Mid-Winters To Be Held March 27-28; Ben Pollack Considered

Postponed Dance Set Will Be Held In Spring

Well-Known Dance Orchestra Will Probably Play for Initial Spring Function

JOY ORIGINALLY SIGNED

The long-delayed German Club Mid-winters, originally scheduled for February 14 and 15 but postponed because of the prevalence of influenza on the campus at that time, will be held the first weekend of the spring quarter, March 27 and 28.

Ben Pollack and his orchestra will probably play for the set, it was announced yesterday. Negotiations with him are now underway and, although no contract has been signed as yet, German Club officials expect to reach an agreement with him shortly.

Pollack in Chicago

Pollack and his orchestra are a well-known musical outfit and are recognized as one of the best dance band units in the country. His music has been heard in the past several years from New Orleans. He is now playing in Chicago and broadcasting from there.

Jimmy Joy and his orchestra had been contracted originally to play for the Mid-winters as scheduled for the middle of last month.

This dance set, coming only three days after school begins March 24, will start the spring quarter social activities off with a bang. Included in the larger dance sets for next quarter are Mid-winters (in the spring, tra, la, la, la), May Frolics, Junior-Seniors and Finals.

Indiana Congressman Pays Campus A Visit, Likes Kenan Stadium

Congressman and Mrs. Samuel B. Pettengill and their daughter, of South Bend, Ind., visited the University yesterday afternoon, coming over from Durham where Congressman Pettengill was the principal speaker at the annual all-member Chamber of Commerce dinner there last night.

Accompanying the visitors to Chapel Hill were C. T. Council, Knox Massey, and Colonel M. B. Fowler of Durham.

Controller Charles T. Woolen and other University officials conducted the party on a tour of the campus and village.

The congressman seemed greatly impressed with the age and traditions of the University, and, among the modern developments, Kenan stadium seemed to strike his fancy.

"I've seen a number of fine athletic fields, and we have a large stadium at Notre Dame, but I believe this is the prettiest setting I've ever seen," he said as he viewed the Kenan amphitheatre.

ENGLISH MAJORS

Advisors of students majoring in English will keep office hours for conference concerning registration in Murphey 214, according to the following, schedule:

Tomorrow through Friday, from 9:30 to 11 a. m.

Monday through Friday, from 3 o'clock to 4:30 p. m.

Registration

Registration for the spring quarter of this year will begin tomorrow morning and will continue until 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It will be resumed next week and will extend from Monday until the afternoon of Saturday, March 14, when spring vacation begins.

All students are required to get their registration permits in room eight South building, before registering. Freshmen will register with their advisors and upperclassmen with the deans of their respective schools.

Following the conference with deans or advisors students will obtain class cards on the first floor of the Y. M. C. A. where a representative of the business department will determine the amount of their fees.

SENATORS ACTIVE AT FINAL MEETING

Bill Introduced Would Condemn The Daily Tar Heel for Failure to Publicize Activities

At an executive session of the Di Senate last night some 20 senators completed the business of the quarter and enjoyed a farewell social.

The chairmen of five committees made a report of their work during the first two months of the year, after which it was learned that a new constitution for the Di is being reserved until a later date, at which time it will be printed.

Publicity

A bill was placed upon the floor condemning the DAILY TAR HEEL for its failure to give sufficient publicity of the Di activities. The criticism failed, however, as a majority of senators present agreed that the senate had not been active enough to deserve publicity.

A second bill was tabled until it could be given more serious thought when the senators learned that their hall has been and is being used for dates and dancing. When the meetings are resumed on the second Tuesday of the spring quarter, the question of restricting the use of the Di hall exclusively to that organization will be considered.

Guy Johnson Awarded Research Fellowship

Sociologist will do Special Work in Anthropology and Sociology

Dr. Guy B. Johnson, of the sociology department, was notified yesterday that he had been awarded a post doctor fellowship by the Social Science Research Council, which will enable him to do special work in anthropology and sociology for a year.

Dr. Johnson said that he had not definitely decided where he would study, but stated that it would be either in England or in this country. He plans to leave for the year's work next September.

There were 15 such fellowships awarded by the council to teachers over the country for the year 1936-37.

WEAVER SEES END OF HONOR SURVEY

Honor Committee Chairman Requests Co-operation of Campus in Finishing Survey

Fred Weaver, chairman of the Honor System Committee, issued a statement yesterday exhorting the campus to co-operate in returning the student government questionnaires by tomorrow night.

