Weaver Asks Return Of Honor System Questionnaires Today

Group Urges Faculty To Mail In Answers

Questionnaires for Dormitories, Fraternities, Faculty Due To Be Returned

COMPILATION IS STARTED

Honor System questionnaires from the dormitories, fraternities, and the faculty are due to be returned today.

"For goodness sakes, send 'em in," exhorted Fred Weaver, chairman of the Committee on the Honor System, in a special communique to the DAILY TAR HEEL setting forth the importance of getting the questionnaires in on time.

Dormitories

Dormitory councilors are to take up all finished questionnaires on their floors today and bring them to the self-help office on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. "Write the name of the dorm on each batch," Chairman Weaver asks.

Each fraternity chapter president is to have all questionnaires in his lodge gathered together ready to be collected this afternoon by special messengers.

Faculty

The Committee on the Honor System urges the faculty to mail their answers via the inter-office mail to the self-help office before noon today. "Not yet half of them are in," laments Chairman Weaver.

Most of the questionnaires filled out by out-in-town residents were collected last night. Students living off the campus who did not return their questionnaires last night are requested to turn them in today to the Y.

Touring Actors Will Give Civil War Drama Here

Guy Standing, Jr., to Portray Title Role in "Jefferson Davis" Here March 24

Guy Standing, Jr., son of Sir Guy Standing, who is now in Hollywood, plays the title role in John McGee's "Jefferson Davis," which the Jefferson Davis touring company of the Federal theatre is bringing to Memorial hall March 24.

The scenery for the production is by Cleon Throckmorton, well-known New York designer. The company includes 50 people, and carries period furniture and $5,000 worth of lighting equipment.

Standing

According to those who have already seen the play, Young Standing, tall, dignified, with a powerful voice, makes a calm but thoroughly human Jefferson Davis.

Not content with the mere memorization of the lines in the play, a drama built around the president of the Confederacy, Standing delved deeply into the tragic story of the Civil War and portrays Jefferson Davis in a manner that brought even the handful of Confederate soldiers present to their feet in reverence.

Standing prefers to stand or fall by his own performance and is exceedingly loathe to cash in on the fame of his talented sire. Not only are Standing's

DESK STAFF

There will be a meeting of the entire desk staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL in the publication office today at 1:30.

Staff Of Buccaneer Will Have Banquet

Magazine Group to Join in Bidding Editor Lansdale Farewell

The staff of the Carolina Buccaneer will participate in a banquet tomorrow night at 7:30 in the private dining room of the Carolina Inn, according to a statement by Lawrence Hinkle, in charge of the affair.

It will be in the nature of a farewell banquet for the editor of the magazine, Nelson Lansdale, who is leaving for England at the end of this quarter.

"Members of the staff only are invited," stated Hinkle, "and speeches are taboo."

PLAYERS TO GIVE STUDENT DRAMAS

Six Plays by Members of Koch's Class will be Presented This Afternoon and Night

Six new plays, written by students in Professor Koch's playwriting classes, will be presented this afternoon at 4:30 and tonight at 7:30 in the Playmaker theatre. Two of the plays will be produced on the afternoon bill and the remaining four on the night bill.

The first play, "Grandma's Bonnet," a comedy of age, was written by June Hogan and will be directed by Jessie Langdale. The cast is as follows: Grandma Duffy, Eleanor Barker; Bill Duffy, Thomas O'Flaherty; Kate Duffy, Janie Britt; Billy Duffy, Elizabeth Raborg; Frank Duffy, Lawrence Wismer; Ellen Tisdale, Charlotte Wright; Mac Tisdale, John Hardie; Fredrick Riddle, Kenneth Bartlett; Governor Peterson, William Chichester.

"Brownstone Front"

The second play for the afternoon is "Brownstone Front," a domestic tragedy by William T.

SHOW TO INCLUDE SONG, DANCE ACTS

Lillian Woodard Arranges Numbers for Y. W. C. A. Fashion Show

Lillian Woodard has arranged a number of song and dance acts for the Y. W. C. A. fashion show to be given tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall.

The entertainment by local talent will be staged between the scenes in which the models will display gowns. Hester Barlow and Dick Burnette will be featured in a specialty dance number.

Jo Oettinger and Geddie Monroe will sing solos, and Sammie Ruth Bell will give a reading. The Spencer Hall Trio, composed of Marjorie Usher, Helen Pritchard and Mary Crockett Evans will entertain the audience with a number of rhythmical harmonies. Jules Medynski will complete Miss Woodard's scheduled entertainment with a solo.

