

The Daily Tar Heel

"TO CREATE
A CAMPUS
PERSONALITY"

A JOURNAL OF
THE ACTIVITIES
OF CAROLINIANS

VOLUME XLIV

EDITORIAL PHONE 4351

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 1936

BUSINESS PHONE 4356

NUMBER 129

ASSEMBLY HEARS GOVERNOR SPEAK HERE YESTERDAY

Appears Here First Time This Year; Asks Freshmen "What Came Ye Here to Seek?"

TELLS OF FIVE OBJECTS

The climax of the winter quarter assembly programs came yesterday morning when some 1000 students heard Governor John Christoph Blucher Ehringhaus '09, make his first address to the campus this season.

The distinguished son of the University said that he would like to make an inquiry of all the students on the question "What went ye out for to seek?" He said that there were five answers that would be given to such a question, and the first of these would be "to satisfy yearnings for information in order to become distinguished from fellow associates."

Other Principles

The governor also offered the following additional principles which students seek in college: "Some are lured to the University by the attraction of the friendships that may be formed; some are here merely to play football or to indulge in other athletics; some fired with the flame of ambition believe that their sojourn at the University will offer the inspiration of that ambition; while others, having completed their high school, just didn't have anywhere else to go."

Governor Ehringhaus said that we "all came here seeking some particular thing, and whatever your illusions or disillusion may be with respect to your coming, in truth and reality you came to this campus for the purpose."
(Continued on last page)

College Scenes To Be Depicted In Fashion Show

Co-eds to Model Sport, Traveling And Evening Clothes in Memorial Hall Friday Night

Models for the Y. W. C. A. fashion show to be given Friday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall will wear dresses typical of three scenes in college life it was decided at a meeting of the mannequins yesterday afternoon.

Anita de Monseigle, chairman, announced which girls would appear in each scene and told the girls where to get their gowns. The models will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Memorial hall and everyone connected with the show will practice Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

The three scenes which will be presented at the show are the Book Exchange, sport clothes furnished by the Little Shop; a southern vacation scene, traveling clothes donated by the Betsy Ann Shop; and an evening scene, gowns furnished by shops in Durham and Raleigh.

Local talent will entertain the audience with music and features between the presentation of the clothes. Majorie Usher will play the piano throughout the evening and Virginia Burd will act as mistress of ceremonies.

Admission is a quarter for a single person and for couples.

JOHNSON TO GIVE CONCERT TONIGHT

Little Symphony Orchestra to Give Second Program in Memorial Hall at 8:30

Thor Johnson's Little Symphony of the University of Michigan will give its second performance here at the University tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30 under the sponsorship of the Student Entertainment series.

The director, Thor Johnson, is an alumnus of the University, having graduated from here in 1934. While here he was president of Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, and conductor of his own musical organization. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, director of music at the University Methodist Church, and has recently made a tour of Europe, playing on a Cunard line boat. At present he is a graduate instructor at the University of Michigan, where he is working on a Ph. D. in music.

Well Received

The first performance here was on Sunday afternoon in Graham Memorial and the Symphony was well received by the University audience. The orchestra featured Romino Hamilton, violin soloist, and Ruby Peinert, violin-cellist.

Hamilton, who has spent several years in intensive training in music, is considered one of the more noted violin soloists of the
(Continued on last page)

Chimes Of Memorial Tower To Be Played By Two Apprentices

J. E. Elrod, Worth Helms will Test Skill at Bell Ringing Today

This afternoon at 5:15 the bells of Patterson-Morehead Memorial Tower will be rung by two apprentices.

Harking back to the days of the old Guilds, the method used in teaching students to play the memorial chimes is based on a system similar to that of the ancient craftsmen, and the set-up includes a master ringer, journeymen, and apprentices.

Apprentice J. E. Elrod will play "Loch Lomond," "My Old Kentucky Home," "The Lorelei," and, by special request, "The Music Goes Round and Round." Worth Helms will render "America," "Drink to Me Only," and "Jesus Shall Reign."

The master ringer wishes that "for the better information of a worthy campus publication, it be understood that one of the oldest University songs was written to the tune of 'America' and that it is a custom that this be played before each recital."

Students To Present Music Program Today

Student Musicians will Offer Solo Recitals in Hill Music Hall

Featured in this afternoon's student recital to be presented at 4 o'clock in Hill Music hall will be a violin solo played by Kimball Harriman, accompanied by Nancy Smith on the piano.

Also on the program will be six piano solos played by James Byerly, Margaret Pollock, P. A. Parsons, Nancy Smith, M. H. Waynick, and Mary Frances Odum. Raymond Brietz, accompanied by Mary Odum, will sing baritone, and Robert Simmons will play the bass trombone accompanied by Wilton Mason.

Counter-Attack

The noisy action against Dr. Graham, based upon a popular issue, but having its genesis in emotional, ill-considered opinion which would restrict the right of an individual to voice his views, demands a counter-attack on the part of students of the University and clear-thinking alumni.

From unofficial alumni sources, it has been indicated that the opponents of Dr. Graham are outnumbered greatly among the alumni, but those who do favor the president seem to be of the opinion that an open statement of their views is not necessary. In the face of the strenuous efforts of the opposition, however, it is only logical and just that Graham proponents make clear their position.

President Graham has made certain definite contributions to higher education in North Carolina, not only from the practical standpoint, but just as important, from the theoretical position.

1. He stands for complete and unequivocal freedom in education. He upholds the right of an educational system to present FACTS without fear.

2. He stands for the right of every individual to present his own matured views on any matter.

3. Above all, he stands for honesty in opinion, integrity in action.

The University cannot afford to lose him; the State of North Carolina cannot afford to lose him. The student body and alumni who are friends of the University must exert their influence to keep President Graham here.