Before 5 o'clock tonight the committee would like to have all the questionnaire-answers of the faculty returned to the self-help office in the Y. M. C. A.

Comments

Weaver stated that the committee would appreciate written comments on the honor system from the faculty in addition to the questions they have been asked to answer on the questionnaire.

Residents out in town are to have their questionnaires ready for collection tonight. FERA messengers will call for the questionnaires between 7:30 and 10 p. m.

Dormitory presidents are to collect the questionnaires from their dormitories and turn them in to the self-help office in the "Y" today and tomorrow.

Special messengers will collect the questionnaires from the fraternities tomorrow afternoon and night. Each representative of the Interfraternity Council is urged to have the questionnaires from his house ready for the messenger.

BERNSTEIN GIVES BULL'S HEAD TALK

"Literature and Economics" Subject of Regular Bull's Head Series

"Literature and Economics" was the subject of the talk which Dr. E. M. Bernstein, of the economics department, gave at the Bull's Head book shop yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Bernstein began: "Economics is a study of mankind and his problems. It is because of this fact that our literature contains so much of good economics."

"Economic pursuits dominate our lives and find their way into our literature." Here he read selections from "A Connecticut Yankee in the Court of King Arthur" to illustrate his point.

Continuing: "Defoe and Carlyle rank high among our economic writers. All of Carlyle's work is economic."

Dr. Bernstein interrupted his lecture at this point and read selections from Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations."

In conclusion he said: "The economists in general have been men who grew out of logic, and a great logician never wants to appeal to the emotions."

Fee Deadline

Due to the unusual rush on the Cashier's office yesterday, and the inability of a good many students to make payment of their accounts according to the regulations, the administration has extended the deadline of payment through today. All students who have not paid their University accounts are requested to make payment today and avoid having their names referred to their deans. The Cashier's office is open from 9-1 and from 2-4.

PLAYERS TO GIVE ORIGINAL DRAMAS

Thirty-ninth and 40th Experimental Bills will be Presented Tomorrow

The 39th and 40th bills of experimental plays will be presented tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 and tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Playmakers theatre.

The play "Grandma's Bonnet," by June Hogan, has the following cast: Eleanor Barker, Thomas O'Flaherty, Janie Britt, Elizabeth Raborg, Lawrence Wismer, Charlotte Wright, John Hardie, Kenneth Bartlett, and William Chichester.

"Brownstone Front"

"Brownstone Front" by William Chichester will be played by the author, Josephine Niggli, William Wang, Beatrice Kirkham, Lawrence Wismer, and Wayne Fonvielle.

Al Noger, Elliott Shaw, Audrey Rowell, Ralph Eichhorn, Charlotte Wright, Ruth Mengel, and Jessie Langdale will play in "Cat Alley" by Kenneth Bartlett.

"An Active's Pledge" by William Barwick has the following cast: Holman Milhous, Wayne Fonvielle, Al Noger, Martin Watkins, and George Jaffe.

"Frame-Up"

"Frame-Up" by Jane Henle will be played by the following cast: Wayne Fonvielle, Fred Howard, Thomas O'Flaherty, Raymond Brick, Tony Santaro, Conrad Poppenhusen, Joseph Feldman, Martin Watkins, Milton Willner, Al Nooger, Henry Bluestone, George Starks, Barbara Hilton, Mary Lou Taylor, Fred Howard, Janie Britt, Robert du Four, and Irving Suss.

Josephine Oettinger, Jean Walker, Ruth Mengel, Sammie Alderman, and Robert Steward are to play in "An Orchid to You," by Jean Walker.

These productions are under the supervision of Professor Samuel Selden and the stage management will be in the hands of Frank Durham, assisted by Lawrence Wismer, Robert Scott and Robert Nachtmann.

The first two plays will be presented on the afternoon bill and the remaining four will be presented on the night bill.

CIGARETTE FIRM HOLDS CONTEST

Old Gold Company Offers Cash Prizes In Competition

Fifty dollars in cash will be divided among the dormitories and dormitory store managers in a contest sponsored by the Old Gold cigarette company, according to the manager of the Book Exchange.

Fifteen dollars in cash will be given to the dormitory turning in the largest number of Old Gold wrappers by April 1. A second prize of $10 will be given to the dormitory that takes second place.

Wrappers are to be dropped in the dormitory ballot box which will be turned in at the Book "X."

