Felix Frankfurter Acts As "Recruiting Agent" for Governmental Positions

Harvard Teacher

A man now in the early fifties and teaching law at Harvard, he has earned the reputation of being a most reliable source for recruiting able young men for public offices.

General Johnson substantiates his above statement by saying that Mr. Frankfurter has "insuaded" his "boys" into "obscure but key positions in every vital department" of the present administration and is presumably therefore boring at the constitution of the United States and the American plan of government from within.

Legal Post

While holding important legal posts, Mr. Frankfurter became interested in finding positions for able men after they left Harvard. His proficiency

RESER MAY PLAY FOR CLASS DANCE

Clicquot Club Orchestra Practically Signed for Junior-Senior Dance Set

Negotiations have been practically completed with Harry Reser and his Clicquot Club orchestra to play for the Junior-Senior set of dances in the Tin Can May 8-9, it was learned last night after a meeting of the junior-senior dance committee.

Reser and the committee have already come to terms and the only formality of signing the contract is needed to complete the transaction.

NBC Stars

Reser and the committee have been playing over the National Broadcasting system for the past eight years as the Clicquot Eskimos. He will bring here an all star entertainment unit featuring the lovely song stylist, Lynne Gordon, and the romantic radio tenor, Ernie Weber. An unusual feature of this dance unit is John Zellner, another radio artist, who adds distinction to the Eskimos' rhythm at the $15,000 Hammond electric organ.

The band has already played for two dance sets at Washington and Lee and has just been signed to appear there again this spring. The Eskimos also broadcast from 3 to 3:30 over NBC every Sunday afternoon.

It had been previously announced that Will Osborne would play for Junior-Seniors but no contract had been signed and the negotiations with him fell through some time ago.

Accordian Musician Entertains By Song At University Cafe

"Happy Bill" Strolls from Table to Table; Finally Salutes Old Friend Harry

The University Cafe took on the appearance of a cabaret Saturday night when a stranger who had been sitting quietly in one of the booths arose, opened up a case at his feet, took out accordian, and began to play.

He strolled from table to table, playing various popular songs. Then getting more into the spirit of the thing he began singing. Spectators agreed that his voice was excellent in volume, but were doubtful of its tone.

The musician turned out to be one who entertains in various night clubs in Florida, going under the name of "Happy Bill." He was passing through Chapel Hill, and, remembering his old friend Harry whom he had met on a previous visit here, he decided to entertain for him.

The man stopped at nearly every table and played for the couples seated at them. But the program reached its climax when he spied Harry behind his counter. He dragged the protesting proprietor into the middle of the floor, put an arm around him, and broke into the song "Love in Bloom," in honor of Harry's recent marriage.

The unexpected entertainment continued for about a half hour, until "Happy Bill" apparently grew tired. Then, as suddenly as he had commenced playing, he unstrapped his instrument and sat down amidst much applause. However, he could be prevailed upon to play no more.

ONLY SIX OFFICES TO BE CONTESTED

Late last night the Student Council approved the Publications Union Board constitution (see back page) and voted to submit it for campus approval on Thursday's election.

Jimmy Craighill was named at last night's meeting to act as election chairman. Some discussion was held as to placing the ballot boxes in the Y. M. C. A. building. This will be decided later.

The official Student Council ballot for Thursday's election will be a scanty affair, containing only 12 names.

When nominees for all-campus offices swept unopposed through last Thursday's nominations right into their seats for next year's term, competition was left to the classes.

Sophomore Class

Only the rising sophomore class presented opposing candidates for each of their offices. The rising junior class nominated two men for president, Clyde "Pete" Mullis and Reuben Graham.

An organized "Students' Party" offered the following names to the freshmen, Henry Hudson for president; Charles Robnson, vice-president; Chuck Klien, secretary; M. A. Stroup, treasurer; and Bill Stronach, representative to the Student Council.