The models have made complete arrangements for getting their clothes and practices are being held for the show.

Admission is 25 cents for a single person or a couple.

NEW ENROLLMENT WILL BEGIN TODAY

All Present Students Must Register Before End of Period, March 14, or Pay Extra

Registration for the spring quarter will begin this morning and will continue until 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

It will be resumed on Monday and will be continued through the week until Saturday, March 14. All students are required to secure their registration permits in room 8, South building, before they will be permitted to register. Freshmen will arrange their courses for the coming quarter in conference with their advisors, and upperclassmen will register with the deans of their respective schools.

Class Cards

Following the conferences with advisors or deans, the students will go to the first floor of the Y. M. C. A. building to obtain class cards. A representative of the business office will be present to determine the amount of the fees.

According to Ben Husbands, associate registrar, all students are urged to settle their accounts before they go home for the holidays. Students now in residence must complete their registration during the period allotted to it. Registration after the holidays, except in the case of new students, will involve a $5.00 fee for late registration.

SPRING SCHEDULE WILL OFFER TEN COURSE ADDITION

New Courses in Literature, Science, Philosophy, Sociology, Planned

New courses in literature, science, philosophy, sociology, and physical education will be available to students during the spring quarter.

Courses in literature are: "Confucianism and Chinese Literature," by Dr. Y. Z. Chang, Chinese exchange professor; "Cosmopolitan Influences in 18th Century Literature," by Dr. W. P. Friederich of the German department; and "Literary Aspects of the Bible," by Dr. A. C. Howell, of the English department.

Literary relations between France, Germany, and England in the 18th century will be treated in a new course, comparative literature 177, to be offered next quarter.

The class will meet five hours a week at 12 o'clock in 113 Saunders, under Dr. Friederich.

The philosophy department

Wilson, Eminent Zoologist, Served University 45 Years

Recently Resigned Head of Zoology Department Distinguishes Self in Many Fields

Dr. H. V. Wilson, recently resigned head of the zoology department, has been in the service of the University for the past 45 years and at the same time has performed the duties of an editor, done research in various fields, and has been president and vice president of societies in his field.

According to "Who's Who," Dr. Wilson was born in Baltimore in 1863. He received his A. B. degree at Johns Hopkins in 1883 and served in the capacity

A. S. U. TO SPONSOR GRAHAM PETITION

American Student Union to Ask Signatures of Those Supporting President

The American Student Union chapter, in a meeting last night voted to circulate a petition supporting Dr. Frank P. Graham as president of the University.

The petition will be presented to the campus through the media of the dormitory, fraternity and women's groups. It will be presented, when signed, to the Board of Trustees.

Alumni

Although not mentioning specifically the action of certain "influential alumni" who are trying to remove Dr. Graham as president of the University, the need for the petition arose from this source. The text of the petition follows:

"We, the undersigned, although we may not subscribe to all his policies, heartily support Dr. Frank Graham as president of the Greater University of North Carolina."

Distribution

The petitions will be distributed today and tomorrow to the dormitory stores and fraternity houses. The deadline for collection has not yet been set. They will also be circulated among alumni groups at State and the Woman's College.

Copies of the petition will be placed in the lobby of the "Y."

UNIVERSITY CLUB WILL INDUCT NEW MEN AT MEETING

Members will Discuss Plans for Track Meet; Smokers During Holidays

New members of the University Club will be initiated at a meeting of the organization tonight at 7:15 in Graham Memorial.

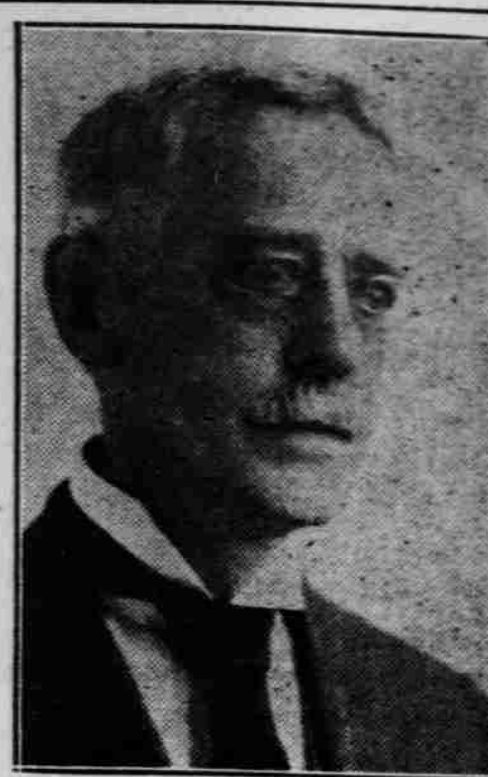

At a business session preceding the initiation, arrangements for taking care of athletes visiting here for the indoor track meet Saturday will be completed.