Another $25 will be divided into four prizes and will go to dormitory service room men in same ratio as profits are shared under the present system.

It is necessary for inventory of Old Golds to be turned in at the Book "X" by store managers as soon as possible, and again on April 1, so the number of cigarettes sold can be determined accurately.

Washington Alumni Voice Complete Faith In Graham

Business Survey

The DAILY TAR HEEL business department this afternoon begins its survey to determine the power of the student body as a purchasing unit.

Questionnaires will be circulated through the dormitories and fraternities. Dormitory managers will be given copies of the questionnaire for distribution on their floors this afternoon.

The questionnaires in the dormitories are to be returned to the dormitory stores or to the box in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

W. D. McLean of the local advertising staff, who is conducting the survey, urged the co-operation of the student body in filling out the questionnaire.

LITTLE SYMPHONY IN CONCERT HERE

Former University Student Conducts Michigan Orchestra in Well-Received Program

Led by the baton of Thor Johnson, former University student, the University of Michigan Little Symphony gave a program of concert music last night in Memorial hall, which was received by the plaudits of a large audience.

The orchestra, composed of 13 players, has been on a tour since February 6 and this week's engagement will conclude the trip. Director Johnson conducted a symphony orchestra when he was in school here and his concert Sunday in Graham Memorial was his first appearance in Chapel Hill with his new organization. Last night's program was the last of the Student Entertainment Series presentations given this quarter.

Request

The program opened with "Overture to the Opera 'Mignon'" by Thomas, which was played by special request. Haydn's "Symphony No. 2 in D Major" was the second composition in the group, which was concluded by "Dance of the Comedians" from "The Bartered Bride."

Ruby Peinert was the violin-cello soloist in Saint-Saens' "Concerto for Violin-Cello in A Minor." The orchestra played the accompanying parts in the composition and Miss Peinert was accorded hearty applause for her rendition. Liadov's "Four Russian Folk Songs" were followed by "Berceuse," from Stravinsky's "The Firebird."

"Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss completed the program.

Freshmen

There will be no general assembly today. Instead, the freshman class will meet with the individual advisors at 10:30 in the following places: Mr. Emery, Di Society hall, (New West); Mr. Hill, Memorial hall; Mr. Mackie, 206 Phillips hall; Mr. Russell, Phi Society hall, (New East); Mr. Spruill, 111 Murphey hall; Mr. Totten, Davie hall; Mr. Wiley, 103 Bingham hall.

Trustees Come Out With Strong Stand For U. N. C. President

Former Governor Gardner, Mrs. Scott, University Trustees Behind Dr. Frank

"OUSTER MOVE ABSURD"

Two members of the board of trustees of the University and 450 alumni residents in Washington, D. C., may be counted upon 100 per cent to stand by Dr. Frank P. Graham against any movement to oust him, according to information relayed by the state press.

The trustees are former Governor O. Max Gardner, Washington attorney, and Mrs. Lulu Matin McIver Scott now connected with the woman's branch of the Federal Relief Administration.

State Press

The state press asserts that Gardner could be counted on to assist in squelching any ouster movement that has been rumored.

Mrs. Scott is quoted as having frequently expressed her admiration for Dr. Graham, and her appreciation of his intellectual, honest and noble purposes in advocating certain issues that would aid the down-trodden and the "under-dog."

Washington Alumni

The alumni association in Washington, which is represented in every department of the government, is quoted as regarding Dr. Graham as "one of them." They are willing to rally to his support, if necessary, to smother any such movement.

Word Tests Given As Psychology Work By Graduate Students

No results have as yet been tabulated from the word association study being conducted by Harry V. Bice and Edith Wladkowski, graduate students at the University.

Individual tests have been given to 1,400 students, most of whom are at the University. Miss Wladkowski has given 150 tests to high school students living in a nationally known orphanage.

Through the co-operation of the Winston-Salem Teachers' College, 200 tests were also given to Negro students.

Because of the scarcity of women students here, most of the tests given to co-eds were conducted at W. C. U. N. C. and at Duke University.

According to Mr. Bice and Miss Wladkowski, there has been splendid co-operation on the part of the various schools and also on the part of the student subjects.

The question most asked of the psychology students is "What are you trying to prove?" The two graduates said that the word association study was not undertaken with any definite objective in mind. They added that any conclusions which may be made will be the result of the investigation, not from any preconceived notions held by the workers.
