action against the association as a private business enterprise, arose, Fairley held that the co-op in theory was a student organization. Last night, however, the council passed its opinion to the contrary.

Di Senate To Install New Officers Tonight

Will Debate Bills on Lobbying and Townsend Plan

Resuming its regular Tuesday night meetings the Di Senate will meet tonight for the first time this quarter and will install new officers.

New officers to be installed will be: Trez Yeatman, president; Bob Williams, president pro-tem; Crist Blackwell, critic; George Steele, clerk; and Fred Stein, sergeant-at-arms.

The latter part of the meeting will be devoted to the discussion of two bills: Resolved, that the state and federal governments should not attempt to limit lobbying activities in their respective legislatures, and Resolved, that the Di Senate go on record as opposing the Townsend plan.

Members Of Theatre Group To Speak Here

Community Club Sponsoring Program This Afternoon

Guy Standing, Jr., Thomas Carnehan, Mildred Byron, and Philip Worthing, members of the Federal Theatre troupe who presented John McGee's historical play "Jefferson Davis" here last week will speak at the Playmakers theatre this afternoon at 3:30.

They will discuss their dramatic experiences, their experiences in the C. C. C. camps, and the plans of the troupe concerning their stay in North Carolina.

The program is being offered under the sponsorship of the department of education of the Chapel Hill Community Club, and the public is invited to attend.

FRESHMAN DANCE LEADERS NAMED

There will be an election tonight of a treasurer to serve during the spring quarter.

The Students Co-operative Association will be subject to discussion tonight. The assembly will attempt to discuss the status of the organization and determine whether the student council is justified in investigating it.

Dean Wick's Book Still Procurable At YMCA

"The Reason For Living" Based on Widespread Research

There are still a few copies of "The Reason for Living" by Robert Russell Wicks, dean of chapel at Princeton University, on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office at a special reduced price.

"Every man and woman who has been caught up in the tides of confused thought, skepticism, and unbelief of the modern world has certain questions about life that must be answered," says Dean Wicks in the introduction of his book.

Dean Wicks, who believes there must be a reason for living if life is to be completely worth while, attempts to answer the actual queries of hundreds of men and women with whom he has talked during a decade.

mer beating Hutter for the 50-yard dash title, and the latter turning the tables in the century event. Both are sophomores and had been previously undefeated. In the 100-yard event, Macionis of Yale was a close third. The Yale sophomore recently turned in 37.6 seconds for the 75-yard course and was expected to fare better in the competition.

Jack Kasley of Michigan turned in the other record-breaking performance of the meet in winning the 200-yard breaststroke event in 2:25. This bettered the national intercollegiate and N. C. A. A. marks as he retained his title from 1935.

cago. Both of these boys put up fine showings with Medynski fighting the closest championship fight. Many of us thought Jules won over Fink of Syracuse in the title fight, but we realized it was only because we were pulling so hard for Jules. It was a pretty even fight and Medynski lost by only the narrowest of margins.

If a popularity contest were held at the Southern Conference tournament or the Olympic try-outs there is no question in my mind the boxer that would poll the most votes is none other than our own Max Novich. Novich's newly developed style of beautiful defensive boxing is greatly admired and enjoyed by all boxing fans. With the exception of Matulewicz, who carefully observed Max's style and prepared his fight on that grounds, the Tar Heel star was able to roll with other opponent's punches and made them miss several times. The Duke champ knew Novich's style well enough to catch him bounding off the ropes and thereby gained his margin of victory.

As I understand it, Matulewicz is coming down in weight for Chicago while Max will remain in his latest fighting weight. In that division he stands an excellent chance of making a trip to Germany as only eight men are entered and the winner, an alternate, and sparring partners are sent. And so from the looks of things it appears that Carolina is likely to get at least one man on the boxing squad going to Germany this year. We may even get four,—it's not impossible and here's hoping.

The egg never existed that could get as rotten as politics.

LOST ECONOMY

Two citizens down town were wondering what had happened to the loudly ballyhooed New Deal "economy" program recently undertaken by the Administration. You remember how the President was going to curtail his expenditures and balance the "regular" budget for 1937.

The "regular" budget, you know, is the portion of the expenses taken care of by taxes. The rest they call "emergency."

Anyway, one of these citizens was saying that he had read where the Senate had put back in the bills all the expenses the House had cut out. He had the paper with him and he showed it to all of us.

The story was about how the Senators took the $350,000,000 WPA flood relief bill and hiked it up to $750,000,000, each solon fighting for his own area.

And so it goes. If the President cuts expenses $20,000, it is headline news and everybody thinks they are saving on taxes. Then the Senators slip $500,000,000 into a bill and this citizen had to tell us about it.

Call for the painless tax-extractor!

So long as he has a good thumb left it's futile to tell a hitch-hiker that walking is good exercise.

*I wouldn't give that for a cigarette
that doesn't Satisfy
...that doesn't give me
what I want in a smoke*

I want my cigarette mild, of course—I hardly think anybody enjoys a strong cigarette. But deliver me from the flat, insipid kind.

I find a great deal of pleasure in Chesterfields. They're mild and yet they seem to have more taste and aroma. I enjoy them.

They Satisfy... just about all you could ask for