If necessary, Dr. Graham should come to his own aid for the sake of the University. In the past, his ethical ideals forbade his making any defense of his actions. Where the University hangs in the balance, this position must be surrendered.

University Health Division Will Train Government Men

University to Offer Three-Months Course to Trainees

The Division of public health at the University has been approved by the United States Public Health Service as a teaching unit for Interstate Sanitary district number two.

A three months' course of instruction, open to medical trainees of the U. S. government for public health positions, and to persons desiring training in the sanitary sciences, will begin March 23 under the direction of Dr. Milton J. Rosenau. The teaching staff will include members of the faculties of the University schools of medicine and engineering and specialists connected with the North Carolina State Board of Health.

Training for sanitary engineers, sanitarians, and sanitary officers will be offered in the courses with additional facilities for special training of public health laboratory workers, training in vital statistics, epidemiology, and child hygiene.

Dr. Rosenau's course will be open to students from Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. These students will be chosen and appointed by the public health directors of the states or districts. Each one will have the status of a trainee of the government which will be responsible for their tuition, traveling expenses, and personal maintenance for the duration of the course.

The course of instruction offered in the division of public health complies with the requirements outlined in the report of the committee on qualifications for health officers and health personnel, adopted by the conference of state and territorial health officers.

Between 75 and 100 public health and sanitary officers will report for work on March 23.

UNIVERSITY CLUB

There will be no meeting of the University Club tonight. All members are asked to meet at 7:15 p. m. Thursday instead.

COMMITTEE SETS SURVEY DEADLINE

Student Government Questionnaires Must be Turned in to Councilors by Thursday

Thursday is the absolute deadline for returning the student government questionnaires now being circulated around the campus by Fred Weaver's survey committee on the honor system.

Faculty members are urged to send their answered questionnaires immediately to the self-help office via the inter-office mail.

Forms Still Available

Students who have not as yet received questionnaires may obtain them today from Miss Helen Hodges in the office of the Y. M. C. A.

Each dormitory councilor is responsible for collecting the questionnaires distributed on his floor. He is to present these to his dormitory president, and dormitory presidents are to take them to the self-help office in the "Y" building Thursday.

FERA workers will gather the answered questionnaires from individuals living in town tomorrow between 7:30 p. m. and 10 p. m. Chairman Weaver urges all town residents to have their questionnaires ready for return at that time.

The Honor System committee will meet at 1:30 today in the Grail room for a brief session.

Comprehensive Exams For Professors To Be Subject Of Phi Bill

Pedagogues Invited to Attend Last Session for Quarter

Members of the Phi Assembly will meet at 7:15 tonight for the last time this quarter to discuss the bill, Resolved, That professors in all University departments be required to take comprehensive examinations each year to determine whether or not they are qualified to teach their subjects.

Assemblymen are urged to give the matter thought and to come prepared to back up their arguments.

Faculty members are invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

Alumni Publication Released Yesterday

Alumni Review Features Story of Alumni Assembly Meeting

Featuring the story of the annual Alumni Assembly, held February 13, the February number of the Alumni Review was issued yesterday.

Edited by J. Maryon Saunders, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, the Review is intended to bring news of the University and of its alumni to graduates. This issue carries an article by Dr. William DeB. McNider, Kenan research professor of pharmacy, in which he shows that the medical school occupies a definite place in the University and should not be given up. There is also a story on the recent exposure of the cheating ring at the University.

HOUSE RECUPERATING

R. B. House, dean of administration of the University, who has been confined to the Watts hospital in Durham after a minor operation is reported doing satisfactorily.

U. N. C. STUDENTS MAY GO TO STUDY POLITICAL SET-UP

Davenport, Government Institute Head, Asks Graham to Select 10 to Go to Capital

COURSE BEGINS MARCH 29

Frederick M. Davenport, of New York, chairman of the National Institute of Government in Washington, D. C., and former United States congressman from New York, has asked Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University, to select some 10 students to attend a course, sponsored by the institute in Washington, from March 29 to April 4, according to a report received by the Charlotte Observer from Washington, Sunday.

To Study Politics

The course, the purpose of which is to study current official activities in government, will feature conferences with government officials, legislators, press correspondents and lobbyists. Students attending the course will also view sessions of Congress, and will pay a visit to the Supreme Court, and to Congressional committee hearings.

Dr. Davenport as chairman and Otis T. Wingo, of Arkansas, as director of the institute, have invited the presidents of leading colleges all over the country to designate eight or 10 representative seniors from their schools to attend the course.

Students from other classes will be chosen later to attend another course. Yale and Princeton universities will each send a group of 10 men.

Mr. Wingo stated that he hoped that Dr. Graham would select representatives from this University.
(Continued on page two)

Protestors Fail To Materialize At Class Time

Committee Appointed to Find Mythical Committee of Protesting Commerce Students

The rumor that a protest committee had been formed to object to the difficulty and length of the commerce 71 quizzes vanished yesterday when professor Robert Sherrill questioned his classes on the subject.

Professor Sherrill of the Commerce department at the opening of his classes yesterday morning asked if such a committee had been formed. All three sections stated that they had no complaints about the quizzes and knew nothing of a committee.

The classes were then asked by Mr. Sherrill to appoint a committee and chairman to find out any complaints from the classes. He stated he would either conduct a class discussion or that the committee could meet him later.

Two of the sections appointed a committee while the third said they had no complaints to make.

Mr. Sherrill met the committee from the 8:30 section at chapel period and the one from his 12 o'clock section at 3 o'clock.

Both the committees stated that something should be done about the schedule which caused one section of the lab to come after the regular weekly quiz.