to right: Jack Pool, Patsy McMullan, Chairman Jake Snyder, Jane Ross, Dean R. B. House;

Second row: Dr. Harold D. Meyer, Mr. Harry F. Comer, Frank Willingham, Clyde Dunn, Dr. E. J. Woodhouse;

Third row: Pete Ivey, Dr. W. M. Dey, Dr. Ernest L. Mackie, Dr. W. deB. MacNider, Dr. J. P. Harland;

Back row: Billy Yandell, Albert Ellis, Phil Hammer, Julien Warren, Joe Barnett.

ACTORS PREPARE
11 NEW MEMBERS

Playmakers will Hold Tryouts This Afternoon

Tryouts for the new set of experimental plays written in Professor Koch's play-writing classes will be held this afternoon in the Playmakers Theatre at 4 o'clock. The plays will be given on Tuesday, February 4.

The list of productions is as follows:

"Raise a Tomb, Sister!" by Patsy McMullan;

"Eternal Acheing Comedy," by Mary Delaney;

"No Less Renowned," by William Wang;

"With Onions," by Frank Durham;

"Revolt in the Dust," by Gerd Bernhardt;

"Transient," by Walter Spearman.

This is the third set of experiments for this year and an amusing tone is evident in all the plays. Professor Selden expects a large number for the tryouts and hopes that every one interested will turn out for them.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPH

The business and editorial staffs of the DAILY TAR HEEL the Yackety Yack and the Buccaneer will meet today in Graham Memorial at 1:30 for group pictures for the annual.

LAW STUDENTS ON TRIAL

Twenty-two Carolina law students are in Raleigh today ending a two-day state bar examination. Ten law school alumni are also standing the test.

The bar candidates will register tomorrow for the second semester of law school. Registration for those not undergoing the exam was held yesterday.

CHANG WILL SPEAK

A rapid survey of the changes in Chinese civilization will be the objective of Dr. Y. Z. Chang in a public lecture at Hill Music hall tomorrow night at 8:30.

The Chinese exchange professor will discuss social, religious and political philosophies of his country. His subject is "Changing Philosophy of Life in China."

MUSICIANS PLEDGE
IN NEW MEMBERS

Phi Mu Alpha Concludes Initiation Ceremonies with Songs

Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternity, pledged 11 new members at their meeting last night. An informal discussion followed by a musical program, with active members and pledges-to-be participating, took place in the auditorium. The pledging ceremony was then held in their meeting room. After the ceremony refreshments were served and members and pledges took part in a bull-session.

The pledges are: Morris Fitz, John Miller, Charles Woodbury, Edward Stringham, William Benton, Bruce Culbreth, M. H. Waynick, Walter Buffey, Harvey Moore, Wiley Rogers, and Robert McManeus.

Chi Omega Sanctuary
Impudently Violated

Male Impersonator Wears Hat in House; Poses as "Date;" Invades Chi O Party

An impersonator crashed the gates of the Chi Omega domain Sunday night when the pledges held open house for Pi Phi neophytes.

A Mr. Evans, scholarly looking gentleman, was introduced to the crowd as Miss Helen Pritchard's date. He partook of sandwiches, cakes, coffee, and gum drops, eating with gusto. But he did not have the politeness to remove his hat in the presence of ladies.

Identity

On the verge of leaving Mr. Evans made known his identity as Mary Crockett Evans, who gallantly escorted Miss Pritchard through the blinding snow storm to the Chi Omega retreat.

In spite of the sanctity of the night, the pledges, probably under the influence of their guests, sang numerous drinking songs.

FRESHMEN URGED
TO AID IN PARENT
DAY CELEBRATIONQuintet of Freshman Officials
Exhort Chapel Audience to
Co-operate for Success

JACK SEAWELL PRESIDES

Purposes of the coming Parents' Day program were explained to the freshmen at their regular assembly yesterday by representatives of the organizations sponsoring the affair.

Jack Seawell, president of the Freshman Friendship council, which has assumed the responsibility for interesting the parents of first year men in the event, presided at the program. Bud Hudson, vice-president of the council, was the first speaker. He asked all freshmen to co-operate by inviting their parents to visit the University on Parents' Day and pointed out that the interest and assistance of every one is essential to the success of the program.

Purpose of Invitations

Billy Campbell, chairman of the Parents' Day committee, explained the purpose of the printed invitations which are being distributed to students to send to their parents. He also stated that the exhibits arranged for Student-Faculty Day will be opened at noon February 12 in order to allow the visiting parents to enjoy them.

Bill Stronach, president of the freshman class, and Charlie Robinson made short talks asking the freshmen to enter into the affair wholeheartedly and to do all they can to make the day successful. They pointed out that (Continued on page two)

YWCA EXECUTIVES
DECIDE ON PLANSNew Woman's Organization to Take Active Part in Student-
Faculty Celebration

Definite plans for the work of the Y. W. C. A. during the rest of the year were made at a meeting of the executive committee last night.

A constitution drawn up by the officers was submitted to the committee for approval and will be read at the meeting of the organization next Monday night for complete sanction.

The group will have an active part in Parents' Day and in Student Faculty Day. During the week pamphlets about the holiday were distributed to the co-eds and were sent to the parents of the girls.

Cabin Planned

Plans for a cabin to be located near here for both the boys' and the girls' organizations were discussed and the matter was referred to a committee for investigation.

The committee talked about a YWCA-sponsored stunt night or circus to be held during the spring quarter which will augment the funds of the organization.

Other suggestions for making money by a store and a movie were brought up and the work of bringing worthwhile speakers to the campus was discussed.

The assignment of all girls in the YWCA to committees was finished and Tempe Newsom, president, requested that the groups start functioning immediately.

Pitched Battle Rages Here
As Students Hurl SnowballsFighting Breaks Out in Several Sectors as Dormitory, Fraternity
Armies March

AMANGIS AMANLY, Jan. 26—Civil strife raised its ugly head in various campus sectors late this evening, following a three-inch snowfall in the late afternoon and early evening.

Hostilities began a few minutes before 11 p. m. and continued into the early morning when troops from the lower quadrangle engaged forces from the upper-quadrangle in a snowball battle.

Fierce Melee

Fierce hand-to-hand combat occurred in the sector between Manly and Mangum dormitories, where fighting was most bitter, before the upper quadrangle armies were forced to withdraw in the face of withering fire, punctuated by war-whoops and the slush-slush of melting snow-shells.

Several hundred student combatants were engaged at the height of the battle.

Desperate Plan

A desperate plan conceived by upper quadrangle strategists to break through the frozen defense of the lower troops by rushing to the front a snowball-laden wheelbarrow preceded their retreat. The stratagem failed when the lower quadrangle soldiers stood firm

(Continued on page two)