The club will also lay plans for a series of smokers, which its members, in co-operation with alumni will present in towns over the state during the spring holidays. The purpose of the affairs will be to contact high school boys and interest them in coming to the University for their college education.

The new members who will be formally initiated tonight were selected last month. They include representatives of each dormitory and fraternity on the campus.

Council Names Committee To Probe Student Co-Op

ZOOLOGIST

Dr. H. V. Wilson, who recently resigned as head of the zoology department after 45 years of active service with the University.

YALE PROFESSOR WILL SPEAK HERE

Dr. F. S. C. Northrop to Deliver Address on "Causation" Monday Night at 8 O'Clock

Dr. F. S. C. Northrop of Yale University will speak here on the topic of "Causation" Monday night under the auspices of the faculty Philosophy of Science Club, it was announced yesterday by Dean F. F. Bradshaw.

The talk will be presented at 8 o'clock in 103 Bingham hall.

Dr. Northrop, who is professor of philosophy at Yale, is being sponsored here in co-operation with Duke University, where he speaks Tuesday.

Popular

Interested primarily in the philosophical questions underlying modern developments in physics, Dr. Northrop, according to Dean Bradshaw, "is a very popular lecturer." His talk will be open to the public.

So well-versed is the Yale philosopher in modern physics that he is attacking problems of interest to Einstein, Planck, Weyland, and other scientists. Among Dr. Northrop's more

HOWELL TO TEACH COURSE ON BIBLE

English Professor will Give Course on "Literary Aspects of Bible"

A new course, "Literary Aspects of the Bible," or English 87, will be given next quarter by Professor A. C. Howell as the third new course of the year in Bible study.

In order to make use of the excellent materials available in the Haynes collection, the course will meet in room 303 of the library, at 9:30 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. It is a regular constituted course in the curriculum and is a free elective open to juniors and seniors.

No prerequisites are proposed and the only textbook required will be the Bible itself.

According to Professor Howell, the aim of English 87 will be to introduce the student to the Bible as a piece of literature, both from the historical and literary point of view. The treatment will be popular rather than scholarly, and no knowledge of languages other than English will be needed.

Investigation Argued On Power Limitation Score By Directors

Action Follows Campus Rumors And Request for Survey of Co-op Association

RABB CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Complications arising out of a difference of opinion regarding the limitation of the powers of the Student Council resulted yesterday from the appointment by the council of a committee to investigate the activities and status of the Student Co-operative association, and to clear up rumors and accusations circulating on the campus.

According to Francis Fairley, the committee, composed of Stuart Rabb, chairman, Don McKee, and John Parker, was appointed after complaints and requests on the part of individual students.

Unanimous

The unanimous resolution of the Student Council, passed Tuesday night, was adopted without notifying either Harper Barnes or Haywood Weeks, directors of the organization, of the action.

In an informal session with Fairley yesterday afternoon, the directors objected to the investigation on the ground that the council has no right to investigate private business concerns. Fairley maintained that in his opinion the Student Co-operative association is in theory a student organization and therefore subject to investigation by the council as the official governing head of the student body.

Thor Johnson's Symphony Gives Varied Program

University of Michigan Little Symphony Orchestra Gives Polished Performance

By Ruth Crowell

Thor Johnson and his University of Michigan Little Symphony orchestra gave one of the best programs Tuesday night that the Student Entertainment series has brought to the campus this year.

The most striking feature of the orchestra is its response to its leader and its quality of producing full and clear tones which belie the number of players. Considering the relative sizes of the Little Symphony and the Minneapolis Symphony, the former group secured a much greater volume and clearness of tone than the larger orchestra.

First Number

In the opening number of the program, "Overture to the Opera 'Mignon'" by Thomas, the orchestra showed a variety of musical interpretations. The first theme, suggestive of a pastoral scene, was played with a modulated grace and ease with a skillful interchange of melody from the clarinets to the strings. The work was brought to a swift conclusion with the rapid and stirring passages of the "Polka."

"Symphony No. 2 in D Major," one of Haydn's monumental works, was played with a masterful conception of the music
